PREFACE

We live in a time when people can spread their views around the globe at the touch of a button. Yet such views may come from people of little knowledge who can confuse and even misguide others. This is a concern that has become particularly acute with the widespread misrepresentation of Islam, both by those hostile towards it, and, unfortunately, even those who claim to profess it. Through their evil but eloquent schemes, such people can misrepresent the sacred teachings of this religion, and direct the ignorant and the ill-fated to perpetrate heinous crimes against both an innocent public and an innocent religion. Such deception and misinterpretation has sadly become all too common in our day, and among its causes is, undoubtedly, the relative inaccessibility of sound Islamic scholarship and literature in the English language. An additional cause is the suggestion that there is no difference between experts and non-experts. It is as though God never declared in His Book: 'How can those who know be equal to those who do not know?' (39: 9)

A plethora of problems can arise when non-experts begin to consider themselves experts on a subject matter. One can vividly illustrate with the example of a person who requires medical attention. A sensible individual would choose to be treated by a medical professional—an expert in the field—rather than risk their health by consenting to a medical procedure from someone who fancies themselves a doctor simply because they have read a medical textbook in their spare time. Indeed, there are serious legal consequences for those who claim to practice medicine without a recognized licence—one which is granted because they have been through rigorous training and examination. Such legal repercussions are entirely appropriate of course, for such frauds place people's worldly lives at risk. Yet why is it that when it comes to our health we seek an expert opinion, but when it comes to our everlasting

Hereafter so many of us prefer to follow someone who considers himself an expert after reading just a couple of books? Simply put: why do we risk our eternity by following those who are not qualified? Why do we not seek out recognized experts? As God the Almighty says: 'ask the people of knowledge if you do not know.' (16: 43) It is precisely to address this gap between scholarly works and non-scholarly opinions that we have endeavoured to produce this invaluable resource.

After reading the entirety of al-Minhāj in Turkish, the Director of Organisational Management at Islamic Community Milli Gorus (ICMG) Youth Australia, Adem Temel, conducted a meeting with our small team in which we studied the book and recognized how blessed we were to have access to such a stupendous work. It was evident that the renowned scholar and author of al-Minhāj, Imam al-Nawawī, may God have mercy on him, had wisdom and knowledge many today are in desperate need of. Indeed, al-Minhāj is one of the greatest and most respected commentaries on Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim. While an English translation of a hadith can struggle to convey its apparent meaning, let alone the appropriate context and other subtleties, commentaries by experts like Imam al-Nawawī can shed light on hadiths more comprehensively and thus give us greater access to the intended meaning while guarding us against misunderstanding. During a subsequent meeting, our team compared the Turkish translation of Fī Zilāl al-Qur'an with the English translation by Dr Adil Salahi and were impressed by the remarkable consistency between the two translations. Immediately thereafter, the team made the decision to contact Dr Salahi with a view to proposing that he translate Imam al-Nawawī's al-Minhāj into English. We were overjoyed to hear his positive response.

A number of people and organizations have contributed to this project. Firstly, this work would not have been possible without Adil Salahi's mastery of both the Arabic and English languages. His love of Prophet Muhammad, peace and blessings be upon him, and his dedication to making knowledge accessible has led to the translation of significant works from the Islamic literary heritage. Second, the ICMG Youth Australia and Kube Publishing (UK) teams worked closely to meet all project timelines. Third, many individuals and groups volunteered to support this project both physically and financially. Lastly, and most importantly, God, the Almighty, guided us, brought ease, and opened closed doors to make everything possible.

BEFORE YOU READ

There are some important points that the reader, particularly a student of Hadith, needs to bear in mind when using this book. Although these have been explained in the Introduction to the first volume, it is considered worthwhile to remind readers of the editorial method followed in this work.

1. Numbering and references

It is surprising, but there has never been a full and serial numbering of hadiths in Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim, and hence references to hadiths vary. A hadith is often referenced by book and chapter: 'Related by Muslim, Book of Faith, Chapter so-and-so', and so forth. This is a difficult method of referencing, particularly because the headings of some chapters run into two or three lines, or even longer. The fullest numbering of the hadiths in Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim is that given in al-Muʿjam al-Mufahras li-Alfāz al-Ḥadīth, but many hadiths are left without numbers. These are versions of the previous hadith, differing only in their chains of transmission, and it was probably felt that they should count with the earlier and often more complete version.

Al-Muʿjam al-Mufahras is a concordance of the words of the Prophet's hadiths listed in the most important nine anthologies: al-Bukhārī, Muslim, Abū Dāwūd, al-Tirmidhī, al-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah, as well as Mālik's al-Muwatṭaʿ, Ahmad's al-Musnad and al-Dārimī's Sunan. It was prepared by a group of forty Western researchers of Islamic studies under the supervision of Arent Jan Wensinck (1882–1939) and edited by the Egyptian scholar Muhammad Fu'ād 'Abd al-Bāqī (1882–1967).<sup>i</sup>

However, al-Muʿjam al-Mufahras gives a serial number to each 'book' in Muslim's Ṣaḥīḥ. Thus, it lists the numbers of the hadiths in the Book of Faith from 1 to 380, and then begins the numbering in the Book of Cleansing from 1. As such, it does not give a complete serial numbering to the entire anthology. I have therefore decided to provide serial numbering, giving every hadith its own numbered identification. In doing so, I follow the method adopted by the late hadith scholar Mūsā Shāhīn Lāshīn (1920–2009) in his 10-volume commentary, Fatḥ al-Munʿim fī Sharḥ Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim. This method does not assign a number for a hadith that differs from the one before it only in its chain of transmission, but that has exactly the same text.

Muslim's Ṣaḥīḥ has been translated into English by Abd al-Hamid Siddiqui. The translation is well circulated and its better known edition, published by Dār al-Salām, is available online. After looking carefully at this translation, I have decided to provide my own. However, the translation gives a full serial numbering of the hadiths listed by Muslim, bringing the total to 7,190 hadiths. This is different from Lāshīn's method of numbering, which brings the total to 6,571 hadiths. To make it easier for readers who wish to refer to Dār al-Salām's translation, I give the number in that translation in brackets before the chain of transmission.

Thus, three sets of numbers are included before the chain of transmission of each hadith. The first is a complete serial number following Lāshīn's method. The second is that of al-Muʿjam al-Mufahras and the third is that of Dār al-Salām's translation given in brackets. Where Lāshīn or al-Muʿjam al-Mufahras does not give a hadith a number, because it is the same as the hadith before it, I follow the convention of giving it the mark '000'. Thus, either of the first two numbers may be replaced by 000. Where Dār al-Salām's translation omits a hadith or does not give it a number, I give it the mark '0'. The pattern of numbering is simplified, as follows:

Lāshīn – Al-Muʿjam – (Dār al-Salām)

This applies to all the hadiths that are entered in the anthology itself, beginning with the Book of Faith. Imam Muslim wrote a long introduction to his work, explaining his method. In it, he includes ninety-two hadiths and statements by the early scholars of Hadith. These are given separate numbers, from 1 to 92. Only a few of these are entered in al-Mu‘jam al-Mufahras, because the majority are attributed to scholars of Hadith. Whichever is entered in al-Mu‘jam al-Mufahras its number is stated. Dār al-Salām’s translation does not include this introduction.

When a hadith is entered in any of the other five anthologies considered to be the most authentic, I mention these in a footnote. Where no such information is given, it means that the hadith is entered only in Muslim’s anthology. The Arabic original of each hadith is given immediately after the English translation, but this applies to the main body of the anthology, not to Muslim’s introduction.

Imam Muslim divided his anthology into books, each covering an important area of the Islamic faith, such as the Book of Faith, the Book of Prayer, etc. He did not make further classification. It was left to Imam al-Nawawī to divide each book into chapters, and give headings to these. These chapters were later given numbers in al-Mu‘jam al-Mufahras. The headings and their numbers are given in this translation. However, as many headings tend to be long, I have tried to reduce them while retaining the elements highlighted in the headings. It should be pointed out, however, that some of these chapters are not given numbers. Where no number is given to a chapter in al-Mu‘jam al-Mufahras, it appears without a number in this translation.

There are a few instances where the same number is given to two consecutive hadiths. In order to indicate that this is not an error, but merely following the Arabic original, the repetition is indicated by the symbol [R].

2. The chain of transmission

Hadith scholars were very specific in their terminology. Therefore, when they used synonymous words, they imparted clear distinction to them. Thus, the words ḥaddathanā, akhbaranā, anba'anā, and 'an, have different meanings, although linguistically speaking they are very similar and denote receiving information from a named person. However, ḥaddathanā is used to refer to a process whereby the teacher reads out the hadith to his students, whether he is narrating from memory or reading out loud directly. Akhbaranā and anba'anā are practically identical in meaning. However, the first refers to a process whereby a student is reading aloud from his teacher's books in the presence of the teacher. Anba'anā does not specify this process, but means that the information was passed on by the teacher or in his presence. 'An, on the other hand, does not specify any process, nor does it specify that the reporter actually heard the teacher's narration or his student's reading out in his presence. Indeed, it could, thus, mean that the reporter heard the hadith from a colleague who was in the teacher's circle at the time.

In order to reflect these differences, 'narrated' is the term used here for ḥaddathanā, 'reported' for akhbaranā, 'mentioned' for anba'anā, and 'from' for 'an. However, any of the first three ways could involve a one-to-one situation in which the reporter is the only one present with his teacher. In Arabic, this is marked by changing the last letter in the three Arabic words, using 'ī' instead of 'ā'. Thus the words become ḥaddathanī, akhbaranī, and anba'anī. To reflect the difference in the English translation the words 'to me' have been used after 'narrated', 'reported' and 'mentioned' to indicate the one-to-one situation, while the three words on their own indicate the presence of others when the narration took place.

Readers will also note that in some hadiths the chain of transmission includes the mark [H]. This is indicated in Arabic by the use of the letter [Ḥ], and it may occur once, twice, or even more in the chain of transmission of the same hadith. What this signifies is that the hadith is narrated by two or more chains of transmission, but these join up at some stage. Rather than give them separately, repeating the names of reporters from where they join up to the Prophet's companion, Hadith scholars use this way to indicate that the different chains are joined at this point.

Another symbol used in the chain of transmission is [R], but this is much less frequent. It simply indicates that the number given to a particular hadith is repeated, which means that the number has been given to more than one hadith instead of giving each of them a separate number.

Sometimes Muslim narrates a hadith from three of his teachers and uses the word 'narrated', but their methods of learning from their teacher whom they quote differ. Muslim is too careful and meticulous to overlook this fact. He makes this clear by immediately adding something like: 'The first said "narrated" and the other two said "reported".'

3. Word usage

The usage of some Arabic words need to be explained. The word 'imam' is often used in reference to some scholars quoted in this work. It is also used in reference to both Muslim and al-Nawawī. There is, however, a very clear difference in the use of this word by Sunni Muslims and the Shia.

Linguistically speaking, imām means 'leader' and is often used, particularly in books of Islamic Jurisprudence, or fiqh, to refer to the ruler or the head of state, whether he has the title of caliph or some other title. It is also commonly used to refer to the person who leads congregational prayer. In this second usage, there is no difference between the one who leads the prayer and anyone in the congregation, except that the imam leads and the congregation follow.

A far more common usage of the word is as a title of respect added before the name of a scholar who is recognized for his high achievement and scholarship. This is how it is mostly used in this work. It may, however, also be used here in the sense of the 'leader of congregational prayer' when this topic is discussed, but as such will be clearly identified at that juncture. A scholar who is considered an imam has no special distinction, apart from what his scholarship gives him; he does not enjoy any special status. It will be noted in this work that the views of some such scholars are outlined, and discussed or rejected. This is clearly a matter of scholarly difference that does not detract from the high standing of the scholar or the one who differs with him.

The Shia have a totally different concept of 'imam'. They give this status to twelve people starting with 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib, the Prophet's cousin, followed by eleven of his descendants through Fāṭimah, his wife and the Prophet's daughter. To the Shia, those imams were infallible and enjoy a rank that is almost equal to that of the Prophet. Indeed, the way some Shia speak of the third Imam, al-Ḥusayn, the Prophet's grandson, gives at times the impression that they rank him above the Prophet himself. Moreover, the Shia believe that the twelfth Imam was taken away and did not die: he will return at some point when he will bring justice to the world. This Shia concept is absolutely unacceptable to Sunni Muslims who do not recognize any such status as belonging to anyone.

We speak of a hadith having a chain of transmission and we mention 'transmitters'. We also use the words 'reporter' and 'narrator'. These three words are used interchangeably and they refer to the people named in the chain of transmission. These have the same status with regard to how the Prophet's statement or action is taught and learnt. When we use the verb 'narrate' we are referring to the action of stating the hadith, whether by reading it out loud or otherwise. However, the word 'narrate' is often used in Islamic literature in reference to the works of the leading scholars of Hadith and what they include in their anthologies. Thus, we often see phrases like 'al-Tirmidhī narrated ...', 'al-Bukhārī narrated ...'. It is felt that it is better to distinguish the mere quoting of a hadith and its entry in an anthology. Therefore we use the word 'narrate' to indicate quoting a hadith and the word 'relate' to mean the 'entry in a Hadith anthology'. Thus, we say: 'al-Bukhārī relates in his Ṣaḥīḥ', or 'al-Bayhaqī relates in Shu'ab al-Īmān', or 'al-Nasā'ī relates in al-Sunan al-Kubrā'.

The words Abū and Abī are often used in the names of hadith reporters and scholars. These two are the same word, but the endings are case markers according to their position in the sentence. Invariably, Abū is used at the beginning of the sentence and when not preceded by a name, while Abī is used when preceded by the word 'ibn'. There are other situations that indicate which of the two should be used. Both words mean 'father of' and their use indicates an appellation of respect.

The word mawlā is used to describe some reporters and other persons mentioned in the commentary. This word is one of the few Arabic words that denote opposite meanings. Linguistically, it means both 'master' and 'slave', and it is used in the Qur'an to refer to God as the mawlā of the believers. When someone is referred to as the mawlā of another or of a tribe, it most frequently refers to a slave who was set free. He then allied himself with his former master or with his tribe, as this was a recognized practice in Arabia both under Islam and prior to it.

It will be noted that the phrase 'but God knows best' is used very frequently in al-Nawawī's commentary and by the scholars he quotes: this is a mark of humility. They express their views but shy away from presenting these as the true and correct view, to the exclusion of anything different. It is akin to saying that 'this is what I know, but ultimate knowledge rests with God'.

The word hadith is used with a capital or small 'h' and this usage indicates a difference. When it is used with the lower case first letter it refers to a single statement by the Prophet. Hence, the reference to one or more statements by the Prophet is always with the lower case. When it is used with a capital first letter, it refers to the Hadith discipline, which is a specialized branch of study, concerned with the Prophet's statements, actions and approvals.

4. Arrangement

Imam al-Nawawī discusses three areas in relation to every hadith included in Muslim's anthology: 1) The general meaning of the hadith and its message. He also outlines the important points it includes and highlights any rulings that it stipulates or may be based on it. 2) The chain of transmission: he identifies the different reporters, giving some information about them and their full names if they are mentioned by first name or by appellation. He also highlights any useful point that the chain provides, and explains any subtle point that reflects Muslim's careful and meticulous scholarship. 3) He explains the language of the hadith, stating the meanings of individual words, particularly those that may be unfamiliar to readers or became rarely used. Where a word, phrase or sentence may have more than one meaning, he discusses these and shows which, if any, is unacceptable. However, he does not follow a single pattern in the arrangement of his commentary. Sometimes, he begins by discussing the chain of transmission, but often he discusses the general meaning first. He may also start by explaining the language and the meaning of individual words.

In this English version, liberty has been taken to follow a consistent pattern. The meaning of the hadith is given first and then its explanation, under the subheading 'text explanation', is provided. This is followed with any discussion al-Nawawī gives concerning the chain of transmission, using the subheading 'transmission'. The information al-Nawawī provides about the meaning of individual words and the pronunciation of unfamiliar words and names has been ignored, because these are already reflected in the translation. However, when he discusses alternative meanings, what is considered useful to English readers is included. If it is a matter of pronunciation or a grammatical aspect that does not affect the meaning or the message of the hadith, this has been disregarded.

5. Quotations and references

In his monumental work, al-Nawawī cites numerous quotations from various scholars. At times, he mentions the work from which the quotation is made, but in most cases this is not done. Although his work has been checked and verified several times, and published many times in different countries, none of these undertook the task of checking the original works in order to provide detailed references. There are several reasons for this omission. Many of the original works have not been published, but remain in manuscript form held in different libraries in various countries. Moreover, many of these works are voluminous. For example, al-Nawawī often quotes from Imam al-Ḥaramayn, who wrote a large number of books. As mentioned in the biographical note on Imam al-Ḥaramayn, one of his books is published in twenty-one volumes. Although a discerning scholar may have a good guess as to the book from which a particular quote is taken, finding it may require several hours, if not days of hard work. Imam al-Nawawī died 750 years ago and we cannot blame him for not citing his references according to modern methods of citation. It should be remembered that all the books he read were written in long hand and manuscripts of the same book differed in size, number of pages and style of writing. Readers and students must simply trust to his scholarship and piety with all that he quotes from other scholars. May God bless them all for their meticulous and faithful scholarship.

6. Notes and editorial liberty

In certain cases, it is felt that a note should be added within the text to explain certain points or add a particular perspective. This is not surprising considering that the book was written nearly eight centuries ago. In order to make the addition very clear, it is preceded by the word 'Note' and given an independent paragraph.

In a few cases, a sentence is started by mentioning the author's name before mentioning what he says, such as 'al-Nawawī considers these hadiths self-explanatory, adding only ...', and in a very few cases, a short comment by the author is not included in the translation, because time has made it irrelevant and including it would be either confusing or require a long explanatory footnote. Since it is unlikely to concern the reader, it is felt that omission is better. Such liberty is taken only in cases where it is felt that had the author lived in our time, he would have approved of such omission.

- i. Shaykh Muhammad Rashīd Riḍā gave an English copy of A Manual of the Early Muhammadan Traditions by Arent Jan Wensinck, Professor of Arabic and Islam at the University of Leiden in Holland, to one of his regular students, Muhammad Fu'ād 'Abd al-Bāqī, and asked him to translate it into Arabic. 'Abd al-Bāqī, who was working as a translator at the Agricultural Bank in Cairo at the time, complied and translated the book, but first he wrote to Wensinck for his permission. Wensinck expressed delight at the idea and also sent 'Abd al-Bāqī a copy of the first part of a concordance of the Prophet's hadiths that he and other researchers were working on. 'Abd al-Bāqī reviewed the work and found many mistakes. He made a list of these and sent it to Wensinck, who was delighted with the input and recruited 'Abd al-Bāqī as editor of the entire al-Mu'jam al-Mufahras concordance.

Al-Mu'jam al-Mufahras is published in Arabic in eight volumes and is indispensable for any researcher in Islamic Studies. Words are listed alphabetically, and a short sentence or phrase in which the word occurs is given. Then the hadith which includes the sentence or phrase is referenced to any of the nine anthologies. 'Abd al-Bāqī's role is acknowledged by Wensinck in the Introduction, and working on this concordance enabled Muhammad Fu'ād 'Abd al-Bāqī to subsequently undertake his own highly acclaimed concordance of the Qur'an.

WHEN THE IMAM IS LATE

[770–102]. (Dār al-Salām 0845) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated to me. He said:<sup>i</sup> I read out to Mālik; from Abū Ḥāzim; from Sahl ibn Sa‘d al-Sā‘idī; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) went to [the clan of] Banī ‘Amr ibn ‘Awf to sort out their dispute. ‘As it was time for the prayer, the caller [i.e. mu’adhdhin] came to Abū Bakr and said: “Shall I call the prayer and you lead?” He said: “Yes”. Abū Bakr led the prayer. God’s Messenger arrived as people were still in prayer, and he moved through and stopped in the [first] row. The people clapped. Abū Bakr did not turn his head when he was in prayer. When people continued to clap, he turned and saw God’s Messenger (peace be upon him). The Prophet signalled him to stay in his place. Abū Bakr raised his hands and praised God, the Mighty and Exalted, for what the Prophet ordered him to do. Abū Bakr then stepped back until he joined the row, and the Prophet came forward and prayed. When he finished, he said: “Abū Bakr, what prevented you from staying in place when I had ordered you?” Abū Bakr said: “It does not behove Ibn Abī Quḥāfah to be leading in the presence of God’s Messenger (peace be upon him)”. The Prophet said to the people: “How come you clapped for long? Whoever wants to alert his imam should glorify God. If he glorifies Him, he will be attended to. Clapping is for women”.’

حَدَّثَنِي يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ: قَرَأْتُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ، عَنْ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ السَّاعِدِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَهَبَ إِلَى بَنِي عَمْرِو بْنِ عَوْفٍ لِيُصْلِحَ بَيْنَهُمْ فَحَانَتِ الصَّلَاةُ فَجَاءَ الْمُؤَذِّنُ إِلَى أَبِي بَكْرٍ فَقَالَ: أَتُصَلِّيُ بِالنَّاسِ فَأَقِيمُ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ، قَالَ فَصَلَّى أَبُو بَكْرٍ فَجَاءَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَالنَّاسُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَتَخَلَّصَ حَتَّى وَقَفَ فِي الصَّفِّ، فَصَفَّقَ النَّاسُ وَكَانَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ لَا يَلْتَمِثُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَلَمَّا أَكْثَرَ النَّاسُ التَّصْفِيقَ تَلَفَّتْ فَرَأَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَأَشَارَ إِلَيْهِ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنْ أَمُكُثْ مَكَانَكَ، فَرَفَعَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ يَدَيْهِ فَحَمِدَ اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ عَلَى مَا أَمَرَهُ بِهِ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ، ثُمَّ اسْتَأْخَرَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ حَتَّى اسْتَوَى فِي الصَّفِّ، وَتَقَدَّمَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَصَلَّى، ثُمَّ انْصَرَفَ فَقَالَ: «يَا أَبَا

بَكَرَ مَا مَعَكَ أَنْ تَثْبُتَ إِذْ أَمَرْتُكَ» قَالَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ: مَا كَانَ لِابْنِ أَبِي قَحَافَةَ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «مَا لِي رَأَيْتُكُمْ أَكْثَرْتُمْ التَّصْفِيقَ؟ مَنْ نَابَهُ شَيْءٌ فِي صَلَاتِهِ فَلْيَسْبَحْ فَإِنَّهُ إِذَا سَبَّحَ التُّفَّتَ إِلَيْهِ وَإِنَّمَا التَّصْفِيقُ لِلنِّسَاءِ

[771–103]. (Dār al-Salām 0846) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd:<sup>i</sup> ‘Abd al-‘Azīz (meaning Ibn Abī Hāzim) narrated; and Qutaybah said: Ya‘qūb (who is Ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-Qārī) narrated; both from Abū Hāzim; from Sahl ibn Sa‘d: the same as Mālik’s narration. In their narration: ‘Abū Bakr raised his hands and praised God. He stepped backwards until he joined the row’.

حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ يَعْنِي ابْنَ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، وَقَالَ قُتَيْبَةُ، حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ وَهُوَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الْقَارِيِّ، كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، بِمِثْلِ حَدِيثِ مَالِكٍ. وَفِي حَدِيثِهِمَا فَرَفَعَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ يَدَيْهِ فَحَمِدَ اللَّهَ، وَرَجَعَ الْقَهْقَرَى وَرَاءَهُ حَتَّى قَامَ فِي الصَّفِّ

[772–104]. (Dār al-Salām 0847) Muhammad ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Bazī‘ narrated:<sup>i</sup> ‘Abd al-A‘lā reported; ‘Ubaydullāh narrated; from Abū Hāzim; from Sahl ibn Sa‘d al-Sā‘idī. He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) went to [the clan of] Banī ‘Amr ibn ‘Awf to settle their dispute ... giving a similar narration, but added: When God’s Messenger arrived, he moved through the rows until he stopped at the first row. The narration included that Abū Bakr stepped backwards’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ بَزِيعٍ، أَخْبَرَنَا عَبْدُ الْأَعْلَى، حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ، عَنْ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ السَّاعِدِيِّ، قَالَ: ذَهَبَ نَبِيُّ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُصْلِحُ بَيْنَ بَنِي عَمْرِو بْنِ عَوْفٍ، بِمِثْلِ حَدِيثِهِمْ. وَزَادَ: فَجَاءَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَخَرَقَ الصُّفُوفَ حَتَّى قَامَ عِنْدَ الصَّفِّ الْمُقَدَّمِ. وَفِيهِ أَنْ أَبَا بَكْرٍ رَجَعَ الْقَهْقَرَى

[773–105]. (Dār al-Salām 0848) Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ and Ḥasan ibn ‘Alī al-Ḥulwānī narrated: both from ‘Abd al-Razzāq; Ibn Rāfi‘ said: ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated; Ibn Jurayj reported; Ibn Shihāb narrated to me; from ‘Abbād ibn Ziyād’s narration; that ‘Urwah ibn al-Mughīrah ibn Shu‘bah reported to him; that al-Mughīrah ibn Shu‘bah reported to him; that he joined God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) on the Expedition of Tabuk. The Prophet went to the open area looking for a depressed place where he could relieve himself. I carried a leather water bottle before the Fajr Prayer. 'When God's Messenger (peace be upon him) came back to me, I poured water from the bottle on his hands. He washed his hands three times, then washed his face. He then tried to put out his arms through his sleeves, but the sleeves of his coat were too narrow. He put his hands back inside his coat and then put his arms out from the bottom of the coat, and washed his arms up to the elbows. He then completed his ablution wiping on his footwear, and came back'.

Al-Mughīrah said: 'I came with him, but we found the people had put forward 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn 'Awf, who was leading them in prayer. The Prophet caught up one rak'ah, and he prayed with the people their last rak'ah. When 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn 'Awf finished his prayer, God's Messenger (peace be upon him) stood up to complete his prayer. This scared the Muslims, and they increased their glorifications. When the Prophet finished his prayers, he turned to them and said: "You have done well", or "You have done rightly", approving their deed of offering their prayers on time'.

قَالَ الْمُغِيرَةُ: «فَأَقْبَلْتُ مَعَهُ حَتَّى نَجِدُ النَّاسَ قَدْ قَدَّمُوا عَبْدَ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنَ عَوْفٍ فَصَلَّى لَهُمْ فَأَدْرَكَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِحْدَى الرُّكْعَتَيْنِ فَصَلَّى مَعَ النَّاسِ الرُّكْعَةَ الْآخِرَةَ، فَلَمَّا سَلَّمَ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَوْفٍ قَامَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُتِمُّ صَلَاتَهُ فَأَفْرَعُ ذَلِكَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ فَأَكْثَرُوا التَّسْبِيحَ فَلَمَّا قَضَى النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَلَاتَهُ أَقْبَلَ عَلَيْهِمْ» ثُمَّ قَالَ: «أَحْسَنْتُمْ» أَوْ قَالَ: «قَدْ أَصَبْتُمْ» يَغْبِطُهُمْ أَنْ صَلُّوا الصَّلَاةَ لَوْفَتِهَا.

[774–000]. (Dār al-Salām 0849) Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ and al-Hulwānī narrated: ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated; from Ibn Jurayj; Ibn Shihāb narrated to me; from Ismā‘īl ibn Muhammad ibn Sa‘d; from Ḥamzah ibn al-Mughīrah: similar to ‘Abbād’s narration. Al-Mughīrah said: ‘I wanted to pull ‘Abd al-Raḥmān back, but the Prophet said: “Leave him”.’

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ، وَالحُلْوَانِيُّ، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ، عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، حَدَّثَنِي ابْنُ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ حَمْزَةَ بْنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ، نَحْوَ حَدِيثِ عَبَّادٍ، قَالَ الْمُغِيرَةُ: فَأَرَدْتُ تَأْخِيرَ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ فَقَالَ: «النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ» دَعَاهُ

Text Explanation

These hadiths include many useful points, such as the importance of settling disputes between people and that the leader of the community or its notables may attend to this themselves. If the imam is late, someone else may lead the prayer, if he does not fear that this would lead to some problem or be objected to by the imam. The one who is to be selected for the task should be the best in the congregation to handle the matter easily. The hadith also tells us that the person who calls the adhān or others may suggest to the best person that he lead the prayer, and that person may accept.

The hadiths also show that limited action does not invalidate prayer, in this case because of the people clapped. Turning one’s head in prayer for a necessary purpose is also acceptable. The hadith shows that it is desirable to praise God and thank Him when one learns of a new aspect of His grace. This may be coupled with raising one’s hands and saying such praises and supplications, even if one is in prayer. The hadiths show that it is also permissible to make one or two steps during prayer and that this is not reprehensible if it is needed. Furthermore, it is permissible for someone leading the prayer to appoint someone else to complete the prayer for the congregation. This is the correct view of our school.

The hadiths make clear that if a leader orders a subordinate person to do something, and he understands that this is not an absolute command but rather a gesture of honour and good will, then the subordinate may decline to do it. His declination is thus a matter of showing humility, not disobedience. It reflects a keen sense of understanding what is intended and maintaining good behaviour with one's superiors.

If someone needs to do something while praying, such as informing a person at the door that he is praying, or alerting the imam to something, it is recommended that he does this by saying a glorification of God, such as subḥān Allāh. This is what a man should do. A woman may clap by striking the back of her left hand with her right palm. She should not strike her palms together, and if she does this in a sort of jest, her prayer becomes invalid, because it goes against the seriousness of prayer.

The hadiths in this chapter reflect several points of honour for Abū Bakr. The congregation agreed to make him their imam, acknowledging his high standing. The hadiths also show that the congregational prayer should be held at the beginning of the time range of each prayer. The iqāmah may only be said when the prayer is to be held. Hence, the caller asked Abū Bakr whether he would lead the prayer, so that he could call the iqāmah. Also, it is the one who calls the adhān who should announce the iqāmah, as this is the Sunnah. If someone else announces the iqāmah, it is valid but contrary to the Sunnah.

The hadiths show that the imam may go through the rows in order to reach his position if he needs to do so. This may be the case if the imam had needed to leave earlier to perform the ablution or for some other business and has then come back. The same applies to anyone from the congregation who might have returned after having left. He may also do so if he notices a gap in a front row and people have slackened to fill it.

Our scholars cite this hadith as evidence that a person who is already in prayer may join someone who begins the prayer after him. Abū Bakr started the prayer, then the Prophet came in and started the prayer, and Abū Bakr joined him. This is the correct view of our school.

The hadith shows that a person engaged in prayer who wants to go back a little may only step back while facing the qiblah. He may not turn round or be in a diagonal line with the qiblah.

The hadith that mentions the prayer led by ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn ‘Awf has already been explained in the Book of Cleansing. It includes that a person may carry the water needed by a superior and it is perfectly in order for someone to help another by pouring the water to enable him to do the ablution. It further shows that at the beginning of the ablution, one washes one’s hands three times. The hadith further confirms that it is permissible to wear an overcoat, and to bring one’s arms from below it provided that one does not expose one’s private area. It further shows that in ablution, wiping on footwear is permissible. All this and other points have been explained in their proper place, but God knows best.

Text Explanation

Imam al-Nawawī does not add any explanation here. He only says that the explanation of these hadiths is already given in the previous chapter.

We may add that making such a signal may be to draw the attention of those nearby or to alert them to attend to some immediate need or task.

THE ORDER TO PERFECT PRAYER

[777–108]. He said: ‘One day, God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) led us in prayer. When he finished, he said: “You, so-and-so, should you not perfect your prayer? Why does the person who prays not consider how he prays? He is only praying for himself. By God, I can see those who are behind me just as I see those in front of me”.’

By God, I see you behind me and how you bow and how you prostrate yourselves’.

In Sa‘īd’s narration: ‘when you bow and when you prostrate yourselves’.

Text Explanation

In these hadiths, the Prophet assures his Companions that he could see them and how they prayed, even though they were behind him. Scholars say that this means that God created for him an awareness that enabled him to see what was behind his back. In fact, normal natural laws were overridden for him in greater ways. There is nothing to exclude this possibility, logically or religiously. On the contrary, religious texts confirm its happening as stated, which means that we must accept it. Qādī ‘Iyād quotes Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal and the majority of scholars as expressing the view that this was a real sighting, with his eyes.

The hadiths include the order to perfect one's prayer and to show humility when we pray, perfecting our bowing and prostration. They also make clear that it is permissible to say an oath by God, even though there is no need for it, but it is preferable not to do so unless there is need for an oath, such as confirmation of something or giving it importance or greater emphasis. This is how we should understand the oaths stated by the Prophet in these hadiths.

A more literal translation of the last two hadiths would give the Prophet's statement as meaning 'I can see you after me'. This actually means 'behind me' as in the first two hadiths. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said that some scholars suggested that this means that the Prophet could see us after his death, but this is far from the context of these hadiths.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of the last hadith, No. 780, has two routes and runs as follows: 'Abū Ghassān al-Misma'ī narrated to me: Mu'ādh (meaning Ibn Hishām) narrated; my father narrated to me [H]. Also, Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated; Ibn Abī 'Adī narrated; from Sa'īd; both from Qatādah; from Anas'. All the narrators in both routes belonged to Basrah.

[781–112]. (Dār al-Salām 0857) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and ‘Alī ibn Hujr narrated:<sup>i</sup> (Abū Bakr’s text); ‘Alī ibn Mushīr (Ibn Hujr said: ‘reported’, but Abū Bakr said: ‘narrated’); from al-Mukhtār ibn Fulful; from Anas. He said: ‘One day, God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) led us in prayer. When he finished, he turned towards us and said: “People, I am your imam. Do not go before me to bow or prostrate yourselves; nor to rise or finish. I can see you in front of me and behind my back”. He then said: “By Him who holds Muhammad’s soul in His hand, had you seen what I saw, you would laugh but little and you would weep much”. They asked: “What have you seen, Messenger of God?” He said: “I saw Heaven and Hell”.’

Text Explanation

The hadiths make clear that it is forbidden to go ahead of the imam when bowing, prostrating or rising during any prayer. This applies to all actions in prayer, including finishing it with salām. The Prophet mentions the possibility of God transforming the image, face or head of anyone who is guilty of such action into the form of a donkey. All this is meant to stress the importance of following the imam and shows that precipitating the imam's movement is seriously wrong.

The Prophet mentions that he saw Heaven and Hell. This provides evidence that both are created by God.

THE PROHIBITION OF RAISING ONE'S EYES TO THE SKY IN PRAYER

[786–117]. (Dār al-Salām 0862) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Abū Kurayb narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū Mu‘āwiyah narrated; from al-A‘mash; from al-Musayyib; from Tamīm ibn Ṭarafah; from Jābir ibn Samurah. He said: God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘Some people shall stop raising their eyes to the sky in prayer; or else, they may not regain their eyesight’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَأَبُو كُرَيْبٌ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ تَمِيمِ بْنِ طَرَفَةَ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ، قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «لَيَنْتَهِيَنَّ أَقْوَامٌ يَرْفَعُونَ أَبْصَارَهُمْ إِلَى السَّمَاءِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، أَوْ لَا تَرْجِعُ إِلَيْهِمْ»

[787–118]. (Dār al-Salām 0863) Abū al-Ṭāhir and ‘Amr ibn Sawwād narrated to me:<sup>ii</sup> Ibn Wahb reported; al-Layth ibn Sa‘d narrated to me; from Ja‘far ibn Rabī‘ah; from ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-A‘raj; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘Some people shall desist from raising their eyesight to the sky when they supplicate in prayer; or else their eyesight may be snatched away’.

حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو الطَّاهِرِ، وَعَمْرُو بْنُ سَوَّادٍ، قَالَا: أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، حَدَّثَنِي اللَّيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الْأَعْرَجِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «لَيَنْتَهِيَنَّ أَقْوَامٌ يَرْفَعُونَ أَبْصَارَهُمْ عِنْدَ الدُّعَاءِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ إِلَى السَّمَاءِ، أَوْ لَيُخْطَفَنَّ أَبْصَارُهُمْ»

Text Explanation

These hadiths include a strict prohibition and a stern warning against raising one’s eyes to the sky when supplicating in prayer. Reports mention that scholars are unanimous that this is certainly forbidden. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ says that scholars disagree as to whether it is wrong to raise one's eyes to the sky when supplicating at other times, not in prayer. Shurayḥ and other scholars have pronounced it reprehensible, or makrūh. However, the majority say that it is permissible. They add that the sky is the qiblah of supplication, just like the Ka'bah is the qiblah of prayer. Raising one's eyes to it is not objected to, in the same way as raising one's hand is not objected to. God says: 'And in the sky is your sustenance and all that you are promised'. (51: 22)

He said: God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) came out one day. He said: ‘Why do I see you raising your hands as if they were the tails of agitated horses?’ He came out later and saw us in several groups. He said: ‘Why do I see you splintered in groups’. He came out on another occasion and said: ‘Should you not stand in rows like the angels stand at their Lord’s?’ We said: ‘Messenger of God, how do the angels stand at their Lord’s?’ He said: ‘They complete the front rows and they stand close together in their rows’.

Text Explanation

The Prophet likens the raising of hands at the end of prayer, when the worshipper says Assalāmu ‘alaykum, to agitated horses raising their tails. Such horses do not stand still, but continue to move their tails and their legs. What is prohibited is to raise one’s hands to indicate the greeting at the end of the prayer, as it is clear in the other narration.

On one occasion, the Prophet noticed that his Companions were offering their prayers standing in separate groups, and he makes his disapproval clear. This is a prohibition of disunity. It is imperative that in prayer, Muslims show their unity and stand together. They are commanded to complete their front rows and to stand close together in rows. Completing their rows means that they do not start a second row before the first is complete, and they complete the second before they start a third row, and so on.

It is clear from these hadiths that the proper practice is to finish the prayer with the greeting Assalāmu ‘alaykum wa raḥmatullāh, and to say it twice as one turns one’s face to the right and to the left. It is not recommended to add wa barakātuh to the greeting, even though it is mentioned in a hadith, but this hadith is lacking in authenticity. Some scholars recommend it, but it is not valid as there is no authentic hadith confirming that. On the contrary, this hadith and similar authentic ones indicate that it should not be said. What is required as a duty is to say Assalāmu ‘alaykum once. If one uses the singular form Assalāmu ‘alayk, dropping the plural pronoun um, one’s prayer is invalid. The hadith indicates that saying the salām twice is desirable. This is the view of our school and the view of the majority of scholars.

In hadith No. 790, the Prophet mentions that one should ‘greet his brother’. The word ‘brother’ is used here as a reference to brotherhood, which means that he is greeting all his brothers who are present.

The hadiths order that we should stand still in prayer, making as few movements as possible, and show humility. They tell us that the angels also offer prayers and that their rows when they stand in prayer are the same as our rows, but God knows best.

STRAIGHTENING THE ROWS AND THE PREFERABILITY OF THE FRONT ROWS

[791–122]. (Dār al-Salām 0868) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> ‘Abdullāh ibn Idrīs, Abū Mu‘āwiyah and Wakī‘ narrated; from al-A‘mash; from ‘Umārah ibn ‘Umayr al-Taymī; from Abū Ma‘mar; from Abū Mas‘ūd: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to straighten our shoulders when we prayed. He would say: “Be straight, not at variance; or else your hearts will be at variance. Let your adults and rational people be next to me, then the one close to them, then the ones close to these”. Abū Mas‘ūd added: Today, you are at greater variance’.

Text Explanation

In the first hadith, No. 791, the Prophet tells his Companions that the first row should be made up of adults and rational people. In the Arabic text, the two descriptions are very close in meaning, which suggests that the Prophet referred to adults because they are more likely to give the prayer its due respect and seriousness. They should be followed by those who are close to them in this respect. The hadith mentions that the Prophet used to straighten their shoulders so as to make the row straight. We note also that the hadith encourages that the best people in the congregation should be nearest to the imam, because they deserve to be recognized. Moreover, the imam may need to choose someone to complete the prayer in his stead and he would then find a suitable person close by. Moreover, such people could easily notice an error or oversight in the prayer and they could alert the imam to it. They would be following the imam in the correct way, and thus their action would transmit to the people behind them what is done. Giving such people priority of place is not confined to prayer. It is a Sunnah to give honourable people priority in every situation, so that they are closer to the imam or the leading person. This includes study circles, courts of law, worship meetings, the front line when confronting the enemy, leading prayers, teaching, issuing rulings, etc. In all such situations, people should be given their rightful positions according to their knowledge, piety, wisdom, honour, age and relevant competence. Authentic hadiths confirm all this. The hadith further stresses the need to ensure that the rows of the congregation are straight and that the imam should take care to ensure this and urge the people to straighten their rows.

In hadith No. 792, the Prophet warns against chaos, just as happens in the market place where people may have some dispute, voices are raised and when people talk at the same time so little is understood.

The Prophet warns us that ensuring the rows are straight is a serious matter. He says: 'You shall straighten your rows, or else God shall cause differences to show in your faces'. It is said that this means that God may change their image, because the Prophet warns in other hadiths that He may make a person's image like that of a donkey. A different suggestion is that He may change their quality. It is perhaps more likely that this means that He may allow conflict and disagreement to surface among them. People speak of a person 'changing his face' towards another, meaning that his feelings towards that person have changed. When rows are not straight, the outer image is troubled and this may lead to feelings being unhealthy.

In hadith No. 797, the Prophet took such care to straighten the rows that he is likened to straightening arrows with them. This means that the row would be absolutely straight. In the same hadith, he gives a stern warning against carelessness in this respect. When he saw a man who was not standing exactly straight he said: 'Servants of God, you shall straighten your rows or else ...'. The hadiths in this chapter show that the Prophet was very keen on this point. This hadith also shows that it is permissible to talk after the iqāmah has been announced and before starting the prayer. This is the view of our school and the great majority of scholars, but some say that it is not permissible. The correct view is that it is permissible, whether what is being said relates to the prayer or not, or even for no particular purpose.

In hadith No. 798, the Prophet speaks about the merits of certain aspects related to prayer. He first speaks about the adhān, or the call to prayer and the first row in the congregational prayer. He says that people would have competed to ensure that they have these. However, if they cannot do the adhān because of the limited time between prayers, or because a person has been assigned to do it, then they would draw lots to determine who of them would do it. It is the same with standing in the front row of the congregation if there are too many people keen to be there. This makes clear that drawing lots to settle disputes of such type is perfectly permissible. The Prophet also stressed the importance of coming early to prayer, saying that people would have raced in order to arrive early in the mosque. This applies to all prayers, although al-Khalīl mentions that this is applicable only to Friday Prayer, but the correct view is that it applies to all prayers.

Then the Prophet mentions the special merit of 'Ishā' and Fajr Prayers, describing them as 'the dark night' and 'the dawn' prayers. The wording of the hadith urges people to come to these prayers, because they are the hardest, as they may interfere with one's sleep, either at the beginning or the end. Hence, hypocrites find them particularly difficult. Although there is a confirmed disapproval of calling 'Ishā' the dark night prayer, the Prophet uses it here. The answer is twofold: the first is that it shows that such description is permissible and that the other disapproval does not mean prohibition. The other, which is more likely, is to prevent confusion, because the Arabs used to refer to Maghrib as 'Ishā'. Had the Prophet said: 'were people to know the merit of 'Ishā' and dawn', some people might have thought that he could be referring to Maghrib. That would have spoilt the meaning. Hence, the Prophet used the word that could not carry any confusion. It is an established rule that the lesser harm is tolerated if it prevents the greater one.

In hadith No. 799, the Prophet tells his Companions: 'Come forward and follow me, and let those behind you follow you'. This means that the people in the back rows follow the rows ahead of them, so as to follow the Prophet. This shows that a person who cannot see or hear the imam may rely on the one who raises his voice with the takbīr to indicate the movements, or rely on the row in front of him so as to follow the imam. Then the Prophet says: 'Some people will continue to slacken', meaning they remain in the back, 'until God shall keep them behind' when He bestows His grace and great bounty.

In hadith No. 802, the Prophet says that 'the best of men's rows is the first and the worst is the last, but the best of women's rows is the last and the worst is the first'. As for men's rows, this applies in all cases: the best are the front rows and the worst is the last. The case of women's rows is different: if they are praying in separate areas in the mosque, then they are like the men: their front rows are the best and their worst are the last. But if they are praying with the men, then it is as the hadith describes. It should be known that what is meant by 'the worst rows' is those that earn the least reward and merit. They are the farthest from the purpose of Islamic worship. The best rows mean the opposite. That the last of women's rows is the best when they are praying with men is so because they are farthest from mixing with men and least likely to see, watch or hear them. Their front rows earn less merit because they are the opposite, but God knows best.

It should be clear that the first row that is praised in the hadiths is the one that is next to the imam, whether those in it come early or late, and whether it is interrupted by some reservation or not. This is the correct meaning that is derived from the wording of the hadiths and confirmed by leading and scrupulous scholars. A group of scholars say that it is the first row that continues from one side of the mosque to the other side, without being interrupted by a reservation or something similar. They insist that if there are interrupted rows before it, then they do not count as the first. The first is the one without interruption. It is also said that 'the first row' refers to those who arrive in the mosque first, even if they or some of them stand at a back row. These last statements are clearly wrong. I am mentioning them only to alert readers to them and make clear that they are wrong, but God knows best.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 792 mentions Khālid al-Hadhdhā' narrating from Abū Ma'shar. Abū Ma'shar's name is Ziyād ibn Kulayb al-Tamīmī al-Ḥanzalī, and he belonged to Kufah.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 793 runs as follows: 'Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā and Ibn Bashshār narrated; Muhammad ibn Ja'far narrated; Shu'bah narrated; from Qatādah from Anas ibn Mālik'. And the next hadith has this chain of transmission: 'Shaybān ibn Farrūkh narrated; 'Abd al-Wārith narrated; from 'Abd al-'Azīz ibn Ṣuhayb; from Anas'. All the narrators in both chains were from Basrah.

AT THE END OF PROSTRATION WOMEN SHOULD DELAY RAISING THEIR HEADS

[803–133]. (Dār al-Salām 0883) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> Wakī‘ narrated; from Sufyān; from Abū Hāzim; from Sahl ibn Sa‘d. He said: ‘I saw men having tied their lower garments with knots [bringing them around] their necks, just like boys, as they [were praying] behind the Prophet, because their garments were too tight. One person said: “Women; do not raise your heads until the men have risen”.’

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، قَالَ: لَقَدْ رَأَيْتُ الرَّجَالَ عَاقِدِي أَرْزِهِمْ فِي أَهْلِ أَهْلِهِمْ مِثْلَ الصَّبِيَّانِ مِنْ ضَيْقِ الْأُزْرِ خَلْفَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ. «فَقَالَ قَائِلٌ: «يَا مَعْشَرَ النِّسَاءِ لَا تَرْفَعْنَ رُءُوسَكُمْ حَتَّى يَرْفَعَ الرَّجَالُ».

Text Explanation

The narrator mentions that men tied their lower garments with knots, taking them up and round their necks because these garments were not ample. They did this as a precaution, so that their private areas were not partially exposed when they arose. They wanted to make sure that part of their bodies remained covered at all times. The instruction to women to delay rising from prostration is to allow the men to rise completely, thus preventing the women from seeing if any of the men were momentarily exposed when they rose. God knows best and to Him we all return.

Text Explanation

These hadiths give a clear meaning that women may not be prevented or stopped from attending the mosques for worship. However, there are conditions mentioned by scholars, which are based on relevant hadiths that she must not wear perfume or makeup, or ringing anklets, or luxurious clothes and she must not mix freely with men. Moreover, the route to the mosque must be safe, with nothing to be feared on the way. This order not to stop them from attending mosques is understood to be one of discouragement, not total prohibition, if the woman is married and the conditions are met. If the woman is unmarried, preventing her from attending the mosque is prohibited.

Ibn ‘Umar’s son said that some people would still stop women from attending mosques to prevent them taking such permission as a pretext for doing or being involved in some unacceptable activity. ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar scolds his son severely, and in one narration he hits him on his chest. This makes clear that such a punishment of one’s own son is acceptable, even if he is an adult. Moreover, scolding a person who objects to the Sunnah out of personal preference is appropriate.

In hadith No. 811, the Prophet says to women: ‘If any of you attends the ‘Ishā’ [prayer], let her not wear perfume that night’. This means if she wishes to attend the ‘Ishā’ prayer, she should not wear perfume before going to the mosque. If she has attended the prayer and gone back home, then she may wear perfume or other makeup.

In hadith No. 813, the Prophet describes the ‘Ishā’ prayer as the ‘last ‘Ishā’. Al-Aṣma‘ī, a famous linguist, said that it is impossible that people describe ‘Ishā’ as the ‘last’, because we have only one ‘Ishā’. This is wrong because the hadith uses it. Moreover, in Muslim’s anthology, a number of the Prophet’s Companions are stated to describe it as the ‘last ‘Ishā’’. Their descriptions are well known and will be mentioned in coming chapters.

In hadith No. 814, ‘Ā’ishah expresses her view that the Prophet would have prevented women from attending mosques had he seen what they were doing. She was referring to what women used of adornments, perfumes and fine clothes, but God knows best.

KEEPING ONE'S VOICE AT THE CORRECT LEVEL IN PRAYER

[815–145]. (Dār al-Salām 0897) Abū Ja‘far Muhammad ibn al-Ṣabbāh and ‘Amr al-Nāqid narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from Hushaym. Ibn al-Ṣabbāh said: Hushaym narrated; Abū Bishr reported; from Sa‘īd ibn Jubayr; from Ibn ‘Abbās; concerning the verse that says: ‘Do not raise your voice too loud in prayer, nor say it in too low a voice’. (17: 110) This was revealed in Makkah, when the Prophet was in hiding. When he led his Companions in prayer, he raised his voice as he recited the Qur’an. When the unbelievers heard him, they cursed the Qur’an, the One who revealed it and the one who brought it. Therefore, God, the Exalted, said to His Prophet (peace be upon him): do not recite it too loudly so as to allow the unbelievers to hear your recitation, nor recite it too low making it difficult for your Companions to follow it. You should let them [i.e. your Companions] listen to the Qur’an but without raising your voice too loud. Rather, ‘follow a middle course in between’, i.e. neither too loud nor too low.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ، وَعَمْرُو النَّاقِدُ، جَمِيعًا عَنْ هُشَيْمٍ، قَالَ ابْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ: حَدَّثَنَا هُشَيْمٌ، أَخْبَرَنَا أَبُو بَشِيرٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، فِي قَوْلِهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {وَلَا تَجْهَرُ بِصَلَاتِكَ وَلَا تُخَافِتُ بِهَا} [الإسراء: ١١٠] قَالَ: «نَزَلَتْ وَرَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُتَوَارِبِينَ، فَكَانَ إِذَا صَلَّى بِأَصْحَابِهِ رَفَعَ صَوْتَهُ بِالْقُرْآنِ، فَإِذَا سَمِعَ ذَلِكَ الْمُشْرِكُونَ سَبُّوا الْقُرْآنَ وَمَنْ أَنْزَلَهُ وَمَنْ جَاءَ بِهِ، فَقَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى لِنَبِيِّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: {وَلَا تَجْهَرُ بِصَلَاتِكَ} فَيَسْمَعُ الْمُشْرِكُونَ قِرَاءَتَكَ {وَلَا تُخَافِتُ بِهَا} عَنْ أَصْحَابِكَ أَسْمِعَهُمْ الْقُرْآنَ وَلَا تَجْهَرُ ذَلِكَ الْجَهْرَ {وَابْتَغِ بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ سَبِيلًا} [الإسراء: ١١٠]»، «يَقُولُ بَيْنَ الْجَهْرِ وَالْمُخَافَةِ».

[816–146]. (Dār al-Salām 0898) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated: Yaḥyā ibn Zakariyyā reported; from Hishām ibn ‘Urwah; from his father; from ‘Ā’ishah; speaking about the verse: ‘Do not raise your voice too loud in prayer, nor say it in too low a voice'. (17: 110): 'This was revealed concerning supplication'.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، أَخْبَرَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ زَكَرِيَّا، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، فِي قَوْلِهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {وَلَا تَجْهَرُ بِصَلَاتِكَ وَلَا تُخَافِتُ بِهَا} [الإسراء: ١١٠] قَالَتْ: «أُنْزِلَ هَذَا فِي الدُّعَاءِ».

[000-000]. (Dār al-Salām 0899) Qutaybah ibn Sa'īd narrated: Hammād (meaning Ibn Zayd) narrated [H]. Also, Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated; Abū Usāmah and Wakī' narrated [H]. And, Abū Kurayb narrated; Abū Mu'āwiyah narrated; all from Hishām; with this chain of transmission: the same text.

Text Explanation

The first hadith, No. 815, narrated by Ibn 'Abbās, is very clear showing that when there is an adverse situation that may result from reciting the Qur'an loudly, then keeping one's voice to a moderate level is advisable. The second hadith, No. 816, gives 'Ā'ishah's explanation that it refers to supplication. This is the interpretation chosen by al-Ṭabarī, though Ibn 'Abbās's interpretation sounds more likely, but God knows best.

LISTENING TO QUR'ANIC RECITATION

[817–147]. (Dār al-Salām 0900) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd, Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: all from Jarīr; Abū Bakr said: Jarīr ibn ‘Abd al-Ḥamīd narrated; from Mūsā ibn Abī ‘Ā’ishah; from Sa‘īd ibn Jubayr; from Ibn ‘Abbās, concerning the verses starting, ‘Do not move your tongue repeating its words’. He said: ‘When Gabriel brought the Prophet new revelations, the Prophet used to move his tongue and lips with it, and he found it hard. This was known about him. God then revealed: “Do not move your tongue repeating its words in haste”, so that you hold it. “We shall see to its collection and recitation.” We shall make sure that you will have it in your heart, and its recitation so that you can recite it. “When We recite it, follow its recitation.” As We reveal it, you listen to it. “Then it will be for Us to make its meaning clear.” We shall make it clear through your tongue. After that when Gabriel came to him, the Prophet would listen attentively. When Gabriel left him, he could recite it, as God promised him’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، وَأَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَإِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، كُلُّهُمْ عَنْ جَرِيرٍ، قَالَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ:
حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ، عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ أَبِي عَائِشَةَ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، فِي قَوْلِهِ عَزَّ
وَجَلَّ: {لَا تَحْرُكْ بِهِ لِسَانَكَ} [القيامة: ٦١] قَالَ: «كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا نَزَلَ عَلَيْهِ جِبْرِيلُ
بِالْوَحْيِ كَانَ مِمَّا يُحْرِكُ بِهِ لِسَانَهُ وَشَفَتَيْهِ فَيَسْتَدُّ عَلَيْهِ، فَكَانَ ذَلِكَ يُعْرِفُ مِنْهُ»، فَأَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {لَا تَحْرُكْ بِهِ
لِسَانَكَ لِتَعْجَلَ بِهِ} [القيامة: ٦١] أَخَذَهُ {إِنْ عَلَيْنَا جَمْعُهُ} [القيامة: ٧١] وَقُرْآنَهُ إِنَّ عَلَيْنَا أَنْ نَجْمَعَهُ فِي
صَدْرِكَ وَقُرْآنَهُ فَتَقْرَأَهُ {فَإِذَا قَرَأْنَاهُ فَاتَّبِعْ قُرْآنَهُ} [القيامة: ٨١] قَالَ: أَنْزَلْنَاهُ فَاسْتَمِعْ لَهُ {إِنْ عَلَيْنَا بَيَانُهُ}
[القيامة: ٩١] أَنْ نُبَيِّنَهُ بِلسَانِكَ فَكَانَ إِذَا أَتَاهُ جِبْرِيلُ أَطْرَقَ فَإِذَا ذَهَبَ قَرَأَهُ كَمَا وَعَدَهُ اللَّهُ.

[818–148]. (Dār al-Salām 0901) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated: Abū ‘Awānah narrated; from Mūsā ibn Abī ‘Ā’ishah; from Sa‘īd ibn Jubayr; from Ibn ‘Abbās, concerning the verses starting, ‘Do not move your tongue repeating its words in haste’. He said: ‘The Prophet (peace be upon him) found it hard when revelation was given to him, and he used to move his lips. Ibn ‘Abbās said to me: “I am moving them [i.e. my lips] as God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to move them”. Sa’īd said: “I am moving them as Ibn ‘Abbās moved them”, and he moved his lips. God then revealed: “Do not move your tongue repeating its words in haste, We shall see to its collection and recitation”. He said: its collection in your heart, and then you can recite it. “When We recite it, follow its recitation.” He said: you listen to it and hearken. Then it will be for Us to ensure that you recite it. After that when Gabriel came to him, the Prophet would listen attentively. When Gabriel departed, the Prophet recited it just as Gabriel taught him’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَوَانَةَ، عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ أَبِي عَائِشَةَ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، فِي قَوْلِهِ: {لَا تُحَرِّكْ بِهِ لِسَانَكَ لِتَعْجَلَ بِهِ} [القيامة: ٦١]، قَالَ: «كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَعْالِجُ مِنَ التَّنَزِيلِ شِدَّةً كَانَ يُحَرِّكُ شَفَتَيْهِ»، فَقَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ: «أَنَا أَحَرَّكُهُمَا كَمَا كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُحَرِّكُهُمَا». فَقَالَ سَعِيدٌ: «أَنَا أَحَرَّكُهُمَا كَمَا كَانَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ يُحَرِّكُهُمَا فَحَرَّكَ شَفَتَيْهِ». فَأَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {لَا تُحَرِّكْ بِهِ لِسَانَكَ لِتَعْجَلَ بِهِ إِنْ عَلَيْنَا جَمْعُهُ وَقُرْآنَهُ} [القيامة: ٧١] قَالَ: جَمَعَهُ فِي صَدْرِكَ ثُمَّ تَقْرُوهُ {فَإِذَا قَرَأَهُ فَاتَّبِعْ قُرْآنَهُ} [القيامة: ٨١]. قَالَ: فَاسْتَمِعْ وَأَنْصِتْ ثُمَّ إِنْ عَلَيْنَا أَنْ تَقْرَأَهُ قَالَ: «فَكَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أَتَاهُ جَبْرِيْلُ اسْتَمَعَ فَإِذَا انْطَلَقَ جَبْرِيْلُ قَرَأَهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَمَا أَقْرَأَهُ».

Text Explanation

The hadith confirms that the Prophet used to move his tongue and lips with the Qur’an when it was revealed to him. This was his usual practice, because he was eager to retain it in memory. In the Qur’anic verses quoted in the hadith (75: 16–19), God, the Mighty and Exalted, says: “When We recite it”, which means when the Angel Gabriel recited it. Thus, the attribution to God here is a case of attribution to God what is done by His command.

Both hadiths confirm that the experience of receiving revelations was hard for the Prophet. He suffered from it because the presence of the angel gave it an awesome atmosphere, and the revelation itself was a heavy experience. In another surah, God says to him: ‘We shall bestow on you a weighty message’. (73: 5) The Prophet found it hard to ensure that he learnt it well. Ibn ‘Abbās mentions that ‘this was known about him'. This means that whoever saw him then would know that he found it hard, because its effect was clear on his face and body. His wife, 'Ā'ishah, said: 'I could see him receiving revelations on a very cold day, and by the time it was over, he would be perspiring profusely'.

The Prophet was told to listen and hearken when the Qur'an was recited to him. It is possible that one listens to something without paying full attention. Hence, the hadith uses both 'listen' and 'hearken'. God says: 'When the Qur'an is recited, hearken to it, and listen in silence, so that you may be graced with God's mercy'. (7: 204)

RECITING THE QUR'AN ALOUD IN FAJR PRAYER AND RECITING IT TO THE JINN

[819–149]. (Dār al-Salām 0902) Shaybān ibn Farrūkh narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū 'Awānah narrated; from Abū Bishr; from Sa'īd ibn Jubayr; from Ibn 'Abbās. He said: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) never recited the Qur'an to the jinn and he never saw them. God's Messenger went out with a group of his companions to 'Ukāẓ marketplace. It was after the jinn were prevented from listening to the news from heaven, and they were shot by shooting stars. The jinn went back to their people, who asked them: "What is the matter with you?" They said: "We have been prevented from listening to the news from heaven and we have been shot by shooting stars". They said: "This must be for some serious event. Roam about the whole earth to find out what it is that keeps the news from heaven withheld from us". They went out, roaming all parts of the east and west. One group headed towards Tihāmah (when [the Prophet] was at Nakhīl, aiming towards 'Ukāẓ marketplace. He was leading his Companions as they offered the Fajr Prayer). When they heard the Qur'an, they listened in silence. They then said: "This is what stopped us from listening to the news from heaven". They went back to their people and said: "We have heard a wondrous discourse, giving guidance to what is sagacious, and we have come to believe in it. We shall never associate partners with our Lord". (72: 1–2) Then God, the Mighty and Exalted, revealed to his Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) [the surah starting with]: "Say: It has been revealed to me that a group of the jinn listened in and then said".' (72: 1)

حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَانُ بْنُ فَرُّوخَ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَوَانَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي بَشْرٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: «مَا قَرَأَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى الْجِنَّ وَمَا رَأَوْهُمْ. أَنْ طَلَّقَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي

[820-150]. (Dār al-Salām 0903) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated: <sup>i</sup> ‘Abd al-A‘lā narrated; from Dāwūd; from ‘Āmir: he said: I asked ‘Alqamah: Did Ibn Mas‘ūd witness the night of the jinn with God’s Messenger (peace be upon him)? ‘Alqamah said: I myself asked Ibn Mas‘ūd: Did any of you witness the night of the jinn with God’s Messenger? He said: ‘No, but we were with God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) one night, when we missed him. We searched for him in valleys and mountain passages, and we thought that he was kidnapped or assassinated. It was our worst night ever. In the morning, we saw him coming from the direction of Hīrā’. We said: “Messenger of God, we missed you and searched for you but could not find you. We went through our worst night ever”. He said: “A person from the jinn came inviting me and I went with him and recited the Qur’an to them”. He took us along and showed us their traces and the traces of their fires. They asked him for food. He said: “You shall have every bone you find on which God’s name was mentioned [at the time of its slaughter]. It will be at its richest in meat. And you shall have all animal droppings as feed for your animals”. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said [to us]: “Do not use them for cleansing after answering the call of nature, because they are the food of your brethren”.’

Text Explanation

The first hadith in this chapter, No. 819, mentions Ibn ‘Abbās’s narration that the Prophet neither recited the Qur’an to the jinn nor saw them. We then have the hadith narrated by ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd, No. 820, which mentions that the Prophet was invited to go to the jinn and he went and recited the Qur’an to them.

Scholars say that the two hadiths mention two separate events. Ibn ‘Abbās’s hadith speaks of an event in the early days of prophethood, when some of the jinn came over and listened to the recitation that is mentioned in Surah 72 of the Qur’an. Commentators hold different views on whether the Prophet was aware of their listening in to the Qur’an when they heard it, and was informed of it at the time by some revelation, or he was not aware of it until he was told later. The event reported by Ibn Mas‘ūd is a totally different one, which took place much later when Islam was spreading fast.

Ibn ‘Abbās mentions in his narration of hadith No. 819 that ‘it was after the jinn were prevented from listening to the news from heaven, and they were shot by shooting stars’. This suggests that this happened after the start of Muhammad’s Prophethood, not before it. Hence, the jinn felt very scared and went roaming the whole earth to determine what had happened. Fortune-telling was very common among the Arabs, when suddenly the jinn were stopped from climbing up into the sky to eavesdrop, as God mentions in the Qur'an: 'We tried to reach heaven, but found it full of mighty guards and shooting stars. We used to take up positions there to listen, but whoever tries to listen now will find a shooting star in wait for him'. (72: 8–9) Arabic poetry of the time records that people found this development of shooting stars to be very strange. It was indeed one of the signs of the new prophethood. A number of scholars say that shooting stars have always been a phenomenon, ever since the beginning of time. This is the view of Ibn 'Abbās, al-Zuhrī and other scholars. This is mentioned in Arabic poetry of the period, and Ibn 'Abbās narrates a hadith mentioning it.

Al-Zuhrī was asked about the Qur'anic verse that says: 'Whoever tries to listen now will find a shooting star in wait for him'. He said: 'Shooting stars were not numerous, but were greatly increased when our Prophet was sent with his message'. Other commentators on the Qur'an said something similar. They mention that guarding the sky and shooting the jinn trying to eavesdrop took place before prophethood, and were well known. However, they only took place when a serious event was about to take place, such as some suffering that would befall people on earth, or the start of a new divine message. This is how commentators explain the verse quoting the jinn: 'We do not know if this bodes evil for those who live on earth, or if their Lord intends to guide them to what is right'. (72: 10) It is also said shooting stars were known and seen before the prophethood, but that they shot the jinn and burnt them only took place after the Prophethood of Muhammad (peace be upon him).

The hadith mentions that when the jinn started to roam the earth, the group of them who headed towards Tihāmah in Arabia caught up with the Prophet when 'he was leading his Companions as they offered the Fajr prayer. When they heard the Qur'an, they listened in silence. They then said: This is what stopped us from listening to the news from heaven'. This tells us that in Fajr prayer, the Qur'an is recited aloud, and that congregational prayer is valid during travel and that it was practised ever since the early days of prophethood. Imam Abū ‘Abdullāh al-Māzarī said: ‘The apparent meaning of the hadith confirms that they believed when they listened to the Qur’an. Whoever believes when they listen to the Qur’an must know the nature of the miracle of the Qur’an and its condition. It is only when they know this that they realize that the messenger is telling the truth. The jinn would have known this from the messages of earlier messengers and they realized that he was the truthful Messenger mentioned by earlier prophets. Scholars are in agreement that in the Hereafter, the jinn will be punished for their sins committed in this present life. God says: ‘Most certainly will I fill Hell with jinn and humans all together.’ (32: 13) However, scholars differ on what happens in the Hereafter to those of the jinn who believe and do well in this life. Ibn Abī Sulaym and a number of scholars say that they do not go to Heaven. Their reward is that they will not suffer any punishment in Hell. They will then be told to become dust, just like animals. Other scholars, such as al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, al-Ḍaḥḥāk, Mālik ibn Anas, Ibn Abī Laylā and many others say that those of the jinn who believe and do well will be in Heaven. This is the correct view.

In hadith No. 820, ‘Alqamah said: ‘I myself asked Ibn Mas‘ūd: Did any of you witness the night of the jinn with God’s Messenger? He said: “No”.’ This is a clear statement that contradicts the other hadith entered in Abū Dāwūd’s Sunan and elsewhere, which mentions using nabīdh [i.e. a drink made of water in which dates or raisins are soaked] for ablution. That hadith mentions that Ibn Mas‘ūd attended with the Prophet on the night when he met the jinn. The present hadith in Muslim’s anthology is authentic, while the one mentioning the nabīdh is graded by all Hadith scholars as poor in authenticity. Its main narrator is Zayd, ‘Amr ibn Ḥarīth’s mawlā, who is graded as ‘unknown’.

When they could not find him after searching every place, the Prophet’s Companions thought that he might have been kidnapped or assassinated. The possibility of kidnap was mainly associated with the schemes of the jinn, while assassination would have been done secretly.

The hadith mentions that the jinn asked the Prophet for food, and he said to them: 'You shall have every bone you find on which God's name was mentioned at the time of its slaughter'. Some scholars said that this applied to the believers among the jinn. As for their unbelievers, their food is the bones of animals slaughtered without mentioning God's name.

Ibn Mas'ūd expressed the wish that he could have been in the Prophet's company when he met the jinn. This reflects a keen desire to be in the company with good people on their travels, or in their meeting places, or on their business. When one misses out on these, one feels sorry.

In the last hadith, No. 825, it is mentioned that a tree informed the Prophet of the jinn's request to meet him. This provides evidence that God may grant certain faculties to whatever and whoever He wills. This is like what God says of hard rocks: 'Some other rocks fall down for fear of God'. (2: 74) He also says: 'The seven heavens extol His limitless glory, as does the earth, and all who dwell in them. Indeed every single thing extols His glory and praise, but you cannot understand their praises'. (17: 44) Several hadiths also mention similar things. The Prophet said: 'I know a stone in Makkah which used to greet me'. In another hadith, the Prophet mentions that two trees came to him. Muslim mentions this hadith towards the end of his anthology. In a different hadith, the Prophet felt that the tree branch on which he leaned when he addressed the people before prayer on Fridays felt sad as it was no longer needed when a platform was made for the Prophet. Also, a hadith mentions that food praised God. A different hadith mentions that Prophet Moses put his clothes on a stone when he bathed, and the stone ran away with them. Furthermore, the response of Ḥirā' and Uḥud is mentioned, but God knows best.

Transmission

Al-Dāraqūṭnī said, as narrated by Ibn Mas‘ūd, that the hadith ends at him saying: ‘He took us along and showed us their traces and the traces of their fires’. What comes after that is stated by al-Sha‘bī. Such is the hadith reported by Dāwūd’s reporters, and Dāwūd narrated from al-Sha‘bī, and so did Ibn ‘Ulayyah, Ibn Zuray‘, Ibn Abī Zā‘idah, Ibn Idrīs, and others. This is what al-Dāraqūṭnī and other scholars have said. What he meant by saying that it is stated by al-Sha‘bī is that it is not narrated from Ibn Mas‘ūd in this particular hadith. Al-Sha‘bī would not make a statement of this sort unless it is attributed to the Prophet, but God knows best.

RECITATION IN ZUHR AND ‘AṢR PRAYERS

[826–154]. (Dār al-Salām 0908) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā al-‘Anzī narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ibn Abī ‘Adī narrated; from al-Ḥajjāj (meaning al-Ṣawwāf); from Yaḥyā (who is Ibn Kathīr); from ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Qatādah and Abū Salamah; from Abū Qatādah. He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to lead us in prayer. He would read in the first two rak‘ahs of Zuh̄r and ‘Aṣr the opening surah of the Book and two more surahs, and he would sometimes let us hear what he was reading. He used to make the first rak‘ah of Zuh̄r long and shorten the second. He would do the same in Fajr’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى الْعَنْزِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ، عَنِ الْحَجَّاجِ، - يَعْنِي الصَّوَّافَ - عَنْ أَبِي حَبِيٍّ، - وَهُوَ ابْنُ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ - عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ، وَأَبِي سَلَمَةَ عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ، قَالَ: "كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُصَلِّي بِنَا فِي قِرَاءَةِ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ فِي الرَّكَعَتَيْنِ الْأُولَيَيْنِ بِفَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ وَسُورَتَيْنِ، وَيُسَمِعُنَا الْآيَةَ أَحْيَانًا، وَكَانَ يُطَوِّلُ الرَّكَعَةَ الْأُولَى مِنَ الظُّهْرِ وَيُقْصِرُ الثَّانِيَةَ. وَكَذَلِكَ فِي الصُّبْحِ

[827–155]. (Dār al-Salām 0909) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Yazīd ibn Hārūn narrated; Hammām and Abān ibn Yazīd reported from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Qatādah; from his father; that ‘The Prophet (peace be upon him) used to read in the first two rak‘ahs of Zuh̄r and ‘Aṣr, the opening surah of the Book and another surah; and he would sometimes let us hear what he was reading. He would read the opening surah of the Book in the other two rak‘ahs’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ، أَخْبَرَنَا هَمَّامٌ، وَأَبَانُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يقرأ فِي الرَّكَعَتَيْنِ الْأُولَيَيْنِ مِنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ بِفَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ وَسُورَةٍ، وَيُسَمِعُنَا الْآيَةَ أَحْيَانًا، وَيَقْرَأُ فِي الرَّكَعَتَيْنِ الْآخَرَتَيْنِ بِفَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ

[828–156]. (Dār al-Salām 0910) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā and Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from Hushaym; Yaḥyā said: Hushaym reported; from Manṣūr; from al-Walīd ibn Muslim; from Abū al-Ṣiddīq; from Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī. He said: 'We used to guess the length of the Prophet's prayer in Ṣuḥr and 'Aṣr. We guessed that in the first two rak'ahs of Ṣuḥr he stood the length of reciting al-Sajdah [i.e. Surah 30], and guessed that in the last two rak'ahs, he stood half that length. We guessed that he stood in the first two rak'ahs of 'Aṣr as long as he stood in the last two rak'ahs of Ṣuḥr, and in the last two of 'Aṣr for half that length'.

In his narration, Abū Bakr did not mention the name of the surah, but said 'around thirty verses'.

دَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، وَأَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ جَمِيعًا عَنْ هُشَيْمٍ، - قَالَ يَحْيَى أَخْبَرَنَا هُشَيْمٌ، - عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الصَّدِّيقِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ، قَالَ: "كُنَّا نَحْزُرُ قِيَامَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ فَحَزَرْنَا قِيَامَهُ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ الْأُولَيَيْنِ مِنَ الظُّهْرِ قَدْرَ قِرَاءَةِ الْمِائَةِ تَنْزِيلِ السَّجْدَةِ وَحَزَرْنَا قِيَامَهُ فِي الْآخِرَتَيْنِ قَدْرَ النِّصْفِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ وَحَزَرْنَا قِيَامَهُ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ الْأُولَيَيْنِ مِنَ الْعَصْرِ عَلَى قَدْرِ قِيَامِهِ فِي الْآخِرَتَيْنِ مِنَ الظُّهْرِ وَفِي الْآخِرَتَيْنِ مِنَ الْعَصْرِ عَلَى النِّصْفِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ". وَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ أَبُو بَكْرٍ فِي رَوَايَتِهِ الْمِائَةَ تَنْزِيلَ السَّجْدَةِ. وَقَالَ قَدْرَ ثَلَاثِينَ آيَةً.

[829–157]. (Dār al-Salām 0911) Shaybān ibn Farrūkh narrated: Abū 'Awānah narrated from Manṣūr; from al-Walīd ibn Abī Bishr; from Abū al-Ṣiddīq al-Nājī; from Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī that 'The Prophet used to read in the first two rak'ahs of Ṣuḥr Prayer the equivalent of thirty verses in each rak'ah; and in the other two rak'ahs the equivalent of fifteen verses; or perhaps he said around half that length. And in 'Aṣr Prayer, he would read the equivalent of fifteen verses in the first two rak'ahs, and in the last two around half that length'.

حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَانُ بْنُ فَرُّوخَ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَوَانَةَ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي بَشْرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الصَّدِّيقِ النَّاجِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ، أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَقْرَأُ فِي صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ الْأُولَيَيْنِ فِي كُلِّ رَكْعَةٍ قَدْرَ ثَلَاثِينَ آيَةً، وَفِي الْآخِرَتَيْنِ قَدْرَ خَمْسِ عَشْرَةِ آيَةٍ، أَوْ قَالَ نِصْفَ ذَلِكَ. وَفِي الْعَصْرِ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ الْأُولَيَيْنِ، فِي كُلِّ رَكْعَةٍ قَدْرَ قِرَاءَةِ خَمْسِ عَشْرَةِ آيَةٍ، وَفِي الْآخِرَتَيْنِ قَدْرَ نِصْفِ ذَلِكَ.

[830–158]. (Dār al-Salām 0912) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> Hushaym reported; from 'Abd al-Malik ibn 'Umayr; from Jābir ibn Samurah; that the 'people of Kufah complained about Saʿd to 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, and they mentioned the way he led the prayer. 'Umar sent for him and [Sa'd] came over. [ʿUmar] mentioned to him what the people had complained of about prayer. [Sa'd] said: "When I lead the prayer, I maintain the way God's Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed, changing nothing. I recite slowly in the first two rak'ahs, and make the last two lighter". [ʿUmar] said: "This is what I expected of you, Abū Ishāq".

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، أَخْبَرَنَا هُشَيْمٌ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ عُمَيْرٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ، أَنَّ أَهْلَ الْكُوفَةِ، شَكَّوْا سَعْدًا إِلَى عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ فَذَكَرُوا مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ. فَأَرْسَلَ إِلَيْهِ عُمَرُ، فَقَدِمَ عَلَيْهِ، فَذَكَرَ لَهُ مَا عَابُوهُ بِهِ مِنْ أَمْرِ الصَّلَاةِ. فَقَالَ: "إِنِّي لأُصَلِّي بِهِمْ صَلَاةَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، مَا أَخْرِمُ عَنْهَا. إِنِّي لَأَرْكَدُ بِهِمْ فِي الْأُولَيَيْنِ، وَأَحْذِفُ فِي الْآخِرِيَيْنِ". فَقَالَ: "ذَاكَ الظَّنُّ بِكَ أَبَا إِسْحَاقَ".

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 0913) Qutaybah ibn Saʿīd and Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: from Jarīr; from ʿAbd al-Malik ibn ʿUmayr; with the same chain of transmission: the same text.

حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، وَإِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ جَرِيرٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ عُمَيْرٍ، بِهَذَا الْإِسْنَادِ.

[831–159]. (Dār al-Salām 0914) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated: ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Maḥdī narrated: Shuʿbah narrated; from Abū ʿAwn: I heard Jābir ibn Samurah say: "ʿUmar said to Sa'd: "They complain about you in all matters, and even prayer". [Sa'd] said: "As for me, I make the first two [rak'ahs] long and shorten the other two. I shall not change what I do as I follow God's Messenger's prayer". [ʿUmar] said: "That is what is expected of you", or "That is what I expected of you".

وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كَرِيبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ بُشَيْرٍ، عَنْ مِسْعَرٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ وَأَبِي عَوْنٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ، بِمَعْنَى
 "أَحَدِهِمْ. وَزَادَ فَقَالَ: "تَعْلَمُنِي الْأَعْرَابُ بِالصَّلَاةِ"

[833–161]. (Dār al-Salām 0916) Dāwūd ibn Rushayd narrated:<sup>i</sup> al-Walīd (meaning Ibn Muslim); from Saʿīd (who is Ibn ʿAbd al-ʿAzīz); from ʿAṭīyyah ibn Qays; from Qazʿah; from Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī. He said: 'The Zuh̄r Prayer may be announced [i.e. with iqāmah], and any person may go to al-Baqīʿ where he could relieve himself then perform the ablution and go [to the mosque]. God's Messenger (peace be upon him) would still be in the first rakʿah, as he made it very long'.

حَدَّثَنَا دَاوُدُ بْنُ رُشَيْدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ - يَعْنِي ابْنَ مُسْلِمٍ - عَنْ سَعِيدٍ (وَهُوَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ) عَنْ عَطِيَّةِ بْنِ قَيْسٍ، عَنْ قَزْعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ، قَالَ: "لَقَدْ كَانَتْ صَلَاةُ الظُّهْرِ تُقَامُ، فِي ذَهَبٍ الدَّاهِبِ إِلَى الْبَقِيعِ". فَيَقْضِي حَاجَتَهُ ثُمَّ يَتَوَضَّأُ، ثُمَّ يَأْتِي وَرَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الرَّكْعَةِ الْأُولَى مِمَّا يَطْوِي لَهَا.

[834–162]. (Dār al-Salām 0917) Muhammad ibn Hātim narrated to me: ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī narrated; from Muʿāwiyah ibn Ṣalīḥ; from Rabīʿah; he said: Qazʿah narrated to me: 'I went to see Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī when a large number of people were with him. When they dispersed, I said: "I am not asking you the same questions these people are asking. I am asking you about the way God's Messenger (peace be upon him) offered his prayer". He said: "You shall not benefit by that". He repeated his question. [Abū Saʿīd] said: "The Zuh̄r Prayer would be announced, and anyone of us might go to al-Baqīʿ to relieve himself, then go home and perform the ablution. We would then return to the mosque and find God's Messenger (peace be upon him) still in the first rakʿah".

حَدَّثَ نَبِيُّ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ حَاتِمٍ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ، عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ بْنِ صَالِحٍ، عَنْ رَبِيعَةَ، قَالَ حَدَّثَنِي قَزْعَةُ، قَالَ: "أَتَيْتُ أَبَا سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيَّ وَهُوَ مَكْثُورٌ عَلَيْهِ. فَلَمَّا تَفَرَّقَ النَّاسُ عَنْهُ قُلْتُ: إِنِّي لَا أَسْأَلُكَ عَمَّا يَسْأَلُكَ هَؤُلَاءِ عَنْهُ - قُلْتُ - أَسْأَلُكَ عَنْ صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ". فَقَالَ: "مَا لَكَ فِي ذَلِكَ مِنْ خَيْرٍ". فَأَعَادَهَا عَلَيْهِ، فَقَالَ: "كَانَتْ صَلَاةُ الظُّهْرِ تُقَامُ، فَيَنْطَلِقُ أَحَدُنَا إِلَى الْبَقِيعِ فَيَقْضِي حَاجَتَهُ، ثُمَّ يَأْتِي أَهْلَهُ فَيَتَوَضَّأُ، ثُمَّ يَرْجِعُ إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ وَرَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الرَّكْعَةِ الْأُولَى".

Text Explanation

These hadiths give different ideas about the length of the Prophet's prayers. Other hadiths entered in the two Ṣaḥīḥ anthologies confirm that the Prophet (peace be upon him) 'offered the lightest of prayers, fulfilling it perfectly'. He also said: 'I may start a prayer intending to make it long, but I hear a child crying and I make my prayer short, fearing that its mother may be troubled'. Scholars say that the Prophet varied his prayer with regard to making it lengthy or brief as circumstances required. If the congregation preferred a longer prayer and there was nothing he or they needed to immediately attend to, he would make his prayer long. In a different situation, he would make it short. In others, he might have intended his prayer to be long, but something occurred to make it preferable to shorten it, such as a child crying, and he would shorten it. We may add to this that he might start the prayer in the middle of its time range, and he would then make it short. It is also said that he made his prayers long in fewer cases, while in the majority of cases he kept them short. As such, offering a long prayer demonstrated that it is permissible, while keeping it short showed its preferability: indeed he ordered that prayer should be short. He said: 'Some of you people put others off. Whoever leads the prayer should keep it short. The congregation may include some who are sick, weak or who have pressing business'.

It is further suggested that the Prophet sometimes prayed at length and kept his prayer short at other times so as to show that apart from the opening surah, al-Fātiḥah, there is no set limit as to what may be recited. Hence, a short or a long passage from the Qur'an is adequate. What is essential is recitation of al-Fātiḥah, and therefore all reports confirm this, while reports differ as to what was subsequently recited. However, in general, the recommended practice is to make prayer short, as the Prophet ordered and for the reason he stated. He made his prayer long in some cases because he was certain that any mitigating circumstance did not apply at that time.

The first hadith, No. 826, states that the Prophet 'would read the first surah of the Book and two other surahs'. This provides evidence for the view expressed by scholars of our Shāfi'ī School and others that to recite a complete short surah is preferable to reciting a passage of equal length from a longer surah. It is recommended that the reciter begins at the beginning of a theme and finishes when it is completed. The relevance of just verses to a theme may not be readily apparent to many or most of the congregation. Hence, it is recommended that a complete surah be recited so as to ensure there is no stop in the middle of a subject.

The different reports about reciting a surah in the last two rak'ahs may be due to what circumstances required of making prayers long or short. Scholars differ as to the desirability of reciting a surah in the third rak'ah of Maghrib and the last two rak'ahs of every four-rak'ah prayer. Some say that it is desirable while others say it is not. Both views are expressed by al-Shāfi'ī. He further said: 'If a latecomer joins the imam in the last two rak'ahs, he should read a surah in the two that he adds to complete his own prayer. Thus, his prayer would not be without adding any surah'.

Commenting on the length of recitation in different prayers, scholars say that the reports mentioning this should be taken at their face value. Therefore, in Fajr and Zuhur [i.e. dawn and midday] Prayers, it is recommended that the imam read any of the longer surahs of the part of the Qur'an called al-Mufaṣṣal [which starts with Surah 50, Qāf, and goes to the end of the Qur'an], with the dawn prayer made longer than Zuhur; and in 'Aṣr and 'Ishā' [i.e. mid-afternoon and night] Prayers any of the middle length surahs of this part of the Qur'an, and in Maghrib the shorter surahs. Scholars explain that Fajr and Zuhur Prayers are made longer because they occur at times when people may not be mindful of their prayer: Fajr occurs towards the end of the night when people may be asleep, while Zuhur occurs when people may have their midday nap. A longer prayer allows people to catch up if they happen to be late. 'Aṣr Prayer is different, happening when people are tired after a day's work. Therefore, it is made lighter than the first two. Maghrib has a short time range, and hence it is made the lightest. Moreover, people need to take their dinners, particularly if they are fasting or entertaining guests. 'Ishā' occurs at a time when people start to become sleepy, but its time range is long. As such, it is similar to ‘Aṣr, but God knows best.

The same hadith, No. 826, mentions that ‘he used to make the first rak‘ah long and shorten the second’. Scholars differ over whether this statement should be applied at face value. Our scholars express both views, and their best known understanding is that the imam should not make the first rak‘ah longer. They explain the hadith as meaning that the first rak‘ah is made longer by the opening supplication, or because the imam may have heard that someone has just arrived and wanted to give them a chance to join the prayer. Thus, they do not consider that the first rak‘ah is made longer by what is recited. The other view is that the recitation in the first rak‘ah is deliberately made longer. This is the more correct view, as it is consistent with the apparent meaning of the hadiths. Scholars who say that a surah should also be recited in the last two rak‘ahs agree that these surahs should be shorter than those recited in the first two, and our scholars hold different views regarding making the third rak‘ah longer than the fourth, if we consider that the first should be longer than the second.

All these hadiths provide evidence confirming the necessity of reciting al-Fātiḥah in every rak‘ah. Abū Ḥanīfah does not make it a requirement to recite al-Fātiḥah in the last two rak‘ahs, giving the worshipper the choice to either recite it, glorify God, or remain silent. The majority of scholars agree that reciting it is obligatory. This is the correct view that is consistent with the authentic Sunnah.

The hadith also mentions that sometimes the Prophet let the people praying with him hear what he was reciting. This is understood to mean that he wanted to make clear that it is allowed for prayers that are normally silent to be recited aloud, and that silence is not a condition for the validity of the prayer; it is Sunnah. It is also probable that saying the verses aloud was not deliberate, but rather due to deep thought about what he was reciting.

Hadith No. 830 mentions that the people of Kufah complained to ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb about Sa‘d, particularly about his prayer. Sa‘d was the Prophet’s famous Companion, Sa‘d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ, who was appointed governor of Kufah, a city in southern Iraq built by ‘Umar, as was its sister city, Basrah. It was called Kufah because of its circular shape. The complaint was that Sa'd did not pray well. It was normal at the time for a governor of good Islamic knowledge to lead the prayer in the main mosque. The hadith mentions that 'Umar summoned Sa'd. This shows that if the ruler received a complaint about any of his governors, he should send for him so that he could provide an explanation. If the ruler feared that anyone's continuation in his post might have negative results, he was obliged to replace him. Hence, following the summons, 'Umar replaced Sa'd with someone else, even though no further action was taken against Sa'd as a result of these complaints. In his Ṣaḥīḥ anthology, al-Bukhārī mentions an authentic report about 'Umar's assassination and the consultation regarding the choice of his successor. In this report, 'Umar said: 'If the chosen ruler is Sa'd that is good. Otherwise, whoever is chosen should choose him as assistant, for as long as he rules. I have not sacked him for any misjudgement or lack of responsibility on his part'.

The hadith mentions that Sa'd explained that he did only what the Prophet used to do when he led the prayer, reciting the Qur'an slowly in the first two rak'ahs and making them long, while keeping the other two lighter and shorter. There is no suggestion here that he dispensed with the recitation altogether in the last two rak'ahs. That would have been reason for a justified complaint. As he said, Sa'd followed the same pattern set by God's Messenger (peace be upon him), and this is what earned him 'Umar's praise as he said to him: 'This is what I expected of you, Abū Ishāq'. This makes clear that it is permissible to praise a person who deserves praise to his face, provided that there is no likelihood that such praise will make him conceited. Many authentic hadiths speak of both situations, and scholars have reconciled them along the lines I have explained. I have illustrated both situations in my book al-Adhkār. The hadith also shows that it is permissible to call a respectable person by his well-known agnomen [i.e. kunya] instead of his name.

In hadith No. 834, the narrator mentions that he went to see Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī, the Prophet's Companion, and found a large number of people around him. He waited until they had departed, and then asked him about the Prophet's prayer. Abū Sa'īd told him that he would not benefit by this. What he meant was that his questioner would not be able to imitate the Prophet's prayer, because it was exemplary in its length and perfection. Even if the man endeavoured to make his prayer similar to the Prophet's, he would find this too difficult. He would then be in the position of someone who had learnt the Sunnah but failed to fulfil it.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 828 includes: 'Hushaym reported; from Manṣūr; from al-Walīd ibn Muslim; from Abū al-Ṣiddīq; from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī'. This needs a word of explanation. Manṣūr is Ibn al-Mu'tamir. There are two narrators with the name al-Walīd ibn Muslim: this one is Abū Bishr al-Walīd ibn Muslim al-'Anbarī al-Baṣrī, who belonged to the Tābi'īn generation, while the other one lived later and was a leading scholar and a student of Imam al-Awzā'ī. He was known as Abū al-'Abbās and came from Damascus. This is the one mentioned in this chain of transmission.

Abū al-Ṣiddīq's name is Bakr ibn 'Amr, but he is also said to be Ibn Qays, and he is known as al-Nājī, as he belonged to the Nājiyah tribe.

Also, Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ narrated (both narrate in similar wording); ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated; Ibn Jurayj reported: I heard Muhammad ibn ‘Abbād ibn Ja‘far say: Abū Salamah ibn Sufyān, ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ and ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Musayyib al-‘Ābidī reported to me; from ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Sā’ib who said: ‘The Prophet led us in Fajr Prayer in Makkah, and recited from the beginning of Surah al-Mu’minūn. He recited until the mention of Moses and Aaron,<sup>ii</sup> or the mention of Jesus (Muhammad ibn ‘Abbād doubted which, or his reporters differed when quoting him) when the Prophet coughed, and he bowed’. ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Sā’ib was present then.

In ‘Abd al-Razzāq’s narration, the words, ‘and he bowed’ are omitted. Also when mentioning ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr, he does not mention ‘Ibn al-‘Āṣ’.

Text Explanation

Hadith No. 835 mentions that whilst the Prophet was reciting the Qur’an in prayer ‘he coughed, and he bowed’. This shows that it is permissible to stop one’s recitation and to recite only a part of a surah. This is unanimously agreed upon, and there is nothing to discourage it if there is a reason for stopping one’s recitation. If there is no reason, then again it is not discouraged, although it is contrary to what is preferable according to our Shāfi‘ī School, as well as the majority of scholars. This is also attributed to Mālik in one report, even though his better known view is that it is discouraged.

Hadith No. 836 quotes the Prophet’s Companion as hearing the Prophet reciting the verse: ‘By the night as it comes darkening on’. This means that the Prophet recited the surah which includes this verse, namely verse 17 of Surah 81.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 835 includes: ‘Abū Salamah ibn Sufyān, ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ and ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Musayyib al-‘Ābidī reported to me’. There is a mistake here, and to correct it the words ‘ibn al-‘Āṣ’ should be deleted. The narrator in question is not ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ, who was a Companion of the Prophet, rather he is ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr al-Hijāzī. This is how he is mentioned by al-Bukhārī in his Tārīkh and by Ibn Abī Ḥātim as well as many other learned scholars of early and later generations. Abū Salamah, who is also mentioned in this chain, is Abū Salamah ibn Sufyān ibn ‘Abd al-Ashhal who belonged to the Makhzūm branch of the Quraysh. He is mentioned by al-Ḥākim Abū Aḥmad in his work on narrators whose names are not known.

Hadith No. 844 includes in its chain of transmission ‘Abū al-Minhāl from Abū Barzah’. Abū al-Minhāl’s name is Sayyār ibn Salāmah al-Riyāḥī, and Abū Barzah’s name is Naḍlah ibn ‘Ubaydah al-Aslamī.

RECITATION IN 'ISHĀ'

[849–175]. (Dār al-Salām 0933) 'Ubaydullāh ibn Mu'ādh al-'Anbarī narrated:<sup>i</sup> my father narrated; Shu'bah narrated; from 'Adī. He said: I heard al-Barā' narrating that 'The Prophet (peace be upon him) was travelling and he led the 'Ishā' Prayer reciting in one of the two rak'ahs [Surah 95 starting]: "By the fig and the olive"'.

حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُعَاذِ الْعَنْبَرِيِّ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ، قَالَ سَمِعْتُ الْبَرَاءَ، يُحَدِّثُ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ {صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنَّهُ كَانَ فِي سَفَرٍ صَلَّى الْعِشَاءَ الْآخِرَةَ فَقَرَأَ فِي إِحْدَى الرُّكْعَتَيْنِ: {وَالَّتَيْنِ وَالزَّيْتُونِ

[850–176]. (Dār al-Salām 0934) Qutaybah ibn Sa'īd narrated: Layth narrated; from Yahyā (who is Ibn Sa'īd); from 'Adī ibn Thābit; from al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib who said: 'I prayed 'Ishā' with God's Messenger (peace be upon him) and he recited, "By the fig and the olive"'.

حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا لَيْثٌ، عَنْ يَحْيَى (وَهُوَ ابْنُ سَعِيدٍ)، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ، أَنَّهُ قَالَ: صَلَّيْتُ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْعِشَاءَ فَقَرَأَ بِالتَّيْنِ وَالزَّيْتُونِ

[851–177]. (Dār al-Salām 0935) Muhammad ibn 'Abdullāh ibn Numayr narrated: my father narrated; Mis'ar narrated; from 'Adī ibn Thābit. He said: I heard al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib say: 'I heard the Prophet reciting in 'Ishā' Prayer [the surah starting with] "By the fig and the olive". I never heard anyone with a more melodious voice'.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، حَدَّثَنَا مِسْعَرٌ، عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، قَالَ سَمِعْتُ الْبَرَاءَ بْنَ عَازِبٍ، قَالَ: "سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَرَأَ فِي الْعِشَاءِ بِالتَّيْنِ وَالزَّيْتُونِ. فَمَا سَمِعْتُ أَحَدًا أَحْسَنَ صَوْتًا مِنْهُ".

[852–178]. (Dār al-Salām 0936) Muhammad ibn 'Abbād narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Sufyān narrated; from 'Amr; from Jābir. He said: 'Mu'ādh used to offer his prayer with the Prophet (peace be upon him), then he would go to his people and he would lead them in prayer. One night he prayed 'Ishā' with the Prophet and went to his people and led them in [the same] prayer. He started reciting Surah 2, al-Baqarah [i.e. The Cow]. One man stepped aside and said assalām 'alaykum [finishing his prayer]. He then offered the prayer on his own and left. People said to him: "Are you becoming a hypocrite?" He said: "No, by God, I am not. I will certainly go to God's Messenger (peace be upon him) and tell him". He went to the Prophet and said: "Messenger of God, we have our camels and we labour through the day. Mu'ādh prayed with you and then came over. He started reciting Surah al-Baqarah". The Prophet turned to Mu'ādh and said: "Mu'ādh, are you trying to make people turn away? Recite this, and recite that".

Sufyān said: I said to 'Amr that Abū al-Zubayr narrated to us from Jābir that the Prophet said to him: 'Recite: "By the sun and his morning brightness"; "By the bright morning hours"; "By the night when she lets fall her darkness"; or "Extol the limitless glory of the name of your Lord, the Most High"'.<sup>i</sup> 'Amr said: Something like that.

حَدَّثَنِي مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبَّادٍ، حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، عَنْ عَمْرٍو، عَنْ جَابِرٍ، قَالَ: "كَانَ مُعَاذٌ يُصَلِّي مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثُمَّ يَأْتِي فَيُؤْمُ قَوْمَهُ. فَصَلَّى لَيْلَةً مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْعِشَاءَ ثُمَّ أَتَى قَوْمَهُ فَأَمَّهُمْ، فَافْتَتَحَ بِسُورَةِ الْبَقَرَةِ، فَإِنْ حَرَفَ رَجُلٌ فَسَلَّمَ، ثُمَّ صَلَّى وَحْدَهُ وَأَنْصَرَفَ. فَقَالُوا لَهُ: أَتَأْتِي يَا فُلَانٌ؟ قَالَ: لَا وَاللَّهِ، وَلَا أَتِي رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَلَا أُخْبِرُهُ. فَاتَى رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ إِنِّي أَصْحَابٌ نَوَاضِحٌ نَعْمَلُ بِالنَّهَارِ، وَإِنْ مُعَاذًا صَلَّى مَعَكَ الْعِشَاءَ، ثُمَّ أَتَى فَافْتَتَحَ بِسُورَةِ الْبَقَرَةِ. فَاقْبَلْ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى مُعَاذٍ فَقَالَ: «يَا مُعَاذُ أَفَتَأْنِ أَنْتَ؟ اقْرَأْ بِكَذَا وَاقْرَأْ بِكَذَا

قَالَ سُفْيَانُ: فَقُلْتُ لِعَمْرٍو إِنَّ أَبَا الزُّبَيْرِ حَدَّثَنَا عَنْ جَابِرٍ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: «اقْرَأْ وَالشَّمْسُ وَضُحَاهَا. وَالضُّحَى. وَاللَّيْلُ إِذَا يَغْشَى. وَسَبِّحْ اسْمَ رَبِّكَ الْأَعْلَى». فَقَالَ عَمْرٍو نَحْوُ هَذَا

[853–179]. (Dār al-Salām 0937) Qutaybah ibn Sa'īd narrated:<sup>ii</sup> Layth narrated [H]. And Ibn Rumḥ narrated; al-Layth reported; from Abū al-Zubayr; from Jābir. He said: 'Mu'ādh ibn Jabal al-Anṣārī led his people in 'Ishā' Prayer, and he took a long time. One of our people left [the congregation] and prayed alone. Mu'ādh was told about him and he said: "He is a hypocrite". When that man heard of this, he went to God's Messenger (peace be upon him) and told him what Mu'ādh said. The Prophet said: "Mu'ādh, do you wish to be one who turns people away? When you lead people in prayer, recite "By the sun and his morning brightness"; "Extol the limitless glory of the name of your Lord, the Most High"; "Read in the name of your Lord"; or "By the night when she lets fall her darkness"<sup>i</sup>.

Text Explanation

Hadith No. 852 provides evidence confirming that it is permissible for a person offering an obligatory prayer to pray behind an imam who is offering a Sunnah, or voluntary, prayer. Mu‘ādh prayed the obligatory ‘Ishā’ Prayer with God’s Messenger, and as such that obligation was completed by him. However, he would then go to his people’s mosque and lead them in the same prayer. For him, that prayer was a voluntary one while for them it was their obligatory 'Ishā' Prayer. This is clearly stated in other Hadith anthologies. This is perfectly permissible according to al-Shāfi'ī and other scholars, but it is not valid according to Rabī'ah, Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and scholars of Kufah. They explained the hadith by saying that Mu'ādh's prayer with the Prophet was a voluntary one. Some of them explained it by saying that the Prophet did not know about it, while others said that this was in the early days but was subsequently abrogated. However, all such explanations are without foundation. We cannot ignore the apparent meaning of this hadith on such grounds.

Furthermore, our scholars and others take this hadith as evidence that it is permissible for a worshipper to terminate his presence amongst the congregation and to complete his prayer on his own, without actually leaving the prayer. This question is given three views by our scholars. The first and most correct is that this is permissible regardless of whether there is a valid reason or not. The second view does not permit it at all, and the third view is that it is permissible for a valid reason but not otherwise. According to this, a valid reason is one that makes a person's joining the congregation not obligatory, thereby permitting him to stay away. For some, making the prayer too long constitutes a valid reason in the light of Mu'ādh's case. This reasoning, however, is not well based, because the hadith does not mention that the man involved terminated his participation in the congregation and completed the prayer he had already started with that congregation. Indeed, the first hadith mentions that the man terminated the prayer altogether, with salām, and started afresh. As such, this version does not provide any evidence for the point in question. All this shows is that it is permissible to stop a prayer for a valid reason, but God knows best.

Hadith No. 852 mentions: 'He started reciting Surah al-Baqarah'. This shows that it is permissible to say Surah al-Baqarah, or Surah Women, or Surah The Repast, etc. Some early scholars say that this is not permissible, but one must say, 'the surah in which the cow is mentioned', or 'the surah that mentions the repast', etc. This is clearly wrong, because it is permissible to refer to the surahs by their titles, as mentioned in a number of hadiths quoting the Prophet or his Companions or their successors.

The hadith mentions that the man complained to the Prophet saying, 'We have our camels'. Literally, his words mean 'We have our camels which we use to carry water'. What he meant was that they use these camels in their work, which is physically tiring. As such, a long prayer at the end of the day was hard for them. The Prophet said: 'Mu'adh, are you trying to make people turn away?' This is a reproach for something that is not forbidden, but only discouraged. It makes clear that such a reproach may be only verbal. The Prophet's words clearly indicate that prayer should be made light. It can only be made long if all the congregation are in agreement.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 855 runs as follows: 'Qutaybah ibn Sa'īd and Abū al-Rabī' al-Zahrānī narrated: Abū al-Rabī' said: Ḥammād narrated; Ayyūb narrated; from 'Amr ibn Dīnār; from Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh'. Abū Mas'ūd al-Dimashqī said: 'Qutaybah said in his narration: from Ḥammād, from 'Amr without mentioning Ayyūb. Muslim should have pointed this out, but he did not because he gave the narration as mentioned by Abū al-Rabī' alone, but God knows best.

THE ORDER TO MAKE PRAYERS LIGHT BUT COMPLETE

[856–182]. (Dār al-Salām 0940) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> Hushaym reported from Ismā‘īl ibn Abī Khālid; from Qays; from Abū Mas‘ūd al-Anṣārī. He said: ‘A man came to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and said: “Messenger of God, I go late to the dawn prayer because of so-and-so, as he makes the prayer too long”. I never saw the Prophet so angry as when he admonished his Companion on that occasion. He said: “Some of you people put others off. Whoever leads the prayer should make it light. Behind him are some who are old, sick or with pressing business”’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، أَخْبَرَنَا هُشَيْمٌ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ أَبِي خَالِدٍ، عَنْ قَيْسٍ، عَنْ أَبِي مَسْعُودٍ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ، قَالَ: «جَاءَ رَجُلٌ إِلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ: إِنِّي لَا تَأْخُرُ عَنِ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ مِنْ أَجْلِ فُلَانٍ مِمَّا يُطِيلُ بِنَا». فَمَرَأْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ غَضِبَ فِي مَوْعِظَةٍ قَطُّ أَشَدَّ مِمَّا غَضِبَ يَوْمَئِذٍ، فَقَالَ: «يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ! إِنْ مِنْكُمْ مَنْفَرِينَ. فَأَيُّكُمْ أَمَّ النَّاسَ فَلْيُوجِزْ، فَإِنْ مِنْ وَرَائِهِ الْكَبِيرَ وَالضَّعِيفَ وَذَا الْحَاجَةِ

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 0941) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Hushaym and Wakī‘ narrated [H]. He said: and Ibn Numayr narrated; my father narrated [H]. Also, Ibn Abī ‘Umar narrated; Sufyān narrated: all from Ismā‘īl; with the same chain of transmission: the same as Hushaym’s hadith.

He placed his palm on my back, between my shoulders. He then said: ‘Lead your people in prayer. Whoever leads the prayer, let him make it light. ### Text Explanation

This chapter’s hadiths are self explanatory. They all make clear that everyone who is leading a prayer should lighten it, but without making it deficient or short of achieving its purpose. When a person prays alone, they may prolong any of its essential parts that allow elongation, which are: standing up, bowing, prostration and the tashahhud, but neither the standing up after bowing and before prostration nor the sitting position between the two prostrations, but God knows best.

In the first hadith, No. 856, the man says to the Prophet: ‘Messenger of God, I go late to the dawn prayer because of so-and-so, as he makes the prayer too long’. This makes clear that it is permissible to delay joining the congregational prayer if one knows that the imam usually makes it very long. The hadith also shows that it is permissible to report this to the leader of the community within the context of a complaint or seeking a ruling. The hadith then mentions the Prophet’s anger: ‘I never saw the Prophet so angry as when he admonished his Companion on that occasion. He said: “Some of you people put others off”.’ The hadith mentions anger at what is wrong in religion, and showing such anger when one admonishes others to correct such wrong.

Hadith No. 861 mentions that the Prophet told ‘Uthmān al-Thaqafī to lead the congregational prayer in his locality. ‘Uthmān, however, expressed his reluctance. It is suggested that he feared experiencing some conceit as he would be given a higher status. God eliminated this anxiety through the blessing and prayer the Prophet gave him when he placed his hand on his chest and back. Another possibility is that the man meant that he used to experience some obsessive thoughts, and an obsessive person is not suited to the role of imam leading the prayer. Later in his anthology, Muslim mentions that ‘Uthmān ibn Abī al-‘Āṣ himself said to the Prophet: ‘Messenger of God, Satan has spoilt my prayer and recitation, causing me to be confused concerning it’. The Prophet said to him: ‘That is a devil called Khanzab. If you experience that, seek refuge with God and do the movement of spitting to your left three times’. ‘Uthmān did this and said, ‘God has cured me of it’.

The last two hadiths mention that if he heard a child crying the Prophet used to make his prayer short when leading the congregation, realizing that the child’s mother would be anxious. This makes clear that the imam should be considerate of people in the congregation. By the same token, leaders should care for their subordinates and look after their interests. They must not unnecessarily do what causes affliction, even in small measure. These hadiths make clear that it is perfectly permissible for women to join men in prayer in the mosque and that children may be brought into the mosque. It is preferable, however, that a child who might wet himself or so foul the mosque should not be brought in.

EQUAL PARTS OF PRAYER AND MAKING IT LIGHT BUT PERFECT

[868–193]. (Dār al-Salām 0953) Hāmid ibn ‘Umar al-Bakrāwī and Abū Kāmil Fuḍayl ibn Ḥusayn al-Jahdarī narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from Abū ‘Awānah. Hāmid said: Abū ‘Awānah narrated; from Hilāl ibn Abī Humayd; from ‘Abd al-Rahmān ibn Abī Laylā; from al-Barā’ ibn ‘Āzib. He said: ‘I watched prayers with Muhammad (peace be upon him) and I realized that his standing up, then his bowing, then standing up after bowing, then his prostration, then sitting between the two prostrations, then the second prostration, then sitting between ending the prayer with salām and leaving to be of nearly equal lengths’.

حَدَّثَنَا حَامِدُ بْنُ عُمَرَ الْبَكْرَاوِيُّ وَأَبُو كَامِلٍ فَضِيلُ بْنُ حُسَيْنٍ الْجَحْدَرِيُّ، كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ أَبِي عَوَانَةَ، قَالَ حَامِدٌ حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَوَانَةَ، عَنْ هِلَالِ بْنِ أَبِي حُمَيْدٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى، عَنِ الرَّاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ قَالَ: “رَمَقْتُ الصَّلَاةَ مَعَ مُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، فَوَجَدْتُ قِيَامَهُ فَرَكَعَتُهُ فَأَعْتَدَا لَهُ بَعْدَ رُكُوعِهِ فَسَجَدْتُهِ فَجَلَسَتْهُ بَيْنَ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ فَسَجَدْتُهِ فَجَلَسَتْهُ مَا بَيْنَ التَّسْلِيمِ وَالْإِنْصِرَافِ قَرِيبًا مِنَ السَّوَاءِ”.

[869–194]. (Dār al-Salām 0954) ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Mu‘ādh al-‘Anbarī narrated: my father narrated; from Shu‘bah; from al-Ḥakam. He said: ‘During Ibn al-Ash‘ath’s time, the city of Kufah was under the rule of a man (he named the man). He ordered Abū ‘Ubaydah ibn ‘Abdullāh to lead the prayer. He used to lead the prayer. When he stood up after bowing, he would stand up as long as it would take me to say: “God, our Lord, praise belongs to You, equal to the fill of the heavens and the earth and the fill of whatever else You wish. You are worthy of all praise and all glory. None can stop what You give, and none can give what You withhold. No one’s resources are of benefit to anyone against Your will”’.

Al-Ḥakam said: 'I mentioned this to 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā and he said: "I heard al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib say: 'God's Messenger's prayer was such that his bowing, standing after bowing, prostration and sitting between the two prostrations were nearly equal'."

Shu'bah said: I mentioned this to 'Amr ibn Murrah and he said: 'I have seen Ibn Abī Laylā, but his prayer was not like that'.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ الْعَنْبَرِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ قَالَ: "غَلَبَ عَلَى الْكُوفَةِ رَجُلٌ - قَدْ سَمَاهُ - زَمَنُ ابْنِ الْأَشْعَثِ، فَأَمَرَ أَبَا عُبَيْدَةَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ بِالنَّاسِ، فَكَانَ يُصَلِّي. فَإِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ قَامَ قَدْرَ مَا أَقُولُ «اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ مَلَأَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَلَأَ الْأَرْضَ وَمِلَأَ مَا شِئْتَ مِنْ شَيْءٍ بَعْدُ». أَهْلُ الثَّنَاءِ وَالْمَجْدِ لَا مَانِعَ لِمَا أَعْطَيْتَ وَلَا مُعْطِي لِمَا مَنَعْتَ وَلَا يَنْفَعُ ذَا الْجَدِّ مِنْكَ الْجَدُّ

«قَالَ شُعْبَةُ: فَذَكَرْتُهُ لِعَمْرِو بْنِ مُرَّةٍ فَقَالَ: «قَدْ رَأَيْتُ ابْنَ أَبِي لَيْلَى فَلَمْ تَكُنْ صَلَاتُهُ هَكَذَا

[870–000]. (Dār al-Salām 0955) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā and Ibn Bashshār narrated: Muhammad ibn Ja'far narrated; Shu'bah narrated; from al-Ḥakam; that 'When Maṭar ibn Nājiyah ruled Kufah, he ordered Abū 'Ubaydah to lead the prayer ...'. He narrated the same hadith.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى وَابْنُ بَشَّارٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، أَنَّ مَطَرَ بْنَ نَاجِيَةَ، لَمَّا ظَهَرَ عَلَى الْكُوفَةِ أَمَرَ أَبَا عُبَيْدَةَ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ، بِالنَّاسِ. وَسَأَقُ الْحَدِيثَ

[871–195]. (Dār al-Salām 0956) Khalaf ibn Hishām narrated:<sup>i</sup> Hammād ibn Zayd narrated; from Thābit; from Anas. He said: 'I make sure to lead you in prayer as I saw God's Messenger (peace be upon him) leading us in prayer'.

He said: 'Anas used to do something which I do not see you doing. When he lifted his head after bowing, he would stand up until people might think that he had forgotten, and when he raised himself from prostration, he would stay in position until people might think that he had forgotten'.

حَدَّثَنَا خَلْفَ بْنِ هِشَامٍ، حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: «إِنِّي لَا أَلُو أَنْ أَصْلِيَ بِكُمْ كَمَا رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَصَلِّي بِنَا

قَالَ: «فَكَانَ أَنَسُ يَصْنَعُ شَيْئًا لَا أَرَاكُمْ تَصْنَعُونَهُ. كَانَ إِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ انْتَصَبَ قَائِمًا حَتَّى يَقُولَ «الْقَائِلُ قَدْ نَسِيَ. وَإِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ السَّجْدَةِ مَكَثَ حَتَّى يَقُولَ الْقَائِلُ قَدْ نَسِيَ».

[872–196]. (Dār al-Salām 0957) Abū Bakr ibn Nāfi‘ al-‘Abdī narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Bahz narrated; Hammād narrated; Thābit reported; from Anas. He said: ‘I never prayed behind an imam whose prayer was lighter than God’s Messenger’s prayer, but it was perfect. God’s Messenger’s prayer was of similar length, and so was Abū Bakr’s prayer. When ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb took over, he prolonged the dawn prayer. When God’s Messenger said sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah he would remain standing until we might think that he had forgotten. He would then prostrate himself, and sit between the two prostrations, [remaining seated] until we might think that he had forgotten’.

حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو بَكْرٍ بْنُ نَافِعٍ الْعَبْدِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا بَهْزٌ، حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ، أَخْبَرَنَا ثَابِتٌ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: «مَا صَلَّيْتُ خَلْفَ أَحَدٍ أَوْ جَزَ صَلَاةٍ مِنْ صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي تَمَامٍ. كَانَتْ صَلَاةُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُتَقَارِبَةً، وَكَانَتْ صَلَاةُ أَبِي بَكْرٍ مُتَقَارِبَةً، فَلَمَّا كَانَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ مَدَّ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ. وَكَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا قَالَ «سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ» قَامَ حَتَّى يَقُولَ قَدْ أَوْهَمَ. ثُمَّ يَسْجُدُ وَيَقْعُدُ بَيْنَ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ حَتَّى يَقُولَ قَدْ أَوْهَمَ».

Text Explanation

The first hadith in this chapter, No. 868, says: ‘I watched prayers with Muhammad (peace be upon him) and I realized that his standing up, then his bowing, then standing up after bowing, then his prostration, then sitting between the two prostrations, then the second prostration, then sitting between ending the prayer with salām and leaving to be of nearly equal lengths’. This shows that recitation in prayer and the tashahhud should not be long, while the other essential parts: bowing, prostration, standing and sitting should be done well and perfectly. This is confirmed by what Anas says in hadith No. 872: 'I never prayed behind an imam whose prayer was lighter than God's Messenger's prayer, but it was perfect'.

The description, 'of nearly equal lengths', means that some parts were slightly longer than others. This is certainly the case when standing up to recite, and probably in tashahhud.

It is important to realize that this hadith is understood to refer to some situations and not to apply all the time. Other authentic hadiths clearly state that the Prophet at times stood up for a long time in prayer, and that he used to recite between sixty and one hundred verses in the Fajr Prayer, and that he might recite Surah 32, Prostration [which is three pages in length], in the Zuhur Prayer. A hadith mentions that the start of prayer might be announced and a person could go to al-Baqī' to relieve himself, and then come back to perform the ritual ablution, and then go to the mosque, and the Prophet would still be in the first rak'ah. Other hadiths mention that he recited Surah 23, The Believers, until he reached the verse mentioning Moses and Aaron [which is verse 45], and that he recited in Maghrib Prayer Surah 52, Mount Sinai [which is 49 verses] and also Surah 77, Sent Forth [which is 50 verses]. In al-Bukhārī, a hadith mentions that he recited Surah 7, The Heights [which is 206 verses] in the two rak'ahs of Maghrib. There are similar other hadiths. All this indicates that the Prophet varied his recitation in prayer according to conditions. The hadith we are discussing now reports what the Prophet did at certain times. Muslim refers to another version of it which does not mention standing up. The same is related by al-Bukhārī, and another version entered by al-Bukhārī does not mention standing up or sitting. This explains the other report.

The hadith mentions 'the sitting between finishing the prayer with salām and leaving', which indicates that the Prophet used to stay for a short while in his place of prayer after he had finished the prayer.

In hadith No. 869, a man is mentioned as having taken over the rule of Kufah. This man is later named as Maṭar ibn Nājiyah. He appointed Abū 'Ubaydah to lead the prayer. This man is Abū 'Ubaydah ibn 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd.

Transmission

Ḥāmid ibn ‘Umar al-Bakrāwī, the narrator of hadith No. 868, is given this surname, al-Bakrāwī, after his great grandfather, Abū Bakrah, the Prophet’s Companion. We mentioned him earlier.

CHAPTER 39

FOLLOWING THE IMAM

[873–197]. (Dār al-Salām 0958) Aḥmad ibn Yūnus narrated:<sup>i</sup> Zuhayr narrated; Abū Ishāq narrated [H]. Also, Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated; Abū Khaythamah reported; from Abū Ishāq; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd; al-Barā’ narrated to me. (He is not a liar): ‘They used to pray behind God’s Messenger (peace be upon him). When he lifted his head after having done his bowing, I saw no one bending his back until the Prophet had placed his forehead on the floor [in prostration]. All those behind them would then go down prostrating themselves’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ يُونُسَ، حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرٌ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، أَخْبَرَنَا أَبُو خَثِمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ قَالَ: “حَدَّثَنِي الْبَرَاءُ، وَهُوَ غَيْرُ كَذُوبٍ، أَنَّهُمْ كَانُوا يُصَلُّونَ خَلْفَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَإِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ لَمْ أَرِ أَحَدًا يَخْنِي ظَهْرَهُ حَتَّى يَضَعَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ جَبْهَتَهُ عَلَى الْأَرْضِ ثُمَّ يَخْرُجُ مِنْ وَرَاءَهُ سُجَّدًا”.

[874–198]. (Dār al-Salām 0959) Abū Bakr ibn Khallād al-Bāhili narrated to me: Yaḥyā (meaning Ibn Sa‘īd) narrated; Sufyān narrated; Abū Ishāq narrated to me; ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd narrated to me; al-Barā’ narrated to me. (He is not a liar.) He said: ‘When God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah, none of us bent his back until God’s Messenger had dropped prostrating himself. We then dropped prostrating ourselves after him’.

[875–199]. (Dār al-Salām 0960) Muhammad ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Sahm al-Anṭākī narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ibrāhīm ibn Muhammad Abū Ishāq al-Fazārī narrated; from Abū Ishāq al-Shaybānī; from Muḥārīb ibn Dithār. He said: I heard ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd say, speaking from the pulpit: al-Barā’ narrated that ‘They used to pray with God’s Messenger (peace be upon him). When he bowed, they bowed. When he lifted his head after bowing and said sami‘ Allah liman ḥamidah, we continued standing until we saw that he had placed his head on the floor. We then followed suit’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ سَهْمٍ الْأَنْطَاكِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ الْفَزَارِيُّ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ الشَّيْبَانِيِّ، عَنْ مُحَارِبِ بْنِ دِثَارٍ قَالَ: “سَمِعْتُ عَبدَ اللَّهِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ، يَقُولُ عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ: حَدَّثَنَا الْبَرَاءُ أَنَّهُمْ كَانُوا يُصَلُّونَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَإِذَا رَكَعَ رَكَعُوا، وَإِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ فَقَالَ «سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ» لَمْ نَزَلْ قِيَامًا حَتَّى نَرَاهُ قَدْ وَضَعَ وَجْهَهُ فِي الْأَرْضِ ثُمَّ تَتَبَعُهُ

[876–200]. (Dār al-Salām 0961) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Ibn Numayr narrated: both said:<sup>i</sup> Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; Abān and others narrated; from al-Ḥakam; from ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā; from al-Barā’. He said: ‘We were with the Prophet (peace be upon him). None of us would bend his back until we had seen that he had prostrated himself’.

Zuhayr said: Sufyān narrated: the Kūfī scholars, Abān and others narrated: ‘Until we had seen him prostrating himself’.

حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، وَابْنُ نُمَيْرٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبَانٌ وَغَيْرُهُ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ قَالَ: “كُنَّا مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، لَا يَخْنُ وَاحِدٌ مِنَّا ظَهْرَهُ حَتَّى نَرَاهُ” قَدْ سَجَدَ

[877–201]. (Dār al-Salām 0962) Muḥriz ibn ‘Awn ibn Abū ‘Awn narrated: Khalaf ibn Khalīfah al-Ashja’ Abū Aḥmad narrated; from al-Walīd ibn Sarī, the mawla of the ‘Amr ibn Ḥurayth’s people; from ‘Amr ibn Ḥurayth. He said: ‘I offered the Fajr Prayer with the Prophet (peace be upon him). I heard him reciting the verses “I swear by the turning stars, which move swiftly and hide themselves away”. (81:15–16) None of us bent his back until the Prophet had prostrated himself fully’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَوْنٍ، حَدَّثَنَا خَلْفُ بْنُ خَلِّ بْنِ يَفَّةَ الْأَشْجَعِيُّ أَبُو أَحْمَدَ، عَنِ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ سَرِيعٍ، مَوْلَى آلِ عَمْرِو بْنِ حُرَيْثٍ، عَنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ حُرَيْثٍ قَالَ: “صَلَّيْتُ خَلْفَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ آلَ فَجَرَ فَسَمِعْتُهُ يَقْرَأُ: {فَلَا أُفْسِمُ بِالْخَنَسِ * الْجَوَارِ الْكُنَسِ}، وَكَانَ لَا يَخْنِي رَجُلٌ مِنَّا ظَهْرَهُ حَتَّى يَسْتَمَّ سَاجِدًا”.

Text Explanation

These hadiths point out some of the manners to be observed in prayer. Those in the congregation should not start the movement to go down for prostration until the imam has placed his forehead on the floor, unless it is known that if the people in the congregation wait until then, the imam would have started to lift his head before the others had begun their prostration.

Our Shāfi‘ī scholars say about this hadith and similar ones that the Sunnah requires that the people in the congregation should delay their action a little after the imam, so that they start every action after he has started it and before he finishes it, but God knows best.

The last hadith, No. 877, quotes the verse that mentions ‘the turning stars’. Commentators and linguists of old say that these are the five planets: Venus, Jupiter, Mars, Saturn and Mercury. Most commentators say this, as it is reported from ‘Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib. Another report quotes him as adding the sun and the moon. Al-Ḥasan said that it refers to all stars. They are described as ‘turning’ because they turn in their orbits. They are described as ‘hiding’ themselves because they disappear when they set, but God knows best.

Transmission

In the chains of transmission of the first two hadiths, Nos 873 and 874, we have the interpolation, ‘and he is not a liar’. Yaḥyā ibn Ma‘īn said that the one who says this is Abū Ishāq, and that he means that ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd is not a liar. It is not a reference to al-Barā’ stating that he is not a liar, because al-Barā’ was a Companion of the Prophet and he does not need testimony from anyone. In other words, to say this about him is not necessary. However, what Yaḥyā ibn Ma‘īn says is considered by scholars to be wrong. It is right to say that it was ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd who said, ‘he is not a liar’, and that this statement refers to al-Barā’, confirming his narration and emphasizing it. It is not meant as a testimony which may be needed in the case of lesser people. Similar examples include Ibn ‘Abbās’s statement: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him), the reliable and truthful, narrated to us ...’. In Muslim’s Ṣaḥīḥ, Abū Muslim al-Khawḷānī is quoted as saying: ‘I was told by the trustworthy and beloved one, ‘Awf ibn Mālīk al-Ashja‘ī ...’. Similar statements are plentiful. What it means in this case is: ‘Al-Barā’ narrated to me, and as you know al-Barā’ is without suspicion of misrepresentation. Therefore, trust what I am quoting to you from him. Scholars add that Ibn Ma‘īn’s words that as a Companion of the Prophet al-Barā’ does not need testimony from anyone adds nothing. ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd was himself a Companion of the Prophet.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 876 includes ‘Aban and others narrated; from al-Ḥakam; from ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā; from al-Barā’. This is discussed by al-Dāraquṭnī who says that ‘the hadith is known as narrated by ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd reporting from al-Barā’. No one reports from Ibn Abī Laylā except Abān ibn Taghlib reporting from al-Ḥakam. ‘Ibn ‘Ar‘arah gives a different way of reporting “from al-Ḥakam from ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd from al-Barā’.” Other narrators are better memorizers than Abān’. This is the objection made by al- Dāraquṭnī, but it is unacceptable, because Abān is a reliable narrator and his reports should be accepted, as there is no evidence that he lied or erred, and there is nothing to prevent its being reported from both Ibn Yazīd and Ibn Abī Laylā, but God knows best.

Text Explanation

The supplication praises God saying ‘equal to the fill of the heavens and the earth’. In Arabic, the words ‘equal to’ are implied and not stated. Scholars say that the meaning is that if such praise were of tangible substance, it would have filled the heavens and earth.

The hadith makes clear that it is desirable to say this glorification in prayer. It also makes clear that it is a duty to stand up well and remain standing for a time without rushing into the next move. It is also desirable for everyone who is in prayer, including the imam and everyone in the congregation, to say both phrases – sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah and rabbanā laka al-ḥamd – combining them. One says the first phrase as one rises from the position of bowing to stand up and the second when one is standing, because the Prophet said: ‘Pray as you have seen me pray’. [Related by al-Bukhārī]

The word sami‘ means ‘he heard’ but the phrase sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah is a supplication and scholars say that sami‘ in this case means ‘he responds’. Thus, the phrase means that whoever praises God hoping for His reward, God will respond to and grant their request. We therefore say rabbanā laka al-ḥamd so that we may receive this from God.

The Prophet’s supplication includes: ‘My Lord, purify me with snow, hail and cold water’. This is metaphorical, intended to express a keen desire to be purified of all that is unwholesome. It also includes: ‘My Lord, purify me of sins and errors as a white robe is cleaned of dirt’. It is said that ‘sin’ refers to any act of disobedience a person may commit in their relationship with God, while ‘error’ refers to what may occur between people. ‘As a white robe is cleaned of dirt’, and other narrations replace ‘dirt’ by ‘filth’ or ‘impurity’. All these have the same meaning, more or less. The supplication is for a complete purification that is done carefully, just as the cleaning of a white robe is meticulously taken care of.

The Prophet’s supplication also includes: ‘You are worthy of all praise and all glory. This is the clear truth a servant of Yours may say, and we all are Your servants. None can stop what You give, and none can give what You withhold. No one’s resources are of benefit to them against Your will’. The word ‘praise’ in this instance means ‘every good description’, while ‘glory’ means ‘greatness and utmost honour’. The sentence, ‘and we all are Your servants’ is inserted in the middle of what is being said, which is: ‘The clear truth a servant of Yours may say is that none can stop what You give and none can give what You withhold’. Such insertion is perfectly acceptable and there are many examples of it in the Qur’an and in Arabic poetry. The insertion is meant to add special importance to the words, and it is clearly related to what comes before it. What it means here is that since we are all Your servants, then we must say what is the clear truth that a servant of Yours may say, namely that ‘none can stop what You give or grant what You withhold’.

The Prophet, who does not speak out of his own desire but rather tells us what is being revealed to him, has told us that this is the clear truth that anyone may say. Therefore, we should keep this in mind and say it frequently. It is the clear truth because it assigns one’s affairs to God and submits to Him, acknowledging His Oneness and that none of us have any power except through Him. All that happens of good things or otherwise only occur by His leave. As such, this supplication encourages good action and puts the interests of this life into proper perspective.

The supplication ends with the statement, ‘No one’s resources are of benefit to one against Your will’. This means that all resources, such as power, authority, position, wealth, etc. cannot benefit their owners or save them from God except by God’s will. What is of benefit are a person’s good actions that are done sincerely in the hope of earning God’s pleasure. This fits with the Qur’anic statement: ‘Wealth and children are the adornment of the life of this world: but the things that endure, good deeds, are of far greater merit in your Lord’s sight, and a far better source of hope’. (18: 46)

A different reading of this last sentence gives it the meaning: ‘no one’s labour is of benefit to one against Your will’. This means that try as a person may, through effort and hard work, nothing will be of benefit except as God determines. What saves a person from God’s punishment is His Grace and Mercy. It is also said that it means that trying to escape God’s punishment is of no avail, because we are all within God’s power and under His authority. Therefore, we should seek His Mercy.

NO QUR'ANIC RECITATION DURING BOWING OR PROSTRATION

[885–207]. (Dār al-Salām 0970) Sa‘īd ibn Manṣūr, Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>i</sup> they said: Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; Sulaymān ibn Suḥaym reported to me; from Ibrāhīm ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Ma‘bad; from his father; from Ibn ‘Abbās. He said: ‘God’s Messenger lifted the curtain as the people were in rows [in prayer] behind Abu Bakr. He said: “People, nothing is left of the heralds of prophethood except a fine dream a Muslim may see, or someone else may see concerning him. Know that I have been ordered not to recite the Qur’an during bowing or prostration. When you bow, extol the greatness of your Lord, the Mighty and Exalted. During prostration say your earnest supplication and I guarantee that you will be answered”’.

حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدُ بْنُ مَنْصُورٍ وَأَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَزُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، أَخْبَرَنِي

Text Explanation

These hadiths make clear that no recitation of the Qur’an is allowed when a worshipper is bowing or prostrating during prayer. What should be done during bowing is to glorify God, and during prostration to glorify God and supplicate. If a worshipper recites the opening surah, al-Fātiḥah, when he is either in the bowing or prostrating position, his prayer remains valid but his action is reprehensible, or makrūh. Our Shāfi‘ī scholars give two views if a worshipper recites the opening surah in either position. The more correct view is the same as that of reciting any other part of the Qur’an: the prayer remains valid but the action is reprehensible. The other view is that the action is prohibited and the prayer is rendered invalid if the recitation is deliberate. If it is out of forgetfulness, the action is not reprehensible. Whether the recitation is deliberate or out of forgetfulness, al-Shāfi'ī requires the worshipper to do two prostrations before finishing his prayer to make up for the error.

In the first hadith, the Prophet tells us 'to extol the greatness of our Lord' during bowing. This means that what is required is to glorify God and extol His praises. Muslim later mentions the glorifications that should be said during bowing and prostration. Al-Shāfi'ī recommends that in bowing one should say Subhāna rabbī al-ʿAẓīm, which means 'limitless in His glory is my Lord, the Great', and in prostration Subhāna rabbī al-Aʿlā, which means 'limitless in His glory is my Lord, the Most High'. Each is recommended to be said three times. We may add thereafter what is mentioned in the hadith narrated by 'Alī and later mentioned by Muslim, 'My Lord, I bow to You; and, My Lord, I prostrate myself to You', etc. Combining the glorification with the supplication is recommended for worshippers other than the imam. The imam is also recommended to do both if he is certain that all in the congregation prefer this. If he is in doubt, then he should only say the glorification without the supplication. If the imam or a worshipper praying alone limits himself to saying Subhān Allāh once only, this fulfils the recommended practice of glorifying God, but it does not fulfil the more complete and strongly recommended form.

It should be clear that the glorification during bowing and prostration is a sunnah, or recommended, as opposed to a duty. This is the view of Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfi'ī as well as the majority of scholars. However, Aḥmad and a number of other leading Hadith scholars consider it obligatory on the basis of the apparent meaning of the hadith, stating the Prophet's order. They further cite in evidence the hadith related by al-Bukhārī: 'Pray as you have seen me pray'. The majority of scholars respond by saying that the hadith implies a recommendation, not an order. They further argue that in the hadith mentioning the man whose prayer was unacceptable, the Prophet taught him how to pray, but he did not order him to say these glorifications. Had they been obligatory, he would have given him such an order. Other scholars may say that the Prophet did not order that man to formulate the intention to pray, nor to sit and say the tashahhud or to finish with salām. We responded in detail to this objection when we commented on this hadith, which is hadith No. 714, in Volume 3.

Hadith No. 885 concludes with the Prophet's statement that he guarantees that the supplication said after God's glorification when a worshipper is in prostration will be answered. Imam al-Nawawī says here that this encourages supplication when we prostrate ourselves and that the supplication should be combined with God's glorification. More hadiths will be stated later confirming this.

Hadith No. 886 mentions that the Prophet came out with his head bandaged. This suggests that using such a bandage is appropriate when one has a cause for it.

In hadith No. 889, 'Alī narrates: 'God's Messenger ordered me not to recite the Qur'an during bowing or prostrating', then adds: 'I would not say: he has prohibited you'. This does not mean that the prohibition applies to him only. What it signifies is the accuracy of reporting. 'Alī tells us: the wording I heard was in the form of an address to me, and I am reporting it as I heard it. However, the ruling applies to all people.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 886 begins as follows: 'Abū Bakr said: Sufyān narrated; from Sulaymān ...'. This is an example of Muslim's meticulous reporting and profound knowledge and understanding. The first hadith, No. 885, has a chain of transmission with three narrators reporting from Sufyān ibn 'Uyaynah. Two of them quote Sufyān as saying 'Sulaymān ibn Suḥaym reported to me'. Since Sufyān was known to be subject to confusion, Muslim alerts us to the fact that the narrators differ in how they report from him, stating that Abū Bakr reported 'from Sulaymān', which is significantly different from 'Sufyān reported to me'.

Muslim mentions the difference concerning the narration of Ibrāhīm [ibn ‘Abdullāh] ibn Ḥunayn, with some mentioning Ibn ‘Abbās as a narrator between ‘Abdullāh ibn Ḥunayn and ‘Alī while others do not mention him. Al-Dāraquṭnī said: ‘Those who drop Ibn ‘Abbās are larger in number and more accurate in their memorization’. To me, this difference does not affect the authenticity of the hadith. It might have happened that ‘Abdullāh ibn Ḥunayn heard the hadith from Ibn ‘Abbās quoting ‘Alī, and he subsequently heard ‘Alī himself narrating the hadith. Such cases were discussed in detail earlier.

Say more supplication then’.

I seek Your forgiveness and I turn to You in repentance”. I said: “Messenger of God, what are these words that I have noticed you saying recently”. He said: “I was given a sign concerning my community so as to say these words when I see the sign: ‘When God’s help and victory come, and you see people embracing God’s religion in large numbers, then extol your Lord’s limitless glory, and praise Him, and seek His forgiveness. He is the One who accepts repentance”’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَأَبُو كُرَيْبٌ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنْ مَسْرُوقٍ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: “كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَكْثُرُ أَنْ يَقُولَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَمُوتَ: «سُبْحَانَكَ وَبِحَمْدِكَ أَسْتَغْفِرُكَ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْكَ». قَالَتْ: “قُلْتُ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، مَا هَذِهِ الْكَلِمَاتُ الَّتِي أَرَاكَ أَحَدُثْتَهَا نَقُولُ سَهَا؟” قَالَ: «جَعَلْتُ لِي عَلَامَةً فِي أُمِّي إِذَا رَأَيْتُهَا قُلْتُهَا: {إِذَا جَاءَ نَصْرُ اللَّهِ وَالْفَتْحُ}” إِلَى آخِرِ السُّورَةِ.

She said: ‘Ever since the surah starting, ‘When God’s help and victory come’, was revealed to him, I never saw the Prophet (peace be upon him) offering a prayer without supplicating, or saying, in it: “Limitless are You in Your glory, my Lord, and all praise belongs to You. My Lord, forgive me”’.

[898–220]. (Dār al-Salām 0984) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated to me: ‘Abd al-A‘lā narrated to me; Dāwūd narrated; from ‘Āmir; from Masrūq; from ‘Ā’ishah. She said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) often used to say: “Limitless is God in His glory and all praise belongs to Him. I seek God’s forgiveness and I turn to Him in repentance”. I said: “Messenger of God, I see you often repeating: Limitless is God in His glory and all praise belongs to Him. I seek God’s forgiveness and I turn to Him in repentance”? He said: “My Lord told me that I will see a sign in my community and when I see it I should often say: ‘Limitless is God in His glory and all praise belongs to Him. I seek God’s forgiveness and I turn to Him in repentance’. I have seen that sign. [It is:] ‘When God’s help and victory come – that is: the victory at Makkah – and you see people embracing God’s religion in large numbers, then extol your Lord’s limitless glory, and praise Him, and seek His forgiveness. He is the One who accepts repentance’”.

[899–221]. (Dār al-Salām 0985) Hasan ibn ‘Alī al-Hulwānī and Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated; Ibn Jurayj reported; I said to ‘Aṭā’: ‘What do you say during bowing?’ He said: ‘As for “Limitless are You in Your glory and all praise belongs to You. There is no deity other than You”, Ibn Abī Mulaykah reported to me; from ‘Ā’ishah. She said: ‘One night I missed the Prophet (peace be upon him). I thought that he might have gone to one of his wives. I felt around and stopped. He was there bowing or prostrating, saying: "Limitless You are in Your glory and all praise belongs to You. There is no deity other than You". I said: may my parents be sacrificed for your sake: my thoughts go one way and you are busy on something different'.

حَدَّثَنِي حَسَنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْحُلَوَانِيُّ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ، أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ، قَالَ: "قُلْتُ لِعَطَاءٍ كَيْفَ تَقُولُ أَنْتَ فِي الرُّكُوعِ؟ قَالَ: أَمَّا سُبْحَانَكَ وَبِحَمْدِكَ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، فَأَخْبَرَنِي ابْنُ أَبِي مُلَيْكَةَ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: افْتَقَدْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَاتَ لَيْلَةٍ، فَظَنَنْتُ أَنَّهُ ذَهَبَ إِلَيَّ بَعْضُ نِسَائِهِ، فَتَحَسَّسْتُ ثُمَّ رَجَعْتُ، فَإِذَا هُوَ رَاكِعٌ أَوْ سَاجِدٌ يَقُولُ: «سُبْحَانَكَ وَبِحَمْدِكَ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ». فَقُلْتُ: يَا أَبَا أَنْتَ «وَأُمِّي، إِنِّي لَفِي شَأْنٍ وَإِنَّكَ لَفِي آخَرٍ».

[900–222]. (Dār al-Salām 0986) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū Usāmah narrated; ‘Ubaydullāh ibn ‘Umar narrated to me; from Muhammad ibn Yaḥyā ibn Ḥabbān; from al-A‘raj; from Abū Hurayrah; from ‘Ā’ishah. She said: ‘One night I missed God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) in bed. I sought him and my hand fell on the inside of his feet as he was in the mosque, with his feet vertical. He was saying: “My Lord: I seek refuge in Your pleasure against Your anger, and Your forgiveness against Your punishment, and I seek refuge with You from You. I cannot praise You enough. I praise You as You have praised Yourself”’.

[901–223]. (Dār al-Salām 0987) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> Muhammad ibn Bishr al-‘Abdī narrated; Sa‘īd ibn Abī ‘Arūbah narrated; from Qatādah; from Muṭarrif ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Shikhkhīr; that ‘Ā’ishah told him that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to say during bowing and prostration: “He is Glorious, Hallowed; the Lord of the angels and the Spirit”’.

[000–224]. (Dār al-Salām 0988) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated: Abū Dāwūd narrated; Shu‘bah narrated; Qatādah reported to me saying: I heard Muṭarrif ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Shikhkhīr. ### Text Explanation

The first hadith, No. 893, mentions that the closest a person draws to God is when he or she is in prostration. This means that they are the closest to God’s mercy and blessings. This implies a recommendation to supplicate when we are in prostration during our prayers. The hadith also provides evidence in support of the view of scholars who maintain that the prostration position is better than standing up and all other parts of the prayer. Three views are expressed on this point. The first view is that prolonging the prostration and increasing the numbers of bowing and prostration is preferable. This view is reported by al-Tirmidhī and al-Baghawī quoting a number of scholars. One of the most prominent scholars to prefer prolonging prostration is Ibn ‘Umar.

The second view is that of al-Shāfi‘ī and a number of other scholars who maintain that standing up longer is preferable. This is based on the hadith narrated by Jābir quoting the Prophet: ‘The best of prayer is a long stand’. This is because in standing we recite the Qur’an, while in prostration we glorify God. No doubt recitation of the Qur’an is preferable because what is reported from the Prophet is that he used to stand in prayer longer than he prostrated himself. The third view is that they are equal.

Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal did not express any view on this point, preferring to remain silent. Ishāq ibn Rāhawayh said: 'During the day, increasing the number of bowings and prostrations is better, while at night, standing up longer is preferable, unless one regularly recites a definite portion of the Qur'an. In this case, increasing the number of bowings and prostrations becomes preferable because it ensures that one recites a specific portion and adds the increased number of bowings and prostrations'. Al-Tirmidhī said: 'Ishāq said this because the Prophet's night worship is described as including standing for a long time, while his prayer during the day is not similarly described', but God knows best.

In hadith No. 894, the Prophet prays that God forgives him all his sins 'minor and major, old and new, public and private'. This suggests that it is preferable to confirm one's supplication, giving synonymous expressions, even though the meaning is already stated.

Hadith No. 895 states: 'God's Messenger frequently said during bowing and prostration: "Limitless are You in Your glory, my Lord. Our Lord, all praise be to You. My Lord, forgive me". He did so to fulfil the Qur'anic instructions'. In the next hadith, he used to say, 'I seek Your forgiveness and I turn to You in repentance'. This he used to say in order to do as he is told in the surah: 'Extol your Lord's limitless glory, and praise Him, and seek His forgiveness. He is the One who accepts repentance'. Thus the Prophet used to say these fine words, which combine all that the verses require. He frequently said it during bowing and prostration because being in prayer is preferable to all other situations. Therefore, he chose prayer for the fulfilment of what he was instructed, making such fulfilment even more perfect.

The phrase Subḥān Allāh implies that God is free of all types of deficiency and every time-related characteristic. Hence, He is limitless in His glory. The Prophet added 'all praise be to You', which means that it is only through Your guidance and favours which You have bestowed on me that I am able to glorify You. It is not through my own power. Thus, the Prophet's words include thanking God and acknowledging His favours, as well as submitting to Him. All actions are addressed to Him, but God knows best.

The Prophet said in his supplication: 'I seek Your forgiveness and I turn to You in repentance'. This provides evidence that it is permissible, indeed desirable, to repeat this. It is reported, however, that some scholars of old discouraged saying this, because it may not be true of the one saying it. Instead, they suggested saying: 'My Lord, forgive me and enable me to repent'. To say this is certainly good, but to say that it is discouraged that one should say: 'I seek God's forgiveness and turn to Him in repentance' is certainly unacceptable.

We note that the Prophet's supplication included: 'My Lord, forgive me all my sins'. He knew that God has granted him total forgiveness, but he nevertheless used to say this, acknowledging his own position as a servant of God who submits to Him and seeks His help, but God knows best.

In hadith No. 900, 'Ā'ishah says that she touched the Prophet's feet and they were vertical. This shows that it is a sunnah that one's feet should stand vertically when one is in prostration. The statement is cited as evidence in support of the view that touching a woman's skin does not invalidate ablution. This is the view of Abū Ḥanīfah and other scholars. Mālik, al-Shāfi'ī, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars say that it invalidates ablution, though they differ in details. This hadith is explained on the basis that the ablution of the person who is touched is not invalidated. This is according to al-Shāfi'ī and others. However, the more supported view of our scholars is that it is also invalidated, and these scholars explain this hadith by saying that she touched his feet but not skin to skin; rather, there was something in between.

'Ā'ishah mentions that the Prophet said during prostration: 'My Lord: I seek refuge in Your pleasure against Your anger, and Your forgiveness against Your punishment, and I seek refuge with You from You. I cannot praise You enough. I praise You as You have praised Yourself'. Imam Abū Sulaymān Ḥamad ibn Muhammad al-Khaṭṭābī said: 'There is an interesting point here. The Prophet seeks refuge with God and appeals to Him to protect him from His anger by granting him His pleasure, and from His punishment by His forgiveness. Anger and pleasure are two opposites, just like punishment and forgiveness. When he mentioned the One who has no opposite, namely, God Himself, he sought refuge with Him only. This means seeking forgiveness for falling short of fulfilling one's duty of worshipping and glorifying Him'.

The supplication adds: 'I cannot praise You enough'. This means that no matter how I try I cannot do what I should. Mālik said that it means that I cannot count Your favours and blessings so as to thank You for them, even though I put every effort into that. Then the supplication adds: 'I praise You as You have praised Yourself'. This is an admission of being unable to thank and praise God in detail, and that one cannot even attain to it. Therefore, it is stated in total, not in detail, leaving it to God Almighty who encompasses everything in full and in detail. Just as there is no limit to His attributes, there is no limit to praising and thanking Him. Whatever praise is addressed to God, His position and status is greater, His power is far more, His attributes more plentiful and His grace and bounty more comprehensive and weightier. This hadith also provides evidence that it is appropriate to say that what is bad is caused by God, just like what is good comes from Him. The evidence is based on seeking refuge from God's anger and punishment, but God knows best.

Hadith No. 901 describes God as 'Glorious, Hallowed, the Lord of the angels and the Spirit'. What these descriptions mean is that God is free of all flaws, partners and all that does not fit with Godhead. It is also said that it means that He is blessed and nothing is superior or greater than Him. The Spirit is said to refer to a great angel, and that this might be Gabriel. Another suggestion is that it refers to some other creation who are unseen by the angels, just as we cannot see the angels, but God knows best.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 897 includes Muslim ibn Şubayḥ. He is Abū al-Ḍuḥā, who is mentioned in the chain of transmission of hadith No. 895.

CHAPTER 43

THE IMPORTANCE OF PROSTRATION

[902–225]. (Dār al-Salām 0989) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me: al-Walīd ibn Muslim narrated; I heard al-Awzā‘ī say: al-Walīd ibn Hishām al-Mu‘aytī narrated to me; Ma‘dān ibn Abī Ṭalhah al-Ya‘marī narrated to me. He said: ‘I met Thawbān, God’s Messenger’s mawlā, and said to him: “Tell me of something I may do so that God will admit me into Heaven through it”. Or he said: I said “[Tell me] which deed God loves best”. He remained silent. I then asked him again and he remained silent. I asked him a third time and he said: I put the same question to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and he said: “Prostrate yourself often before God. Whenever you do a prostration before God, God will raise you a step and remove a sin from you”’.

Ma‘dān said: I then met Abū al-Dardā’ and asked him. He gave me the same answer as Thawbān.

حَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، قَالَ سَمِعْتُ الْأَوْزَاعِيَّ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ أَمِّ الْيَمْعِيِّ طَيِّ، حَدَّثَنِي مَعْدَانُ بْنُ أَبِي طَلْحَةَ الْيَمْعِيُّ قَالَ: لَقِيتُ ثَوْبَانَ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقُلْتُ: أَخْبِرْنِي بِعَمَلٍ أَعْمَلُهُ يَدْخُلُنِي اللَّهُ بِهِ الْجَنَّةَ. أَوْ قَالَ قُلْتُ بِأَحَبِّ الْأَعْمَالِ إِلَى اللَّهِ. فَسَكَتَ، ثُمَّ سَأَلْتُهُ فَسَكَتَ، ثُمَّ سَأَلْتُهُ الثَّلَاثَةَ فَقَالَ: سَأَلْتَ عَنْ ذَلِكَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ: «عَلَيْكَ بِكَثْرَةِ السُّجُودِ لِلَّهِ، فَإِنَّكَ لَا تَسْجُدُ لِلَّهِ سَجْدَةً إِلَّا رَفَعَكَ اللَّهُ بِهِ دَرَجَةً، وَحَطَّ عَنْكَ بِهِ خَطِيئَةً».

قَالَ مَعْدَانُ: ثُمَّ لَقِيتُ أَبَا الدَّرْدَاءِ فَسَأَلْتُهُ، فَقَالَ لِي مِثْلَ مَا قَالَ لِي ثَوْبَانُ.

[903–226]. (Dār al-Salām 0990) Al-Ḥakam ibn Mūsā Abū Ṣālih narrated: Hiql ibn Ziyād narrated; he said: I heard al-Awzā‘ī say: Yahyā ibn Abī Kathīr narrated to me; Abū Salamah narrated to me; Rabī‘ah ibn Ka‘b al-Aslamī narrated to me. He said: ‘I used to stay the night at God’s Messenger’s home. I brought him his water for ablution and other needs. He said to me: “Put your request.” I said:

“I request to be in your company in Heaven.” He said: “Or perhaps you have some other request.” I said: “No, that is it.” He said: “Then help me against yourself with plenty of prostrations [meaning in prayer].”

حَدَّثَنَا الْحَكَمُ بْنُ مُوسَى أَبُو صَالِحٍ، حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ زِيَادٍ، قَالَ سَمِعْتُ الْأَوْزَاعِيَّ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو سَلَمَةَ، حَدَّثَنِي رَبِيعَةُ بْنُ كَعْبٍ الْأَسْلَمِيُّ قَالَ: “كُنْتُ أَبِيتُ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، فَأَتَيْتُهُ بِوَضُوئِهِ وَحَاجَّتِهِ، فَقَالَ لِي: «سَلْ». فَقُلْتُ: “أَسْأَلُكَ مُرَافَقَتَكَ فِي الْجَنَّةِ”. قَالَ: “أَوْعِزَّ ذَلِكَ”. قُلْتُ: “هُوَ ذَاكَ”. قَالَ: “فَاعِزِّي عَلَى نَفْسِكَ بِكَثْرَةِ السُّجُودِ”.

Text Explanation

These hadiths highlight the importance of prostration and encourage people to do it frequently. What is meant here is prostration in prayer. These hadiths provide support for the view that prostration is better than standing for a long time in prayer. We discussed this point in the previous chapter, outlining the different views. Prostration is encouraged because of the hadith mentioned earlier stating that the closest a person draws to God is when he is in prostration. This is consistent with the Qur’anic verse that states the order: ‘Prostrate yourself and draw closer to God’. (96: 19) Furthermore, prostration symbolizes the greatest degree of humility and servitude to God as it places man’s most honourable organ, which is his face, on the floor where people tread, but God knows best.

ORGANS INVOLVED IN PROSTRATION; THE ORDER NOT TO UPTURN ONE'S HAIR OR CLOTHES

[904–227]. (Dār al-Salām 0991) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā and Abū al- Rabī‘ al-Zahrānī narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ḥammād ibn Zayd (Yaḥyā said: ‘reported’ but Abū al- Rabī‘ said: ‘narrated’); from ‘Amr ibn Dīnār; from Ṭāwūs; from Ibn ‘Abbās. He said: ‘The Prophet was commanded to prostrate himself on seven and he was ordered not to upturn his hair or clothes’.

This is Yaḥyā’s hadith. Abū al-Rabī‘ said: ‘on seven bones, and he was ordered not to upturn his hair and clothes: his two hands, knees, feet and forehead’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى وَأَبُو الرَّبِيعِ الزَّهْرَانِيُّ، قَالَ يَحْيَى أَخْبَرَنَا وَقَالَ أَبُو الرَّبِيعِ حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ، عَنْ طَاوُسٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: «أَمَرَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنْ يَسْجُدَ عَلَى سَبْعَةِ وَثَيْبٍ أَنْ يَكْفَّ شَعْرَهُ وَثِيَابَهُ». هَذَا حَدِيثُ يَحْيَى

وَقَالَ أَبُو الرَّبِيعِ عَلَى سَبْعَةِ أَعْظَمٍ وَثَيْبٍ أَنْ يَكْفَّ شَعْرَهُ وَثِيَابَهُ الْكَفَّيْنِ وَالرُّكْبَتَيْنِ وَالْقَدَمَيْنِ وَالْجَبْهَةَ

[905–228]. (Dār al-Salām 0992) Muhammad ibn Bashshār narrated: Muhammad (meaning Ibn Ja‘far) narrated; Shu‘bah narrated; from ‘Amr ibn Dīnār; from Ṭāwūs; from Ibn ‘Abbās; from the Prophet (peace be upon him). He said: ‘I have been commanded to prostrate on seven bones, and not to upturn a robe or hair’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ، حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدٌ، (وَهُوَ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ) حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ، عَنْ طَاوُسٍ، عَنْ «ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، عَنْ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «أُمِرْتُ أَنْ أَسْجُدَ عَلَى سَبْعَةِ أَعْظَمٍ وَلَا أَكْفَّ ثَوْبًا وَلَا شَعْرًا

[906–229]. (Dār al-Salām 0993) ‘Amr al-Nāqid narrated:<sup>i</sup> Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from Ibn Ṭāwūs; from his father; from Ibn

‘Abbās: ‘The Prophet (peace be upon him) was ordered to make his prostration on seven, and not to upturn hair or clothes’.

He [Ibn ‘Abbās] stood up and started to undo it. When ‘Abdullāh finished his prayer he came to Ibn ‘Abbās and said: “What is wrong with my head?” He answered: “I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: ‘This is just like one who is praying while he is tied up’”.

Text Explanation

These hadiths include several useful points. One of these is that seven organs take part in prostration, and that when a person prays all these seven organs must be included in the prostration. When prostrating, it is necessary to place one’s forehead and nose on the floor. The forehead should be on the floor uncovered. It is sufficient that only a part of one’s forehead be on the floor, while it is desirable that one’s nose touch the floor during prostration, but if this is omitted, the prayer is valid. If one places one’s nose on the floor but not one’s forehead, this is invalid according to al-Shāfi‘ī, Mālik and the majority of scholars. However, Abū Ḥanīfah and Ibn al-Qāsim, a Mālikī scholar, say that a worshipper may place either his forehead or nose on the floor, while Aḥmad and Ibn Ḥabīb, another Mālikī scholar, say that one must place both one's forehead and nose on the floor, according to the clear wording of the hadith. The majority say that the apparent meaning is that the two are treated as one organ, because the hadith mentions seven organs, and if the forehead and nose were to be treated as two organs, then they would be eight altogether. The nose is mentioned merely as desirable.

Is it obligatory to prostrate on one's two hands, knees and feet? Al-Shāfi'ī gives two views: the first is that it is not obligatory, but strongly recommended. The other view, which is the more correct, is that it is obligatory. This is the view given more weight by al-Shāfi'ī. If one falls short of placing any of these organs on the floor in prostration, one's prayer is invalid. On the other hand, it is not obligatory to keep the feet and the knees uncovered. As for the hands, there are two views expressed by al-Shāfi'ī: one says that they must be uncovered, like the forehead, and the other, which is more correct, that it is not obligatory to keep them uncovered.

The Prophet said that we are commanded to prostrate 'on seven bones', which means seven organs. He calls every organ a bone, even though some of them include many bones.

The Prophet also said that we are not to 'upturn' our clothes or hair. In one of the hadiths, the order is not to have one's hair plaited. Scholars agree that the hadiths give a clear order not to start prayer with one's clothes turned up at the edges or sleeves, or with one's hair turned up under one's turban or cap. All such are discouraged, according to the general view of scholars. This is just discouragement, pointing out that the opposite is the preferable option, meaning that if one prays in any of these conditions, the prayer is valid, even though the person has opted for the wrong method. Muhammad ibn Jarīr al-Ṭabarī suggests that scholars are unanimous on this point, and Ibn al-Mundhir mentions that al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī requires the one who prays in such a condition to repeat his prayer.

The majority of scholars also agree that the order applies in all cases, whether it is done deliberately for the prayer or it was done earlier for some other reason. Al-Dāwūdī, however, says that the order not to do this applies specifically to doing it intentionally for prayer, but the correct view is the first. It is the apparent meaning of what is stated by the Prophet's Companions and others. It is also indicated by what is mentioned that Ibn 'Abbās did. Scholars say that the reason behind this order is that one's hair also prostrates with one. Hence, the Prophet likened the one who prayed with his hair in plaits to one who is tied up as he prays.

In the last hadith in this chapter, No. 910, Ibn 'Abbās saw 'Abdullāh ibn al-Ḥārith praying, with his hair plaited. He [Ibn 'Abbās] stood up and started to undo it'. This is a case of enjoining what is right and forbidding what is wrong, and this should be done without delay, as Ibn 'Abbās did, he did not leave the matter until 'Abdullāh had completed his prayer. It also shows that what is discouraged should be pointed out in the same way as forbidding what is unlawful. The hadith makes clear that if people see something unacceptable and can physically stop it then they should do so, as stated in the hadith narrated by Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī. It further confirms that a hadith narrated by a single reporter is acceptable, but God knows best.

POSITION IN PROSTRATION

[911–233]. (Dār al-Salām 0997) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> Wakī‘ narrated; from Shu‘bah; from Qatādah; from Anas. He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “Do the prostration properly. Let none of you place his full arms on the floor like a dog does”’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «اعْتَدِلْ وَافِي السُّجُودِ، وَلَا يَبْسُطُ أَحَدُكُمْ ذِرَاعَ يَدِهِ انْبِسَاطَ الْكَلْبِ».

[912–000]. (Dār al-Salām 0998) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā and Ibn Bashshār narrated: Muhammad ibn Ja‘far narrated [H]. Also, Yahyā ibn Habīb narrated to me; Khālid (meaning Ibn al-Hārith) narrated; both said: Shu‘bah narrated; with the same chain of transmission. However, in Ibn Ja‘far’s narration: ‘Let none of you stretch his arms like a dog does’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى وَابْنُ بَشَّارٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنِي يَحْيَى بْنُ حَبِيبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدٌ (يَعْنِي ابْنَ الْحَارِثِ) قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، بِهَذَا الْإِسْنَادِ. وَفِي حَدِيثِ ابْنِ جَعْفَرٍ: «وَلَا يَتَبَسَّطُ أَحَدُكُمْ ذِرَاعَيْهِ انْبِسَاطَ الْكَلْبِ».

[913–234]. (Dār al-Salām 0999) Yahyā ibn Yahyā narrated: ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Iyād reported; from Iyād; from al-Barā’: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “When you prostrate yourself, place your palms on the floor and raise your elbows”’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنَا عُيَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ إِيَادٍ، عَنْ إِيَادٍ، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «إِذَا سَجَدْتَ فَضَعْ كَفَيْكَ وَارْفَعْ مِرْفَقَيْكَ».

The full import of these hadiths is that when we prostrate in prayer we should place our hands on the floor and raise our elbows well off the ground and to both sides, so that a person's armpits would be visible if they were not covered by clothing. Scholars agree that this is a desirable and preferable way. If one does not do so, one does badly but the prayer is still valid, but God knows best.

Scholars say that this position is preferred because it reflects humility and enables the worshipper to place his forehead and nose well on the floor. It is unlike the position of lazy people, because the one who stretches his arms on the floor takes a position similar to that of a dog and that appears to be a casual approach to prayer, but God knows best.

She said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) started the prayer with the glorification, Allāhu akbar, and the recitation [starting with] “All praise be to God, the Lord of all the worlds, or al-ḥamdu lillāhi rabbil-‘ālamīn”. When he bowed he would neither raise his head nor lower it, but he would keep it in between. When he raised his head after bowing, he would not prostrate himself until he had stood up erect. When he lifted his head after the [first] prostration, he did not go for the [second] prostration until he had sat down properly. He also said the tashahhud after each two rak‘ahs. He placed his left foot horizontally and kept his right foot vertical. He prohibited sitting in the ‘uqbat al-shayṭān position, and spreading one’s arms on the floor like a wild animal. He finished his prayer with salām’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ (يَعْنِي الْأَحْمَرَ) عَنْ حُسَيْنِ الْمُعَلِّمِ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، (وَاللَّفْظُ لَهُ) قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنَا عَيْسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ، حَدَّثَنَا حُسَيْنُ الْمُعَلِّمِ، عَنْ بُدَيْلِ بْنِ مَيْسَرَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي الْجَوْزَاءِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: “كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَسْتَفْتِحُ الصَّلَاةَ بِالتَّكْبِيرِ وَالْقِرَاءَةِ بِ{الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ}”. وَكَانَ إِذَا رَكَعَ لَمْ يُشْخِصْ رَأْسَهُ وَلَمْ يُصَوِّبْهُ، وَلَكِنْ بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ. وَكَانَ إِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ لَمْ يَسْجُدْ حَتَّى يَسْتَوِيَ قَائِمًا. وَكَانَ إِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ مِنَ السَّجْدَةِ لَمْ يَسْجُدْ حَتَّى يَسْتَوِيَ جَالِسًا. وَكَانَ يَقُولُ فِي كُلِّ رَكَعَتَيْنِ التَّحِيَّةَ، وَكَانَ يَفْرِشُ رِجْلَهُ الْيُسْرَى وَيَنْصِبُ رِجْلَهُ الْيُمْنَى. وَكَانَ يَنْهَى عَنْ عُقْبَةِ الشَّيْطَانِ، وَيَنْهَى أَنْ يَفْتَرِشَ الرَّجُلُ ذِرَاعِيهِ افْتِرَاشَ السَّبْعِ، وَكَانَ يَنْهَى تَمِ الصَّلَاةَ بِالتَّسْلِيمِ.

وَفِي رِوَايَةِ ابْنِ نُمَيْرٍ عَنْ أَبِي خَالِدٍ: وَكَانَ يَنْهَى عَنْ عُقْبِ الشَّيْطَانِ

Text Explanation

These hadiths use different Arabic words to describe the position of the Prophet's arms during prostration. However they all give the same picture, which shows that he placed his elbows and the upper parts of his arms further from his sides. This is further enhanced by the description that a small animal could pass between his arms. The hadith mentioning this uses a word that means a new-born lamb.

Hadith No. 917 mentions that the Prophet leaned on his left thigh when he sat down in prayer. This refers to sitting between the two prostrations in every rak'ah and sitting for the first tashahhud. As for the last tashahhud, the recommended practice is to sit on one's left buttock. This is related by al-Bukhārī in a hadith narrated by Abū Ḥumayd al-Sā'idī. It is also related by Abū Dāwūd and al-Tirmidhī among others.

Hadith No. 919 gives us a detailed picture of the Prophet's prayer. It tells us that when the Prophet bowed he neither raised his head nor lowered it much. He preferred a position in between. The hadith specifically mentions the form of sitting called 'uqbat al-shayṭān'. This involves placing one's buttocks directly on the floor, with one's legs raised up in a vertical position and one's hands stretched on the floor, like a dog and other predator animals might do. The Prophet ordered that we must not sit like this in prayer.

This hadith confirms that the prayer starts with the particular glorification Allāhu akbar, which is normally referred to as takbīr. It is confirmed that the Prophet did this and that he said: 'Pray as you have seen me pray'. That this particular glorification must form the start of prayer is the view of Mālik, al-Shāfi'ī and Aḥmad as well as the majority of scholars of early and recent generations. Abū Ḥanīfah, however, said that any similar glorification may be used.

In the same hadith, No. 919, 'Ā'ishah mentions that the Prophet started the recitation with al-ḥamdu lillāhi rabbil-'ālamīn. This is taken by Mālik and other scholars as evidence that the phrase bismillāhi al-Raḥmāni al-Raḥīm is not a part of al-Fātiḥah. Al-Shāfi'ī and the majority of scholars who say that it is part of al-

Fātiḥah respond, saying that the hadith means that the Prophet started reciting the Qur'an by the surah that includes this verse, not by any other surah. In other words, the hadith states the surah that the Prophet started with, and there is plenty of evidence that the basmalah is a part of it.

The hadith makes clear that it is a sunnah that when the worshipper bows, his head should be level with his back, neither raised nor lowered. The hadith also shows that when one rises after bowing, one should stand up well, because the Prophet said: 'pray as you have seen me pray'. It further tells us that it is a duty to sit between the two prostrations.

Ā'ishah mentions that the Prophet 'said the tashahhud' after each two rak'ahs. This gives a good basis for the view of Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal and other Hadith scholars that both the first and the last tashahhuds are obligatory. Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and the majority maintain that both are sunnah, or recommended, not obligatory. Al-Shāfi'ī says that the first tashahhud is a sunnah but the second is obligatory. Aḥmad bases his argument on this present hadith, as also on the Prophet's order, 'Pray as you have seen me pray', as also on the hadiths: 'The Prophet used to teach us the tashahhud as he taught us any Qur'anic surah', and 'When any of you prays, he should say al-taḥiyyāt'. This is given in the imperative form and an imperative signifies an obligation. The majority argue that the Prophet left the first tashahhud and compensated for it by offering two prostrations at the end, which are done when one forgets something. Had the first tashahhud been obligatory, it could not have been made up, like other obligatory parts, such as bowing. Since this has been confirmed concerning the first tashahhud, the same applies to the second. Moreover, God's Messenger did not mention it to the bedouin when he taught him what is obligatory in prayer.

Ā'ishah then says: 'He placed his left foot horizontally and kept his right foot vertical'. This means that he sat placing his left foot under him, in the horizontal position. This provides an argument for Abū Ḥanīfah and other scholars who agree with him that when sitting during prayer, one sits on one's left foot, and this applies to all sittings. Mālik considers it sunnah to bring one's left foot out from underneath one and to sit on one's left buttock. Al-Shāfi'ī agrees with Abū Ḥanīfah regarding all sittings except the one that ends with salām, which is done on one's left buttock. According to al-Shāfi'ī, there are four sittings: the one between each two prostrations, the rest sitting after each rak'ah to be followed by standing up, the sitting for the first tashahhud, and the one for the last tashahhud. Only the last one is done on one's left buttock, while during the other three one sits on one's left foot.

A person who joins the congregation late, after the first rak'ah, sits on his left foot during the imam's last tashahhud, because in his case that tashahhud is not followed by salām to finish the prayer since he has to add what he has missed of the prayer. A person who needs to do two prostrations of sahw at the end, to make up for a mistake in prayer, should sit on his left foot, not buttock, during the last tashahhud, and when he finishes this tashahhud he offers his two prostrations, sits on his left buttock and finishes his prayer with salām. These are the details according to the Shāfi'ī School of fiqh.

Imam Abū Ḥanīfah bases his argument on this hadith narrated by 'Ā'ishah and its general applicability. Imam al-Shāfi'ī cites in support of his views the hadith narrated by Abū Ḥumayd al-Sā'idī and entered in al-Bukhārī's anthology. It clearly speaks of sitting on one's left foot in the first tashahhud and on one's left buttock at the end of the prayer. He explains 'Ā'ishah's hadith as referring to sittings other than that of the last tashahhud, as this would enable implementing all the relevant hadiths.

During prayer, women sit in the same way as men, and we all sit in voluntary prayer in the same way as in obligatory prayer. This is the view of al-Shāfi'ī, Mālik and the majority of scholars. Qāḍī 'Iyād states that some early scholars mentioned that a woman should sit cross-legged, while others say this way of sitting is only for voluntary prayers. The correct view is the one we mentioned first; moreover, these sittings are of the same status. If one sits on all occasions on one's left foot, or buttock, or cross-legged, or on one's buttocks, or stretching one's legs, one's prayer is valid, even though such action is contrary to the Sunnah.

‘Ā’ishah then mentions that the Prophet ordered believers not to take the position he called ‘uqbat al-shayṭān. As we mentioned earlier, this means placing one's buttocks directly on the floor, with one's legs raised up in a vertical position and one's hands stretched out on the ground, like a dog. Scholars are in agreement that this type of sitting is reprehensible. We also mentioned in the previous chapter the form of sitting with one's arms stretched on the floor, like wild animals do. This is again mentioned in this hadith, and the Prophet has ordered us not to sit like this.

‘Ā’ishah concludes her narration saying that the Prophet ‘finished his prayers with salām. This provides evidence that the salām is obligatory to finish the prayer. This is confirmed by the hadith that quotes the Prophet: ‘Pray as you have seen me pray’. However, scholars differ on this point. Mālik, al-Shāfi‘ī and Aḥmad, as well as the majority of scholars of early and later generations, state that the salām is a duty and the prayer would not be valid without it. Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Thawrī and al-Awzā‘ī said that it is a sunnah which does not affect the validity of prayer if omitted. Abū Ḥanīfah said: ‘If a person does something that invalidates the prayer at its end, such as a discharge through one's private parts, his prayer is valid’. His argument is based on the fact that the Prophet did not mention it to the bedouin when he taught him the duties involved in prayer. The majority of scholars base their argument on what we have mentioned and on the hadith related by Abū Dāwūd and al-Tirmidhī: ‘The key to prayer is ablution and at its end the salām’. Al-Shāfi‘ī, Abū Ḥanīfah, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars say that what is required is two salāms, while Mālik and others say that what is required is one salām. This is also mentioned as a weaker view from al-Shāfi‘ī. Those who speak of two salāms consider the second as recommended, or Sunnah. However, some Zāhirī and Mālikī scholars take the odd view that it is a duty, but this view is contrary to the previous one, which is unanimous, but God knows best.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of the first hadith, No. 914, includes ‘Abdullāh ibn Mālik ibn Buḥaynah. This formula normally gives the last name as the narrator’s grandfather, but this is not the case here. Buḥaynah was Mālik’s wife and ‘Abdullāh’s mother.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 916 includes ‘Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah reported; from ‘Ubaydullāh ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Aṣamm; from his uncle Yazīd ibn al-Aṣamm’; and the transmission of the following hadith, No. 917, replaces Sufyān by Marwān ibn Mu‘āwiyah al-Fazārī. In both cases, Sufyān and Marwān report from ‘Ubaydullāh ibn ‘Abdullāh. This is how this narrator’s name is mentioned in some original manuscripts, while in others it is mentioned as ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Aṣamm in both hadiths. In most manuscripts, however, it is ‘Abdullāh in the first hadith and ‘Ubaydullāh in the second. All these variations are correct, because ‘Abdullāh and ‘Ubaydullāh are the two sons of ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Aṣamm. ‘Abdullāh was older than ‘Ubaydullāh and both report from their uncle Yazīd ibn al-Aṣamm. All this is well known in the books that verify the names of narrators. In his book Aṭrāf al-Ṣaḥīḥayn, Khalaf al-Wāsiṭi mentions both narrations as reported by ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abdullāh. Both Abu Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah also attribute Sufyān ibn ‘Uaynah’s narration to ‘Abdullāh but they do not mention the other narration by Marwān. In al-Nasā’ī’s Sunan, there is a difference, with some versions attributing the hadith to ‘Abdullāh and others to ‘Ubaydullāh. In his al-Sunan al-Kubrā, al-Bayhaqī attributes Ibn ‘Uyaynah’s narration to ‘Ubaydullāh and Marwān al-Fazārī’s narration to ‘Abdullāh, but God knows best.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 919 includes Abū al-Jawzā’ who reports from ‘Ā’ishah. Abū al-Jawzā’ belonged to Basrah and his name was Aws ibn ‘Abdullāh.

[928–249]. (Dār al-Salām 1014) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>iii</sup> both from Wakī‘. Zuhayr said: Wakī‘ narrated; Sufyān narrated; ‘Awn ibn Abī Juḥayfah narrated; from his father. He said: ‘I went to see the Prophet (peace be upon him) at Makkah. He was at al-Abṭah, in a small, red tent made of leather. Bilāl brought him [water for] his ablution. Some got a drop and others a sprinkle. The Prophet came out wearing a red suit, and I can almost see the whiteness of his shins. He performed his ablution, and then Bilāl called the adhān. I carefully watched his mouth this and that side (he said: to the right and left) as he said ḥayyya ‘alā ṣalāh; ḥayyya ‘alā al-falāh. Then a staff was stuck for him. He came forward and prayed Zuhr in two rak‘ahs. A donkey or a dog might pass before him and it would not be barred. He then prayed ‘Aṣr in two rak‘ahs. He continued to offer these prayers in two rak‘ahs until he returned to Madinah’.

لَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، وَزُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، جَمِيعًا عَنْ وَكِيعٍ. قَالَ زُهَيْرٌ حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ، حَدَّثَنَا عَوْنُ بْنُ أَبِي جُحَيْفَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: “أَتَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِمَكَّةَ، وَهُوَ بِالْأَبْطَحِ، فِي قُبَّةٍ لَهُ حَمْرَاءَ مِنْ أَدَمٍ. قَالَ: فَخَرَجَ بِلَالٌ بَوْصُورِهِ، فَمِنْ نَائِلٍ وَنَاضِحٍ. قَالَ: فَخَرَجَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَيْهِ حُلَّةٌ حَمْرَاءَ، كَأَنِّي أَنْظُرُ إِلَى بَيَاضِ سَاقَيْهِ. قَالَ: فَتَوَضَّأَ وَأَذَّنَ بِلَالٌ. قَالَ: فَجَعَلْتُ أَتَّبِعُ فَأَهْأَهْأَ وَهَاهُنَا. يَقُولُ يَمِينًا وَشِمَالًا. يَقُولُ: حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ. قَالَ: ثُمَّ رُكِّزَتْ لَهُ عَنَزَةٌ فَتَقَدَّمَ فَصَلَّى الظُّهْرَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ يَمُرُّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ الْحِمَارُ وَالْكَلْبُ، لَا يُمْنَعُ. ثُمَّ صَلَّى الْعَصْرَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ. ثُمَّ لَمْ يَزَلْ يُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ حَتَّى رَجَعَ إِلَى الْمَدِينَةِ”.

[929–250]. (Dār al-Salām 1015) Muhammad ibn Ḥātim narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Bahz narrated; ‘Umar ibn Abī Zā‘idah narrated; ‘Awn ibn Abī Juḥayfah narrated; that his father saw God’s Messenger in a small red tent made of leather. ‘And I saw Bilāl bring out [water for] ablution. I saw the people scrambling for that water. Whoever took a drop rubbed himself with it, and the one who got nothing took from the wetness of the person close to him. I then saw Bilāl bring out a staff and stick it into the ground. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) came out wearing a red suit, raising his garment. He prayed towards the staff, leading the people in a prayer of two rak‘ahs, and I saw people and animals passing close to the staff’.

حَدَّثَنِي مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ حَاتِمٍ، حَدَّثَنَا بِهِ، حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ أَبِي زَائِدَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا عَوْنُ بْنُ أَبِي جُحَيْفَةَ، أَنَّ أَبَاهُ رَأَى رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي قُبَّةٍ حَمْرَاءَ مِنْ أَدَمٍ. وَرَأَيْتُ بِلَالًا أَخْرَجَ وَضُوءًا فَرَأَيْتُ النَّاسَ يَتَدَرُونَ ذَلِكَ الْوَضُوءَ فَمَنْ أَصَابَ مِنْهُ شَيْئًا تَمَسَّحَ بِهِ، وَمَنْ لَمْ يَصِبْ مِنْهُ أَخَذَ مِنْ بَلَلِ يَدِ صَاحِبِهِ. ثُمَّ رَأَيْتُ بِلَالًا أَخْرَجَ عَنَزَةً فَرَكَّزَهَا. وَخَرَجَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي حُلَّةٍ حَمْرَاءَ مُشَمَّرًا، فَصَلَّى إِلَى الْعَنَزَةِ بِالنَّاسِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ. وَرَأَيْتُ النَّاسَ وَالْأَنْبَاءَ يَمُرُّونَ بَيْنَ يَدَيْ الْعَنَزَةِ.

[930–251]. (Dār al-Salām 1016) Ishāq ibn Manṣūr and ‘Abd ibn Ḥumayd narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> both said: Ja‘far ibn ‘Awn reported; Abū ‘Umays reported [H]. Also, al-Qāsim ibn Zakariyyā’ narrated to me;

Husayn ibn ‘Alī narrated; from Zā’idah; Mālik ibn Mighwal narrated; both from ‘Awn ibn Abī Juḥayfah; from his father; from the Prophet (peace be upon him): similar to the narrations by Sufyān and ‘Umar ibn Abī Zā’idah, with some of them adding something or another. In Mālik ibn Mighwal’s narration: ‘When it was midday, Bilāl came out and called the prayer’.

I was then approaching puberty. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) was leading the prayer in Mina. I passed in front of a row and dismounted. I let the donkey loose and joined the row. No one objected to what I did’.

Text Explanation

These hadiths encourage having something to screen a person when he is offering his prayer, and that the minimum screen is like the stick at the back of a camel's saddle, which is normally around two-thirds of an arm's length. A screen is considered to be in place with whatever the worshipper puts before him. Mālik, however, makes it a condition that it should be at least as wide as a spear. Scholars say that the purpose of having such an article is to be aware that one should not look at what is beyond it, and that it should prevent anyone passing close to the worshipper. Qādī 'Iyād says that this hadith clearly indicates that it is not sufficient to draw a line on the ground in front of the person praying. He adds:

A hadith is narrated mentioning drawing a line, and Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal (may God bestow mercy on him) approves it, yet the hadith is lacking in authenticity. Moreover, different views are expressed about it. Some say that it should be like a bracket, while others say that it should be straight in front and towards the qiblah. It is also said that it should stretch from the right side of the worshipper towards his left. However, Mālik and the majority of scholars do not approve of just drawing a line.

The hadith mentioning the line is related by Abū Dāwūd, and it lacks authenticity and suffers some confusion. Different reports are given about al-Shāfi'ī's view on this point. According to Ḥarmalah's Sunan [summing up al-Shāfi'ī's new rulings] and also to al-Shāfi'ī's old rulings, it is desirable, but according to what is reported by al-Buwayṭī of his latest rulings, he disapproves of it. Yet the majority of his associates consider it desirable. The hadith that mentions the back of the saddle does not provide any evidence that drawing a line is unacceptable, but God knows best.

Our Shāfi‘ī scholars say that when one prays, one should be close to the screening object, so that the distance from it should not be more than three arm lengths. If one does not find a staff or similar object, one should stack a few stones, or a heap of dust, or any object. Otherwise, one may place a prayer mat. If one has nothing of this, then draw a line on the ground. If one is praying with a screen, one should prevent anyone else from passing between one and the screen or the line. It is forbidden for anyone to so pass. If there is no screen, or one is a long distance from it, some scholars say it is permissible to prevent anyone from passing, but the more correct view is that this is not permissible because the person praying is at fault. In this case it is not reprehensible, let alone forbidden, to pass between the worshipper and his screen.

If a newcomer finds a gap in the front row, he may walk in front of the second row to fill that gap, because those in the second row have fallen short of their duty to fill it. It is desirable that the screen be placed to the worshipper’s right or left, and that one is not too close to it, but God knows best.

In hadith No. 926, the Prophet is said to have placed his shecamel in front of him and prayed towards it. This means that he placed it across so that it was between him and the qiblah. This hadith shows that it is permissible to pray with an animal in front of us, and also that it is permissible to pray close to a camel. This is different from praying in a camel stable, which is reprehensible according to authentic hadiths because camels are likely to be disturbed and this would distract the worshipper.

The narrator of hadith No. 928 mentions that people were keen to take some of the water the Prophet used for his ablution: ‘some got a drop and others a sprinkle’. This means that some people managed to take a little of that water, while others got what their friends sprinkled over them of what they themselves had. This is the meaning of what is mentioned in the next hadith that whoever could not get a drop of water, took from the wetness of someone else’s hand.

The same hadith mentions: ‘Some got a drop and others a sprinkle. The Prophet came out wearing a red suit ... He performed his ablution’. Things are not mentioned in the right sequence here. It should be that the Prophet performed his ablution, then people went for what was left of the water he used, as mentioned in another hadith. Some of them got a drop and others a sprinkle. This suggests that it is appropriate to seek the blessing of what devout people use, and to use what is left of their water, food, drink and clothing.<sup>i</sup>

The hadith mentions that the Prophet was wearing a red suit. A suit consists of two pieces, and it must be so. A garment made of one piece cannot be described as a suit. The statement makes clear that it is permissible to wear red clothes. The narrator then says: 'I can almost see the whiteness of his shins'. This makes it clear that the shin is not part of what must be covered of a man's body. This is unanimously agreed upon.

'Bilāl called the adhān'. This shows that it is right to make the call to prayer during travel. Al-Shāfi'ī said: 'I do not dislike omitting it during travel in the same way as I dislike its omission at home, because in travel, duties are reduced'. The narrator adds: 'Bilāl called the adhān. I carefully watched his mouth this and that side (he said: to the right and left) as he said ḥayi 'alā salāh; ḥayi 'alā al-falāḥ'. These two phrases mean: 'Come to prayer; come to success'. This shows that it is a recommended practice when saying these phrases to turn one's head and neck to the right and left. Our scholars say that the caller must not turn his feet or his chest away from the qiblah; he only turns his head and neck. Scholars differ as to how the caller should turn, giving three different views. The most correct of these, which is subscribed to by the majority, is that he says the first phrase, ḥayi 'alā salāh, twice turning right, then he turns left and says, ḥayi 'alā al-falāḥ, twice. The second view is that he says, ḥayi 'alā salāh, once to his right and once to his left, then he says, ḥayi 'alā al-falāḥ, in the same way, once to the right and once to the left. The third view suggests that he says, ḥayi 'alā salāh, turning to the right then faces the qiblah, before turning again to the right and says the same phrase again. He then turns to the left and says, ḥayi 'alā al-falāḥ, once, faces the qiblah, turns to the left again and repeats the same phrase.

'Then a staff was stuck for him'. This is a particular type of stick with a piece of iron at the bottom. The hadith shows that it is permissible for the imam to have the help of someone else to place the staff for him and to make other arrangements. The hadith then mentions that the Prophet offered Zuhr Prayer in two rak'ahs. This makes clear that it is preferable to shorten prayer during travel, even when one is close to a town, unless one intends to stay for four days or longer.

The hadith then mentions that 'a donkey or a dog might pass before him and it would not be barred'. This means that they passed beyond the screen, between it and the qiblah, as clearly explained in the hadith Nos 929 and 931 which state that people, women and animals passed behind it. The same is expressed in the first hadith, No. 920.

In hadith No. 929, the Prophet is said to have come out wearing a red suit and raising his lower garment. This means that he raised it to the middle of his shin, as the narrator of the previous hadith said that he could see the whiteness of his shins. This statement means raising one's robe above the ankles.

Hadith No. 931 says: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) went out at midday to al-Baṭḥā' where he performed the ablution and prayed Zuhr in two rak'ahs and 'Aṣr in two rak'ahs. He had a staff in front of him'. This hadith provides evidence that shortening the prayer and offering two obligatory prayers at the same time is right during travel. The hadith suggests that if a traveller wishes to combine prayers and he is taking a rest during the time of the first of the two prayers, it is preferable for him to bring the second forward and offer the two together. If he is on the move, then the preferable option is to delay the first and offer it later during the time of the second prayer. This is illustrated in hadiths and it is more convenient for the traveller.

In hadith No. 933, Ibn 'Abbās says: 'I came riding a female donkey. I was then approaching puberty', while in the following hadith he says that he just mentions riding a donkey. The second hadith merely mentions the type of animal, without specifying its sex. Scholars differ concerning Ibn 'Abbās's age at the time when the Prophet passed away. It is said that he was ten, thirteen or fifteen. The last one is mentioned by Saʿīd ibn Jubayr, quoting Ibn ʿAbbās himself. Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal confirms this last one, saying that it is correct.

The hadith shows that prayer by a child is valid, and that the imam's screen serves for those who are praying behind him. However, scholars differ as to whether the screen serves for the imam and the congregation at the same time, or whether that it is a screen for the imam, and that the imam himself is the screen for the congregation. They agree, however, that the whole congregation are praying behind a screen. Scholars agree that having a screen is needed if the worshipper is praying at a place where people are likely to pass in front of his position. They differ with regard to one who is praying at a place where it is unlikely that anyone may pass in front. These two views are expressed in the Mālikī School of fiqh. According to our school, it is preferable in all situations because the hadiths mentioning a screen are applicable generally, and having a screen limits the worshipper's vision and prevents Satan from passing and trying to spoil his prayer, as indicated by hadiths.

Hadith No. 934 mentions that Ibn ʿAbbās came over when the Prophet was praying at Mina, while the following hadith, No. 935, mentions that it was at Arafat. This is understood to indicate two different cases. In hadith No. 934, this is stated to be during the Farewell Pilgrimage, while hadith No. 936 mentions the Farewell Pilgrimage or the time of the takeover of Makkah. The correct scenario is that it was during the Farewell Pilgrimage.

STOPPING ANYONE PASSING IN FRONT OF A PRAYING PERSON

[937–258]. (Dār al-Salām 1023) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> I read out to Mālik; from Zayd ibn Aslam; from ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Sa‘īd; from Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī, that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘If any of you is praying, he should not let anyone pass in front of him, and should prevent him as well as he can. If that person refuses, he should physically stop him. He is only a devil’.

[938–259]. (Dār al-Salām 1024) Shybbān ibn Farrūkh narrated:<sup>ii</sup> Sulaymān ibn al-Mughīrah narrated; Ibn Hilāl (meaning Ḥumayd) narrated. He said: As I was discussing a hadith with a friend of mine, Abū Ṣāliḥ al-Sammān said: I will narrate to you what I heard Abū Sa‘īd say and what I saw him do. ‘I was with Abū Sa‘īd on a Friday when he was praying towards something that screened him from people, when a young man from the clan of Abū Mu‘ayt came over and wanted to pass in front of him. Abū Sa‘īd pushed him in his neck. The young man looked around and could not find a way to cross except in front of Abū Sa‘īd, and he tried again. Abū Sa‘īd pushed him harder in the neck. He stood up and said some verbal abuse against Abū Sa‘īd. He then pushed his way through the people and left. He went to Marwān and complained to him. Then Abū Sa‘īd went to Marwān and Marwān said to him: “Why did you do that to your nephew? He came complaining about you”. Abū Sa‘īd said: “I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: 'If any of you prays towards something that screens him from other people and someone wants to pass across in front of him, let him push him in the neck. If he persists, he should physically prevent him. He is only a devil'."

حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَانُ بْنُ فَرُّوخَ، حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ الْمُغِيرَةِ، حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ هَلَالٍ (يَعْنِي حُمَيْدًا) قَالَ: «بَيْنَمَا أَنَا وَصَاحِبٌ لِي نَتَذَكَّرُ حَدِيثًا، إِذْ قَالَ أَبُو صَالِحٍ السَّمَّانُ أَنَا أَحَدُكُمْ، مَا سَمِعْتُ مِنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ وَرَأَيْتُ مِنْهُ. قَالَ: بَيْنَمَا أَنَا مَعَ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، يُصَلِّي يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ إِلَى شَيْءٍ يَسْتُرُهُ مِنَ النَّاسِ إِذْ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ شَابٌّ مِنْ بَنِي أَبِي مُعَيْطٍ أَرَادَ أَنْ يَجْتَازَ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ، فَدَفَعَ فِي نَحْرِهِ، فَنَظَرَ فَلَمْ يَجِدْ مَسَاعًا إِلَّا بَيْنَ يَدَيَّ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، فَعَادَ، فَدَفَعَ فِي نَحْرِهِ أَشَدَّ مِنَ الدَّفْعَةِ الْأُولَى، فَامْتَلَكَ قَائِمًا. فَنَالَ مِنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، ثُمَّ زَاحَمَ النَّاسَ فَخَرَجَ. فَدَخَلَ عَلَى مَرْوَانَ، فَشَكَا إِلَيْهِ مَا لَقِيَ. قَالَ: وَدَخَلَ أَبُو سَعِيدٍ عَلَى مَرْوَانَ، فَقَالَ لَهُ مَرْوَانُ: مَا لَكَ وَلِابْنِ أَخِيكَ؟ جَاءَ يَشْكُوكَ. فَنَالَ أَبُو سَعِيدٍ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ: «إِذَا صَلَّى أَحَدُكُمْ إِلَى شَيْءٍ يَسْتُرُهُ مِنَ النَّاسِ، فَأَرَادَ أَحَدٌ أَنْ يَجْتَازَ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ، فَلْيَدْفَعْ فِي نَحْرِهِ. فَإِنْ أَبَى فَلْيَقَاتِلْهُ، فَإِنَّهُ هُوَ شَيْطَانٌ».

[939–260]. (Dār al-Salām 1025) Hārūn ibn ‘Abdullāh and Muḥammad ibn Rāfi‘ narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Muḥammad ibn Ismā‘īl ibn Abī Fudayk narrated; from al-Ḍaḥḥāk ibn ‘Uthmān; from Ṣadaqaḥ ibn Yasār; from ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar; that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “If any of you is praying, let him not allow anyone to pass in front of him. If he persists, he should prevent him. His [devil] companion is with him””.

حَدَّثَنِي هَارُونُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ أَبِي فُدَيْكٍ، عَنِ الضَّحَّاكِ بْنِ عِثْمَانَ، عَنْ صَدَقَةَ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «إِذَا كَانَ أَحَدُكُمْ يُصَلِّي، فَلَا يَدْعُ أَحَدًا يَمُرُّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ. فَإِنْ أَبَى فَلْيَقَاتِلْهُ، فَإِنَّ مَعَهُ الْقَرِينَ».

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1026) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated to me: Abū Bakr al-Ḥanafī reported; al-Ḍaḥḥāk ibn ‘Uthmān narrated; Ṣadaqaḥ ibn Yasār narrated. He said: I heard Ibn ‘Umar say: God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: the same text.

حَدَّثَنِي إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، أَخِي بَرْنَا أَبُو بَكْرٍ الْحَنَفِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا الضَّحَّاكُ بْنُ عِثْمَانَ، حَدَّثَنَا صَدَقَةُ بْنُ يَسَارٍ، قَالَ: «سَمِعْتُ ابْنَ عُمَرَ يَقُولُ: «إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ بِمِثْلِهِ».

[940–261]. (Dār al-Salām 1027) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> he said: I read out to Mālik; from Abū al-Naḍr; from Busr ibn Sa‘īd; that Zayd ibn Khālīd al-Juhanī sent him to Abū Juhaym to ask him what he heard God's Messenger (peace be upon him) say about a person passing in front of one who is in prayer. Abū Juhaym said: 'Had the one passing in front of a praying person realized what he incurs, to stand there for forty would be more preferable for him than passing in front of him'.

Abū al-Naḍr said: 'I am not sure whether he said forty days, months or years'.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى قَالَ: قَرَأْتُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ عَنْ أَبِي النَّضْرِ، عَنْ بُسْرِ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، أَنَّ زَيْدَ بْنَ خَالِدٍ الْجُهَنِيَّ أَرْسَلَهُ إِلَى أَبِي جُهَيْمٍ، يَسْأَلُهُ مَاذَا سَمِعَ مِنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي السَّارِّ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْمُصَلِّي؟ قَالَ أَبُو جُهَيْمٍ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «لَوْ يَعْلَمُ السَّارِّ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْمُصَلِّي مَاذَا عَلَيْهِ لَكَانَ أَنْ يَفِيقَ أَرْبَعِينَ خَيْرًا لَهُ مِنْ أَنْ يَمُرَّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ».

«قَالَ أَبُو النَّضْرِ: «لَا أَدْرِي قَالَ أَرْبَعِينَ يَوْمًا أَوْ شَهْرًا أَوْ سَنَةً».

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1028) ‘Abdullāh ibn Hāshim ibn Ḥayyān al-‘Abdī narrated: Wakī‘ narrated; from Sufyān; from Sālim Abū al-Naḍr; from Busr ibn Sa‘īd; that Zayd ibn Khālīd al-Juhanī sent to Abū Juhaym al-Anṣārī: 'What have you heard the Prophet say?' He mentioned the same meaning as Mālīk's narration.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ هَاشِمِ بْنِ حَيَّانَ الْعَبْدِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ سَالِمِ أَبِي النَّضْرِ، عَنْ بُسْرِ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، أَنَّ زَيْدَ بْنَ خَالِدٍ الْجُهَنِيَّ أَرْسَلَ إِلَى أَبِي جُهَيْمٍ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ: «مَا سَمِعْتَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ؟» فَذَكَرَ بَعْضَ نَحْوِ حَدِيثِ مَالِكٍ.

Text Explanation

These hadiths give an order to the one who is praying to prevent anyone from crossing in front of him. This order is one of confirmed recommendation. I do not know of any scholar who considers it an imperative constituting a duty. Our scholars and others make clear that it is recommended, not obligatory. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ said:

Scholars are unanimous that the person who is praying is not obliged to fight such a person with a weapon or with what may cause his death. However, if he pushes such a person with something he is permitted to use and this leads to the death of that person, he is not liable to the retaliatory death penalty. This is agreed upon by all scholars. In such a case, does the one who caused the death pay blood money or not? Scholars have expressed both views, and these two views are upheld by the Mālikī School of Fiqh.

Scholars also agree that all this applies to a worshipper who has not neglected anything regarding his prayer, taking every precaution and placing a screen before him, or praying in a position where people would not pass across. This is evidenced by the wording of the hadith: 'If any of you prays towards something that screens him from other people and someone wants to pass in front of him, let him push him in the neck. If he persists, he should physically prevent him'. Scholars also agree that the person in prayer may not walk over towards that man to prevent him crossing. He may only try to stop him from where he is standing in praying. To walk while praying is worse than letting that person cross at a distance. What the worshipper is permitted to do is what he can do with his hand standing fast to his position. Hence, he is ordered to be close to his screen. If the other person is at a distance, he alerts him not to cross by a signal or a glorification of God.

Scholars further agree that if a person passes across, the worshipper should not try to force him to go back, because this means crossing back at the same place, i.e. in front of the worshipper. However, some early scholars are quoted as having said that the one who crossed should be forced back, and some give an explanation.

What Qādī 'Iyād said shows profound understanding. Our Shāfi'i scholars said that the worshipper should prevent the one who wants to pass in front of him, in between him and his screen, by the easiest means. If he will not stop, then by the most effective means, and if this leads to that person's death, the worshipper is not answerable for it. It is like repelling an attacker who wants to kill one or take one's money. Islam allows fighting such a person, and permitted fighting does not incur any liability.

The Prophet describes the one who passes in front of a praying person saying, 'he is only a devil'. Qādī 'Iyāḍ said: 'It is said that it means that it was Satan that prompted him to refuse to stop and insist on passing across. It is also suggested that it means that such a person does what Satan does, because Satan refuses to accept the Sunnah and does not do any good. It is further said that it means the "devil companion" as mentioned in the hadith number 939', but God knows best.

Hadith No. 940 quotes the Prophet: 'Had the one passing in front of a praying person realized what he incurs, to stand there for forty would be more preferable for him than passing in front of him'. This means that if such a person knows what sin he incurs by passing in front of a praying person, he would have chosen to stand there for forty, rather than commit this offence. The hadith implies a strong prohibition and a severe warning.

Note: Abū al-Naḍr, the narrator, says that he was unsure whether it was forty days or months or years. Whichever may be the case, it does not detract from the severity of the warning and what the offence entails.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 940 mentions that 'Zayd ibn Khālīd al-Juhanī sent him to Abū Juhaym'. The name of Abū Juhaym is 'Abdullāh ibn al-Ḥārith ibn al-Ṣūmmah, who belonged to al-Najjār clan of the Anṣār. He is the one mentioned in connection with tayammum, or dry ablution. He is different from Abū Jahm, whose name is 'Āmir ibn Ḥudhayfah of the 'Adī branch of Quraysh. He is mentioned in the hadith which quotes the Prophet: 'Take this garment to Abū Jahm'.

PRAYING CLOSE TO THE SCREEN

[941–262]. (Dār al-Salām 1029) Ya‘qūb ibn Ibrāhīm al-Dawraqī narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Ibn Abī Hāzim narrated; my father narrated to me; from Sahl ibn Sa‘d al-Sā‘idī. He said: ‘The distance between God’s Messenger’s place of prayer and the wall was equal to a lamb’s passage’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الدَّوْرَقِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ السَّاعِدِيِّ
”قَالَ: “كَانَ بَيْنَ مُصَلَّى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَبَيْنَ الْحِجَارِ مَسَرُّ الشَّاةِ”.

[942–263]. (Dār al-Salām 1030) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm and Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated (Ibn al-Muthannā’s text):<sup>ii</sup> Hammad ibn Mas‘adah (Ishāq said: ‘reported’ while Ibn al-Muthannā said: ‘narrated’); from Yazīd (meaning Ibn Abī ‘Ubayd); from Salamah (who is Ibn al-Akwa‘) that ‘He used to seek the place where the Qur’an was kept to pray there. He mentioned that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to seek that place. The distance between the platform (i.e. minbar) and the qiblah was equal to a lamb’s passage’.

[943–264]. (Dār al-Salām 1031) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated it: Makkī narrated; Yazīd reported. He said: ‘Salamah used to make sure to pray near the pillar where the Qur’an was kept. I said to him: “Abū Muslim, I see that you seek to pray near this pillar”. He said: “I saw the Prophet seeking to pray here”’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى، حَدَّثَنَا مَكِّيٌّ، قَالَ يَزِيدُ أَخْبَرَنَا، قَالَ: "كَانَ سَلَمَةٌ يَتَحَرَّى الصَّلَاةَ عِنْدَ الْأُسْطُوَانَةِ الَّتِي عِنْدَ الْمُصْحَفِ، فَقُلْتُ لَهُ: يَا أَبَا مُسْلِمٍ، أَرَأَيْكَ تَتَحَرَّى الصَّلَاةَ عِنْدَ هَذِهِ الْأُسْطُوَانَةِ. قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَتَحَرَّى الصَّلَاةَ عِنْدَهَا".

Text Explanation

The first hadith in this chapter, No. 941, speaks of the distance between the Prophet's 'place of prayer and the wall'. What is meant by 'place of prayer' is the place of prostration. The hadith means that the Sunnah, i.e. the recommended practice, is that one should be close to one's screen when praying.

That the Prophet used to seek a specific place to pray means that was where he offered his voluntary prayers. This also implies that it is appropriate to choose a certain place to pray, if that place has particular merit. The order not to adopt a certain place in a mosque and pray always there applies to places that have no particular merit or distinction. However, if such a choice is needed, such as by a scholar who has a teaching circle or where he sits to answer queries and give rulings, or to listen to hadiths, then there is nothing wrong with this. Indeed, it is desirable to have a regular place because it facilitates what is good and beneficial. Qādī 'Iyāḍ mentions that scholars of the earliest generations differed with regard to the discouragement of choosing a certain place for no particular reason, and their agreement that it is desirable for a valid reason as we have explained.

Hadith No. 942 mentions that 'the distance between the platform (i.e. minbar) and the qiblah was equal to a lamb's passage'. What is meant by the qiblah is the wall. The platform is placed at some distance from the wall so that the people in the first row are not separated by it.

The hadith also makes clear that it is perfectly permissible to pray close to the pillars, while facing a pillar is desirable, although not directly but rather standing a little to the right or the left. Praying in between pillars is appropriate according to our school, but Mālik is differently quoted regarding it as undesirable. The reason for so discouraging it, according to him, is that they disrupt the row and the worshipper would not be praying close to any wall in front of him.

WHAT SCREEN TO HAVE

[944–265]. (Dār al-Salām 1032) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ismā‘īl ibn ‘Ulayyah narrated [H]. Also, Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me: Ismā‘īl ibn Ibrāhīm narrated; from Yūnus; from Ḥumayd ibn Hilāl; from ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Ṣāmit; from Abū Dharr: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “When anyone of you stands up to pray, he would be screened if there is in front of him something like the back of a saddle. If he does not have something like the back of a saddle in front of him, his prayer may be disrupted by a donkey, a woman or a black dog”’.

I said: ‘Abū Dharr: what is the difference between a black, red or yellow dog?’ He said: ‘Nephew, I asked God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) the same question, and he said: ‘The black dog is a devil’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ عُيَيْبٍ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ يُونُسَ، عَنْ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ هِلَالٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ، عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «إِذَا قَامَ أَحَدُكُمْ يُصَلِّي فَإِنَّهُ يَسْتُرُهُ إِذَا كَانَ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ مِثْلُ آخِرَةِ الرَّحْلِ، فَإِذَا لَمْ يَكُنْ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ مِثْلُ آخِرَةِ الرَّحْلِ، فَإِنَّهُ يَقْطَعُ صَلَاتَهُ الْحِمَارُ وَالْمَرْأَةُ وَالْكَلْبُ الْأَسْوَدُ».

قُلْتُ: “يَا أَبَا ذَرٍّ مَا بَالُ الْكَلْبِ الْأَسْوَدِ مِنَ الْكَلْبِ الْأَحْمَرِ مِنَ الْكَلْبِ الْأَصْفَرِ؟” قَالَ: “يَا ابْنَ أَخِي سَأَلْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَمَا سَأَلْتَنِي فَقَالَ: الْكَلْبُ الْأَسْوَدُ شَيْطَانٌ”.

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1033) Shaybān ibn Farrūkh narrated: Sulaymān ibn al-Mughīrah narrated [H]. Also, Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā and Ibn Bashshār narrated; both said: Muhammad ibn Ja‘far narrated; Shu‘bah narrated [H]. Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated; Wahb ibn Jarīr reported; my father narrated [H]. Ishāq also narrated: al-Mu‘tamir ibn Sulaymān reported; I heard Salm ibn Abī al-Dhayyāl [H]. And Yūsuf ibn Ḥammād al-Ma‘nī narrated to me; Ziyād al-Bakkā‘ī narrated; from ‘Āsim al-Aḥwal: all these from Humayd ibn Hilāl, with Yūnus's chain of transmission: similar to his hadith.

حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَانُ بْنُ فَرُّوخَ، حَدَّثَنَا سُليْمَانُ بْنُ الْمُغِيرَةِ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى وَابْنُ بَشَّارٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، أَخْبَرَنَا وَهْبُ بْنُ جَرِيرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ أَيُّضًا: أَخْبَرَنَا الْمُعْتَمِرُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ سَلِيمَ بْنَ أَبِي الدِّيَالِ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنِي يُوسُفُ بْنُ حَمَّادٍ الْمَعْنِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا زِيَادُ الْبَكَّائِيُّ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ الْأَحْوَلِ، كُلُّ هَؤُلَاءِ عَنْ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ هِلَالٍ، بِإِسْنَادِ يُونُسَ كَنَحْوِ حَدِيثِهِ.

He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “A prayer is disrupted by a woman, a donkey or a dog. Something like the back of a saddle protects from that”’.

Text Explanation

Scholars differ about the import of this hadith, with some saying that these three disrupt or invalidate the prayer if they pass in front of a praying person. Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal said: ‘Prayer is invalidated by a black dog, but I am doubtful about the donkey and the woman’. What he means is that nothing has been said to counter this hadith regarding the black dog. Concerning women, we have the hadith narrated by ‘Ā’ishah which will be quoted presently, and regarding the donkey, we have the hadith mentioned earlier and narrated by Ibn ‘Abbās.

On the other hand, Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfi‘ī, as well as the majority of scholars of earlier and later generations, said that prayer is not invalidated by the passing of any of these mentioned in the hadith, nor the passing of anything else. They interpret this hadith as meaning that the prayer suffers deficiency because these distract the worshipper. As such, it is not totally invalidated. Some scholars claim that this hadith is abrogated by another hadith, which states: 'Nothing invalidates a person's prayer, but prevent [passage] as much as you can'. This claim of abrogation is not satisfactory, because abrogation is not claimed in any particular case unless it is impossible to reconcile and interpret the relevant hadiths and we know the dates of such hadiths. In this case, we have no dates, and reconciliation and interpretation are not impossible. The hadiths may be interpreted as we have mentioned. Furthermore, the hadith cited as abrogating the ones in this chapter is lacking in authenticity, but God knows best.

TO LIE ACROSS IN FRONT OF A PRAYING PERSON

[946–267]. (Dār al-Salām 1035) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah, ‘Amr al-Nāqid and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>i</sup> they said: Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from al-Zuhri; from ‘Urwah, from ‘Ā’ishah, that ‘The Prophet (peace be upon him) used to pray during the night and I might be lying in front of him, like a bier’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَعَمْرُو النَّاقِدُ وَزُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يُصَلِّي مِنَ اللَّيْلِ، وَأَنَا مُعْتَرِضَةٌ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْقِبْلَةِ، كَأَعْتَرِاضِ الْجَنَازَةِ

[947–268]. (Dār al-Salām 1036) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Wakī‘ narrated; from Hishām; from his father; from ‘Ā’ishah. She said: ‘The Prophet used to offer his night prayers, all of it, and I would be lying between him and the qiblah. When he wished to pray Witr, he would wake me up and I would pray Witr’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ هِشَامٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، قَالَتْ: “كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُصَلِّي صَلَاتَهُ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ كُلِّهَا، وَأَنَا مُعْتَرِضَةٌ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْقِبْلَةِ، فَإِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَوْتِرَ أَيقِظَنِي فَأَوْتَرْتُ”.

[948–269]. (Dār al-Salām 1037) ‘Amr ibn ‘Alī narrated to me: Muhammad ibn Ja‘far narrated; Shu‘bah narrated; from Abū Bakr ibn Ḥafṣ; from ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr. He said: “‘Ā’ishah asked: “What disrupts prayer?” We said: “A woman or a donkey”. She said: “The woman is thus a wicked animal! I can see myself as I was lying across in front of God’s Messenger, like a bier is placed, and he was praying””.

وَحَدَّثَنِي عَمْرُو بْنُ عَلِيٍّ، حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ حَفْصٍ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، قَالَ: قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: «مَا يَقْطَعُ الصَّلَاةَ؟» قَالَ: فَقُلْنَا: «الْمَرْأَةُ وَالْحِمَارُ». فَقَالَتْ: «إِنَّ الْمَرْأَةَ لَدَابَّةٌ سَوَاءٌ! لَقَدْ

«رَأَيْتُنِي بَيْنَ يَدَيْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، مُعْتَرِضَةً كَاعْتِرَاضِ الْجِنَّازَةِ، وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي

[949–270]. (Dār al-Salām 1038) ‘Amr al-Nāqid and Abū Sa‘īd al-Ashajj narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Ḥafṣ ibn Ghiyāth narrated [H]. Also, he said: and ‘Umar ibn Ḥafṣ ibn Ghiyāth narrated (his text); my father narrated; al-A‘mash narrated; Ibrāhīm narrated; from al-Aswad; from ‘Ā’ishah.

Text Explanation

The first hadith quotes ‘Ā’ishah that she might be lying in front of the Prophet as he offered his night prayers. She likened her position to that of a bier on which a coffin or a corpse is placed. ‘Ā’ishah and scholars in later generations cite this hadith as evidence that a woman does not disrupt a man’s prayer. The hadith shows clearly that he may pray towards her. Some scholars dislike anyone other than the Prophet praying towards a woman, for fear that he might be distracted by her presence and be tempted to look hard at her. The Prophet would do nothing of the kind, and his prayer was in the middle of the night and there were no lights in people’s homes at the time.

In hadith No. 947, ‘Ā’ishah says that when the Prophet wished to pray Witr, he would wake her up. The hadith indicates that it is desirable to delay Witr to the last part of the night. This is clear for a person who is certain that he or she can get up, or will be wakened by someone else. In this case, to delay praying Witr until the last part of the night is preferable, even though one does not do any tahajjud, i.e. voluntary night worship. This was ‘Ā’ishah’s situation mentioned in this hadith. If one is unsure about being able to wake up, one should pray Witr before going to bed. The hadith also indicates that it is desirable to wake a sleeping person to offer an obligatory prayer on time. There are other hadiths confirming this.

In hadith No. 948, ‘Ā’ishah responds to those who said that a woman disrupts a man’s prayer by saying: ‘A woman is thus a wicked animal’. She says this berating what they said.

In hadith No. 951, ‘Ā’ishah says that when the Prophet wished to prostrate himself, he would poke her and she would pull up her legs. Scholars cite this hadith as evidence supporting their view that touching a woman does not invalidate ablution. The majority of scholars say that it does, and interpret this hadith as touching her garment or blanket, which is normally the case for a sleeping person. As such, the hadith does not provide evidence for such a ruling. She also mentions that there were no lanterns in people’s homes at the time. This she cites by way of an apology. She means that had there been any light, she would have pulled up her legs when he wished to prostrate without any need for him to poke her.

In the last hadith, No. 953, Maymūnah mentions that the Prophet ‘used to pray during the night and I would be next to him and in menstruation, wearing a dress and a part of my dress was touching his side’. On the basis of this hadith, a man’s prayer is not made invalid by a woman standing next to him. This is the view of our school and the majority of scholars, while Abū Ḥanīfah considers that such prayer becomes invalid. The hadith also shows that the clothes of a woman who is having her period are not impure, except for a spot which is stained by blood or some other impurity. Furthermore, the hadith makes clear that it is permissible to pray in the presence of a woman who is menstruating and that it is acceptable to pray wearing a garment, with a portion on the worshipper and another portion on the menstruating woman or any woman.

As for a person in prayer facing another person face-to-face, this is discouraged according to our school and the majority of scholars. Indeed, Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ says that it is the view of all scholars (may God bestow mercy on them all).

Text Explanation

Note: The traditional clothes of Arab men during the Prophet's time, and for several centuries after, consisted of two garments, a lower one which was wrapped at the waist line and stretched down to the middle of one's shins, and a top one which covered one's shoulders and stretched over the lower garment. Hence, the question of whether prayer was valid when one was wearing a single garment.

Imam al-Nawawī writes: These hadiths make clear that it is permissible to wear a single garment when offering prayers. There is no difference among scholars on this, except what was reported of 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd, but I do not know whether this report is authentic. Scholars are unanimous that it is preferable to wear a suit of two garments in prayer. The hadiths mean that some people may not be able to afford two garments. Had it been obligatory to wear two garments when praying, a person who cannot afford such would have been unable to pray, and this would have caused real difficulty. God says that He 'has laid no hardship on you in [anything that pertains to] religion'. (22: 78) The fact that the Prophet and some of his Companions prayed at times wearing one garment was due to the fact that another garment was then unavailable to them. It also demonstrated that such is permissible. Jābir once said that he did this 'so that some ignorant people would see me'. Otherwise, wearing two garments is better, as has been explained.

In hadith No. 956, the Prophet makes clear that when praying wearing a single garment, one must ensure that a part of it covers one's shoulders. Scholars say that the reason for this instruction is that if a person is wearing only a single garment and does not bring it over his shoulders, he cannot be sure that the private area of his body, i.e. the 'awrah, is not exposed. This possibility is removed if a portion of the garment is on his shoulders. Moreover, he may need to hold his garment with one or both hands and this will distract him. He will then miss the sunnah of placing his right hand over his left hand below his chest, and the other sunnah of raising both hands at the times when they need to be raised. Moreover, he will not be covering the upper part of his body, which is where one's better appearance is. God says: 'Dress well when you attend any place of worship'. (7: 31)

Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Shāfi'ī and the majority of scholars said that this order not to pray in one garment without covering one's shoulders is not a prohibition. It is rather intended as discouragement. Thus, if a man prays wearing a single garment that covers his private areas while his shoulders are exposed, his prayer is valid even though he did something that is discouraged. This is the case whether he is able to use a portion of his garment to cover his shoulders or not. Aḥmad and some early scholars said that if he is able to cover his shoulders with a portion of his single garment, then he must do so; otherwise, his prayer is not valid. Their view is based on the apparent meaning of the hadith. Another report attributed to Aḥmad says that the man's prayer is valid but he commits a sin by not covering his shoulders. The argument given by the majority of scholars is the hadith narrated by Jābir, which says: 'If it is wide, cover yourself with it, but if it is narrow, then cover with it the lower part of your body'. This hadith is related by al-Bukhārī, and also by Muslim in a long hadith at the end of the book.

Hadith No. 957 says: 'I saw God's Messenger (peace be upon him) praying in Umm Salamah's home, wearing one garment, tying it up and placing its two sides on his shoulders'. The description in hadith No. 959 adds 'crossing its two sides'. Both descriptions, as well as the other synonym used in some hadiths, give the same meaning; a man takes the edge of the garment he is throwing over his right shoulder underneath his left arm and the edge he is throwing over his left shoulder underneath his right arm and ties the two ends over his chest.

In hadith No. 964, Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī mentions that he saw the Prophet praying 'on a straw mat' and prostrating himself. This makes clear that it is permissible to pray on something that separates the worshipper from the barren earth – a garment or a mat made of straw, wool, hair or other material – whether it grows on earth or not. This is the view of our school and the majority of scholars. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ said: ‘If it is a plant that grows on earth, this is acceptable. Rugs, carpets and other material that do not grow on earth are permissible and prayer on them is valid according to the unanimous view of scholars. However, the earth is better, except for some need, such as hot or cold weather, etc.’ An essential aspect of prayer is humility before God, but God, the Mighty and Exalted, knows best.

CHAPTER <sup>i</sup>

The Whole Earth is Muslims' Places of worship

[966–1]. (Dār al-Salām 1056) Abū Kāmil al-Jaḥḍarī narrated to me:<sup>ii</sup> ‘Abd al-Wāḥid narrated; al-A‘mash narrated [H]. Also Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Abū Kurayb narrated; both said: Abū Mu‘āwiyah narrated; from al-A‘mash; from Ibrāhīm al-Taymī; from his father; from Abū Dharr: ‘I said: “Messenger of God, which mosque was first placed on earth?” He said: “The Sacred Mosque”. I asked: “Which was next?” He said: “The Aqṣā Mosque”. I asked: “How much time was between them”? He said: “Forty years. But wherever you are when a prayer is due, pray there. It is a place of worship”.

In Abū Kāmil’s narration, the last sentence is given with slight variation in wording, but the same meaning’.

حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو كَامِلٍ الْجَحْذَرِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ، حَدَّثَنَا الْأَعْمَشُ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَأَبُو كُرَيْبٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ التَّيْمِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ: “قُلْتُ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، أَيُّ مَسْجِدٍ وَضِعَ فِي الْأَرْضِ أَوَّلُ؟” قَالَ: “الْمَسْجِدُ الْحَرَامُ”. قُلْتُ: “ثُمَّ أَيُّ؟” قَالَ: “الْمَسْجِدُ الْأَقْصَى”. قُلْتُ: “كَمْ بَيْنَهُمَا؟” قَالَ: «أَرْبَعُونَ سَنَةً. وَأَيْنَمَا أَدْرَكَتْكَ الصَّلَاةُ فَصَلِّ، فَهُوَ مَسْجِدٌ

». وَفِي حَدِيثِ أَبِي كَامِلٍ: «ثُمَّ حَيْثُمَا أَدْرَكَتْكَ الصَّلَاةُ فَصَلِّ، فَإِنَّهُ مَسْجِدٌ

[967–2]. (Dār al-Salām 1057) ‘Alī ibn Ḥujr narrated to me: ‘Alī ibn Mushir reported; al-A‘mash narrated; from Ibrāhīm ibn Yazīd al-Taymī. He said: ‘I was reciting the Qur’an to my father in al-Suddah.<sup>i</sup> When I recited a verse which indicated prostration, he prostrated himself. I said: “Father, do you prostrate in the road”? He said: “I heard Abū Dharr say: ‘I asked God’s Messenger about the first mosque placed on earth’, and he said: “The Sacred Mosque”. I asked: “Which was next”? He said: “The Aqṣā

Mosque". I asked how much time was between them. He said: "Forty years. Then the whole earth is a place of worship for you. Therefore, wherever you are when an obligatory prayer is due, pray there"".'

حَدَّثَنِي عَلِيُّ بْنُ حُجْرٍ السَّعْدِيُّ، أَخْبَرَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ مُسْهِرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا الْأَعْمَشُ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ يَزِيدَ التَّمِيمِيِّ، قَالَ: "كُنْتُ أَقْرَأُ عَلَى أَبِي الْقُرْآنِ فِي السُّدَّةِ، فَإِذَا قَرَأْتُ السَّجْدَةَ سَجَدَ. فَقُلْتُ لَهُ: يَا أَبَتِ، أَتَسْجُدُ فِي الطَّرِيقِ؟ قَالَ: إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ أَبَا ذَرٍّ يَقُولُ: سَأَلْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ أَوَّلِ مَسْجِدٍ وُضِعَ فِي الْأَرْضِ، قَالَ: «الْمَسْجِدُ الْحَرَامُ». قُلْتُ: ثُمَّ أَيُّ؟ قَالَ: «الْمَسْجِدُ الْأَقْصَى». قُلْتُ: كَمْ بَيْنَهُمَا؟ قَالَ: «أَرْبَعُونَ عَامًا». ثُمَّ الْأَرْضُ لَكَ مَسْجِدٌ، فَحَيْثُمَا أَدْرَكَتَكَ الصَّلَاةُ فَصَلِّ

[968–3]. (Dār al-Salām 1058) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>ii</sup> Hushaym reported; from Sayyār; from Yazīd al-Faqīr; from Jābir ibn ‘Abdullāh al-Anṣārī: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “I have been given five things which were not given to anyone before me. Every prophet was sent to his own community but I am sent to everyone who is red or black. War gains are made lawful for me but they were not lawful for anyone before me. The whole earth has been made good for me as a source of purification and a place of worship: when a prayer is due, anyone may pray wherever they happen to be. I have been supported by fear at a month’s travel. And I have been granted [the privilege of] intercession”’.

Text Explanation

The first hadith, No. 966, states the Prophet's instruction: 'Wherever you are when a prayer is due, pray there. That is a place of worship'. This makes clear that prayer is permissible in all places other than cemeteries and the exceptions made by Islam including places that have impurities, such as rubbish dumps and slaughter houses. Also excluded are places specified by Islam for different reasons, such as camel stables. These will presently be explained, God willing. Other excluded places are the roadside, bathrooms, etc. as these are specified in a hadith.

In hadith No. 967, the narrator says: 'I was reciting the Qur'an to my father in al-Suddah. When I recited a verse which indicated prostration, he prostrated himself. I said: "Father, do you prostrate in the road?" ...' The hadith is related by al-Nasā'ī and the word al-Suddah is replaced by al-Sikkah, which means 'the road', while others relate it and replace al-Suddah with a phrase meaning 'some road'. These replacements fit well with the narrator asking his father: 'Do you prostrate in the road?'

Al-Suddah is an enclosure, which is mostly like a balcony, that overlooks the mosque but is not part of it. The rulings applicable to a mosque do not apply to a structure if it is outside it. A scholar of the very early generations called Ismā'īl ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān was known as al-Suddī because he used to sell his goods at the mosque's Suddah. The fact that he prostrated in al-Suddah is understood to mean that he was prostrating at a place that has no impurity. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'Scholars differ with regard to a teacher and a student and whether they have to prostrate themselves when they recite a verse that requires a prostration. Some scholars say that they should prostrate when the verse is recited for the first time, while others say that they need not prostrate themselves'.

The Prophet mentions in these hadiths that war gains have been made lawful to him while they were not lawful to anyone before his time. Scholars said that when earlier communities had war gains, they were required to pool them together and then a fire was sent from the sky to burn them. This is stated in a hadith narrated by Abū Hurayrah quoting the Prophet as he spoke about an earlier prophet who was fighting. God stopped the sun for him so that he could defeat his enemies. The hadith is entered in the Ṣaḥīḥ anthologies of al-Bukhārī and Muslim.

The Prophet mentions among the special privileges he has been given that 'the earth has been made good for me as a source of purification and a place of worship'. In a different version 'its soil is made a source of purification for us'. Mālik and Abū Ḥanīfah, as well as other scholars who say that dry ablution, i.e. tayammum, is permissible on any part of the earth, take the first narration as their evidence. The second narration is cited as evidence by al-Shāfi'ī and Aḥmad as well as other scholars who say that dry ablution is valid only on dust or soil. They consider that the first hadith, which is general, is limited by the second.

That the earth is made a 'place of worship' means that earlier communities were allowed to pray in special places, such as temples and churches. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'Earlier communities were not allowed to pray except where they were certain to be free of impurity while we are allowed to pray anywhere on earth except where we are certain of the presence of impurity'.

The Prophet says in these hadiths that he has been given the privilege of intercession. This refers to the general intercession on the Day of Judgement, when people appeal to him. Intercession on behalf of special people is given to others besides the Prophet. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'It is also said that what is meant is an intercession that is certain to be accepted. It may also be his intercession to release from Hell everyone in whose heart there is even an atom's weight of faith. The intercession granted to others comes before this one, and this is specific to the Prophet, like that of the Day of Judgement. The types of his intercession have been detailed earlier in the Book of Faith'.

In hadith No. 969, the Prophet is quoted: 'We have been given distinction from all mankind by three aspects: our rows are made the same as the rows of angels; and the whole earth is made a place of worship for us; and its soil is made a source for purification for us, if we are without water. He also mentioned an additional aspect'. Scholars say that only two aspects are mentioned here, because the earth being a place of worship and a source of purification counts as one aspect of privilege. The third is not mentioned here. Al-Nasā'ī mentions it as narrated by Abū Mālik, who is also the narrator here, in Muslim's Ṣaḥīḥ. It adds: 'I have been given these verses at the end of Surah 2, The Cow, from a treasure underneath God's throne. No one was given them before me, and no one after me will be given them'.

Another aspect of privilege given to the Prophet is 'the most comprehensive speech'. Al-Harawī said that this refers to the Qur'an, which bears great meanings expressed in a small number of words.

The Prophet's discourse is also characterized by word economy and broad meaning.

In hadith No. 968, the Prophet mentions that he is sent to 'everyone who is red or black', and in hadith No. 970 he is sent to all mankind. Scholars say that what is meant by red are the white non-Arabs, while the black refers to those Arabs who are mostly dark in colour and to the Africans. Others say that 'the black' refers to Africans and the red refers to all others, Arabs and non-Arabs. It is also said that 'the red' means humans and the black means the jinn. All these explanations are correct, because Prophet Muhammad is sent to all these.

The Prophet said that he was brought 'the keys to the treasures of the earth'. This is clear evidence of his prophethood, because it means that he was informed that many parts of the world would be given over to his community. It took place as he informed. All gratitude and praise are due to God for that. Hadith No. 971 says: 'You continue to tap these treasures'. This means that you continue to tap the resources of the earth and what God has given to the Muslims of treasures.

BUILDING THE PROPHET'S MOSQUE

[974–9]. (Dār al-Salām 1068) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā and Shaybān ibn Farrūkh narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from ‘Abd al-Wārith. Yaḥyā said: ‘Abd al-Wārith ibn Sa‘īd reported; from Abū al-Tayyāḥ al-Ḍubā‘ī; Anas ibn Mālīk narrated; that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) arrived in Madinah and he stayed at the top of Madinah, among a clan called Banu ‘Amr ibn ‘Awf. He stayed with them for fourteen nights. He then sent to the chiefs of al-Najjār clan, and they came carrying their swords. I can almost see God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) riding his shecamel, with Abū Bakr behind him, surrounded by the chiefs of al-Najjār, moving until he stopped at Abū Ayyūb’s yard. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed wherever he happened to be when the prayer became due, and he prayed in sheep sheds. He then ordered the construction of the mosque. He sent to the chiefs of al-Najjār and they came over. He said: “Banī al-Najjār, give me a price for this farm of yours”. They said: “No. By God, we shall not ask its price except from God”. Anas said: There was in it what I am saying. There were date trees, graves of some idolaters and ruins of some buildings. The Prophet gave instructions for the date trees to be felled, the idolaters’ graves to be dug and the ruins to be levelled down. They put the date trees in line to the side facing the qiblah, and constructed the two pillars of the door with stones. They chanted as they worked, and God’s Messenger working with them, saying: “Our Lord, the only goodness is that of the life to come. Our Lord, give Your support to the Anṣār and the Muhājirīn”.

Text Explanation

Hadith No. 974 mentions that when the Prophet asked al-Najjār clan to name a price for the farm where he wanted to have the mosque built, they refused and donated it for that purpose. This is a well known hadith entered by both al-Bukhārī and Muslim in their Ṣaḥīḥ anthologies, as well as in anthologies by other Hadith scholars. In his al-Ṭabaqāt, Muhammad ibn Sa‘d quotes al-Wāqidī stating that the Prophet bought it from them for ten dinars and that Abū Bakr paid the amount on his behalf.

The hadith mentions that the Prophet ordered the felling of the date trees. This makes clear that it is permissible to fell fruit trees for a legitimate need or for some benefit such as using the timber, or to plant other trees in their place, or if it is feared that they may fall and destroy something useful, or to build a mosque in their place, or to fell trees in enemy lands when it is clear that they are unlikely to be defeated; cutting their trees down is bound to upset and weaken them.

The Prophet also ordered the digging up of the idolaters' graves. This makes clear that it is permissible to dig up old graves, and when the soil that is mixed with their remains and blood is removed, it is permissible to pray there; as it is also permissible to build a mosque on that land if it is purged. The hadith further makes clear that land used to bury the dead and left for a long time may be sold as it continues to be the possession of its owner and his heirs after him, unless it is made an endowment.

As the Prophet's Companions were working on building the mosque, they chanted. This shows that it is permissible to chant and recite poetry during work and travel, to encourage oneself and facilitate the work. Literary people differ as to whether the type of rhyme the Prophet's Companions chanted was poetry or not. They agree that speech is called poetry only when it is intentionally set according to one of the recognized metres. If speech unintentionally happens to fit a poetic metre, it is not poetry. This is the explanation given to what is reported of the Prophet saying of this type, because reciting poetry was forbidden to him.

The hadiths show that the Prophet used to pray in sheep sheds. Mālik, Aḥmad and other scholars take this hadith as evidence that the urine and droppings of animals that are permissible to eat are not impure. We have already explained this towards the end of the Book of Cleansing. The hadith also indicates that praying where sheep rest is perfectly permissible. This is unlike camel stables. This was also explained in the Book of Cleansing.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of the last hadith in this chapter begins with Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā. This is how he is mentioned in most manuscripts. In a few, he is named Yaḥyā only without mentioning his father. In Aṭ-ṭarāf al-Ṣaḥīḥayn by Khalaf ibn Muhammad al-Wāsiṭī the name is given as Yaḥyā ibn Ḥabīb. It is said that this is the correct rendering.

CHANGING THE DIRECTION OF PRAYER FROM JERUSALEM TO THE KA‘BAH

[976–11]. (Dār al-Salām 1071) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Abū al-Aḥwaṣ narrated; from Abū Ishāq; from al-Barā’ ibn ‘Āzib. He said: ‘I prayed with the Prophet (peace be upon him) towards Jerusalem for sixteen months, until the verse in Surah The Cow was revealed [saying]: “Turn your face, then, towards the Sacred Mosque; and wherever you all may be, turn your faces [in prayer] towards it”. (2: 144) This was revealed after the Prophet had finished his prayer. One man from the congregation left and he passed by a group of the Anṣār who were praying, and he told them. They changed direction turning towards the Ka‘bah’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرٍ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ، قَالَ: “صَلَّيْتُ مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَى بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ سِتَّةَ عَشَرَ شَهْرًا، حَتَّى نَزَلَتْ الْآيَةُ الَّتِي فِي الْبَقَرَةِ {وَحَيْثُمَا كُنْتُمْ فَوَلُّوا وُجُوهَكُمْ شَطْرَهُ}، فَنَزَلَتْ بَعْدَ مَا صَلَّى النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ. فَانْطَلَقَ رَجُلٌ مِنَ الْقَوْمِ فَمَرَّ بِنَاسٍ مِنَ الْأَنْصَارِ وَهُمْ يُصَلُّونَ، فَحَدَّثَهُمْ، فَوَلُّوا وُجُوهَهُمْ قِبَلَ الْبَيْتِ”.

[977–12].<sup>i</sup> (Dār al-Salām 1072) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā and Abū Bakr ibn Khallād narrated:<sup>ii</sup> both from Yahyā. Ibn al-Muthannā said: Yahyā ibn Sa‘īd narrated; from Sufyān; Abū Ishāq narrated to me; he said: I heard al-Barā’ say: ‘We prayed with God’s Messenger towards Jerusalem for sixteen months then we were commanded to change direction towards the Ka‘bah’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا عَفَانُ، حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يُصَلِّي نَحْوَ بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ، فَتَزَلَّتْ: {قَدْ نَرَى تَقَلُّبَ وَجْهِكَ فِي السَّمَاءِ فَلَنُوَلِّيَنَّكَ قِبْلَةً تَرْضَاهَا فَوَلِّ وَجْهَكَ شَطْرَ الْمَسْجِدِ الْحَرَامِ}. فَمَرَّ رَجُلٌ مِنْ بَنِي سُلَيْمَةَ وَهُمْ رُكُوعٌ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ، وَقَدْ صَلَّوْا رَكْعَةً، فَنَادَى أَلَا إِنَّ الْقِبْلَةَ قَدْ حُوِّلَتْ. فَمَالُوا كَمَا هُمْ نَحْوَ الْقِبْلَةِ

Text Explanation

In this chapter we have the hadith narrated by al-Barā', which provides evidence that abrogation may – and did – take place. It also makes clear that it is permissible to offer one prayer towards two different directions. This is the correct view of our scholars. They say that if a person starts a prayer facing a certain direction and then during the prayer he determines that he is facing the wrong direction, he should turn to the correct one. Even if he remains unsure and changes his mind four times in the same prayer, leading him to face a different direction in each of the four rak'ahs, his prayer is valid according to the more correct view. The people of the mosque mentioned in the hadith turned while they were praying and faced the Ka'bah, they did not start their prayer afresh. The hadith also gives evidence that abrogation does not apply to a person until he has been informed of it. It may be said that this is a case of abrogating something that is absolutely definite on the basis of a report by one person, which is unacceptable according to scholars of legal theory, i.e. uṣūl al-fiqh. The answer is that this report is added to other sorts of evidence and pointers that confirmed the information given. As such, it was no longer a mere report by one person.

Scholars of our school and others differ as to whether facing Jerusalem in prayer is confirmed in the Qur'an or it was on the basis of the Prophet's own discretion. In his book al-Hāwī, al-Māwardī mentions two views expressed by our scholars. Qādī 'Iyād said that the majority of scholars say that it was a question of Sunnah, not based on the Qur'an. On this basis, it serves as evidence in support of the view that the Qur'an may abrogate a sunnah. This is the view of the majority of later scholars of legal theory, and it is one of two views expressed by al-Shāfiʿī. His other view, which is shared by a good number of scholars, is that it is not possible, because the Sunnah explains the Qurʾan. How would it, then, abrogate it? These scholars maintain that facing Jerusalem in prayer was based on revelation by God, who says in the Qurʾan: ‘We appointed the direction of prayer which you formerly followed in order that We might distinguish those who follow the Messenger from those who turn on their heels.’ (2: 143) They also differ with regard to the opposite case of the Qurʾan being abrogated by the Sunnah. The majority say that it is possible, but al-Shāfiʿī and a number of scholars preclude such a possibility.

- i. An unfortunate mistake occurs in Lāsheen’s numbering at this point. Instead of giving the correct number, which is 977, he gives it No. 997, leaving out twenty numbers. Unfortunately, the mistake is carried on for the rest of the book. Although I am following Lāsheen’s method of numbering, I have decided not to copy the mistake, but to carry on with the correct sequence.

THE PROHIBITION OF BUILDING MOSQUES OVER GRAVES AND PLACING IMAGES IN MOSQUES

[981–16]. (Dār al-Salām 1076) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd narrated; Hishām narrated; my father told me; from ʿĀʾishah; that ʿUmm Ḥabībah and Umm Salamah mentioned to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) a church they saw in Abyssinia which contained images. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “Those were people who, when a devout person from among them died, would build a mosque over his grave and place such images in it. These are the worst people in God’s sight on the Day of Judgement”.

وَحَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامٌ، أَخْبَرَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، أَنَّ أُمَّ حَبِيبَةَ وَأُمَّ سَلَمَةَ ذَكَرَتَا كَيْسَةَ رَأَيْتَاهَا بِالْحَبَشَةِ، فِيهَا تَصُورُ أَوْيَرُ، لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ. فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «إِنْ أُولَئِكَ إِذَا كَانَ فِيهِمُ الرَّجُلُ الصَّالِحُ فَمَاتَ، بَنَوْا عَلَى قَبْرِهِ مَسْجِدًا، وَصَوَّرُوا فِيهِ تِلْكَ الصُّوَرَ. أُولَئِكَ شِرَارُ الْخَلْقِ عِنْدَ اللَّهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ».

[982–17]. (Dār al-Salām 1077) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and ʿAmr al-Nāqid narrated: both said: Wakīʿ narrated; Hishām ibn ʿUrwah narrated; from his father; from ʿĀʾishah that they ‘discussed things in God’s Messenger’s presence during his illness. Umm Salamah and Umm Ḥabībah mentioned a church ... . He added a similar narration’.

[983–18]. (Dār al-Salām 1078) Abū Kurayb narrated: Abū Muʿāwiyah narrated; Hishām narrated; from his father; from ʿĀʾishah. She said:

‘Some of the Prophet’s wives mentioned a church called Marayah, which they saw in Abyssinia: the same as their narration’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامٌ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: ذَكَرَنَ أَزْوَاجُ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَنِيسَةً رَأَيْنَهَا بِأَرْضِ الْحَبَشَةِ يُقَالُ لَهَا مَارِيَّةٌ، بِمِثْلِ حَدِيثِهِمْ

[984–19]. (Dār al-Salām 1079) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and ‘Amr al-Nāqid narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Hāshim ibn al-Qāsim narrated; Shaybān narrated; from Hilāl ibn Abī Ḥumayd; from ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr; from ‘Ā’ishah: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said during his illness from which he never recovered: “Cursed were the Jews and Christians; for they made the graves of their prophets places of worship”’. She added: ‘Had it not been for that, his grave would have been kept visible. But it was feared that it would be made a place of worship’.

In Ibn Abī Shaybah’s narration: ‘And had it not been for that ...’ without the words: ‘She added’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَرِيبَةَ وَعَمْرُو النَّاقِدُ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا هَاشِمُ بْنُ الْقَاسِمِ، حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَانُ، عَنْ هِلَالِ بْنِ أَبِي مُهَيْمٍ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي مَرَضِهِ الَّذِي لَمْ يَقُمْ مِنْهُ: «لَعَنَ اللَّهُ الْيَهُودَ وَالنَّصَارَى اتَّخَذُوا قُبُورَ أَنْبِيَائِهِمْ مَسَاجِدَ

(Dār al-Salām 1081) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated to me: al-Fazārī narrated; from ‘Ubaydullāh ibn al-Aṣamm; Yazīd ibn al-Aṣamm narrated; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘May God curse the Jews and the Christians. They made the graves of their prophets places of worship’.

وَحَدَّثَنِي قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا الْفَزَارِيُّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الْأَصَمِّ، حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ الْأَصَمِّ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «لَعَنَ اللَّهُ الْيَهُودَ وَالنَّصَارَى اتَّخَذُوا قُبُورَ أَنْبِيَائِهِمْ مَسَاجِدَ».

[987–22]. (Dār al-Salām 1082) Hārūn ibn Sa‘īd al-Aylī and Ḥarmalah ibn Yahyā narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Ibn Wahb (Ḥarmalah said: ‘reported’ and Hārūn said: ‘narrated’); Yūnus reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; ‘Ubaydullāh ibn ‘Abdullāh reported to me; that ‘Ā’ishah and ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās said: ‘When God’s Messenger felt that his end was close, he kept covering his face with a black striped cloth. If he felt short of breath, he would take it off his face. As he was in this state, he said: “Cursed are the Jews and the Christians, for they made their prophets’ graves places of worship”.’ He was warning against doing what they did.

وَحَدَّثَنِي هَارُونُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْأَيْلِيُّ وَحَرَمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ حَرَمَلَةُ أَخْبَرَنَا وَقَالَ هَارُونُ حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي يُونُسُ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ، أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ وَعَبْدَ اللَّهِ بْنَ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَا: «لَمَّا نَزَلَتْ بِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ طَفِقَ يَطْرَحُ حِمِيصَةً لَهُ عَلَى وَجْهِهِ، فَإِذَا اغْتَمَّ كَشَفَهَا عَنْ وَجْهِهِ، فَقَالَ وَهُوَ كَذَلِكَ: «لَعَنَ اللَّهُ عَلَى الْيَهُودِ وَالنَّصَارَى اتَّخَذُوا قُبُورَ أَنْبِيَائِهِمْ مَسَاجِدَ». يُحَذِّرُ مِثْلَ مَا صَنَعُوا

[988–23]. (Dār al-Salām 1083) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: (Abū Bakr’s text) Zakariyyā’ ibn ‘Adī (Ishāq said: ‘reported’ and Abū Bakr said: ‘narrated’); from ‘Ubaydullāh ibn ‘Amr; from Zayd ibn Abī Unaysah; from ‘Amr ibn Murrah; from ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Ḥārith al-Najrānī; Mundab narrated to me: ‘I heard the Prophet (peace be upon him) say five days before he passed away: “I exonerate myself before God of having any of you as a special friend, for God, the Exalted, has chosen me as a friend, like He chose Abraham as His friend. Had I wanted to choose anyone of my community as a friend, I would have chosen Abu Bakr. Besides, communities before you used to make the graves of their prophets

Text Explanation

The hadiths in this chapter are self-explanatory. In one hadith the Prophet says ‘may God destroy the Jews’, which means that they are cursed, as in the other hadiths. It is also said that God will kill and destroy them. Hadith No. 987 speaks of the time when God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) felt that the end was close. Another reading of the Arabic text means ‘when the angel of death and other angels attended him’, referring to his approaching death.

In the last hadith in this chapter, No. 988, the Prophet exonerates himself of taking anyone as a special friend. The Arabic wording has the additional meaning of feeling any particular need to have such a person. The Prophet denies having any need that he may put to anyone other than God.

Scholars say that the Prophet prohibited making his own grave or other graves places of worship, fearing that this would lead to exaggerated praise of himself. Such exaggeration may lead to unbelief, as happened among many past communities. What happened later was that the Prophet’s Companions and their successors needed to extend the Prophet’s mosque because of the increased number of Muslims. The homes of the Prophet’s wives were included in it, and this included ‘Ā’ishah’s home where the Prophet was buried, as were his two closest Companions, Abū Bakr and ‘Umar. His Companions, therefore, built high circular walls around it so that his grave would not be seen. This prevented ordinary people from praying towards the Prophet's grave. They then built two walls starting from the two north corners of the grave and made them diagonal, extending them until they met. Thus, it became impossible for anyone to pray towards the Prophet's grave. Hence, in hadith No. 984, 'Ā'ishah said: 'Had it not been for this, his grave would have been kept visible, but it was feared that it would be made a place of worship'. But God better knows what is right.

THE IMPORTANCE OF BUILDING MOSQUES

[989–24]. (Dār al-Salām 1084) Hārūn ibn Sa‘īd al-Aylī and Aḥmad ibn ‘Īsā narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> both said: Ibn Wahb narrated; ‘Amr reported to me; that Bukayr narrated to him; that ‘Āṣim ibn ‘Umar ibn Qatādah narrated to him; that he heard ‘Ubaydullāh al-Khawlānī mentions that he heard ‘Uthmān ibn ‘Affān say when people criticized him after he rebuilt the Prophet’s mosque: ‘You have said too much. I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: “Whoever builds a mosque for the sake of God, the Exalted (Bukayr said: I thought he said: dedicating it purely for God), God will build a home for him in Heaven”’.

In his narration, Ibn ‘Īsā said: ‘God will build him its like in Heaven’.

حَدَّثَنِي هَارُونُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْأَيْلِيُّ وَأَحْمَدُ بْنُ عِيسَى، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي عَمْرُو، أَنَّ بُكَيْرًا حَدَّثَهُ، أَنَّ عَاصِمَ بْنَ عُمَرَ بْنِ قَتَادَةَ حَدَّثَهُ، أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ عَبْدَ اللَّهِ الْخَوْلَانِيَّ يَذْكُرُ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ عُثْمَانَ بْنَ عَفَّانَ، عِنْدَ قَوْلِ النَّاسِ فِيهِ حِينَ بَنَى مَسْجِدَ الرَّسُولِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ. إِنَّكُمْ قَدْ أَكْثَرْتُمْ وَإِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ «مَنْ بَنَى مَسْجِدًا لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى - قَالَ بُكَيْرٌ: حَسِبْتُ أَنَّهُ قَالَ يَبْتَغِي بِهِ وَجْهَ اللَّهِ - بَنَى اللَّهُ لَهُ بَيْتًا فِي الْجَنَّةِ».

[990–25]. (Dār al-Salām 1085) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated:<sup>i</sup> (Ibn al-Muthannā’s text). Both said: al-Ḍaḥḥāk ibn Makhlad narrated; ‘Abd al-Ḥamīd ibn Ja‘far reported; my father narrated to me; from Maḥmūd ibn Labīd; that ‘Uthmān wanted to rebuild the mosque, but people disliked this. They preferred that he should leave it as it was. He said: ‘I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: “Whoever builds a mosque for God’s sake, God will build its like for him in Heaven”’.

حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ وَحَمَّادُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى (وَاللَّفْظُ لِابْنِ الْمُثَنَّى)، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا الضَّحَّاكُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، أَخْبَرَنَا عَبْدُ
جَمِيدِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ، حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ مَحْمُودِ بْنِ لَبِيدٍ، أَنَّ عِثْمَانَ بْنَ عَفَّانَ أَرَادَ بِنَاءَ الْمَسْجِدِ، فَكَرِهَ النَّاسُ ذَلِكَ،
فَأَحْبَبُوا أَنْ يَدْعُوهُ عِثْمَانُ إِلَى هَيْئَتِهِ. فَقَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ: «مَنْ بَنَى مَسْجِدًا لِلَّهِ بَنَى
اللَّهُ لَهُ فِي الْجَنَّةِ مِثْلَهُ».

Text Explanation

The Prophet mentions that God will build a similar home in Heaven for the one who builds a mosque for His sake. This admits two interpretations. The first is that it means God will build for him a structure which will also be called a home, but as for its description and size it will be much better. It is well known that what is in Heaven is described by the Prophet as that which ‘no eye has seen, no ear has heard of and no person can ever imagine’. The other interpretation is that it is as superior to other homes in Heaven as a mosque is superior to ordinary homes in this life.

PLACING ONE'S HANDS ON ONE'S KNEES DURING BOWING

[991–26]. (Dār al-Salām 1086) Muhammad ibn al-‘Ālā’ al-Hamdānī Abū Kurayb narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū Mu‘āwiyah narrated; from al-A‘mash; from Ibrāhīm; from al-Aswad and ‘Alqamah: both said: ‘We visited ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd at his home. He asked us: “Did those people you left behind pray?” We said: “No”. He said: “Get up, then, and pray”. He did not order us to say any adhān or iqāmah. We wanted to stand behind him, but he took us by the hand and placed one of us to his right and the other to his left. When he bowed, we placed our hands on our knees. He slapped our hands and he put his palms together and placed his hands in between his thighs. When he finished prayer, he said: “You shall have rulers who will delay the prayer beyond its proper time, leaving it to the tightest of time. If you see them doing so, offer your prayers at their appropriate times and consider your prayer with them a voluntary one. When you are three, pray together, but if you are more than that, one of you should be the imam. When he bows, let him spread his arms on his thighs and bend, and put his palms together. I can almost look how the Prophet’s fingers were not tight together, and I can see them”’.

الْأَسْوَدِ وَعَلْقَمَةَ، قَالَا: أَتَيْنَا عَبْدَ اللَّهِ بْنَ مَسْعُودٍ فِي دَارِهِ، فَقَالَ: “أَصْرَلِي هَؤُلَاءِ خَلْفَكَ؟” فَقُلْنَا: “لَا”.
قَالَ: “فَقُومُوا فَصَلُّوا”. فَلَمْ يَأْمُرْنَا بِأَذَانٍ وَلَا بِإِقَامَةٍ. قَالَ: “وَدَهَبْنَا لِنَقُومَ خَلْفَهُ فَأَخَذَ بِأَيْدِينَا فَجَعَلَ أَحَدَنَا
عَنْ يَمِينِهِ وَالْآخَرَ عَنْ شِمَالِهِ. قَالَ: فَلَمَّا رَكَعَ وَضَعْنَا أَيْدِينَآ عَلَى رُكْبِنَا. قَالَ: فَضَرَبَ أَيْدِينَآ وَطَبَّقَ بَيْنَ
كَفَيْهِ ثُمَّ أَدْخَلَهُمَا بَيْنَ فَخْذَيْهِ. قَالَ: فَلَمَّا صَلَّى قَالَ: إِنَّهُ سَتَكُونُ عَلَيْكُمْ أُمَرَاءُ يُؤَخِّرُونَ الصَّلَاةَ عَنْ مِيقَاتِهَا
وَيُخَنِّقُونَهَا إِلَى شَرْقِ الْمَوْتَى. فَإِذَا رَأَيْتُمُوهُمْ قَدْ فَعَلُوا ذَلِكَ فَصَلُّوا الصَّلَاةَ لِمِيقَاتِهَا، وَاجْعَلُوا
صَلَاتَكُمْ مَعَهُمْ سُبْحَةً. وَإِذَا كُنْتُمْ ثَلَاثَةً فَصَلُّوا جَمِيعًا، وَإِذَا كُنْتُمْ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ فَلْيُؤَمِّكُمْ أَحَدُكُمْ. وَإِذَا رَكَعَ

أَحَدَكُمْ فَلْيَفْرَشْ ذِرَاعَيْهِ عَلَى فَخْذَيْهِ، وَلْيَجْنَأْ، وَلْيُطَبِّقْ بَيْنَ كَفَيْهِ. فَلَكَأَنِّي أَنْظُرُ إِلَى اخْتِلَافِ أَصَابِعِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَأَرَاهُمْ

[992–27]. (Dār al-Salām 1087) Minjāb ibn al-Hārith al-Tamīmī narrated: Ibn Mushir reported [H]. He said: and ‘Uthmān ibn Abī Shaybah narrated; Jarīr narrated [H]. Also, Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ narrated to me; Yaḥyā ibn Adam narrated; Mufaḍḍal narrated; all of them from al-A‘mash; from Ibrāhīm; from ‘Alqamah and al-Aswad, that they visited ‘Abdullāh: the same meaning as Abū Mu‘āwiyah’s narration. In Ibn Mushir’s and Jarīr’s narrations: ‘I can almost see how the Prophet’s fingers were not tight together when he bowed’.

[993–28]. (Dār al-Salām 1088) ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-Dārimī narrated: ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Mūsā reported; from Isrā’īl; from Manṣūr; from Ibrāhīm; from ‘Alqamah and al-Aswad; that they visited ‘Abdullāh. He said: ‘Did those people you left behind pray?’ They said: ‘Yes’. He stood between them, placing one of them to his right and the other to his left. ‘We then bowed, and we placed our hands on our knees. He slapped our hands, then he put his palms together and placed his hands between his thighs. When he finished praying, he said: “Thus did God’s Messenger (peace be upon him)”’.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الدَّارِمِيُّ، أَخْبَرَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُوسَى، عَنِ إِسْرَائِيلَ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ وَالْأَسْوَدِ، أَنَّهُمَا دَخَلَا عَلَى عَبْدِ اللَّهِ، فَقَالَ: “أَصَلَّى مَنْ خَلْفَكُمْ؟” قَالَا: “نَعَمْ”. فَقَامَ بَيْنَهُمَا، وَجَعَلَ أَحَدَهُمَا عَنْ يَمِينِهِ وَالْآخَرَ عَنْ شِمَالِهِ. ثُمَّ رَكَعْنَا فَوَضَعْنَا أَيْدِينَآ عَلَى رُكْبِنَا، فَضَرَبَ أَيْدِينَآ ثُمَّ طَبَّقَ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ، ثُمَّ جَعَلَهُمَا بَيْنَ فَخْذَيْهِ. فَلَمَّا صَلَّى قَالَ: “هَكَذَا فَعَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ”.

[994–29]. (Dār al-Salām 1089) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd and Abū Kāmil al-Jahdarī narrated:<sup>i</sup> (Qutaybah’s text) both said: Abū ‘Awānah narrated; from Abū Ya‘fūr; from Muṣ‘ab ibn Sa‘d; he said: ‘I prayed next to my father and I placed my hands in between my knees. My father said to me: “Place your palms on your knees”. I did the same on another occasion, and he slapped my hands and said: “We have been prohibited to do this and commanded to place our hands on our knees”’.

[995–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1090) Khalaf ibn Hishām narrated: Abū al-Aḥwaṣ narrated [H]. Also, Ibn Abī ‘Umar narrated; Sufyān narrated; both from Abū Ya‘fūr; with the same chain of transmission: the same text up to ‘we have been prohibited to do this’, but they did not mention the rest.

Zubayr ibn ‘Adī; from Muṣ‘ab ibn Sa‘d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ; he said: ‘I prayed next to my father and when I bowed I crossed my fingers and placed them in between my knees. My father slapped my hand. When he finished, he said: “We used to do this, but then we were commanded to place them on our knees”’.

حَدَّثَنِي الْحَكَمُ بْنُ مُوسَى، حَدَّثَنَا عِيسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ، حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ أَبِي خَالِدٍ، عَنِ الزُّبَيْرِ بْنِ عَدِيٍّ، عَنِ مُضْعَبِ بْنِ سَعْدِ بْنِ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ، قَالَ: “صَلَّيْتُ إِلَى جَنْبِ أَبِي، فَلَمَّا رَكَعْتُ شَبَكْتُ أَصَابِعِي وَجَعَلْتُهُمَا بَيْنَ رُكْبَتَيْ، فَضَرَبَ يَدَيَّ. فَلَمَّا صَلَّى قَالَ: قَدْ كُنَّا نَفْعُلُ هَذَا ثُمَّ أُمِرْنَا أَنْ نَرْفَعَ إِلَى الرُّكْبِ

Text Explanation

The view of our school, as well as all scholars, is that during bowing, i.e. rukū‘, one puts one’s hands on one’s knees, discouraging the former method of putting one’s palms together and placing them in between one’s thighs. The only exception is the view of ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd and his two disciples, ‘Alqamah and al-Aswad. They say that the other form is the Sunnah, or recommended practice. This is because they were unaware of what abrogated this form, which is the hadith narrated by Sa‘d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ. The correct view is that of the majority; the clear abrogating hadith being confirmed as authentic.

In hadith No. 991, ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd asked his visitors: ‘Did these people pray?’ He was referring to the governor and his entourage, and he said this as an objection to their action of delaying the prayer. He told his visitors to join him in prayer. This makes clear that a congregational prayer is permissible to be held at home, but this does not replace the collective duty of holding it in the main mosque if we uphold this correct view that congregational prayer is a collective duty of the Muslim community.<sup>i</sup> The congregational prayer must be seen to be upheld. ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd offered it at home with his visitors because the collective duty is done when the governor and the majority of the people offer it, even though they might have delayed it to the end of its time range.

In the same hadith, ‘Abdullāh did not order them to say the adhān or iqāmah. This was Ibn Mas‘ūd’s view, shared by a number of the early scholars who learnt from him. It considers that neither the adhān, which is the call to prayer, nor the iqāmah, which is the announcement to start the prayer, needs or should be said by a person who prays alone in a town or a village where an adhān is called and a general congregational prayer is held. Those adhān and iqāmah are sufficient. However, the majority of scholars of earlier and later generations consider that the iqāmah is a Sunnah in such a person’s case, and that the main congregation one is not sufficient for him. They differ with regard to the adhān, with some of them saying that is not required and others say that it may be done. Our correct view is that the adhān is appropriate for such a person if he has not heard the general adhān, but not if he heard it.

The same hadith, No. 991, includes: ‘We wanted to stand behind him, but he took us by the hand and placed one of us to his right and the other to his left’. This is the view of Ibn Mas‘ūd and his two disciples. This is contrary to the view of all scholars from the time of the Prophet’s Companions up to the present. They say that if there are two people with the imam, they form a row behind him. This is based on the long hadith narrated by Jābir and Jabbār ibn Ṣakhr and related by Muslim in his Ṣaḥīḥ towards the end of the book. They are all in agreement that if there are three people, they stand in a row behind the imam. If there is only one person with the imam, he stands to the right of the imam, according to all scholars. Some say that this is unanimous. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ reports that Ibn al-Musayyib was of the view that he stands to the left of the imam. I do not think that this is correctly attributed to Ibn al-Musayyib. If it is correct, then perhaps he was unaware of the hadith narrated by Ibn ‘Abbās. Whatever the case may be, scholars are now unanimous that if there is one person with the imam, that person stands to his right.

After finishing the prayer, Ibn Mas‘ūd said to his two disciples: ‘You shall have rulers who will delay the prayer beyond its proper time, leaving it to the tightest of time’. He meant that they delay the prayer beyond its preferred time, not beyond its time range altogether. He advises them to continue to offer their prayers at the beginning of their time, then if they pray with the governors, their prayers will count as voluntary. Thus, they would have the benefit of praying at the beginning of the time and then the benefit of the congregational prayer. Thus, their early prayer would not isolate them from the community and there would be no dispute, as would be the case if such people stayed away when the main congregation was held. The hadith provides evidence that if a person offers an obligatory prayer twice, the first counts as the fulfilment of his obligation while the second is counted as a voluntary prayer. This is the correct view according to scholars of our Shāfiʿī School. However, some scholars say that the one which is more perfect is counted as the fulfilment of the obligation, while others say that both count as its fulfilment, and others still say that one of them is unclear. This shows the benefit of disagreement about some well-known questions.

The hadith mentions that when we bow we should bend. Linguistically speaking, the word rukūʿ means submission and humility. Indeed, this action in prayer is given this name because it symbolizes such humility and submission.

Transmission

The chains of transmission of hadith Nos 994 and 995 include a narrator referred to as Abū Yaʿfūr. His name is ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿUbayd ibn Nisṭās. This is Abū Yaʿfūr, the junior. The senior narrator with the same appellation is called Wāqid, or may be Waqdān. We mentioned both in the Book of Faith, in connection with the hadith stating which actions were best.

i. Related by al-Nasāʿī, 718; 1028 and 1029.

i. Related by al-Bukhārī with the same meaning, 790; Abū Dāwūd in similar wording, 867; al-Nasāʿī, 1031 and 1032; al-Tirmidhī in a shorter version, 259; Ibn Mājah in a shorter version and similar wording, 873.

i. This means that the Muslim community must ensure that prayers are offered in congregations in mosques.

CHAPTER 6

SQUATTING ON ONE'S HEELS

[998–32]. (Dār al-Salām 1093) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: Muhammad ibn Bakr reported [H]. Also, Ḥasan al-Ḥulwānī narrated; ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated (their texts are closely similar). Both said: Ibn Jurayj reported; Abū al-Zubayr reported to me; that he heard Ṭāwūs say: ‘We mentioned to Ibn ‘Abbās [the case of] squatting on one’s feet. He said: “It is the Sunnah”. We said: “We see it as being hard on man”. Ibn ‘Abbās said: “It is indeed your Prophet’s recommended practice”’.

حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، أَخْبَرَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكْرٍ، ح. قَالَ وَحَدَّثَنَا حَسَنُ الْخُلَوَانِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ (وَتَفَارِيًا فِي اللَّفْظِ) قَالَا جَمِيعًا: أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي أَبُو الزُّبَيْرِ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ طَاوُسًا يَقُولُ: قُلْنَا لِابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ فِي الْإِقْعَاءِ عَلَى الْقَدَمَيْنِ، فَقَالَ: هِيَ السُّنَّةُ. فَقُلْنَا لَهُ إِنَّا لَنَرَاهُ جَفَاءً بِالرَّجُلِ. فَقَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ: “بَلْ هِيَ سُنَّةُ نَبِيِّكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ”.

Text Explanation

Two hadiths speak about squatting. In this hadith it is described as a Sunnah, which means that it was practised by the Prophet and therefore it is recommended and encouraged. The other hadith disapproves of it: this is related by al-Tirmidhī on ‘Alī’s authority, and related by Ibn Mājah on Anas’s authority. Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal also relates it on the authority of Samurah and Abū Hurayrah, while al-Bayhaqī relates it on the authority of Samurah and Anas. However, all these versions are graded as lacking in authenticity, on the basis of their chains of transmission.

Scholars differ as to the ruling that applies to squatting, and they differ greatly in describing its form, because of these hadiths. The correct thing to say, which must be stated, is that there are two types of squatting. One of them means placing one’s buttocks on the floor and raising one's shins vertically, while one's hands are stretched on the floor, like a dog does. This is how it is explained by Abū 'Ubaydah Ma'mar ibn al-Muthannā and Abū 'Ubayd al-Qnāsim ibn Sallnām as well as other linguists. This is the type which is discouraged and the one meant when it is stated that squatting is reprehensible.

The other type is to place one's buttocks on one's heels in the sitting that is in between the two prostrations. This is the one Ibn 'Abbās meant when he said that it is 'your Prophet's recommended practice'. Imam al-Shāfi'ī states that it is desirable in between the two prostrations. This is confirmed in al-Mukhtaṣar by Imam al-Buwayṭī, al-Shāfi'ī's closest disciple in Egypt. A good number of meticulous scholars, including al-Bayhaqī and Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ, explain Ibn 'Abbās's hadith as referring to this type. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'It is reported that a number of the Prophet's Companions and early scholars used to do it'. Ibn 'Abbās is also quoted as explaining it: 'It is a Sunnah that your heels should touch your buttocks'. This is the proper explanation of the hadith narrated by Ibn 'Abbās.

As we mentioned earlier, al-Shāfi'ī specifically says that it is desirable when sitting between the two prostrations. Another statement attributed to him mentions that the Sunnah is to place one's left foot horizontally under one's left buttock. This means that both forms are Sunnah, or desirable. Which is better? Two views are expressed on this point.

The recommended, i.e. Sunnah, form of sitting in the first tashahhud and the short sitting between the first or the last two rak'ahs is to sit on one's left foot, placed horizontally. In the last tashahhud, the Sunnah is to place one's left thigh and buttock on the floor, with one's left foot and shin moved towards one's right leg and under it. This is the view of the Shāfi'ī School, as we have already explained.

NO ORDINARY SPEECH IN PRAYER

[999–33]. (Dār al-Salām 1094) Abū Ja‘far Muhammad ibn al-Ṣabbāḥ and Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said (giving closely similar wordings): Ismā‘īl ibn Ibrāhīm narrated; from Ḥajjāj al-Ṣawwāf; from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr; from Ḥilāl ibn Abī Maymūnah; from ‘Atā’ ibn Yasār; from Mu‘āwiyah ibn al-Ḥakam al-Sulamī. He said: ‘When I was praying with God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) a man in the congregation sneezed. I said: “May God bestow mercy on you,”<sup>ii</sup> People [around me] looked at me. I said: “Woe is me! Why are you looking at me?” They struck their own thighs. Then I realized that they were silencing me ... yet I said nothing. When God’s Messenger finished the prayer, by God I have never seen before or after him an educator better at teaching. By God, he neither rebuked nor abused me physically or verbally. He only said: “In our prayer, nothing of ordinary speech is acceptable. It includes only glorifying God, extolling His praise and recitation of the Qur’an”, or words to that effect.

‘I said: Messenger of God, I was an unbeliever until recently, and now God has given us Islam. Among us are people who go to fortune tellers. He said: “Do not go to them”. I said: And among us are people who believe in omens. He said: “That is something they find in their breasts. Let them not be deterred by it. (Ibn al-Ṣabbāḥ said: Let it not deter you.) I said: And some of our men draw lines. He said: “An earlier prophet used to draw lines. Whatever coincides with what is drawn just happens”.

‘The man said: “I had a maid who used to take my sheep for grazing near Uḥud and al-Jawwāniyyah. I went over one day and discovered that a wolf had taken away one of the sheep. I am only human, and I get upset like other people. I slapped her once. I went to see God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and he said that it was a very grievous matter. I said: Messenger of God, should I set her free? He said: "Bring her to me". I took her to him and he asked her: "Where is God?" She said: "In Heaven". He asked: "Who am I?" She said: "You are God's Messenger". He said to me: "Set her free. She is a believer".

I spoke to him, and he signalled me with his hand like this (Zuhayr made a signal with his hand). I then spoke to him, but he signalled me with his hand like this (Zuhayr signalled again with his hand pointing to the ground), and I heard him reciting, and signalling with his head. When he finished, he said: “What have you done concerning the errand I sent you on? Nothing prevented me from talking to you except that I was praying”’.

Zuhayr said: Abū al-Zubayr was seated facing the Ka‘bah. Abū al-Zubayr pointed with his hand in the direction of al-Muṣṭalaq. He pointed with his hand to a different direction from that of the Ka‘bah.

Text Explanation

In the first hadith in this chapter, No. 999, the man at the centre of the story, Mu‘āwiyah ibn al-Ḥakam, says when he noticed the response of the Prophet’s Companions to his talking during the prayer, ‘Woe is me’. This is meant as equivalent to his remark, wā thuklā ummiyāh. Literally speaking, the Arabic expression means ‘my mother has lost her son’, but it is never meant as such. It is simply a remark realizing that one has made some grievous mistake. He then mentions that people in the congregation struck their thighs with their hands, trying to silence him. This is understood to have been before the legislation that while praying, a worshipper may only alert others by saying subḥān Allāh, meaning ‘all glory belongs to God’. It also shows that a little action during prayer is permissible and does not invalidate it. If it is for some purpose, it is perfectly acceptable, and not even discouraged.

The narrator praises the Prophet's method of instruction, saying that he never saw a better educator before or after God's Messenger (peace be upon him). This reflects the fact that the Prophet had a sublime character, as God Himself mentions in the Qur'an. He was very kind and compassionate towards his community and was especially gentle when educating those who had no knowledge. He put matters to them in a way that they could easily understand. The narrator mentions that the Prophet did not even say a word of rebuke to him. He simply taught him, saying: 'In our prayer, nothing of ordinary speech is acceptable. It includes only glorifying God, extolling His praise and recitation of the Qur'an'.

This makes clear that ordinary speech is forbidden during prayer, whether there is need for it or not, and whether it relates to prayer or not. If during the prayer a person needs to alert someone, a man does this by saying subhān Allāh, and a woman does it by clapping. This is the view of the Shāfi'i, Mālikī and Ḥanafī Schools as well as the majority of scholars of earlier and later generations. A number of scholars, including al-Awzā'i, say that it is permissible if it is related to prayer, citing the hadith involving the Prophet's Companion known as Dhūl-Yadayn. We shall explain this at its appropriate place, God willing.

This applies to someone who knows the rule and is speaking deliberately. A person who forgets and speaks does not invalidate his prayer if he says only a few words. This is the view of our school and it is shared by Mālik, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars, while Abū Ḥanīfah and the Kūfī scholars say that even this invalidates prayer. Our evidence is the hadith of Dhūl-Yadayn. If someone forgets and speaks much, his situation takes two well-known views expressed by our scholars, but the more correct view is that his prayer is invalidated by his speech, because this is rare. Speech by someone who does not know, such as a newcomer to Islam, takes the same ruling as that of one who forgets. This means that little speech does not invalidate prayer. The evidence is the hadith we are discussing now, narrated by Mu‘āwiyah ibn al-Ḥakam. The Prophet taught him that speech is not allowed in prayer, but did not order him to repeat his prayer in which he spoke.

The Prophet taught his Companion that prayer ‘includes only glorifying God, extolling His praise and recitation of the Qur’an’. This means that it includes these and what is similar to it. The declaration of God’s oneness and Muhammad (peace be upon him) being God’s Messenger, all supplications and assalāmu ‘alaykum at the end are all part of the prayer, and other glorifications and praises of God are said during prayer. Hence, the Prophet’s statement means that no ordinary speech and no general conversation are permitted during prayer, but only God’s glorification and what is similar to it, such as remembrance of Him and supplication, as well as words to that effect. Thus, the hadith provides evidence that a person who swears that he will not speak, then glorifies God or recites the Qur’an does not forswear himself. This is the correct and well-known view of our school. The hadith also provides evidence in support of the view of the Shāfi‘ī School and the majority of scholars that the first takbīr, i.e. Allāhu akbar, with which the prayer is started, is one of the essential duties of prayer and constitutes a part of it. Abū Ḥanīfah, however, said that it does not form part of the prayer, but is rather a condition for the validity of prayer and precedes it.

The hadith also means that it is not permissible to bless a person who sneezes during prayer, because this is ordinary speech that will invalidate prayer if said deliberately by one who knows the ruling. Our scholars say that the one who says the blessing phrase, yarḥamuk Allāh, using the second-person pronoun, indicated in Arabic by the suffix -k, renders his own prayer invalid. If he uses the third-person pronoun his prayer is not invalidated, because his words do not constitute an address to a particular person. It is desirable for the one who sneezes during prayer to say al-ḥamd lillāh silently. This is the view of our school, and it is shared by Mālik and other scholars. Ibn ‘Umar, al-Nakha‘ī and Aḥmad say that such a person may say it aloud, but the first view is more likely, because it is part of the remembrance of God and the Sunnah is to say all such phrases of remembrance and glorification of Him silently, apart from the ones that are excepted.

The narrator mentioned to the Prophet that he was a newcomer to Islam and told him that some of their people went to fortune tellers. The Prophet said to him: 'Do not go to them'. Scholars say that fortune tellers speak about things for which there is no clear evidence. Some of what they say may coincide with reality, and this leads to people being impressed by them. They do not stop at this, however, but will confuse people about much of what pertains to faith and religion. Several hadiths confirm the prohibition of going to fortune tellers or believing what they say. These hadiths also forbid giving them any money or fee, which is forbidden according to the unanimous view of the Muslim community. A number of scholars confirm this unanimity, including al-Ḥusayn ibn Mas'ūd al-Baghawī, who said: 'All scholars agree that the fee given to a fortune teller for whatever he says is forbidden, because the very work of fortune telling is an exercise of falsehood. Hence, no fee may be charged for it'. In his book al-Aḥkām al-Sulṭāniyyah, al-Māwardī said: 'The Controller must stop people earning money through fortune telling and gaming, and may punish both the one who charges such fees and the one who pays it'. Al-Khaṭṭābī said:

A fortune teller's fee for what he tells is forbidden, and his action is false. Also, a clairvoyant's fee is forbidden to take ... . The difference between a fortune teller and a clairvoyant is that a fortune teller speaks about future events and alleges that he knows secrets, while a clairvoyant claims to know where stolen goods or lost articles are to be found, etc.

Al-Khaṭṭābī adds in a comment on the hadith that says: 'Whoever goes to a fortune teller and believes what he says disbelieves in what God has revealed to Muhammad (peace be upon him)':

There were many fortune tellers among the Arabs, and they claimed to know many things. Some of them claimed that they had comrades who are jinnees, giving them such news. Others alleged that they can divine such matters through a special faculty they had been favoured with. Some are called clairvoyants, and these allege to know things through some indications and preludes showing them who stole which article and who has consorted with a particular woman, and similar matters. Some people call an astrologist a fortune teller ... . The hadith prohibits going to any of these, seeking their advice or believing anything they say.

What al-Khaṭṭābī says is certainly true and beautifully sums up the problem with such people.

The narrator then puts another scenario to the Prophet. He said that some people believed in omens. The Prophet's answer is very clear: 'That is something they find in their breasts. Let them not be deterred by it'. A different version reads: 'Let it not deter you'. This means that omens are simply things that people may experience, but not something they intentionally do. Therefore, they are not accountable for it. However, it should not prevent them from attending to their affairs, they are responsible for such affairs and you need to attend to them. Thus, the Prophet prohibits acting on the basis of omens and abandoning things because of them. Several hadiths prohibit giving in to omens. These are understood to prohibit acting on the basis of omens and believing in them, not on the feelings themselves. We shall, God willing, speak about this in detail at the appropriate place, where Muslim enters the relevant hadiths.

The hadith adds: 'I said: And some of our men draw lines. He said: "An earlier prophet used to draw lines. Whatever coincides with what is drawn just happens".'

Scholars give different opinions about the meaning of this. The correct view is that doing this is permissible for a person who draws lines that are confirmed by reality, but we have no means of certainty about such agreement. Therefore, it cannot be permissible. The import of this is that it is forbidden, because its permissibility is conditional on the certainty of agreement with reality and no such certainty can be achieved. The Prophet (peace be upon him) only said: 'Whatever coincides with what is drawn just happens'. He did not say that it is forbidden, without allowing a provision for the confirmation of what is being learnt through drawing by reality. He makes such a provision so that no one can imagine that what that prophet referred to entailed committing a sin. Thus, the Prophet ensured the high status of the previous prophet who used to draw lines and at the same time informed us that such action is now forbidden. The sum of this is that no prohibition is attached to that prophet who used to draw lines, and this applies to others provided they know for certain that it agrees with reality, but no such certainty is available to anyone else. Al-Khaṭṭābī said: 'The hadith suggests a prohibition of this action if it means that drawing lines was a proof of the truth of that particular prophet. Since prophethood has come to an end, we are forbidden from doing it'. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'The view of choice is that when what is drawn coincides with reality, you find it happening. This bears no suggestion that it is permissible for anyone to do ... . On the other hand, it may suggest that Islam abrogated an earlier permissibility of it'. These statements of scholars reflect their agreement that it is now forbidden.

The hadith continues: 'The man said: 'I had a maid who used to take my sheep for grazing near Uḥud and al-Jawwāniyyah' (al-Jawwāniyyah is a place near Uḥud, in the north of Madinah). This statement may be taken as evidence that it is permissible that a master may employ his maid as a shepherd to tend his sheep, even though she may be alone in the grazing field. Islam prohibits a woman from travelling alone because when she is away from her home environment she may find herself in a situation where she is targeted and there is no one to defend her. This is different from the situation of a woman working as a shepherd. Nevertheless, if it is feared that her work may lead to some undesirable result, a woman should not be required to work as a shepherd; this is regardless of her social status as a free woman or not, as it becomes similar to her situation during travel, which is forbidden for a woman on her own. If she is with a close relative whom she is forbidden to marry, such as her father, brother or son then there is no prohibition. This is the same as her travel with any such relative or with her husband, but God knows best.

The narrator, Mu‘āwiyah ibn al-Ḥakam, then mentions how a wolf got away with a sheep the maid was supposed to be tending. He slapped her and then regretted his action. When he thought of freeing her, the Prophet told him to bring her to him. The Prophet asked her: ‘Where is God?’ She said: ‘In Heaven’. He asked: ‘Who am I?’ She said: ‘You are God’s Messenger’. The Prophet then said to Mu‘āwiyah: ‘Set her free. She is a believer’.

This hadith belongs to the group of hadiths that speak of God’s attributes. Two views are advanced on such matters, and we have mentioned these more than once in the Book of Faith. The first is that we believe in these attributes without discussing what they exactly mean, believing all the time that nothing is comparable to God and that the features of created beings do not apply to Him. The second view is to interpret these as they may be suitable to God alone. Those who subscribe to this second view say that she was tested to prove if she believed in God’s oneness and that He is the Creator who controls all affairs in the universe, and that when a person supplicates to Him, he raises his hands to the sky, just like we face the Ka‘bah when we pray. The worshipper knows that God is not limited to the sky or to the direction of the Ka‘bah, but we face these because the sky is the qiblah of people who supplicate and the Ka‘bah is the qiblah of people when they pray. When the maid said that God is in Heaven, she showed herself to be a believer in God’s oneness and that she did not worship any idols. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ said:

There is no disagreement among all Muslims, including Fiqh and Hadith scholars, theologians, rationalists and their followers that the statements that mention that God is in Heaven are not to be taken literally. These are statements like the Qur’anic verse: ‘Do you feel secure that He who is in Heaven will not cause the earth to swallow you up when it quakes?’ (67: 16) They bear some interpretation according to them. Scholars of jurisprudence, Hadith and theology who say that it refers to the direction above, without defining direction or form, interpret ‘in Heaven’ as meaning ‘over Heaven’. Other rationalists and theologists who negate the applicability of any limit or direction to God give different interpretations as suitable to different attributes ... .

It is remarkable that the Sunni people and followers of the truth are all in agreement that they must not go into any discussion about the nature of God, as they have been ordered. They do not delve into this issue because it leads them to utter confusion. They agree that they are forbidden to imagine any shape or form for God, and this is part of refraining from speaking about the nature of God, but they have no doubt about Him and His existence. This does not detract from their belief in God's oneness; it is indeed part of its essence. Some of them, however, allow defining a direction, but they remain hesitant about it. Yet, is there much difference between giving shape and form on the one hand and defining a direction? However, taking the verses speaking of God in their general meaning, such as 'He alone holds sway over His servants', (6: 61) and 'He is established on the throne', (7: 54) while totally adhering to the comprehensive and only logically acceptable statement, 'there is nothing that bears the slightest comparability to Him' (42: 11) keeps us on the safe side.

The hadith shows that freeing a slave who is a believer is better than freeing one who is not a believer. Scholars are all agreed that it is permissible to free slaves who are unbelievers for any reason other than atoning for some sin or act of disobedience. They are also agreed that freeing an unbeliever slave is unacceptable as atonement for accidental killing, as stated in the Qur'an. They hold different views regarding atonement for other things, such as ẓihār (i.e. declaring one's wife unlawful to one), broken oaths, or having sexual intercourse during the day in Ramadan. Al-Shāfi'ī, Mālik and the majority of scholars say that only freeing a slave who is a believer is acceptable, making the general statement of atonement for accidental killing applicable to the limited ones covering these cases. Abū Ḥanīfah and Kūfī scholars say that even if the freed slave is a non-believer it is acceptable, because the term 'slave' applies.

In this hadith, the Prophet asked the maid: 'Where is God?' She said: 'In Heaven'. He asked: 'Who am I?' She said: 'You are God's Messenger'. The Prophet then said to Mu'āwiyah: 'Set her free. She is a believer'. This provides clear evidence that an unbeliever does not become a believer unless he or she believes in God's oneness and in the Prophet's message. It further provides evidence that whoever states the declaration firmly believing in its two parts meets the requirements of true belief and joins the people of the qiblah who are also the people of Heaven. Such a person is not required to provide further evidence and proof of that, nor is he required to know such evidence. This is the correct view accepted by the majority of scholars. We explained this question at the beginning of the Book of Faith, together with all that applies to it.

In hadith No. 1000, 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd reports: 'We used to greet God's Messenger when he was praying and he would reply to our greeting. When we came back from Negus's land, we greeted him but he did not reply. We said: "Messenger of God, we used to greet you as you were praying and you would reply to us". He said: "Prayer requires concentration".' And in hadith No. 1001, Zayd ibn Arqam said: 'We used to speak during prayer: a man may speak to his friend who is praying next to him, until a verse was revealed stating: "And stand up before God in devout obedience". (2: 238) We were commanded to remain silent and forbidden to speak'. Further, in hadith No. 1002, Jābir mentions: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) sent me on some errand, and later I caught up with him as he was praying. I greeted him, but he signaled me. When he finished, he called me and said: "You greeted me a short while ago, but I was praying".'

These hadiths give us very useful points. One of these is that ordinary talk is forbidden in prayer, whether it relates to the prayer or not. It is also forbidden to reply to a greeting of salām verbally, but a response by signal is allowed and desirable. All this is agreed by al-Shāfi'ī and the majority of scholars. Qādī 'Iyād said that a number of scholars say that it is permissible to reply to the salām greeting verbally, including Abū Hurayrah, Jābir, al-Ḥasan, Sa'īd ibn al-Masayyib, Qatādah and Ishāq. Some said that the worshipper replies silently, while ‘Atā’, al-Nakha‘ī and al-Thawrī said: he replies to the greeting after he finishes the prayer. Abū Ḥanīfah said: He may not reply to the greeting either verbally or by signal in any case. ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz, Mālik and his disciples, as well as a number of scholars, said: the worshipper replies by signal, but not verbally. Whoever says that a verbal reply is acceptable appears to be unaware of the relevant hadiths forbidding this. As for offering a greeting to one who is praying, al-Shāfi‘ī School maintains that this should not be done. If one offers a greeting to someone engaged in prayer, he does not deserve a reply. This view is shared by a number of scholars. Two rulings are attributed to Mālik: one says that to offer a greeting to one who is praying is makrūh, or reprehensible, and the other is that it is permissible.

In hadith No. 1000, the Prophet says: ‘Prayer requires concentration’. This means that when a person is engaged in prayer, his task is to concentrate on his prayer and think about what he is saying without attending to anything else, not even replying to a greeting.

In the next hadith, No. 1001, a Qur’anic order is quoted: ‘And stand up before God in devout obedience’. (2: 238) It is also said that it means ‘in silence’. The hadith adds: ‘We were commanded to remain silent and forbidden to speak’. This gives evidence that all types of ordinary speech are forbidden in prayer. Scholars are unanimous that to deliberately speak in prayer when one is fully aware of its prohibition, and not in relation to the prayer or to ensure its validity, will render the prayer invalid. If speaking is related to the prayer and for its benefit, it also invalidates the prayer according to al-Shāfi‘ī, Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars. Al-Awzā‘ī, some Mālikī scholars and a small group consider it permissible. Speech by someone who forgets does not invalidate the prayer if such speech remains short. Abū Ḥanīfah and the Kūfi scholars say that it also invalidates the prayer. This has already been explained.

In hadith No. 1002, we note that a greeting may be replied to by signal. It shows that such a signal and similar small movements do not invalidate the prayer. The hadith also shows that a person who is offered a greeting and is prevented from replying to the greeting should later apologize to the one who offered him the greeting and explain what prevented him from replying.

The hadith mentions that the Prophet was moving on his shecamel towards the east. This shows that it is perfectly permissible to pray a Sunnah prayer during travel, on one's means of transport, in whatever direction it is moving. This is unanimously agreed upon.

CURSING SATAN IN PRAYER

[1006–39]. (Dār al-Salām 1104) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm and Ishāq ibn Manṣūr narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: al-Naḍr ibn Shumayl reported; Shu‘bah reported; Muhammad (who is Ibn Ziyād) narrated; he said: I heard Abū Hurayrah say: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “An afreet of the jinn tried to surprise me last night to disrupt my prayer. God enabled me to overpower him and I strangled him. I was about to tie him up to the side of a pillar in the mosque so that you all would be able to see him in the morning, but then I remembered my brother Solomon’s words: ‘My Lord, forgive me my sins, and bestow upon me such power as shall belong to no one after me’. God sent him back in total misery”’.

Ibn Manṣūr said: Shu‘bah from Muhammad ibn Ziyād.

حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَإِسْحَاقُ بْنُ مَنْصُورٍ، قَالَا أَخْبَرَنَا النَّضْرُ بْنُ شُمَيْلٍ،

وَقَالَ ابْنُ مَنْصُورٍ شُعْبَةُ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ زِيَادٍ

[1007–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1105) Muhammad ibn Bashshār narrated: Muhammad (who is Ibn Ja‘far) narrated [H]. Also, Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated; Shabābah narrated; both from Shu‘bah, with the same chain of transmission. ‘In Ibn Ja‘far’s narration, the word meaning “and I strangled him” does not occur, while in Ibn Abī Shaybah’s narration this word is replaced by “and I pushed him hard”’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ، حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدٌ (هُوَ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ) ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا شَيْبَةُ، كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، فِي هَذَا الْإِسْنَادِ. وَلَيْسَ فِي حَدِيثِ ابْنِ جَعْفَرٍ قَوْلُهُ: فَدَعَّيْتُهُ. وَأَمَّا ابْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ فَقَالَ فِي رَوَايَتِهِ: فَدَعَّيْتُهُ

[1008–40]. (Dār al-Salām 1106) Muhammad ibn Salamah al-Murādī narrated:<sup>i</sup> ‘Abdullāh ibn Wahb narrated; from Mu‘āwiyah ibn Ṣāliḥ; Rabī‘ah ibn Yazīd narrated to me: from Abū Idrīs al-Khawlānī; from Abū al-Dardā’. He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) stood up praying. We heard him say: “I seek refuge with God from you”. He then said: “I curse you with God’s curse”. He repeated it three times and he stretched his hand as if to take something. When he finished his prayer, we said: “Messenger of God, we heard you say in prayer something we never heard you say before this time, and we saw you stretching your hand.” He said: “Iblīs, God’s enemy brought a flame of fire to put it in my face, and I said, ‘I seek refuge from you’ three times. I then said: ‘I curse you with God’s complete curse’ three times, but he did not retreat. Then I wanted to hold him. By God, had it not been for the supplication of our brother Solomon, he would have been this morning tied up and the children of Madinah would have had something to play with”’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْمُرَادِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ وَهْبٍ، عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ بْنِ صَالِحٍ، يَقُولُ حَدَّثَنِي رَبِيعَةُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ أَبِي إِدْرِيسَ الْخَوْلَانِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ: “قَامَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، فَسَمِعْنَاهُ يَقُولُ: «أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنْكَ». ثُمَّ قَالَ: «أَلْعَنُكَ بِلَعْنَةِ اللَّهِ». ثَلَاثًا. وَبَسَطَ يَدَهُ كَأَنَّهُ يَتَنَاوَلُ شَيْئًا، فَلَمَّا فَرَغَ مِنَ الصَّلَاةِ قُلْنَا: “يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ قَدْ سَمِعْنَاكَ تَقُولُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ شَيْئًا لَمْ نَسْمَعْكَ تَقُولُهُ قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ، وَرَأَيْنَاكَ بَسَطْتَ يَدَكَ”. قَالَ: “إِنَّ عَدُوَّ اللَّهِ إِبْلِيسَ جَاءَ بِشَهَابٍ مِنْ نَارٍ لِيَجْعَلَهُ فِي وَجْهِ، فَقُلْتُ أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنْكَ. ثَلَاثَ مَرَّاتٍ. ثُمَّ قُلْتُ: أَلْعَنُكَ بِلَعْنَةِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّةِ فَلَمْ يَسْتَأْخِرْ، ثَلَاثَ مَرَّاتٍ. ثُمَّ أَرَدْتُ أَخْذَهُ. وَاللَّهِ لَوْ لَا دَعْوَةُ “أَخِيْنَا سُلَيْمَانَ، لَأَصْبَحَ مُوثَقًا يَلْعَبُ بِهِ وَلَدَانُ أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ”.

Text Explanation

The hadith, in its two versions, gives evidence that it is permissible to do some light action in prayer. The Prophet said to his Companions: 'I was about to tie him up to the side of a pillar in the mosque so that you all would be able to see him in the morning'. This serves as evidence that the jinn exist and that some humans may see them. However, in reference to them, God says: 'Surely, he and his tribe watch you from where you cannot perceive them'. (7: 27) This is understood to mean in the majority of cases. Had seeing them been impossible, the Prophet would not have spoken about seeing Satan, and that he wanted to tie him up so that they all would see him and the children would make him a plaything. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'Some scholars say that the jinn cannot be seen in their original form, because of the apparent meaning of the quoted verse, except by prophets and other individuals given special privilege. Humans may see the jinn in shapes other than their original shapes, as mentioned in reports'. To my mind, this is merely a claim that requires some supporting evidence. Otherwise, it cannot be accepted. Imam Abū 'Abdullāh Muhammad ibn 'Alī al-Māzarī said: 'The jinn have spiritual entities. It is probable that this jinnee took a form that is possible to tie up and be prevented from going back to its original form so as to make it like a toy. If the natural form is overridden, other possibilities may take place'.

The Prophet mentions that he remembered how Prophet Solomon prayed to be granted special privileges that would not be given to anyone else. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'This means that Prophet Solomon had this special power, and our Prophet then refrained from tying the jinnee up, either because he could not do it, or because when he remembered the supplication he did not attempt to tie the jinnee thinking that he would not be able to do it, or out of humility'. The Prophet adds that God sent the jinnee 'back in total misery', which means that he was cast away, totally humiliated.

In hadith No. 1008 the Prophet says to Iblīs: 'I curse you with God's complete curse'. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said:

Describing it as complete may mean that it is complete and suffers no deficiency. It may also mean the curse that he has incurred and is due to him, or the one which ensures that he suffers everlasting torment ... .

The Prophet said: 'I curse you with God's curse and I seek refuge with God from you'. This shows that it is permissible to pray for or against someone else in the form of an address, or second-person pronoun. This is contrary to the view expressed by Ibn Sha'bān, a disciple of Mālik, who says that this invalidates the prayer.

The same view is maintained by our scholars: prayer is invalidated if one supplicates for someone else in the address form, such as saying to someone who sneezes yarḥamuka Allāh, or raḥimaka Allāh, or saying to someone who offered a greeting wa'alayka al-salām, or similar phrases. The hadiths mentioned in the previous chapter speaking of offering greetings to someone who is engaged in prayer confirm what our scholars say. Therefore, this hadith should be taken as having been said before the prohibition of ordinary speech during prayer.

The Prophet said: 'By God, had it not been for the supplication of our brother Solomon, he would have been this morning tied up and the children of Madinah would have something to play with'. This shows that it is permissible to say an oath without being required to do it, in order to add importance to whatever a person is stating, or to confirm its truth. There are many hadiths confirming this.

Transmission

At the end of hadith No. 1006, Muslim adds: 'Ibn Maṣṣūr said: Shu'bah from Muhammad ibn Ziyād'. This means that in his narration of this hadith, Ishāq ibn Maṣṣūr said: 'al-Naḍr narrated, Shu'bah reported, from Muhammad ibn Ziyād'. This means that his narration differed from that of his colleague Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm in two points: the first is that he said 'Shu'bah from Muhammad ibn Ziyād' while Ibn Ibrāhīm said that Shu'bah said: 'Muhammad reported'. The second point of difference is that he said 'Muhammad ibn Ziyād' while in Ibn Ibrāhīm's narration: 'Muhammad (who is Ibn Ziyād)'.

CARRYING A CHILD WHILE PRAYING

[1009–41]. (Dār al-Salām 1107) ‘Abdullāh ibn Maslamah ibn Qa‘nab and Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Mālik narrated; from ‘Āmir ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Zubayr [H]. Also, Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated: He said: I said to Mālik: Did ‘Āmir ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Zubayr narrate to you; from ‘Amr ibn Sulaym al-Zuraqī; from Abū Qatādah that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed carrying Umāmah bint Zaynab, God’s Messenger’s daughter, [who is] the daughter of Abū al-‘Āṣ ibn al-Rabī‘. When he stood up, he carried her, and when he prostrated himself he put her down? Yaḥyā said: Mālik said: Yes’.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ بْنِ قَعْنَبٍ وَفُتَيْ بُوَّةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا مَالِكٌ، عَنْ عَامِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، وَحَدَّثَنَا نَاجِي بْنُ يَحْيَى قَالَ: قُلْتُ لِمَالِكٍ: حَدَّثَكَ عَامِرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ سُلَيْمٍ الزُّرَقِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَصَلِّي وَهُوَ حَامِلٌ أُمَامَةَ بِنْتَ زَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَلَأَبِي الْعَاصِ بْنِ الرَّبِيعِ، فَإِذَا قَامَ حَمَلَهَا وَإِذَا سَجَدَ وَضَعَهَا؟ قَالَ يَحْيَى: "قَالَ مَالِكٌ: "نَعَمْ".

[1010–42]. (Dār al-Salām 1108) Muhammad ibn Abī ‘Umar narrated: Sufyān narrated; from ‘Uthmān ibn Abī Sulaymān and Ibn ‘Ajlan. Both heard ‘Āmir ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Zubayr narrating; from ‘Amr ibn Sulaym al-Zuraqī; from Abū Qatādah al-Anṣārī. He said: ‘I saw the Prophet leading the prayer carrying Umāmah bint Abī al-‘Āṣ – and she is the daughter of Zaynab the Prophet’s daughter – on his shoulder. When he bowed, he placed her down, and when he rose from prostration, he carried her again’.

[1011–43]. (Dār al-Salām 1109) Abū al-Ṭāhir narrated to me: Ibn Wahb reported; from Makhramah ibn Bukayr [H]. Also, Hārūn ibn Saʿīd al-Aylī narrated: Makhramah reported to me; from his father; from ʿAmr ibn Sulaym al-Zuraqī; he said: I heard Abū Qatādah al-Anṣārī say: ‘I saw God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) leading the prayer carrying Umāmah bint Abī al-ʿĀṣ on his shoulder. [1012–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1110) Qutaybah ibn Saʿīd narrated: Layth narrated [H]. He mentioned a hadith similar to theirs, but he did not mention that the Prophet led that prayer.

Text Explanation

This chapter mentions the hadith that speaks of the Prophet carrying Umāmah during the prayer. This provides evidence in support of the view that prayer is valid if one carries a human being or a clean animal, such as a lamb or a bird. The hadith also shows that the clothes and bodies of children are clean unless we ascertain that they have been contaminated with some impurity. The hadith confirms that minor action does not invalidate prayer, nor is prayer invalidated by doing several actions separately, not in succession. The hadith gives another example of the Prophet's kindness towards and gentle treatment of children and all weaker elements in society.

In hadith No. 1010, the narrator mentions that he saw the Prophet leading the prayer carrying Umāmah on his shoulder. This provides evidence in support of the view of al-Shāfi'ī and scholars who agree with him that it is perfectly permissible to carry a child, whether boy or girl, or an impurity-free animal while offering obligatory or voluntary prayers. This is permissible if one is an imam leading the prayer, or one in the congregation, or a person praying on his own. Mālik's disciples interpret the hadith as permitting this in voluntary prayer, saying that it is not permissible in obligatory prayer. This, however, is wrong, because the narrator clearly says that the Prophet was 'leading the prayer', which makes it clear that this was an obligatory prayer. Some Mālikī scholars claim that this permissibility was subsequently abrogated, while others claim that it was permissible for the Prophet only, and others still claim that it was due to a particular necessity. All these claims are groundless and unacceptable. They are without basis and there is no need for any of them. The hadith is authentic and clearly implies this permissibility. Nothing in it contradicts Islamic rules and laws. A human being is impurity-free, and any impurity inside the human body is overlooked because it is inside. Children's clothes and bodies are judged to be impurity-free, and there is plenty of evidence confirming this. Action and movement in prayer does not invalidate it, if it is little and separate. The Prophet did this to show that it is permissible and to indicate the rules I have just outlined.

This refutes the claims of Imam Abū Sulaymān Ḥamad ibn Muhammad al-Khaṭṭābī, who said that 'the Prophet's action appears to be unintended. He carried the girl in prayer because she clinged to him and he did not wish to push her aside. Hence, when he stood up she stayed with him ... . It cannot be thought that he carried her and put her down time after time, because that would be too much action and a cause for distraction. If some cloth distracted the Prophet in prayer [as mentioned in a different hadith], how could he not be distracted by such attention to a young girl?’

Imam al-Khaṭṭābī’s view is insupportable. It is refuted by what the hadith related by Muslim [No. 1009] says: ‘when he stood up, he carried her’ and [in hadith No. 1010] ‘when he rose from prostration, he carried her again’. In the versions related by other Hadith scholars: ‘He came out to us carrying Umāmah and he prayed’, mentioning the rest of the hadith. As for the case of the cloth, it causes some distraction and gives no benefit. We do not agree that carrying Umāmah also causes distraction, but even if it did, there are benefits resulting from it and rules illustrated, as we have mentioned. Thus, the distraction is tolerated in order to provide these benefits. As such, the right view that cannot be contradicted is that the case was to show that this action is permissible and to give us these benefits. It is perfectly permissible and this permissibility is valid for all Muslims until the Day of Judgement, but God knows best.

Hadith No. 1009 mentions that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed carrying Umāmah bint Zaynab, the Prophet’s daughter, and the daughter of Abū al-‘Āṣ ibn al- Rabī’. This means that Umāmah was the daughter of Zaynab and her husband Abū al-‘Āṣ ibn al-Rabī’. His appellation is Abū al-‘Āṣ, but his name is Laqīṭ, but it is also said that his name is Mihsham, and other names are also suggested. His ancestry goes as follows: Abū al-‘Āṣ ibn al-Rabī’ ibn ‘Abd al-‘Uzzā ibn ‘Abd Shams ibn ‘Abd Manāf, but God knows best.

MOVING ONE OR TWO STEPS DURING PRAYER

[1013–44]. (Dār al-Salām 1111) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā and Qutaybah bin Saʿīd narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from ʿAbd al-ʿAzīz. Yaḥyā said: ʿAbd al-ʿAzīz ibn Abī Ḥāzim reported; from his father; that some people came to see Sahl ibn Saʿd. They were in dispute about the platform [i.e. the minbar]: of which type of wood it was. He said: 'By God, I know which type of wood it was made of, and who made it. I saw God's Messenger (peace be upon him) when he sat on it for the first time'. I said to him: 'Abū ʿAbbās, then tell us'. He said: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) sent a message to a woman (Abū Ḥāzim said: he named her at the time): "Tell your lad, the carpenter, to make me some boards so that I can address people on them". He made these three steps. God's Messenger (peace be upon him) then ordered that it be placed in this place. It is made of tamarisk tree from al-Ghābah. I saw God's Messenger (peace be upon him) standing on it, and he said Allāhu akbar and the people said the same after him, He was still on the platform. Then he lifted [after bowing]; then he came down backwards, and prostrated himself at the foot of the platform. He then returned and continued until he finished his prayer. He then turned to the people and said: "People, I did this so that you would take my lead and learn how I pray"'.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى وَقُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ، قَالَ يَحْيَى: أَخْبَرَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، أَنَّ نَفَرًا جَاءُوا إِلَى سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَدْ تَمَارَوْا فِي الْمِنْبَرِ مِنْ أَىُّ عُوْدٍ هُوَ؟ فَقَالَ: "أَمَّا وَاللَّهِ إِنِّي لَا أَعْرِفُ مِنْ أَىِّ عُوْدٍ هُوَ، وَمَنْ عَمِلَهُ. وَرَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَوَّلَ يَوْمٍ جَلَسَ عَلَيْهِ". قَالَ: فَقُلْتُ لَهُ: "يَا أَبَا عَبَّاسٍ فَحَدِّثْنَا". قَالَ: "أَرْسَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَى أَمْرَأَةٍ (قَالَ أَبُو حَازِمٍ إِنَّهُ لَيْسَ بِهَا يَوْمِيذٌ): انْظُرِي غُلَامَكَ النَّجَّارَ يَعْمَلُ لِي أَعْوَادًا أَكْتُمُ النَّاسَ عَلَيْهَا". فَعَمِلَ هَذِهِ الثَّلَاثَ دَرَجَاتٍ. ثُمَّ أَمَرَ بِهَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَوُضِعَتْ هَذَا الْمَوْضِعَ فَهِيَ مِنْ طَرَفِ الْغَابَةِ. وَلَقَدْ رَأَيْتُ

[1014–45]. (Dār al-Salām 1112) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ya‘qūb ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abd al-Qārī al-Qurashī narrated; Abū Ḥāzim narrated to me; that a group of people came to Sahl ibn Sa‘d [H]. Also Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah, Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Ibn Abī ‘Umar narrated; they said: Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from Abū Ḥāzim. He said: ‘They came to Sahl ibn Sa‘d and asked him: what was the Prophet’s platform made of ... ?’ They narrated the hadith in similar wording as the text narrated by Ibn Abī Ḥāzim.

Text Explanation

The hadith in this chapter describes how the Prophet prayed on the platform [i.e. minbar] and came down, descending backwards, prostrated himself at the bottom of the platform and returned until he finished his prayer. Scholars say that the platform was three steps, as clearly stated by Muslim in the hadith he relates. This means that the Prophet made two steps to descend to the root of the platform and prostrated next to it. There are several useful points in this hadith. One of these is the desirability to have a platform, and that the imam who delivers the khuṭbah, or sermon, stands on a high point such as a platform. Another point is that little action is permissible during prayer, and that making two steps does not invalidate prayer, but it is preferable not to do this except for some need. If there is a need, then there is no discouragement, as was done by the Prophet (peace be upon him).

The hadith also shows that much action, such as steps and other movements, does not invalidate prayer if done at intervals. The Prophet came down from the platform and went up more than once. In total, these times represent much action, but it was done at intervals which meant there was little of it at each time. The hadith further indicates that it is permissible for the imam to pray at a place that is higher than the place of the congregation, but it is discouraged for either the imam or the people behind him to be higher than the other for no need. If it is for a particular need, such as if the imam wants to teach people how to pray, then his being on a higher point is desirable. The same applies if one in the congregation needs to inform others that the imam is offering the prayer and he needs to be seen for this purpose. We also understand from the hadith that it is perfectly acceptable for the imam to teach people what to do in prayer, and this does not detract from his prayer in any way. This is useful, just like the imam raising his voice when he says Allāhu akbar to enable people to hear him.

As narrated by Sahl ibn Sa'd, the hadith mentions that the Prophet sent a message to a woman asking her to tell her servant, who was a carpenter, to make him a sort of platform to stand on when he addressed the people. Al-Bukhārī and others relate the hadith as narrated by Jābir, and in that narration it is the woman that said to the Prophet: 'Messenger of God, shall I make you something to sit on? I have a lad who is a carpenter'. He said: 'If you please'. She made the platform for him. This report appears to contradict Sahl's version. However, the two can be reconciled by assuming that the woman first made the offer to the Prophet, and the Prophet sent her a message later requesting her to do what she offered.

The hadith mentions that the Prophet's minbar or platform consisted of three steps and that it was made from the wood of the tamarisk tree, which in Arabic is called Ṭarfā', or Athl as named in al-Bukhārī's version; the two are very similar. And it was brought from al-Ghābah, a place near Madinah.

The hadith mentions that the Prophet remained on the platform until he lifted himself after completing his bowing, then came down moving backwards. He did so in order to remain facing the qiblah. The Prophet also told the people that he offered the prayer on the platform so that the people could see him and learn how he prayed. Thus they could see all he did. When he prayed on the floor, only those who were close to him could see him.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1014 includes Ya‘qūb ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-Qārī. He belonged to the well-known tribe called al-Qārah, and as such he is called al-Qārī.

After mentioning the chain of transmission of hadith No. 1014 and the first sentence, Muslim says: ‘They narrated the hadith in similar wording as the text narrated by Ibn Abī Ḥāzim’. He uses the plural pronoun ‘they’, but in Arabic he should have used the dual pronoun which would have appeared in translation as ‘both narrated’. What he is referring to is the narration of Ya‘qūb ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān and Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah from Abū Ḥāzim. These two joined Ibn Abū Ḥāzim in reporting from Abū Ḥāzim. Muslim might have used the plural pronoun in reference to two people, which is undoubtedly admissible in Arabic. Yet is this true or figurative? Scholars differ widely on this point, with the majority saying that it is figurative. It is also possible that Muslim used the plural pronoun in reference to those who narrated from Ya‘qūb and Sufyān, and these were many, but God knows best.

Text Explanation

[Note: This hadith is very short and uses the word mukhtaṣir, while in al-Bukhārī’s version it uses the word khaṣr. Both are derived from the same root. The root gives many derivations including khāṣirah, which means the side part of a man’s abdomen, to the right or the left, and ikhtaṣara, which means to summarize or to use a short part. This explains the following commentary by Imam al-Nawawī].

Scholars differ as to the meaning of this hadith. The correct meaning, which is agreed by meticulous scholars and the majority of linguists and Hadith scholars, and shared by our scholars in their books, is that a mukhtaṣir is one who places one’s hands on the side of one’s abdomen in prayer. Al-Harawī said: ‘He is one who holds a stick to lean on'. Some scholars say that it refers to one who recites only one or two verses at the end of a surah, to keep his recitation short. Others say that it refers to one who keeps the prayer short without properly doing its various parts, such as standing up, bowing or prostration. The correct view is the first.

It is said that this is prohibited because it is done by the Jews, and it is also suggested that it is done by Satan. Others suggest that when Iblīs fell from Heaven he did this; and it is further said that this is done by arrogant people.

Transmission

Al-Ḥakam ibn Mūsā al-Qanṭarī is affiliated to a district in Baghdad known as Qanṭarat al-Baradān [or al-Bar'u'ān, as it is wrongly spelt in printed copies]. Many are those who are affiliated to this district and called al-Qanṭarī, as is this scholar, al-Ḥakam. Many others are called al-Qanṭarī, but are actually affiliated to a district in Naysabūr called Ra's al-Qanṭarah. Both groups are clearly distinguished by the eminent Hadith scholar Abū al-Faḍl Muhammad ibn Ṭāhir al-Maqdisī.

Text Explanation

The Prophet answers his Companions’ question by saying, ‘If you must do it, then once only’. This means: do not do it, but if you must, then once only and no more. This is an order of discouragement. Scholars agree that it is discouraged to smoothe the earth where one is placing one’s forehead because it is contrary to humility and because it distracts the worshipper. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ said that early scholars discouraged the wiping of one’s forehead during prayer and before leaving the mosque to remove any dust.

Text Explanation

In the first hadith, No. 1019, the Prophet says that a person ‘faces God when he prays’. Scholars say that this means the direction God has honoured, and others said that it means that God is facing him. Another suggestion, among others, is that it means God’s reward is in front of him. Therefore, he should not face that direction with spitting or phlegm, because spitting indicates a lack of respect and humiliating whatever is in that direction. The hadiths variously use the words spitting, phlegm, mucus and sputum. Linguists differentiate these as emanating from the mouth, nose or chest.

The hadiths make clear that when a person has to spit he should not do so to his right side or in front of him, but to his left or under his left foot. This is a clear order to a worshipper not to do so, and this is a general order that applies in mosques and elsewhere. The Prophet tells everyone that spitting should be 'on one's left and under one's foot', but this applies when one is not praying in a mosque. If one is praying in a mosque, he may not spit except into his own clothes, because the Prophet says: 'Spitting in a mosque is forbidden'. If so, how could he allow it? The fact that he ordered that spitting may not be done to one's right is stated by way of showing that this side should be given special status. In al-Bukhārī's version of the hadith: 'Let him not spit in front of him or to his right, because an angel is positioned to his right'. Qādī 'Iyād said: 'The order not to spit to one's right applies if it is possible for one to spit in a different direction, but if this is not possible – as when there is another worshipper to one's left – then one may spit to one's right. However, it is better to keep the right side clean of all this.

In hadith No. 1021, the Prophet is said to have seen 'phlegm on the wall closest to the qiblah and he rubbed it off'. This makes clear that all dirt should be removed from mosques.

In hadith No. 1024, 'If any of you spits, let him spit to his left, under his foot. If he cannot, he should do like this. Al-Qāsim described [the Prophet's action] spitting in his robe and then rubbing one part of it over another'. This clearly shows that it is permissible to take some action during prayer, and that spit, phlegm and mucus are not impure. This is agreed upon by all Muslims, but al-Khaṭṭābī reports that Ibrāhīm al-Nakha'ī said that spit is impure, but I do not think that this is correctly attributed to al-Nakha'ī. The hadith also shows that spitting does not invalidate prayer. The same applies to a discharge from the chest coupled with a throat noise, provided that it does not clearly utter two letters or that it is involuntary.

In hadith No. 1026, the Prophet says that when one is praying, 'he is addressing his Lord'. This refers to the need to concentrate on prayer and focus on glorifying God and reciting and contemplating His Book.

In hadith Nos 1027 and 1028 the Prophet says that spitting in the mosque is forbidden. It must be known that spitting in the mosque is forbidden in all cases, whether it is needed or not. If one needs to spit, one should do so into one's clothes.<sup>i</sup> If a person spits in the mosque, he commits a forbidden action and he must atone for it by burying his spit. This is the correct thing to say, as God's Messenger clearly stated. Some scholars and Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said something wrong on this point, which may be summed up as that spitting is not forbidden, except for one who does not bury it, i.e. it is not forbidden if one intends to bury it. He cited some false evidence, and what he said is wrong as it runs contrary to the text of the hadith and what scholars have said. I am only mentioning this so that people do not take it as correct.

The Prophet makes clear that the atonement for the prohibited act of spitting in the mosque is to bury the spit. This means that if one commits this sin, he must atone for it. This is the same as saying that fornication, drinking intoxicants and killing game when one is in a state of consecration are forbidden. Whoever commits any of these incurs its punishment. Scholars differ as to what is meant by burying it. The majority say that it means burying it in the earth, sand or pebbles of the mosque if its floor is of these types. Otherwise, he must take it outside. Al-Ruwayyānī, who belonged to the Shāfi'ī School, said that it means taking it outside in all cases, but God knows best.

In hadith No. 1029, the Prophet says that one of the bad deeds of his community is that mucus may be in the mosque and it is not buried. The apparent meaning here is that the bad action does not apply only to the one who discharged it, but it includes everyone who saw it and left it there, without removing, burying or rubbing it off.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1027 mentions Qatāḍah reporting 'from Anas ibn Mālik', and in the next hadith, Shu'bah said that he asked Qatāḍah, who answered saying: 'I heard Anas ibn Mālik say'. This is stated to confirm that Qatāḍah actually heard this from Anas. Qatāḍah is graded as 'a misleading narrator', and when such a narrator uses the expression narrating 'from his teacher', this is not taken as a continuous chain of transmission. There must be some corroborating evidence. Hence, the second chain of transmission confirms this continuity, as Qatādah gives his answer to Shu‘bah stating that he heard it from Anas. We mentioned this rule in the Notes in our Introduction, and on several other occasions.

Hadith No. 1029 includes in its chain of transmission Abū al-Aswad al-Dīlī. We mentioned in the Book of Faith the differences in reporting his name.

WEARING SHOES DURING PRAYER

[1032–60]. (Dār al-Salām 1129) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> Bishr ibn al-Mufaḍḍal reported; from Abū Maslamah Saʿīd ibn Yazīd; he said: I said to Anas ibn Mālik: ‘Did God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) pray wearing shoes?’ He said: ‘Yes’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، أَخْبَرَنَا بَشِيرُ بْنُ الْمُفَضَّلِ، عَنْ أَبِي مَسْلَمَةَ، سَعِيدُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ قَالَ: قُلْتُ لَأَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ: “أَكَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَصَلِّي فِي النَّعْلَيْنِ؟” قَالَ: “نَعَمْ”.

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1130) Abū al-Rabīʿ al-Zahrānī narrated: ʿAbbād ibn al-ʿAwwām narrated; Saʿīd ibn Yazīd Abū Maslamah narrated; he said: I asked Anas: the same text.

Text Explanation

The hadith makes clear that it is perfectly permissible to offer one’s prayers wearing shoes or other footwear, unless it is certain that they are contaminated with impurity. A question arises concerning impurity attached to the bottom of someone’s shoes and the sole of the shoe is rubbed on the ground: is that prayer valid if a person continues to wear such footwear during prayer? Scholars give different answers. Both views are reported to have been expressed by al-Shāfiʿī, but the more correct view is that the prayer is invalid.

THE UNDESIRABILITY OF WEARING PATTERNED CLOTHING IN PRAYER

[1033–61]. (Dār al-Salām 1131) ‘Amr al-Nāqid and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me<sup>i</sup> [H]. Also, Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated to me (Zuhayr’s text). They said: Sufyān ibn ‘Uaynah narrated; from al-Zuhri; from ‘Urwah; from ‘Ā’ishah that ‘the Prophet (peace be upon him) prayed wearing a patterned woollen garment. He then said: “The pattern on this garment distracted me. Take it to Abū Jahm and bring me a plain garment”’.

حَدَّثَنِي عَمْرُو النَّاقِدُ وَزُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنِي أَبُو يَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ (وَاللَّفْظُ لِيُزَيْرٍ)، قَالُوا حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَلَّى فِي خِمِصَةٍ «لَهَا أَعْلَامٌ وَقَالَ: «شَغَّ كَتَنِي أَعْلَامُ هَذِهِ فَادْهَبُوا بِهَا إِلَى أَبِي جَهْمٍ وَائْتُونِي بِأَنْبِجَانِيَّةٍ».

[1034–62]. (Dār al-Salām 1132) Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā narrated: Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; he said: ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr reported to me; from ‘Ā’ishah; she said: ‘God’s Messenger stood praying wearing a woollen garment with patterns. He looked at its pattern. When he finished his prayer, he said: “Take this garment to Abū Jahm ibn Ḥudhayfah and bring me a plain garment. It has distracted me during my prayer”’.

حَدَّثَنَا حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى، أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي يُونُسُ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، قَالَ أَخْبَرَنِي عُرْوَةُ بْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَامَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُصَلِّي فِي خِمِصَةٍ ذَاتِ أَعْلَامٍ، فَنَظَرَ إِلَى عِلْمِهَا. فَلَمَّا قَضَى صَلَاتَهُ قَالَ: «ادْهَبُوا بِهَذِهِ الْخِمِصَةِ إِلَى أَبِي جَهْمٍ بْنِ حُذَيْفَةَ وَائْتُونِي بِأَنْبِجَانِيَّةٍ فَإِنَّهَا أَكْهَنَنِي أَنْفًا فِي صَلَاتِي».

[1035–63]. (Dār al-Salām 1133) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Wakī‘ narrated; from Hishām; from his father; from ‘Ā’ishah; that ‘The Prophet had a woollen garment with a pattern. It distracted him in prayer. Therefore, he gave it to Abū Jahm and took a plain garment from him’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، عَنْ هِشَامٍ، عَنْ أَبِي يَحْيَى، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَتْ لَهُ حَمِيصَةٌ لَهَا عَلَمٌ، فَكَانَ يَتَشَاغَلُ بِهَا فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَأَعُطَاهَا أَبُو جَهْمٍ وَأَخَذَ كِسَاءً لَهُ أَنْ بَجَانِبًا.

Text Explanation

The Prophet asked his people to replace his patterned garment with a plain one. The hadiths refer to the latter as ‘anbijāniyyah’. There are different descriptions of this garment, and what the word means, but they agree that it is plain with no pattern on it. The Prophet said that the patterns on his garment distracted him during prayer, which means that he looked at the patterns and was not as attentive as usual to his worship. The hadiths in this chapter urge us to concentrate on our prayer and reflect on the meanings of what we say of glorifications of God. They further encourage us not to look at what may distract us from our prayer. They thus suggest that it is undesirable to decorate or draw patterns or calligraphy around the miḥrāb, where the imam stands, or the walls of the mosque, or to place anything that is likely to distract worshippers. The Prophet (peace be upon him) returned the patterned garment to Abū Jahm because of the distraction it caused. However, the hadiths make clear that even though distractions occur in prayer, and when distracted one may think of things that are totally unrelated to prayer, the prayer nonetheless remains valid. This is the view of all scholars. Certain things have been reported to have been said by some early scholars and devouts, but these cannot be correctly attributed to any scholar of recognized standing. Our scholars say that it is preferable that a person looks at the place where he puts his forehead in prostration. Some have said that it is discouraged to close one’s eyes during prayer, but I maintain that this is not discouraged, unless one fears one may come to some harm.

The hadiths show that wearing a patterned garment in prayer does not detract from the validity of the prayer, even though a plain garment is preferable. That the Prophet sent the patterned garment to Abū Jahm and requested a plain one is due to the fact that the Prophet was well aware that Abū Jahm would be pleased with this,<sup>i</sup> but God knows best.

Abū Jahm's name is 'Āmir ibn Ḥudhayfah ibn Ghānim, and he was from the 'Adī branch of the Quraysh. It is also suggested that his name is 'Ubayd ibn Ḥudhayfah.

  - i. Other reports mention that the patterned garment was a gift from Abū Jahm to the Prophet, and the Prophet was aware that Abū Jahm had a plain garment. He, therefore, sent him the more valuable garment, taking the one that was cheaper. Abū Jahm would be pleased to wear a garment that had been used by the Prophet.

THE UNDESIRABILITY OF PRAYING WHEN FOOD IS SERVED

[1036–64]. (Dār al-Salām 1134) ‘Amr al-Nāqid, Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah reported to me:<sup>i</sup> they said: Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from al-Zuhrī; from Anas ibn Mālik; from the Prophet (peace be upon him). He said: ‘If dinner is served and the prayer is announced [i.e. iqāmah], start with the dinner’.

[1037–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1135) Hārūn ibn Sa‘īd al-Aylī narrated: Ibn Wahb narrated; ‘Amr reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; he said: Anas ibn Mālik narrated to me; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘If dinner is placed and the prayer is due, start with it before you offer Maghrib Prayer. Do not hasten your dinner’.

[1038–66]. (Dār al-Salām 1137) Ibn Numayr narrated:<sup>ii</sup> my father narrated [H]. Also, Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated (his text); Abū Usāmah narrated; both said: ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Nāfi‘ narrated; from Ibn ‘Umar: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “If anyone’s dinner is placed and the prayer is announced, start with the dinner. (Dār al-Salām 1139) Muhammad ibn ‘Abbād narrated:<sup>i</sup> Hātim (who is Ibn Ismā‘īl) narrated; from Ya‘qūb ibn Mujāhid; from Ibn Abī ‘Atīq; he said: ‘Al-Qāsim and I discussed some hadith at ‘Ā’ishah’s (may God be pleased with her). Al-Qāsim was prone to language mistakes, and he was the son of a mother-of-child.<sup>ii</sup> ‘Ā’ishah said to him: “Why can’t you talk like this nephew of mine talks? He was educated by his mother and you were educated by your mother”. Al-Qāsim felt aggrieved and was angry with her. When he saw ‘Ā’ishah’s table being spread, he stood up. She said: “Where are you going?” He said: “I want to pray”. She said: “Sit down”. He said: “I want to pray”. She said: “Sit down, treacherous one. I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: ‘No prayer may be offered when food is present, nor when one is pressed for either of the two foul discharges’”’.

Text Explanation

These hadiths make clear that it is undesirable to offer prayers when food is served: if one wants to eat, one will think about eating and so cannot concentrate on prayer. It is also discouraged to pray when one feels an urgent need to go to the toilet for either discharge. We may add to these two situations whatever is similar in distracting a person and prevents proper attention to prayer and concentration on it. According to the majority of our scholars and others, this discouragement applies if one prays in such a condition when there is plenty of time for prayer. If the prayer time is short such that its time will lapse if one eats or goes to the toilet and has a fresh ablution first, then one should pray in whatever condition one is in, to ensure praying on time and not delaying it beyond its time range. Abū Saʿīd ʿAbd al-Raḥmān al-Mutawallī, the Shāfiʿī scholar, reports a view of some of our scholars that such a person does not pray in the condition he is in. He should eat or go to the toilet and perform the ablution, even if this means that the prayer time lapses before he can pray. The purpose of prayer is to be in full attention to it and this should not be missed.

If there is plenty of time for the prayer, but a person nevertheless prays in his condition, his prayer is valid according to our school and the majority of scholars, but it is preferable, not obligatory, for that person to repeat his prayer. Qādī 'Iyād quotes some scholars of the Zāhirī School who say that the prayer of such a person in his condition is invalid.

Hadith No. 1037 provides evidence that the time range of Maghrib is extended. This is subject to controversy among scholars, and within our school. We shall explain this when we discuss the time range of each of the five prayers, God willing.

In hadith No. 1038, the Prophet says: 'Let him not hasten, but wait until he finishes'. This confirms that in this situation one eats a full meal. This is the right thing. Some of our scholars interpret the hadith as meaning that one should eat a few bites to stop feeling hungry, but this is not correct. Indeed, this hadith clearly shows that it is not right.

Transmission

In the chain of transmission of the numberless hadith that follows No. 1038, we have 'al-Ṣalt ibn Mas'ūd narrated from Sufyān ibn Mūsā'. Sufyān was from Basrah and he is well-known and graded as 'reliable'. Al-Dāraqutnī said of him: 'He is reliable and honest', and Abū 'Alī al-Ḥusayn ibn Muhammad al-Ghassānī said: 'He is reliable'. They criticize those who claim that he was unknown.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1039 features Ibn Abī 'Atīq and the hadith mentions al-Qāsim. Ibn Abī 'Atīq's name is 'Abdullāh ibn Muhammad ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abū Bakr al-Ṣiddīq, while al-Qāsim was Ibn Muhammad ibn Abū Bakr. When al-Qāsim was angry, 'Ā'ishah ordered him to sit down and called him treacherous. She did so because he was commanded to show her great respect, as she was the Mother of the Believers, and also his own paternal aunt. As such, he should look up to her for advice, and tolerate whatever she might say to him.

Abū Ḥazrah features in the chain of transmission of the last hadith in this chapter, No. 1040. His name is Ya‘qūb ibn Mujāhid, and he is mentioned by this name in the chain of transmission of hadith No. 1039. It is also said that his appellation is Abū Yūsuf, while Abū Ḥazrah was his nickname, but God knows best.

TYPES OF FOOD THAT PREVENT ONE FROM GOING TO THE MOSQUE

[1041–68]. (Dār al-Salām 1141) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Yaḥyā (meaning al-Qaṭṭān) narrated; from ‘Ubaydullāh; he said: Nāfi‘ reported to me; from Ibn ‘Umar; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said at the time of the Battle of Khaybar: ‘Whoever has eaten of this plant<sup>ii</sup> (meaning garlic) should not come near to mosques’.

Zuhayr said ‘at the time of a battle’ but did not mention Khaybar.

قَالَ زُهَيْرٌ فِي غَزْوَةِ. وَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ خَيْبَرَ.

[1042–69]. (Dār al-Salām 1142) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Ibn Numayr narrated [H]. Also, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Numayr narrated (his text); my father narrated; ‘Ubaydullāh narrated; from Nāfi‘; from Ibn ‘Umar; that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “Whoever eats of this plant should not come near to our mosques until its smell has gone”. He meant garlic’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ نُمَيْرٍ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ (وَاللَّفْظُ لَهُ)، حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي قَالَ، حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «مَنْ أَكَلَ مِنْ هَذِهِ الْبَقْلَةِ فَلَا يَفْرُبَنَّ مَسَاجِدَنَا حَتَّى يَذْهَبَ رِيحُهَا». يَعْنِي الثُّومَ.

[1043–70]. (Dār al-Salām 1143) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me: Ismā‘īl (meaning Ibn ‘Ulayyah) narrated; from ‘Abd al-‘Azīz (who is Ibn Ṣuhayb); he said: ‘Anas was asked about garlic. He answered that God's Messenger (peace be upon him) said: "Whoever eats of this plant should not come near us and should not pray with us".

وَحَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ (يَعْنِي ابْنَ عَلِيَّةَ)، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ (وَهُوَ ابْنُ صُهَيْبٍ) قَالَ: سُئِلَ أَنَسٌ عَنِ الثُّومِ، فَقَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «مَنْ أَكَلَ مِنْ هَذِهِ الشَّجَرَةِ فَلَا يَقْرَبَنَا وَلَا يُصَلِّيَ مَعَنَا».

He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) ordered us not to eat onions or leeks, but then we were hard pressed and we ate of them. The Prophet said: “Whoever has eaten of those smelly plants should not come near our mosque. The angels are irritated by what irritates human beings”.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا كَثِيرُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ، عَنْ هِشَامِ الدَّسْتَوَائِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ جَابِرٍ، قَالَ نَهَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ أَكْلِ الْبَصَلِ وَالْكَرَّاثِ. فَغَلَبَتْهُمَا الْحَاجَةُ فَأَكَلْنَا مِنْهَا، فَقَالَ: «مَنْ أَكَلَ مِنْ هَذِهِ الشَّجَرَةِ الْمُتْنِنَةِ فَلَا يَقْرَبَنَّ مَسْجِدَنَا، فَإِنَّ الْمَلَائِكَةَ تَأْذَى بِمَا يَتَأَذَى مِنْهُ الْإِنْسُ».

[1046–73]. (Dār al-Salām 1146) Abū al-Ṭāhir and Ḥarmalah narrated to me: both said: Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; ‘Aṭā’ ibn Abī Rabāḥ narrated to me; that Jābir ibn ‘Abdullāh said (in Ḥarmalah’s narration ‘claimed’) that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘Whoever eats garlic or onion should stay away from us, or from our mosque, and sit in his home'. He was also brought a saucepan in which there were vegetables and legumes, and he found that it had a smell. He asked and was informed of what these legumes comprised. He said: 'Place it before this' pointing to one of his Companions. When he saw him, he did not wish to eat of it. The Prophet said: 'Eat. I speak to those whom you do not speak to'.

وَحَدَّثَنِي أَبُو الطَّاهِرِ وَحَرَمَ كُهُ، قَالَا: أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي يُونُسُ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، قَالَ حَدَّثَنِي عَطَاءُ بْنُ أَبِي رَبَاحٍ، أَنَّ جَابِرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ، قَالَ: (وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ حُرْمَلَةَ: زَعَمَ) أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «مَنْ أَكَلَ ثُومًا أَوْ بَصَلًا فَلْيَعْتَزِلْنَا أَوْ لِيَعْتَزِلْ مَسْجِدَنَا وَلْيُقْعِدْ فِي بَيْتِهِ». وَأَنَّهُ أَتَى يَقْدِرُ فِيهِ خَضِرَاتٌ مِنْ بُقُولٍ فَوَجَدَ لَهَا رِيحًا، فَسَأَلَ فَأَخْبَرَ بِمَا فِيهَا مِنَ الْبُقُولِ فَقَالَ: «قَرَّبُوهَا»، إِلَى بَعْضِ أَصْحَابِهِ. فَلَمَّا رَأَاهُ كَرِهَ «أَكْلَهُ» قَالَ: «كُلْ، فَإِنِّي أَنَا جِي مِنْ لَا تُنَاجِي

The angels are irritated by what irritates human beings'.

Also, Muhammad ibn Rāfi' narrated to me; 'Abd al-Razzāq narrated; both said: Ibn Jurayj reported, with the same chain of transmission: 'Whoever eats of this plant (meaning garlic) should not come to us in our mosque'. He did not mention onion or leek.

[1049–76]. (Dār al-Salām 1149) ‘Amr al-Nāqid narrated to me: Ismā‘īl ibn ‘Ulayyah narrated; from al-Jurayrī; from Abū Naḍrah; from Abū Sa‘īd; he said: ‘It was soon after the Conquest of Khaybar that we, the Prophet’s Companions, came across that plant, garlic, and people were hungry. We ate much of it, and then we went to the mosque. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) noted its smell. He said: “Whoever ate of this foul plant should not come near us in the mosque”. People said: “It has been forbidden. It has been forbidden”. The Prophet was informed and he said: “People, I have no authority to forbid what God has made lawful to me, but it is only a plant with a smell that I dislike”’.

وَحَدَّثَنِي عَمْرُو النَّاقِدُ، حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ، عَنْ الْجُرَيْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي نَضْرَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ، قَالَ: لَمْ نَعُدْ أَنْ فُتِحَتْ خَيْبَرُ، فَوَقَعْنَا أَصْحَابَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي تِلْكَ الْبَقْلَةِ، الثُّومِ، وَالنَّاسُ جِيَاعٌ. فَأَكَلْنَا مِنْهَا أَكْلًا شَدِيدًا، ثُمَّ رُحْنَا إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ فَوَجَدَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الرِّيحَ. فَقَالَ: «مَنْ أَكَلَ مِنْ هَذِهِ الشَّجَرَةِ الْحَبِيثَةِ شَيْئًا فَلَا يَقْرَبْنَا فِي الْمَسْجِدِ». فَقَالَ النَّاسُ: «حُرِّمَتْ، حُرِّمَتْ». فَبَلَغَ ذَلِكَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ: «أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ إِنَّهُ لَيْسَ بِي تَحْرِيمٍ مَا أَحَلَّ اللَّهُ لِي، وَلَكِنَّهَا شَجَرَةٌ أَكْرَهُ رِيحَهَا».

[1050–77]. (Dār al-Salām 1150) Hārūn ibn Sa‘īd al-Aylī and Aḥmad ibn ‘Īsā narrated: both said: Ibn Wahb narrated; ‘Amr reported to me; from Bukayr ibn al-Ashajj; from Ibn Khabbāb; from Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī; that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and his Companions passed by an area planted with onions. A group of them went down and ate of them, while others did not. We went to him. He called the ones who did not eat onions and placed the others at a distance until its smell vanished’.

[1051–78]. (Dār al-Salām 1151) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated:<sup>i</sup> Yahyā ibn Sa‘īd narrated; Hishām narrated; Qatādah narrated; from Sālim ibn Abī al-Ja‘d; from Ma‘dān ibn Abī Ṭalḥah; that ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb gave the khuṭbah [i.e. sermon] on Friday, and he mentioned the Prophet (peace be upon him) and mentioned Abū Bakr. He then said: 'I saw in a dream as if a rooster poked me three times, and I feel that this means nothing other than the approach of my death. Some people are urging me to name my successor. God will certainly not allow His faith, the succession or what He sent His Prophet with to be lost. If death overtakes me soon, then the succession is through consultation between these six, with whom God's Messenger (peace be upon him) was pleased when he passed away. I know that some people are criticizing this. I have forced them with my hand to submit. If they do that, they [prove themselves to be] God's enemies, errant unbelievers.

'Nothing I leave behind troubles me more than the case of the kalālah. I never spoke to God's Messenger (peace be upon him) about anything as much as I spoke to him about the kalālah, and he never reproached me about anything more than he did about it, and he once poked me in my chest with his finger and said: "Are you, 'Umar, not satisfied with the verse revealed in the summer which is at the end of Surah Women?" If I live, I will give a ruling concerning it to be implemented by anyone who reads the Qur'an and anyone who does not read the Qur'an.

He then said: 'My Lord, I appeal to You as a witness against the governors of provinces. I have appointed them so that they rule in justice, and to teach people their faith and the Prophet's sunnah, and to distribute their gains among them, and to put to me whatever they are unsure about of people's affairs.

'And you, people, eat of two plants which I find foul, onion and garlic. I saw God's Messenger (peace be upon him), when he smelled their smell from someone in the mosque, he ordered him to be removed to al-Baqī'. Whoever eats of them, let him cook them hard'.

مَعْدَانَ بْنِ أَبِي طَلْحَةَ، أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ، خَطَبَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ فَذَكَرَ نَبِيَّ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَذَكَرَ أَبَا
بَكْرٍ. قَالَ: "إِنِّي رَأَيْتُ كَأَن دِيكًا نَقَرَنِي ثَلَاثَ نَقَرَاتٍ، وَإِنِّي لَا أَرَاهُ إِلَّا خُضُورًا أَجْلِي. وَإِنَّ أَقْوَامًا يَأْمُرُونَنِي
أَنْ أَسْتَخْلِفَ. وَإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَمْ يَكُنْ لِيُضَيِّعْ دِينَهُ وَلَا خِلَافَتَهُ، وَلَا الَّذِي بَعَثَ بِهِ نَبِيَّهُ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ.

ثُمَّ إِنِّي لَا أَدْعُ بَعْدِي شَيْئًا أَهَمَّ عِنْدِي مِنَ الْكَلَالَةِ. مَا رَاجَعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي شَيْءٍ مَا رَاجَعْتُهُ فِي الْكَلَالَةِ، وَمَا أَغْلَظَ لِي فِي شَيْءٍ مَا أَغْلَظَ لِي فِيهِ، حَتَّى طَعَنَ بِإِصْبَعِهِ فِي صَدْرِي، فَقَالَ: «يَا عُمَرُ، أَلَا تَكْفِيكَ آيَةُ الصَّيْفِ الَّتِي فِي آخِرِ سُورَةِ النَّسَاءِ؟» وَإِنِّي إِنْ أَعَشْتُ أَقْضِي فِيهَا بِقَضِيَّتِي فَضِي بِهَا مَنْ يَقْرَأُ الْقُرْآنَ وَمَنْ لَا يَقْرَأُ الْقُرْآنَ.

ثُمَّ إِنَّكُمْ أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ تَأْكُلُونَ شَجَرَتَيْنِ لَا أَرَاهُمَا إِلَّا خَبِيثَتَيْنِ: هَذَا الْبَصَلُ وَالثُّومُ. لَقَدْ رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا وَجَدَ رِيحَهُمَا مِنَ الرَّجُلِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ، أَمَرَ بِهِ فَأُخْرِجَ إِلَى الْبَيْعِ. فَمَنْ أَكَلَهُمَا فَلْيَمِئْتُهُمَا "طَبْخًا".

Text Explanation

The first hadith in this chapter, No. 1041, says: 'Whoever has eaten of this plant (meaning garlic) should not come near to mosques'. This gives a clear message that a person who eats garlic or similar food should not enter any mosque. This is the view of all scholars, except for what Qādī 'Iyād reported of some scholars saying that this is limited to the Prophet's Mosque, as some hadiths related by Muslim quote the Prophet as saying: 'should not come near to our mosque'.

The evidence cited by the majority of scholars is this hadith, saying 'should not come near to mosques'. Moreover, the prohibition pertains to visiting a mosque, not to eating garlic, onion or the like. These are permissible to eat, according to all scholars who are considered when unanimity is sought. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ quotes Zāhirī scholars who consider eating these to be forbidden, because it prevents a person from joining congregational prayers, which according to them are obligatory for all people.

In support of their view that eating garlic, onion and the like is permissible, the majority of scholars cite the Prophet's order to one of his Companions in hadith No. 1046: 'Eat. I speak to those whom you do not speak to'. They also cite the hadith No. 1049 in which the Prophet says: 'People, I have no authority to forbid what God has made lawful to me, but it is only a plant with a smell that I dislike'. Scholars say that added to garlic, onion and leek is everything that gives off a foul smell, whether food or not. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'Added is whoever eats radishes and burps'. And Ibn al-Murābiṭ adds a person who has a foul mouth smell, or one who has a smelly wound ... . Scholars add places of public worship other than mosques, such as the place where the Eid Prayer is offered, or funeral prayers, and worship and study meetings, as well as group dinners and meetings, etc. but not market places and the like.

In these hadiths, garlic is referred to as a tree, plant or legume. Arabic linguists say that the word buqūl, which means legumes, refer to every plant that grows on earth. Hadith No. 1043 says: 'Whoever eats of this plant should not come near us and should not pray with us'. This is an order to whoever eats garlic or similar bad-smelling food not to attend congregational prayers, even if the prayer is not held in a mosque. As we mentioned earlier it applies to every place where people offer worship together. Hadith No. 1045 mentions that angels are irritated by what irritates human beings. Scholars say that this hadith provides evidence that a person who has eaten garlic should be prevented entry to the mosque even when the mosque is empty, because it is a place of angels, and the hadiths in general support such prevention.

In hadith No. 1046, the Prophet is said to have been brought 'a saucepan in which there were vegetables and legumes'. As related by al-Bukhārī, Abū Dāwūd and others, he was brought 'a plate of vegetables and legumes'. Scholars say that this is more accurate. The words used for 'saucepan' and 'plate' in this hadith are closely similar in the way they are written, but not in how they are pronounced.

In hadith No. 1049, the Prophet says: 'Whoever ate of this foul plant should not come near to us in the mosque'. He called it a 'foul plant' because of its bad smell. Linguists say: 'In Arabic the description khabīth, or foul, is attached to whatever is disliked of word, action, property, food, drink or person. When the Prophet was told that people suggested that it was made forbidden he said: 'People, I have no authority to forbid what God has made lawful to me, but it is only a plant with a smell that I dislike'. It is clearly evident that garlic is not forbidden. As we mentioned earlier, this is unanimously agreed upon by all scholars whose views are considered.

Our scholars differ in their views on whether garlic was forbidden to God's Messenger (peace be upon him) or if he only left it out from personal preference. The surface meaning of the hadith is that it was not forbidden to him. Scholars who say that it was forbidden to him interpret his words as meaning: 'It is not up to me to forbid my community what God has made lawful to it'.

In hadith No. 1051, 'Umar said: 'Some people are urging me to name my successor. God will certainly not allow His faith, the succession or what He sent His Prophet with to be lost'. This means that he would be doing right whether he appointed a successor or not. The Prophet did not appoint a successor, because God will not allow His religion to be lost. He will ensure that some people will continue to uphold it.

'Umar then said: 'If death overtakes me soon, then the succession is through consultation between these six'. This means that they would discuss the matter between themselves and select one of the six to take over. The six were 'Uthmān ibn 'Affān; 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib, Talḥah ibn ‘Ubaydullāh, al-Zubayr ibn al-‘Awwām, Sa‘d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ and ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn ‘Awf. He did not include Sa‘īd ibn Zayd even though he was one of the ten Companions the Prophet declared he was pleased with, because Sa‘īd was his cousin. Therefore, he felt uneasy about including him. Nor did he include his own son, ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar.

‘Umar went on to say: ‘I know that some people are criticizing this. I have forced them with my hand to submit. If they do that, they [prove themselves to be] God’s enemies, errant unbelievers’. This means that if they consider their action lawful, they are unbelievers, but if they do not consider it lawful, it is still something done by unbelievers.

‘Umar then mentions the question of kalālah, which is the case of a person who dies leaving behind neither parents nor children.<sup>i</sup> He said that he argued much about it with the Prophet and the Prophet said to him: ‘Are you, ‘Umar, not satisfied with the verse revealed in the summer which is at the end of Surah Women?’ The Prophet’s words provide evidence that it is perfectly appropriate to say Surah Women, Surah The Cow or Surah The Spider, etc. While it used to be controversial in the early days, this is the view of all eminent scholars and it is now unanimously agreed upon. Some scholars used to say that the way to refer to a surah is by saying ‘the surah in which the cow or the spider is mentioned’. This is wrong and refuted by authentic hadiths showing that the Prophet himself, his Companions, their successors and subsequent generations used the first method and there is nothing wrong with it, because the meaning is clear.

‘Umar then mentions onion and garlic, stating that he disliked them. He then says that he saw God’s Messenger ordering the removal to al-Baqī‘ [which is not far from the mosque] of anyone who smelled of either of these. This makes clear that this should be done as it is an implementation of enjoining what is right and forbidding what is wrong. ‘Umar then advises anyone who wishes to use them to cook them hard, as this ensures that the smell is gone.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1051 includes: ‘Hishām narrated; Qatādah narrated; from Sālim ibn Abī al-Ja‘d; from Ma‘dān ibn Abī Ṭalhah; that ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb gave the khuṭbah [i.e. sermon] on Friday’. This is another case of objection by al-Dāraquṭnī to Muslim. In his objection, al-Dāraquṭnī says: ‘Three eminent scholars narrate the hadith differently from the way Qatādah narrates it. These are Maṣṣūr ibn al-Mu‘tamir, Ḥuṣayn ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān and ‘Umar ibn Murrah. They narrate it ‘from Sālim from ‘Umar’ without mentioning Ma‘dān, which means that it is graded as munqaṭi‘, i.e. with a missing reporter’. Al-Dāraquṭnī adds: ‘Qatādah is certainly reliable and an addition by a reliable narrator is, in our view, acceptable, but Qatādah is also ‘misleading’, i.e. mudallis. He does not mention that he heard it from Sālim, which makes it probable that he learnt it as reported from Sālim and he reports it as though he learnt it directly from Sālim’.

My view is that this objection should be discounted. Although Qatādah is graded as ‘misleading’, we have mentioned more than once in this commentary that whatever is related by al-Bukhārī and Muslim from misleading reporters attributed to their teachers by the word ‘from’ is considered to have been confirmed through a different route whereby the misleading reporter actually heard the hadith from the one before him. Indeed, Muslim and others mention in most or many cases of this sort the route showing the case of direct communication from one reporter to the next. As we have mentioned in the Notes to our Introduction, it is agreed that a narration by a ‘misleading’ reporter ‘from’ another narrator is unacceptable as valid evidence. We have no doubt that Muslim knew this rule and was aware that Qatādah was misleading. Had he not confirmed that he actually heard the hadith from his predecessor in the chain, he would not have accepted the hadith.

Be that as it may, Qatādah’s status as misleading does not mean mentioning Ma‘dān where he is not to be mentioned. What is feared from a misleading narrator is to omit some narrators. A misleading narrator does not add a narrator where he is not mentioned. Such addition is done only by a liar who boasts about his falsehood. The mention of Ma‘dān in this chain of transmission is an addition by a reliable narrator, and as such it must be accepted. It is amazing that al-Dāraqūṭnī (may God bestow mercy on him) includes under ‘misleading’ a situation that means the invention of a narrator who has no mention, and attributing it to someone like Qatādah, whose integrity, memorization and knowledge are of the highest standard. It is to God we pray to grant us success.

  - i. The problem in this case arises when a woman dies, leaving behind her husband and full brothers and half brothers through her mother. According to Verse 12 in Surah 4, Women, the husband takes one half of the estate, and the half brothers and sisters take a combined share of one-third. This leaves a combined share of one-sixth to the full brothers and sisters. Thus the half brothers and sisters take more than the full brothers and sisters. An actual case took place during ‘Umar’s reign and the full brothers complained to him. They said: ‘Suppose our father was an inanimate object, we still have the same mother’. ‘Umar accepted their argument and made them all equal. This case is known in the Islamic law of inheritance as the ‘Umarī or the shared-out case.

LOST ARTICLES ARE NOT TO BE SOUGHT AFTER IN THE MOSQUE

[1052–79]. (Dār al-Salām 1153) Abū al-Tāhir Aḥmad ibn ‘Amr narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ibn Wahb narrated; from Ḥaywah; from Muhammad ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān; from Abū ‘Abdullāh, Shaddād ibn al-Hād’s mawla, that he heard Abū Hurayrah say: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘If you hear someone seeking something he lost in the mosque, say: “May God not return it to you”. Mosques are not built for such a purpose’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الطَّاهِرِ أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو، حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، عَنْ حَيَّوَةَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ، مَوْلَى

[1053–80]. (Dār al-Salām 1155) Ḥajjāj ibn al-Shā‘ir narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated; al-Thawrī reported; from ‘Alqamah ibn Marthad; from Sulaymān ibn Buraydah; from his father; that a man enquired in the mosque saying: ‘Who was the one calling out about the red camel?’ The Prophet said: ‘May you not find it. Mosques are built for their own purpose’.

[1054–81]. (Dār al-Salām 1156) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Wakī‘ narrated; from Abū Sinān; from ‘Alqamah ibn Marthad; from Sulaymān ibn Buraydah; from his father that ‘When the Prophet finished the prayer, a man stood up and said: “Who was the one calling out about the red camel?” The Prophet said: “May you not find it. Mosques are built for their own purpose”’.

[1055–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1157 and 1158) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated; Jarīr narrated; from Muhammad ibn Shaybah; from ‘Alqamah ibn Marthad; from Ibn Buraydah; from his father: he said: ‘A bedouin came after the Prophet had finished the Fajr Prayer. He put his head through the door of the mosque ... he mentioned the same as the previous two narrations’.

Muslim said: He is Shaybah ibn Na‘āmah, Abū Na‘āmah. Mis‘ar, Hushaym and Jarīr narrated from him. He belonged to Kufah.

قَالَ مُسْلِمٌ هُوَ شَيْبَةُ بْنُ نَعَامَةَ أَبُو نَعَامَةَ، رَوَى عَنْهُ مِسْعَرٌ وَهَشِيمٌ وَجَرِيرٌ، وَغَيْرُهُمْ مِنَ الْكُوفِيِّينَ.

Text Explanation

These hadiths make clear that whatever is lost must not be sought after in the mosque. Similar activities are also covered by this restriction, such as selling, buying, renting and leasing, and similar contracts. Moreover, raising one’s voice in the mosque is discouraged, and Qādī ‘Iyāḍ mentions that Mālik and a number of scholars say that it is reprehensible to raise one’s voice in the mosque, whether for education or any other purpose. Abū Ḥanīfah and Muhammad ibn Maslamah, a disciple of Mālik, permit raising one’s voice in the mosque in education, dispute or other matters people need, because the mosque is the place where they gather and they need that.

The Prophet says that ‘mosques are built for their own purpose’. This means they are built for extolling God’s praises, prayer, education, discussion of what is beneficial, etc. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ says:

The hadith is taken as evidence that manual work, such as tailoring and dress-making, is not allowed in mosques ... . Some scholars even disallow teaching children in the mosque ... . Some of our teachers say that what is not allowed of people’s trades is whatever yields benefit to individuals or is pursued as a means to earn money. A mosque is not to be used as a shop. Trades and professions that yield their benefit to Muslims generally, in their faith, such as straightening spears and mending jihad equipment, and similar things that constitute no disrespect to the mosque may be done ... . Some report that there is a difference of opinion about teaching children in mosques.

The Prophet responded to the man in the mosque enquiring about the red camel by saying: ‘May you not find it’. He also instructed us to say the same. This is a sort of punishment to such a person for his disobedience. Therefore, the one who hears someone in the mosque seeking what he has lost should say as the Prophet said: ‘May you not find it. Mosques are built for their own purpose’, but God knows best.

MAKING AN ERROR IN PRAYER

[1056–82]. (Dār al-Salām 1159) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> he said: I read out to Mālik; from Ibn Shihāb; from Abū Salamah ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘When any of you stands up praying, Satan comes to confuse him. This, so he does not know how much of his prayer he has done. When any of you finds yourself in such a situation, do two prostrations whilst sitting’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ قَرَأْتُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «إِنْ أَحَدُكُمْ إِذَا قَامَ يَصَلِّي جَاءَهُ الشَّيْطَانُ فَلَبَسَ عَلَيْهِ، حَتَّى لَا يَدْرِي كَمْ صَلَّى. فَإِذَا وَجَدَ ذَلِكَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيْنِ وَهُوَ جَالِسٌ».

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1160) ‘Amr al-Nāqid and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me: both said: Sufyān (who is Ibn ‘Uyaynah) narrated [H]. Also, Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd<sup>ii</sup> and Muhammad ibn Rumḥ narrated; from al-Layth ibn Sa‘d; both from al-Zuhrī, with the same chain of transmission: the same.

حَدَّثَنِي عَمْرُو النَّاقِدُ وَزُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ (وَهُوَ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ)، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ، عَنِ اللَّيْثِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، كِلَاهُمَا عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، بِهَذَا الْإِسْنَادِ: نَحْوَهُ.

[1057–83]. (Dār al-Salām 1161) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated:<sup>i</sup> Mu‘ādh ibn Hishām narrated; my father narrated to me; from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr; Abū Salamah ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān narrated; that Abū Hurayrah narrated to them; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘When Satan hears the call to prayer [i.e. adhān], he moves away, making a farting noise, so that he does not hear the caller. When he finishes, Satan comes back. When Satan hears the prayer announcement [i.e. iqāmah], he moves away. When the announcement is finished, he comes back stepping between man and himself, saying to him: remember this; remember that, which the man did not otherwise remember. The man would then find himself unable to remember how much of his prayer he had done. If any of you cannot remember how much prayer you have done, do two prostrations whilst sitting’.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى، حَدَّثَنَا مُعَاذُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ، حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو سَلَمَةَ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، أَنَّ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ حَدَّثَهُمْ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «إِذَا نُودِيَ بِالْأَذَانِ أَذْبَرَ الشَّيْطَانُ لَهُ ضُرَاطَ حَتَّى لَا يَسْمَعَ الْأَذَانَ. فَإِذَا قُضِيَ الْأَذَانُ أَقْبَلَ، فَإِذَا ثُوبَ بِهَا أَذْبَرَ. فَإِذَا قُضِيَ التَّوْبُ أَقْبَلَ يُخْطِرُ بَيْنَ الْمَرْءِ وَنَفْسِهِ، يَقُولُ أَذْكَرُ كَذَا، أَذْكَرُ كَذَا، لِمَا لَمْ يَكُنْ يَذْكُرُ. حَتَّى يَظُلَّ الرَّجُلُ إِنْ يَدْرِي كَمْ صَلَّى، فَإِذَا لَمْ يَذْكُرْ أَحَدُكُمْ كَمْ صَلَّى، فَلْيَسْجُدْ سَجْدَتَيْنِ وَهُوَ جَالِسٌ».

[1058–84]. (Dār al-Salām 1162) Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā narrated to me: Ibn Wahb narrated; ‘Amr reported to me; from ‘Abd Rabbih ibn Sa‘īd; from ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-A‘raj; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘When the prayer announcement [i.e. iqāmah] is made, Satan moves away, making a farting noise ...’. He gave a similar narration, adding: ‘He cheers him and gives him hopes, reminding him of things to do with his affairs that otherwise he was oblivious to’.

[1059–85]. (Dār al-Salām 1163) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> he said: I read out to Mālik; from Ibn Shihāb; from ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-A‘raj; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Buḥaynah; he said: ‘God’s Messenger led us in a prayer. When he completed two rak‘ahs of some prayer, he stood up without sitting [for tashahhud]. The people rose with him. When he completed his prayer and we were expecting him to finish with salām, he said Allāhu akbar, and offered two prostrations, while seated, before finishing. He then finished with salām’.

[1060–86]. (Dār al-Salām 1164) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated: Layth narrated [H]. Also, Ibn Rumḥ narrated; Layth reported; from Ibn Shihāb; from al-A‘raj; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Buḥaynah al-Asdī, the ally of the ‘Abd al-Muṭṭalib clan, that ‘In a Zuḥr Prayer, God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) stood up when he had to sit. When he completed his prayer, he prostrated himself twice, saying Allāhu akbar before each prostration, as he was seated, before finishing with salām. The people prostrated themselves with him. This was for making up the sitting he had forgotten’.

[1061–87]. (Dār al-Salām 1165) Abū al-Rabī‘ al-Zahrānī narrated: Hammād narrated; Yaḥyā ibn Sa‘īd narrated; from ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-A‘raj; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Mālīk ibn Buḥaynah al-Azdī; that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) stood up after the second rak‘ah of his prayer, when he needed to sit, and continued his prayer. When he completed his prayer, he prostrated himself before finishing. He then finished with salām’.

[1062–88]. (Dār al-Salām 1166) Muhammad ibn Aḥmad ibn Abi Khalaf narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Mūsā ibn Dāwūd; Sulaymān ibn Bilāl narrated; from Zayd ibn Aslam; from ‘Aṭā’ ibn Yasār; from Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī: ‘If any of you has doubts about his prayer, and does not know how much of it he has completed: and whether it is three or four rak‘ahs; he should remove the doubt, complete [his prayer] on the basis of what he is certain of and then add two prostrations before finishing with salām. If this means that he prayed five rak‘ahs, they [i.e. the two prostrations] make his prayers even. And if he has simply completed four rak‘ahs, they serve to spite Satan’.

When he said the salām, people said: “Messenger of God, has something happened concerning the prayer?” He said: “What about?” They said: “You prayed such-and-such”. He bent his legs and faced the qiblah, and performed two prostrations and said the salām. He then turned to face us and said: “Had anything happened concerning the prayer, I would have told you about it. I am only human, and I forget like you forget. If I forget, remind me. When any of you has doubts about his prayer, let him try to determine what is correct and act on it, then he should do two prostrations”’.

He then said Allāhu akbar then prostrated himself; then said Allāhu akbar then sat up, then said Allāhu akbar and prostrated himself; then said Allāhu akbar and sat up’.

He added: ‘And I was told from ‘Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn that he said: “and finished with salām”’.

He said: “Either one did happen, Messenger of God”. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) turned to the people and asked: “Is Dhūl-Yadayn right?” They said: “Yes, Messenger of God”. ### Text Explanation

Imam Abū ‘Abdullāh Muhammad ibn ‘Alī al-Māzarī said:

There are essentially five hadiths in this chapter: (1) Abū Hurayrah’s hadith concerning a person who doubts how much of the prayer had been done. The hadith requires doing two prostrations, without specifying at which point. (2) Abū Sa‘īd’s hadith concerning doubt, and it requires doing two prostrations before one finishes the prayer with salām. (3) Ibn Mas‘ūd’s hadith which mentions doing a fifth rak‘ah and mentions that the Prophet did the prostrations after the salām. (4) Dhūl-Yadayn’s hadith, which mentions finishing a four-rak‘ah prayer after completing only two rak‘ahs and mentions walking and speaking, as well as prostration after saying the salām. (5) Ibn Buḥaynah’s hadith, which mentions standing up after two rak‘ahs and doing the two prostrations to make up before finishing with salām.

Scholars differ on how to implement all these hadiths. Dāwūd said: ‘No qiyās or analogy may be applied. The hadiths should be applied in the contexts they specify’. Aḥmad agrees with Dāwūd on this point regarding these specific prayers, but disagrees with him on others. Aḥmad says that in all other cases, the prostrations for error should be done before the salām.

Other scholars who approve of analogy give different views. Some of them say that the worshipper has the choice in every error: he may do his prostrations before or after the salām. Abū Ḥanīfah said that the basic principle is that these prostrations are done after the salām. He interprets some of the hadiths on this basis. Al-Shāfiʿī said that the basic principle is to do these prostrations before the salām, and he does not accept the other hadiths. Mālik said that if the error is one of addition to the prayer, the prostrations should be after the salām, and if the error is one of omission, they are done before it. Al-Shāfiʿī said that in the hadith narrated by Abū Saʿīd, the Prophet said that if one has done five rakʿahs the prostrations would make the prayer even, i.e. of an even number. He states that the prostrations are done before the salām, and permit the addition. What is permitted is like what is in existence. He understands Ibn Masʿūd's narration, concerning doing a fifth rakʿah and prostrating after the salām, as due to the fact that the Prophet only knew of the error after he had done the salām. Had he realized it before it, he would have done the prostrations before the salām. Also, he understands Dhūl-Yadayn's narration as referring to a prayer in which an error took place and the Prophet overlooked prostrating before the salām. He, therefore, did these prostrations after it.

Al-Māzarī's explanation of these hadiths reflects fine insight. The view which is strongest in this case is Mālik's, followed by al-Shāfiʿī's. Al-Shāfiʿī is also reported to have expressed the same view as Mālik, which gives the worshipper the choice. According to Mālik's view, if during one prayer two errors take place, one of addition and one of omission, the worshipper should do the prostrations before the salām. Qāḍī ʿIyāḍ and a number of Shāfiʿī scholars said: 'There is no disagreement between these different scholars and others as well that if a worshipper does the two compensatory prostrations before or after the salām, to correct an addition or make up for an omission, it is acceptable. Their difference is regarding which is preferable', but God knows best. The majority of scholars say that if a worshipper commits two or more errors in one prayer, two prostrations are enough to make up for all. This is the view of al-Shāfiʿī, Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and Aḥmad as well as the majority of the Tābiʿīn scholars. Ibn Abū Laylā, however, said that the worshipper should do two prostrations for every error. A hadith mentions this, but it lacks authenticity.

Hadith No. 1057 mentions that Satan comes to a person who is offering his prayer and starts creating doubts in his mind about how much of it he has done. The hadith mentions that when the prayer is called, Satan moves away. We explained this hadith in Volume 3, where it occurs in Chapter 8 of the Book of Prayer, under hadith No. 686. In this hadith, the Prophet tells us that a person who has doubts about how much of his prayer he has completed ‘should do two prostrations when sitting down’. Scholars differ as to what is required. Al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī and a number of the earlier scholars take the hadith at face value and say that a worshipper who has doubts and cannot determine whether he had added to, or omitted from, his prayer needs only to do two prostrations while sitting. Al-Shaʿbī, al-Awzāʿī and a large number of early scholars say that a person who does not know how much of his prayer he has completed must repeat his prayer, time after time, until he is certain of his action. Some of them say he should repeat his prayer three times. If he still doubts in the fourth, he need not further repeat his prayer. Mālik, al-Shāfiʿī, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars say that a person who doubts whether, for instance, he prayed three or four rakʿahs should act on the basis of what he is certain. In this case, he should do the fourth rakʿah and add two prostrations to make up for his error. This is based on hadith No. 1062 narrated by Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī: ‘If any of you has doubts about his prayer, and does not know how much of it he has completed: and whether it is three or four rakʿahs; he should complete it on the basis of what he is certain of and then add two prostrations before finishing with salām. If this means that he prayed five rakʿahs, they [i.e. the two prostrations] make his prayers even. And if he has simply completed four rakʿahs, they serve to spite Satan’.

Scholars said that this hadith clearly states that one must act on the basis of what is certain. It is explanatory of the other hadith narrated by Abū Hurayrah. Therefore, Abū Hurayrah's hadith is interpreted on its basis. As this hadith is definitive, it must be acted upon. Moreover, this hadith narrated by Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī is consistent with Islamic rules that deal with doubt in different cases, such as doubt about invalidating one's ablution, inheritance from a lost person, etc. but God knows best.

Hadith No. 1059, narrated by Ibn Buḥaynah mentions: 'God's Messenger led us in a prayer. When he completed two rak'ahs of some prayer, he stood up without sitting [for tashahhud]. The people rose with him. When he completed his prayer and we were expecting him to finish with salām, he said Allāhu akbar, and offered two prostrations, while seated, before finishing. He then finished with salām'.

This hadith provides several very useful points: (1) The prostrations to make up for error in prayer are performed before finishing with salām, either in all cases as al-Shāfi'ī says, or in errors of omission as Mālik says. (2) The first tashahhud and sitting down to say it are neither of the essentials nor the duties of prayer. Had they been duties, they would not be made up through offering prostrations, just like nothing makes up bowing or prostration that are duties in each rak'ah. This is the view of Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfi'ī. Aḥmad and a small number of scholars say that they are duties, and if one omits them by error, the prostrations make up for them, according to the apparent meaning of the hadith. (3) The compensatory prostrations should be preceded by saying Allāhu akbar. This is unanimously agreed upon. However, scholars differ if these prostrations are done after the salām: in this case, does the worshipper resume prayer and do another tashahhud before finishing with another salām? The correct view of our school is that the worshipper finishes with another salām, but does not say another tashahhud. The same is our correct view regarding the prostration during a Qur'anic recitation and the funeral prayer: salām is done but not tashahhud. Mālik says that the worshipper says a new tashahhud and another salām when he does the prostrations after the first salām. He gives two views about saying the salām aloud as is the case with other prayers or not. Saying salām after the compensatory prostrations is confirmed by the hadiths narrated by ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd and Dhūl-Yadayn, but no hadith stating doing a tashahhud is confirmed. It should also be clear that the majority of scholars agree that an error in voluntary prayers is corrected by offering two prostrations in the same way as obligatory prayers. Ibn Sīrīn and Qatādah say that no such make up is required in voluntary prayers. This is also an unsupported and strange view attributed to al-Shāfi‘ī.

In hadith No. 1062, narrated by Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī, the Prophet says that in the case of doubt one acts on the basis of what is certain, then ‘he does two prostrations before he finishes with salām’. This hadith is cited as clear evidence in support of al-Shāfi‘ī’s view that the compensatory prostrations for either addition or omission are performed before one finishes the prayer with salām. This is already stated in al-Māzari’s opening comments. Some Mālikī scholars objected on two counts: the first is that whereby most scholars who are well versed in Hadith relate it as a mursal, i.e. of an incomplete chain of transmission. This objection is inadmissible on two counts: the first is that the majority of good memorizers of hadiths narrate it as having a complete chain. As such, that one of them gives it in an incomplete chain of transmission does not detract from its authenticity, because the majority learnt what he did not learn, and they are reliable and meticulous Hadith scholars. The second argument is that Mālik considers a mursal hadith to be acceptable as evidence. As such, it should be accepted by them.

In the same hadith, the Prophet describes the compensatory prostrations as something done to ‘spite Satan’. The meaning is that Satan confuses a worshipper and tries to make his prayer deficient or spoilt, but God provides a way for the worshipper to both make good his prayer and to humiliate Satan, thereby rendering his attempt worthless. Thus, man’s prayer is rendered complete in obedience of God’s order, which was not fulfilled by Satan when he refused to prostrate himself as God commanded him.

In hadith No. 1064, the Prophet is reported to have done the two prostrations and then finished with salām. This serves as evidence in support of the view that salām should be done again if a person performs the two compensatory prostrations after having said the salām. We have already mentioned the difference of views on this point. In the same hadith the Prophet tells his Companions that had something happened concerning the prayer, he would have informed them of it. This is in response to their question about whether something had happened because the prayer was not in its usual form. The Prophet's statement makes clear that an explanation should be given when needed, and it should not be delayed.

Then the Prophet said: 'I am only human, and I forget like you forget. If I forget, remind me'. This shows that the Prophet might forget something related to Islamic rules. This is the view of the majority of scholars, and it is an apparent meaning of statements in the Qur'an and the hadiths. Scholars agree that he is not left with this forgetfulness, but rather that God informs him of it. The majority of scholars say that it is a condition that he would be alerted to at the time, when the event was still fresh and there was no delay. A number of scholars, however, consider that the alert to the error resulting from forgetting may be delayed up to the end of his life. This view is chosen by Imam al-Haramayn. A group of scholars say that the Prophet is not liable to forget in actions that pertain to delivering his message or in acts of worship. They are unanimous that forgetting does not apply, and indeed is impossible, to the Prophet in statements of delivering his message. They reply to the apparent cases of this. The scholar Abū Ishāq al-Isfarā'īnī leans towards this view. The first view is the correct one, because forgetting is not contrary to prophethood. Since the Prophet would not be left without being made aware of it, such forgetting brings some benefit, which is to outline the rules that apply to one who forgets. Qādī 'Iyāḍ said:

Scholars differ as to whether forgetting an action, habit or thought applies to the Prophet in matters unrelated to the delivery of the message and the rulings of Islam. The majority say that it applies to him. As for forgetting in the verbal delivery of his message, scholars are unanimous that it did not apply to him; all are unanimous that he did not do so deliberately. The Prophet might have said other statements relating to ordinary matters, not to the delivery of God's message, which were unrelated to religious rulings, matters of the Day of Judgement, or to revelations. In all these, some scholars say that forgetting applies to him, because it would have led to no negative result.

What is undoubtedly right is the view of those scholars who say that all this does not apply to prophets in all matters, and that no mistake applies to them in any report, neither deliberately nor through oversight; neither in health nor in illness; neither in happiness nor in anger. It is sufficient to remember that the life of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), his statements and actions have been recorded and carefully studied generation after generation. It is there to be pursued by followers and opponents, believers and doubters. Yet there is not a single case of correcting a verbal error, or acknowledgement of a word being unwittingly uttered. Had any of this taken place, it would have been reported, just like his oversight in prayer, the occasion of missing a prayer by oversleeping, his retraction of his view concerning the pollination of date trees and encamping at the nearest well at Badr. All these were accurately reported, as was his statement: 'By God, when I say an oath and then realize that something different is better, I will do what is better and atone for my oath'. Prophets are not immune to error and oversight regarding views on matters of this world, but God knows best.

The Prophet tells his Companions: 'If I forget, remind me'. This is an order to a follower to remind his leader when the leader forgets. At the end of the hadith, the Prophet said: 'When any of you has doubts about his prayer, let him try to determine what is correct and act on it, then he should do two prostrations'. This ruling is stated in slightly different wordings in the hadiths in this chapter. In the next six hadiths, Nos 1065–1070, the Prophet is also quoted to have said: 'Let him think which is most likely to be correct', and 'Let him think which he feels to be correct'. These statements provide evidence in support of the view of Imam Abū Ḥanīfah and the Kūfī scholars who agree with him that a person who doubts how many rak'ahs of prayer he has completed, should think hard and act on the basis of what he feels to be correct. He is not required to act on the basis of the lesser number, as it is certain, and complete what is left. The apparent meaning of this hadith supports this view. However, they then differ. Abū Ḥanīfah, Mālik and some other scholars say that this applies to one who experiences doubts time after time. Others should act on the basis of what is certain. Other scholars say this hadith should be taken as a general statement.

Al-Shāfi'ī and the majority of scholars maintain that a worshipper who doubts, say, whether he completed three or four rak'ahs must act on the basis of what is certain, which is the lesser number, and complete what is left and add the compensatory prostrations. They cite in evidence the hadith narrated by Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī, No. 1062, which quotes the Prophet: 'He should remove the doubt, complete [his prayer] on the basis of what he is certain of and then add two prostrations before finishing with salām. If this means that he prayed five rak'ahs, they [i.e. the two prostrations] make his prayers even. And if he has simply completed four rak'ahs, they serve to spite Satan'. This hadith states a clear requirement of acting on the basis of what is certain. These scholars explain the advice to think and determine, which is included in the hadith narrated by Ibn Mas'ūd as meaning acting on the basis of certainty. Thus, the hadith means trying to determine what is correct and acting on it. This is what the Prophet made clear in the hadith narrated by Abū Sa'īd and other hadiths. The Ḥanafī scholars say that Abū Sa'īd's hadith does not contradict what we say, because it speaks of doubt, which means a situation of two equal probabilities. A person who doubts and cannot give more weight to either side is required, according to the unanimous ruling, to act on the basis of the lesser number. This is different from the case of one who thinks that most probably he completed four rak'ahs. In response we say that interpreting doubt as meaning equal probabilities is a new definition stated by scholars of legal theory. Linguistically, all vacillation between the presence and absence of something is called doubt, whether the case is of equal probability or one of a stronger and weaker probability. The hadith should be interpreted in its linguistic meaning, unless a religious or traditional fact applies to it. It may not be interpreted in the light of subsequent terminology and usage, but God knows best.

Adding an extra rak'ah?

Hadith No. 1071, narrated by 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd, says: 'The Prophet prayed Zuhr in five rak'ahs. When he said the salām, some people asked: "Has the prayer been increased?" He said: "How is that?" They said: "You have prayed five [rak'ahs]". He prostrated himself twice'. This hadith provides evidence in support of the view of Mālik, al-Shāfi'ī, Aḥmad and the majority of early and later scholars that the prayer of a person who adds a rak'ah out of forgetfulness is not rendered invalid. If he learns of this after he has finished with salām, his prayer is considered correct and valid. He needs to do two compensatory prostrations if he knows of his error shortly after his salām. If he learns of his error after some time, the more correct view of our school is that he does not need to do any compensatory prostrations. If he remembers during his prayer, before he says the salām, he goes back to sitting down from whatever position he was in, whether standing, bowing or prostrating. He says the tashahhud and finishes with salām. Should the compensatory prostrations be done before or after the salām? This is subject to the different views we have already outlined.

Abū Ḥanīfah and the scholars of Kufah (may God be pleased with them) said: If a person forgets and adds a rak'ah to his prayer, his prayer is invalidated and he must repeat it. Abū Ḥanīfah also said: If he says the tashahhud after the fourth rak'ah and then adds a fifth, he should add a sixth rak'ah to deliver the prayer in an even number of rak'ahs. His prayer thus becomes voluntary. This is based on his original view that the salām is not obligatory, and that it removes from prayer whatever does not fit with it, and that an odd rak'ah is not a prayer. He adds that if the worshipper did not say the tashahhud after the fourth rak'ah, his prayer is invalid, because sitting down for a time equal to saying the tashahhud is obligatory and the worshipper in this case does not do it until after he has done the fifth rak'ah. This hadith, No. 1071, however, refutes all that they say. The hadith does not mention that the Prophet (peace be upon him) returned in the fifth rak'ah, or that he added another rak'ah to make his prayer in an even number of rak'ahs. He simply remembered after he had said the salām. As such, the hadith provides a counter argument in support of the view of the majority of scholars.

The view of al-Shāfi'ī and scholars who agree with him is that an error of increase in prayer, whether much or little, due to forgetfulness, does not invalidate the prayer, provided that the increase is of the same type of the prayer. This means that a worshipper who adds a bow or a prostration or a rak'ah or several rak'ahs, due to forgetfulness, still finds his prayer valid. However, it is desirable, not obligatory, that he should do the compensatory prostrations.

The Mālikī view is explained by Qādī 'Iyād, who says: 'If a worshipper adds less than half of the prayer he is offering, his prayer is valid and he should do the compensatory prostrations. If he adds half of the prayer or more, some of Mālik's disciples consider the prayer invalid. This is the view of Muṭarrif and Ibn al-Qāsim. Some say that if the worshipper adds two rak'ahs, his prayer is invalid, but if he adds one, his prayer is valid. This is the view of 'Abd al-Malik and others. Some Mālikī scholars say that the prayer is not invalidated at all by an addition due to forgetfulness. This view is reported to have been expressed by Mālik (may God bestow mercy on him), but God knows best'.

In hadith No. 1073, 'Alqamah asks the narrator, Ibrāhīm ibn Suwayd, 'And you also, one-eyed, say so?' This shows that it is permissible to say such things to a relative, student or disciple, provided that the addressed person is not upset by it.

Hadith No. 1075 says: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) offered the prayer, and he added or omitted. People said: "Messenger of God, has the prayer been increased?" He said: "I am only human like you. I forget like you do. If any of you forgets, let him do two prostrations, while sitting". Then God's Messenger (peace be upon him) turned round and did two prostrations'. This text appears at first sight to be problematic, because it gives the impression that the Prophet said 'I am only human ...' after he was reminded that he either added or omitted in the prayer, and before doing the compensatory prostrations, and that he only did the prostrations after saying this. The rule is that when the imam is reminded or remembers, he does the prostrations, without speaking or doing anything that is not part of the prayer.

The answer is in three ways: (1) The word, 'then,' in the last sentence 'Then God's Messenger turned round and did two prostrations', does not signify the sequence of events. It is merely an article of conjunction. The sentence does not mean that the turning round and the prostrations took place after the speech. Indeed, they were before it. What confirms this explanation is the first narration of Ibn Mas'ūd's hadith, which has the same chain of transmission. This narration is given above in hadith No. 1064 as follows: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed (Ibrāhīm said: he added or omitted). When he said the salām, people said: "Messenger of God, has something happened concerning the prayer?" He said: "What about?" They said: "You prayed such-and-such". He bent his legs and faced the qiblah, and performed two prostrations and said the salām. He then turned to face us and said: "Had anything happened concerning the prayer, I would have told you about it. I am only human, and I forget like you forget. If I forget, remind me. When any of you has doubts about his prayer, let him try to determine what is correct and act on it, then he should do two prostrations"'. This narration is clear that the Prophet's turning and prostration were before he spoke to his Companions. Therefore, the other narration should be understood in the light of this one, not the reverse, because thus the two narrations are consistent with the rulings. (2) The event mentioned in both versions of the hadith might have happened before ordinary speech was made forbidden in prayer. (3) Although he spoke deliberately after the salām, this does not matter. He can still do his compensatory prostrations. This is according to one of the two views our scholars mention. Under this interpretation, the compensatory prostrations do not constitute a return to the prayer. According to this view, if the worshipper's ablution is invalidated during the compensatory prostrations, his original prayer remains valid.

The other view, which is more correct according to our school, is that when one does the compensatory prostrations, one returns to the prayer. The prayer is invalidated if ablution is invalidated, just as prayer is also invalidated by speech and all other things that may not be done during it, but God knows best.

In hadith No. 1080, when the Prophet finished a four-rak'ah prayer after having completed only two rak'ahs, 'Dhul-Yadayn stood up ...', and in the next two hadiths, the man is referred to as 'a man from the Sulaym clan'. In hadith No. 1083, 'a man called al-Khirkbāq who had long arms', and in the hadith No. 1084, 'a man with long arms ...'. All these hadiths refer to the same man, al-Khirkbāq ibn 'Amr, who was given the nickname, Dhul-Yadayn, because he had long arms.

On how many occasions?

Hadith No. 1080 mentions that it was the 'Aṣr Prayer when the Prophet finished the prayer after doing only two rak'ahs and Dhul-Yadayn stood up, but in the next hadith, Zuhr Prayer is mentioned. Scrupulous scholars assert that these were two different occasions.

Hadith No. 1083, narrated by 'Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn, mentions: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed the 'Aṣr Prayer and finished with salām after three rak'ahs, and entered his home. A man went up to him, called al-Khirkbāq who had long arms. He said: Messenger of God, and told him what he did. The Prophet came out looking angry and dragging his robe ... '. In the next hadith, also narrated by 'Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) finished the prayer with salām after three rak'ahs, when he was praying 'Aṣr. He then stood up and entered his home. A man with long arms stood up and said: "Has the prayer been shortened, Messenger of God?"' This hadith speaks about a third occasion, on a different day.

In hadith No. 1080, Dhūl-Yadayn asked the Prophet: 'Has the prayer been shortened or have you forgotten?' The Prophet answered: 'Neither of this happened'. Scholars explain this answer from the Prophet in two ways. The first is that it is a negation of the total, meaning 'all this did not happen', which does not negate that one of them might have happened. The other interpretation, which is the right one, is that it means: I think that neither the one nor the other took place. Indeed, I think that I have completed the full prayer in four rak'ahs. What confirms that this is the right interpretation, and that the hadith does not allow another, is that in some narrations entered by al-Bukhārī, the Prophet's answer is given as: 'It has not been shortened and I have not forgotten'. Thus, both possibilities are negated.

In hadith No. 1083, the Prophet is said to have come back looking angry and dragging his robe. This indicates that the Prophet was greatly preoccupied with the question of the prayer and he did not wait to put on his robe properly.

In hadith No. 1082, the Prophet is said to have finished the prayer after two rak'ahs. This is how it is entered in some original manuscripts. This is the clear meaning that is consistent with the other narrations. In some manuscripts, it is given as 'between the two rak'ahs', which is also correct, as it means between the second and the third rak'ahs.

Important points

The hadith mentioning Dhūl-Yadayn and his reminder highlights some very important points and rules. The first of these is that prophets may forget something as they attend to some business or to an act of worship. If they forget, they should be reminded, not left without a reminder. We have already discussed this point in this chapter.

Another point is that if one person claims something to have happened in the presence of several other people, and what he claims is known to them, they should also be asked about it. His claim is not to be taken without verification or corroboration.

A third point confirms that errors in prayer are corrected by offering additional prostration, and this consists of offering two prostrations, each of them preceded by Allāhu akbar, and they are in the same form as the prostration in prayer. This is derived from the fact that the Prophet mentioned the prostration generally. Had it been different from the prostration in prayer, he would have made that clear. These prostrations are followed by salām, but not by tashahhud. The compensatory prostrations are done after the salām if the error is one of addition to the prayer. We mentioned that al-Shāfiʿī explains this saying that the delay of the prostrations was due to forgetfulness and was not deliberate.

A further point is that speech by someone who forgets the prayer and thinks that he is not still in prayer does not invalidate it. This is the view expressed by the majority of scholars of earlier and later generations. It is stated by Ibn ʿAbbās, ʿAbdullāh ibn al-Zubayr and his brother ʿUrwah, ʿAṭāʾ, al-Ḥasan, al-Shaʿbī, Qatādah, al-Awzāʿī, Mālik, al-Shāfiʿī, Aḥmad and all scholars of Hadith.

On the other hand, Abū Ḥanīfah and his disciples and al-Thawrī, in the more accurate of two reports from him, claim that speech renders the prayer invalid, whether the person concerned speaks forgetting the prayer or in ignorance. They claim that the hadith mentioning Dhūl-Yadayn is abrogated by the hadiths narrated by ʿAbdullāh ibn Masʿūd and Zayd ibn Arqam,<sup>i</sup> basing this argument on the report that Dhūl-Yadayn was killed during the Battle of Badr. They quote this report from al-Zuhri, and as such, his query concerning prayer took place earlier than the Battle of Badr [in Year 2]. They add that this is not precluded by the fact that it is narrated by Abū Hurayrah, who embraced Islam at a later date. A Companion of the Prophet might relate something which he did not attend, if he had heard it from the Prophet or another of the Prophet's Companions. Scholars of our Shāfiʿī School and others reply, giving correct and well-known answers, the best and most accurate of which is that by Abū ʿUmar ibn ʿAbd al-Barr in his book al-Tamhīd. He said:

Their claim that the hadith narrated by Abū Hurayrah was abrogated by the hadith narrated by Ibn Masʿūd is incorrect.

There is no disagreement between scholars of Hadith and the history of the Prophet that Ibn Mas‘ūd’s hadith took place in Makkah after he had returned from Abyssinia, before the migration to Madinah, while the one narrated by Abū Hurayrah concerning Dhūl-Yadayn’s query was in Madinah. Abū Hurayrah adopted Islam during Year 7, which witnessed the Battle of Khaybar. There is no disagreement about this. The hadith narrated by Zayd ibn Arqam does not mention whether it took place before or after Abu Hurayrah’s hadith. However, careful consideration suggests that it was before Abū Hurayrah’s hadith.

Their claim that Abū Hurayrah was not present when the situation pertaining to Dhūl-Yadayn occurred is incorrect. Indeed, his presence is confirmed in the narrations of very reliable scholars. Hadith No. 1078, also related by al-Bukhārī and other scholars, quotes Abū Hurayrah: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) led us in one of the afternoon prayers, either Zuhr or ‘Aṣr, and he finished with salām after two rak‘ahs ...’. The hadith continues relating Dhūl-Yadyan’s query. In hadith No. 1082, Abū Hurayrah says: ‘As I was praying with the Prophet (peace be upon him) the Zuhr Prayer ...’. This hadith is given in other anthologies as ‘As we were praying with the Prophet ...’. Moreover, Dhūl-Yadayn’s query was narrated by ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar, Mu‘āwiyah ibn Ḥudayj, ‘Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn and another Companion of the Prophet called Ibn Mas‘adah. None of them narrated from the Prophet or his other Companions except in later years in Madinah ... . Ibn Mas‘adah is named ‘Abdullāh and is known by the nickname ‘the man of the armies’, and he was well-known among the Prophet’s Companions. He narrated some hadiths.

The claim that Dhūl-Yadayn was killed in the Battle of Badr is wrong. The one who was killed then was known as Dhūl-Shimālayn, as mentioned by Ibn Ishāq and other historians reporting the Prophet’s history. We do not dispute his being killed then. Ibn Ishāq said: ‘Dhūl-Shimālayn’s name is ‘Umayr ibn ‘Amr ibn ‘Ayshān, an ally of the Zuhrah branch of the Quraysh'. This means that Dhūl-Yadayn is different from Dhūl-Shimālayn who was killed in the Battle of Badr. This is proved by the fact that Abū Hurayrah and the others we mentioned were present at the time when Dhūl-Yadayn's query occurred. Other facts also prove it, such as that the speaker, as mentioned by Muslim in his Ṣaḥīḥ belonged to the Sulaym clan who is named in 'Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn's narration as al-Khīrbāq. This means that Dhūl-Yadayn, who witnessed the error in prayer, was from Salamah while Dhūl-Shimālayn, who was killed in Badr was from Khuzā'ah. The two are different in name and tribe. There may be two or three people each of whom is called Dhūl-Yadayn, or Dhūl-Shimālayn, but the one killed in Badr is different from the one who is mentioned in the hadith referring to the error in prayer. This is the view of scholars of Hadith and Fiqh who are renowned for their insight. (In confirmation, Ibn 'Abd al-Barr quotes this view as expressed by Musaddad, adding his chain of transmission.)

The statement by al-Zuhrī that the one referred to in the hadith concerning the error in prayer and who spoke to the Prophet about it was Dhūl-Shimālayn was not confirmed by anyone else. In fact, al-Zuhrī is confused in this particular hadith mentioning Dhūl-Yadayn, and his confusion led to scholars of high standing abandoning his narration of this hadith ... . (Ibn 'Abd al-Barr mentions here how al-Zuhrī's narration is transmitted, showing its confusion in both text and chains of transmission, adding that Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj considered al-Zuhrī's narration wrong.) He then adds:

I do not know of any Hadith scholar who has authored any book about Hadith who accepts al-Zuhrī's narration of Dhul-Yadayn's query. All of them left it out because of its confusion. It is not correctly reported by him, neither in chain of transmission, nor in text. Al-Zuhrī is a great leading scholar of Hadith, but he was human and no human being is immune from error. Perfection belongs only to God. There is something to be left out in what any human being says, with the exception of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him). Therefore, we say that what al-Zuhrī said of Dhūl-Yadayn being killed in the Battle of Badr is left out because we have ascertained that he was wrong on this particular point.

This is a summary of what Ibn ‘Abd al-Barr said about this hadith. He followed it by a clear and thorough explanation of the hadith, unequalled by any other scholar. It provides many useful and important points.

It may be asked: how did Dhūl-Yadayn and the other Companions of the Prophet speak when they were still in prayer? The answer is of two ways: the first is that they were not certain that they were still in prayer. They felt that new legislation might have reduced the prayer from four rak‘ahs to two. Therefore, Dhūl-Yadayn’s question was: ‘Has the prayer been shortened, or have you forgotten?’ The second is that this was a question put to the Prophet, followed by his answer. According to our scholars and to others, such a question and answer to the Prophet do not invalidate prayer. The whole question is well known for that. A version related by Abū Dāwūd with a sound chain of transmission states that the Prophet’s Companions merely signalled with their heads that what Dhūl-Yadayn said was correct. According to this version, they did not speak.

Another question may also be asked: How is it that the Prophet acted on what the people say, and according to your school, a worshipper may not act, with regard to how much of his prayer he has done, on the basis of anyone else’s opinion whether he is the imam or one in the congregation? He must act on the basis of what he himself is certain. The answer is that the Prophet asked them so that he might remember. When they reminded him, he remembered and realized that there was an error. So he acted on the basis of his realization, not merely on the basis of their answer. Had it been permissible to abandon one’s own certainty and act on someone else’s view, Dhul-Yadayn should have done so when the Prophet told him that the prayer was not shortened, nor did he forget.

This hadith also shows that many movements, actions or steps do not invalidate the prayer if done as a result of forgetfulness, just like speech through forgetfulness does not invalidate it. Our scholars express two views on this question: the first and more correct, according to al-Mutawallī, is that none of this invalidates the prayer, as confirmed by this hadith. It is confirmed in Muslim's anthology that the Prophet walked to the tree branch and the first people left the mosque. In another version: 'He went into his home then came out, and the people returned. He then completed what was left of his prayer'. The other view, which is the better known view in our school, is that the prayer is invalidated by such action. This is problematic and providing an interpretation of this hadith on this basis is difficult, but God knows best.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1060 includes 'Abdullāh ibn Buḥaynah al-Asdī, while in the next hadith his name is spelt as 'Abdullāh ibn Mālik ibn Buḥaynah al-Azdī. Both spellings, al-Asdī and al-Azdī, are correct, because they affiliate him to the Azd tribe, and they are Azd Shanū'ah. He is described as 'an ally of the 'Abd al-Muṭṭalib clan'. This is how it occurs in the manuscripts of the Ṣaḥīḥ anthologies of al-Bukhārī and Muslim. However Ibn Sa'd and other historians mention that he was 'an ally of al-Muṭṭalib people', as his grandfather entered into an alliance with al-Muṭṭalib ibn 'Abd Manāf.

When he is mentioned as 'Abdullāh ibn Mālik ibn Buḥaynah, this causes some confusion because it gives the impression that Buḥaynah was his grandmother. This is wrong. 'Abdullāh was the son of Mālik and Buḥaynah as Buḥaynah was Mālik's wife and 'Abdullāh's mother.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1064 goes as follows: 'Uthmān ibn Abī Shaybah, Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: all from Jarīr. 'Uthmān said: Jarīr narrated; from Manṣūr; from Ibrāhīm; from 'Alqamah: 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd said'. All the narrators in this chain are from Kufah, except Ishāq ibn Rāhawayh, the friend of the two brothers, 'Uthman and Abū Bakr, sons of Abī Shaybah. Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm is better known as Ishāq ibn Rāhawayh, which was a nickname of his father.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1072 features: ‘Ibn Numayr narrated: Ibn Idrīs narrated; from al-Ḥasan ibn ‘Ubaydullāh; from Ibrāhīm; from ‘Alqamah’, and the next hadith, No. 1073, has the following chain of transmission: ‘‘Uthmān ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Jarīr narrated; from al-Ḥasan ibn ‘Ubaydullāh; from Ibrāhīm ibn Suwayd’. The chain of transmission of the hadith No. 1075 runs as follows: ‘Minjāb ibn al-Ḥārith al-Tamīmī narrated: Ibn Mushir reported; from al-A‘mash; from Ibrāhīm; from ‘Alqamah; from ‘Abdullāh’. All the narrators in all three chains of transmission are from Kufah.

In hadith No. 1073, Ibrāhīm ibn Suwayd mentions an incident when ‘Alqamah asks him about his error in leading the prayer, calling him ‘one-eyed’. Qādī ‘Iyāḍ said:

Ibrāhīm ibn Yazīd al-Nakha‘ī is different from Ibrāhīm ibn Suwayd al-Nakha‘ī, the one-eyed. Al-Dāwūdī claims that he is Ibrāhīm ibn Yazīd al-Taymī, but this is a mistake, because he is not one-eyed. All three were honourable men from Kufah. Al-Bukhārī said: Ibn Yazīd al-Nakha‘ī al-Kūfī was one-eyed and he studied under ‘Alqamah. Al-Bājī mentioned Ibrāhīm ibn Yazīd al-Nakha‘ī al-Kūfī, the fiqh scholar, and described him as one-eyed. Al-Bukhārī did not describe him as one-eyed, and I have not seen any description of him as such. Ibn Qutaybah mentioned Ibrāhīm al-Nakha‘ī in the list of one-eyed people, which means that it is possible that he meant Ibrāhīm ibn Suwayd, as al-Bukhārī said, and it is also possible that he was Ibrāhīm ibn Yazīd.

The correct thing is that the one who is meant here is Ibrāhīm ibn Suwayd al-Nakha‘ī, the one-eyed, not Ibrāhīm ibn Yazīd al-Nakha‘ī, the famous fiqh scholar.

In hadith No. 1083, one of the narrators is called Abū al-Muhallab. His name is ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn ‘Umar, but it is also said that his name is Mu‘āwiyah ibn ‘Umar or ‘Amr ibn Mu‘āwiyah. All three are mentioned by al-Bukhārī in al-Tārikh, as also mentioned by others. It is further suggested that his name is al-Naḍr ibn ‘Umar al-Juramī al-

Azdī al-Baṣrī. He was one of the famous personalities of the Tābi‘īn generation. He reported from ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, ‘Uthmān ibn ‘Affān, Ubayy ibn Ka‘b and ‘Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn (may God be pleased with them all). He is an uncle of Abū Qilābah who reports this hadith from him.

PROSTRATION DURING QUR'ANIC RECITATION

[1085–103] (Dār al-Salām 1189) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb, ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Sa‘īd and Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> all from Yaḥyā al-Qaṭṭān. Zuhayr said: Yaḥyā ibn Sa‘īd narrated; from ‘Ubaydullāh; he said: Nāfi‘ reported to me; from Ibn ‘Umar; that ‘The Prophet (peace be upon him) would recite the Qur’an. He might recite a surah that includes a prostration and he would prostrate. We prostrated with him, even though some of us might not find a space to place our foreheads [on the floor]’.

Text Explanation

These hadiths confirm that prostration is due upon recitation of certain verses in the Qur’an, and scholars are unanimous that such prostration is confirmed. According to our Shāfi‘ī School, and to the majority of scholars, it is a sunnah, i.e. recommended, not obligatory. Abū Ḥanīfah considers it a duty, but not obligatory, i.e. wājib but not fard, as his terminology distinguishes between the two. It is a sunnah for the reciter and the one who is listening to his recitation. It is also desirable for the one who hears the recitation even though he is not listening to it, but this is not as confirmed a sunnah as that which pertains to the one who is listening attentively. In hadith No. 1086, the Prophet ‘would prostrate, leading us’. This has the same meaning as the hadith before it which states that the Prophet’s Companions prostrated themselves with him.

Scholars say: If a listener prostrates himself when someone else is reciting, and they are not in prayer, their prostrations are not related. The listener may rise before the reciter, or may take longer in prostration. The listener may prostrate himself even if the reciter does not do so, whether the reciter has done his ablution, i.e. wuḍū’, or not, and whether he is a man, woman or child. Our scholars express a weaker view that the listener does not prostrate when the reciter is a child, a man without ablution, or an unbeliever. The correct view is the first one.

In hadith No. 1087, the Prophet is said to have recited Surah 53, The Star, which ends with the verse: 'Prostrate yourselves before God and worship Him alone'. (53: 62) The hadith mentions that the Prophet and all those with him prostrated themselves, except for an old man who took a handful of pebbles or dust and placed his forehead on it saying that it was enough for him. 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd, the Prophet's Companion narrating the hadith said that he later saw him killed as an unbeliever. This old man was Umayyah ibn Khalaf, and he was killed in the Battle of Badr. He never embraced Islam. The hadith mentions that all those with the Prophet prostrated themselves. This means that all who attended his recitation, whether Muslims or idolaters, human or jinn, did so.

This is stated by Ibn 'Abbās and others and gave the rise to the rumour that the people of Makkah had embraced Islam. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'According to Ibn Mas'ūd, the reason for their prostration was that it was the first verse revealed requiring a prostration. As for what some people have claimed that the Prophet inadvertently uttered words praising the deities worshipped by idolaters, this is absolutely false. Nothing of it is considered to be correct, either logically or with regard to authentic reporting. To praise a deity other than God Almighty is gross blasphemy and it cannot be attributed to God's Messenger, whether deliberately or inadvertently. It cannot be uttered by Satan through the Prophet's tongue, and Satan is never given such power, but God knows best'.

Hadith No. 1088 mentions: 'He asked Zayd ibn Thābit about reciting the Qur'an when one is praying with the imam. He said: "No recitation is allowed with the imam in any case. He claimed that he recited to God's Messenger (peace be upon him) the surah starting with, 'By the star as it falls', but did not prostrate himself".' The answer, 'No recitation is allowed with the imam in any case', is taken by Abū Ḥanīfah and other scholars who share his view that no recitation is required of anyone praying with an imam, whether the recitation is silent or aloud. The view of our Shāfi'ī School is that the recitation of al-Fātiḥah is obligatory to everyone in the congregation in silent prayers, as it also is in those prayers where the imam recites aloud, according to the more correct of the two views expressed on this point.

There are two answers to this statement made by Zayd: the first is that it is authentically confirmed that the Prophet said: 'No prayer is valid of one who does not recite the Mother of the Qur'an [i.e. al-Fātiḥah]' and: 'If you are [praying] behind me, do not recite anything other than the Mother of the Qur'an'. Other hadiths confirm such recitation and these take precedence ahead of Zayd's statement and anyone else. The second response is that Zayd's statement is understood to refer to reciting a surah after al-Fātiḥah in a prayer where the imam recites the Qur'an aloud. In such prayers, the worshippers praying with the imam should not read any such surah. This understanding is necessary so that his statement is seen to be consistent with authentic hadiths. This is confirmed by the fact that according to our school, and other scholars, it is desirable for the imam to remain silent for a short while after finishing the recitation of al-Fātiḥah aloud so as to enable those with him to recite it silently. This is confirmed in a hadith graded as 'good' and related by Abū Dāwūd and others. Thus, the worshippers in the congregation do not recite al-Fātiḥah with the imam, but after him, when he remains silent.

The same hadith, No. 1088, includes 'He claimed that he recited ...'. In this instance, 'claim' means confirmation. We explained this point earlier, saying that the Arabic word za'm may refer to a true, doubtful or false statement. In each instance that it occurs, it should be taken in the sense that fits best.

The hadith says: 'He claimed that he recited to God's Messenger (peace be upon him) the surah starting with, "By the star as it falls", but did not prostrate himself'. Mālik and other scholars take this hadith as evidence that there is no requirement for prostration in any surah of the part of the Qur'an generally called al-Mufaṣṣal, which includes Surahs 50–114. They further say that the prostrations required by Surahs 53, 84 and 96 were abrogated by this hadith or by the hadith narrated by Ibn ‘Abbās which says that ‘the Prophet never prostrated himself while reciting any surah of al-Mufaṣṣal after he migrated to Madinah’. This view lacks strong support. The hadith narrated by Abū Hurayrah, No. 1090, confirms that the Prophet and his Companions prostrated themselves when the Prophet recited Surahs 84 and 96. All scholars agree that Abū Hurayrah embraced Islam in Year 7 after the Prophet’s migration to Madinah. Thus, prostration at these places in al-Mufaṣṣal is confirmed to have taken place after migration. Besides, the hadith attributed to Ibn ‘Abbās has a chain of transmission graded as ‘weak’, and as such it may not be taken as evidence. On the other hand, Zayd’s hadith is understood to indicate that it is permissible not to prostrate oneself at these verses. This means that prostration is recommended, not obligatory. This understanding is needed so that Zayd’s hadith is taken together with Abū Hurayrah’s hadith, but God knows best.

Scholars differ as to the total number of occurrences in the Qur’an requiring prostration. Al-Shāfi‘ī and other scholars say that they are fourteen prostrations, two of which are in Surah 22, The Pilgrimage, and three in al-Mufaṣṣal. The one in Surah 38 is not counted among them, because it is a prostration of gratitude. Mālik and other scholars maintain that they are eleven prostrations, dropping the three in al-Mufaṣṣal. Abū Ḥanīfah says that the total is fourteen prostrations, but he drops the one at the penultimate verse of Surah 22, and confirms the three in al-Mufaṣṣal and the one in Surah 38. Aḥmad and a group of scholars including Ibn Surayj, who is a Shāfi‘ī scholar, say that the total is fifteen prostrations, thus confirming all. The places of these prostrations are well known, but there is a difference of opinion regarding the one in Surah 41. Mālik, a group of the earlier scholars and a few Shāfi‘ī scholars say that it occurs at the end of verse 37, while al-Shāfi‘ī, Abū Ḥanīfah and the majority of scholars say that it occurs at the end of verse 38.

It should be known that all the conditions required for the validity of voluntary prayers apply to the prostration during a Qur’anic recitation. These include cleansing from impurity, offering the ablution, covering of the private area and facing the direction of the qiblah. The prostration may not be done until the reciter has completed the relevant verse mentioning it. According to our school, it is permissible to perform the prostration for reciting these verses during the times when prayer is discouraged, because they are recommended for a particular reason. Our school considers that when such a reason applies, the discouragement is removed. This point is subject to well-known controversy among scholars. Several points of detail are discussed in books of fiqh concerning prostration during Qur'anic recitation.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1088 includes Ibn Qusayṭ. His name is 'Abdullāh ibn Qusayṭ.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1091 includes 'Ṣafwān ibn Sulaym; from 'Abd al-Raḥmān al-A'raj the mawlā of the Makhzūm clan; from Abū Hurayrah', while the second narration of this hadith includes in its chain of transmission: 'Ubaydullāh ibn Abī Ja'far; from 'Abd al-Raḥmān al-A'raj; from Abū Hurayrah'. In his book, al-Jam' Bayn al-Ṣaḥīḥayn, al-Ḥumaydī says at the end of his biographical note on Abū Hurayrah: 'The first narrator known as al-A'raj<sup>i</sup> was a mawlā of the Makhzūm clan. His name is 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Sa'd and his appellation is Abū Aḥmad. He was crippled and narrated a small number of hadiths. The al-A'raj is 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Hurmuz, and his appellation is Abū Dāwūd. He was Rabī'ah ibn al-Ḥārith's mawlā, and he narrated many hadiths. A large number of scholars report from him. Muslim relates hadiths concerning prostration during Qur'anic recitation from both of them. Hence, this may cause a problem. However, the mawlā of the Makhzūm clan reports from Ṣafwān ibn Sulaym while Ibn Hurmuz reports from 'Ubaydullāh ibn Abī Ja'far'. This is a fine and valuable note by al-Ḥumaydī.

The same point is given by al-Dāraquṭnī: 'Two narrators are nicknamed al-A'raj and both narrate from Abū Hurayrah. One of them, who is better known, is 'Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Hurmuz, and the other is ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Sa‘d, the mawlā of the Makhzūm clan. This is the true fact’.

Abū Mas‘ūd al-Dimashqī said that the two are one and the same person, but Abū ‘Alī al-Ḥusayn ibn Muhammad al-Ghassānī al-Jayyānī said: ‘The correct view is that of al-Dāraqūṭnī’, but God knows best.

CHAPTER 21

HOW TO SIT IN PRAYER, AND WHERE TO PLACE ONE'S HANDS

[1095–112] (Dār al-Salām 1201) Muhammad ibn Ma‘mar ibn Rib‘ī al-Qaysī narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū Hishām al-Makhzūmī narrated; from ‘Abd al-Wāḥid (who is Ibn Ziyād); ‘Uthmān ibn Ḥakīm narrated; ‘Āmir ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Zubayr narrated to me; from his father; he said: ‘When God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) sat during prayer, he placed his left foot between his thigh and his shin and he spread his right foot. He placed his left hand on his left knee and his right hand on his right thigh’. He pointed with his finger.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مَعْمَرٍ بْنِ رَبِيعٍ الْقَيْسِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو هِشَامٍ الْمَخْزُومِيُّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الْوَاحِدِ (وَهُوَ ابْنُ زِيَادٍ)، حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ حَكِيمٍ، حَدَّثَنَا عَامِرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، قَالَ: "كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا قَعَدَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ جَعَلَ قَدَمَهُ الْيُسْرَى بَيْنَ فَخْذِهِ وَسَاقِهِ، وَفَرَشَ قَدَمَهُ الْيُمْنَى، وَوَضَعَ يَدَهُ الْيُسْرَى عَلَى رُكْبَتِهِ الْيُسْرَى، وَوَضَعَ يَدَهُ الْيُمْنَى عَلَى فَخْذِهِ الْيُمْنَى، وَأَشَارَ بِإِصْبَعِهِ

He pointed with his forefinger, placed his thumb on his middle finger and let his left hand cover his knee.

When he finished, he told me not to do so and said: “Do as God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to do”. I asked how did God’s Messenger used to do. He said: “When he sat down in prayer, he placed his right hand on his right thigh and closed all his fingers, pointing with his finger next to his thumb; and he placed his left hand on his left thigh”’.

Text Explanation

The description given in these hadiths points to the way the Prophet sat in the last tashahhud, when he rested on his left thigh and buttock. The problem, however, is with the phrase, ‘and he spread his right foot’, which occurs in hadith No. 1095, because the recommended practice, according to all scholars, is for the right foot to be upright. Several hadiths confirm this and they are entered in al-Bukhārī’s Ṣaḥīḥ as well as other anthologies. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ mentions that the fiqh scholar Abū Muhammad al-Khushnī says that the correct description should be ‘he spread his left foot’. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ rejects this because the hadith mentions what the Prophet did with his left foot, saying that ‘he placed ... [it] between his thigh and his shin’. He adds: ‘Perhaps the right description should be, “He put up his right foot vertically”. However, the narration may be correct as it is, referring to spreading his right foot, which means that on this particular occasion he did not place it vertically at a right angle with his toes, nor did he separate his toes as he used to do in most cases'. This is what Qādī 'Iyād said, and his last interpretation is the one of choice. The Prophet did so to show that it is permissible, and that although it is desirable to place the edges of one's toes on the floor, it is permissible not to do so.

This explanation by Qādī 'Iyād has many parallels, particularly in matters relating to prayers. It is better than assuming an error in an authentic hadith narration which is mentioned in all manuscripts of Muslim's anthology. We mentioned earlier the differences between scholars in the sitting positions in the two tashahhuds, and whether it is preferable to sit on one's left buttock, i.e. tawarruk, or spread one's left foot, i.e. iftirāsh. On the basis of this hadith, Mālik and a group of scholars prefer sitting on one's buttock in both. Abū Ḥanīfah and another group of scholars prefer sitting on one's left foot. Al-Shāfi'ī and other scholars say that the iftirāsh is preferable in the first tashahhud and the tawarruk in the last one. This is based on the hadith narrated by Abu Ḥumayd al-Sā'idī and his friends, which is related by al-Bukhārī in his Ṣaḥīḥ. It clearly states the difference between the two sittings. Al-Shāfi'ī said: 'The hadiths that mention the tawarruk or iftirāsh are general and do not specify whether it was in both sittings or in one of them. However, Abū Ḥumayd and his friends explain this, describing sitting on one's left foot in the first tashahhud and on one's buttock in the last one. This provides an explanation, and therefore, the general statement should be understood in its light', but God knows best.

The hadiths mention that the Prophet placed his left hand on his left knee, and in hadith No. 1096 'he let his left hand cover his left knee'. It is clear that this is desirable. Indeed, scholars are unanimous that it is desirable to place one's left hand close to, or on one's left knee, and some of them prefer that it should be bent on the knee at its fingers. This is the meaning of covering one's left knee with one's left hand. The reason for placing it on one's knee is that it should not move around, but remain in position. On the other hand, scholars are unanimous that it is desirable to place one's right hand on one's right thigh in tashahhud.

In hadith No. 1096, the Prophet ‘pointed with his forefinger, placed his thumb on his middle finger’, and in No. 1098, ‘he placed his fingers in the form of the figure fifty-three’.<sup>i</sup> These two hadiths are understood to refer to two different situations, which means that the Prophet did each on a different occasion. Some people tried to reconcile them by saying that the phrase ‘on his middle finger’ means near the end of the middle finger, which is close to the figure fifty-three.<sup>ii</sup>

Pointing with one’s forefinger is also desirable, as is mentioned in authentic hadiths. Our scholars say: ‘A worshipper should point when he says “other than God” in his declaration of God’s oneness. The pointing is done with the forefinger of the right hand only. A person whose forefinger is cut off or injured does not point with another finger, either of the right or the left hand. The sunnah is that he does not look beyond his signal. An authentic hadith confirms all this and is related by Abū Dāwūd. When he points with his finger, it should be pointing towards the qiblah, and he must intend his signal to signify his belief in God’s oneness’, but God knows best.

SAYING THE SALĀM TO END THE PRAYER

[1101–117]. (Dār al-Salām 1206) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated: Yahyā ibn Saʿīd narrated; from Shuʿbah; from al-Ḥakam and Maṣṣūr; from Mujāhid; from Abū Maʿmar; that ‘A governor in Makkah used to say the salām twice’. ‘Abdullāh said: ‘From whom did he learn this?’ In his narration, al-Ḥakam said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to do it’.

حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، وَمَنْصُورٍ، عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي مَعْمَرٍ، أَنَّ أُمَّ يَرَاءَ، كَانَتْ بِمَكَّةَ يُسَلِّمُ لَمْ تَسْلِمَتَيْنِ، فَقَالَ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ: "أَنْتَى عَلِقَهَا؟" قَالَ الْحَكَمُ: "فِي حَدِيثِهِ إِنْ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَفْعَلُهُ".

[1102–118]. (Dār al-Salām 1207) Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal narrated to me: Yahyā ibn Saʿīd narrated; from Shuʿbah; from al-Ḥakam; from Mujāhid; from Abū Maʿmar; from ‘Abdullāh. Shuʿbah said (quoting the Prophet at one time) that: ‘A governor, or a man said the salām twice. ‘Abdullāh said: “From whom did he learn it?”’

Text Explanation

The question, 'from whom did he learn it', is a question expressing wonder at the fact that the man learnt this sunnah and practised it. The hadith provides clear evidence in support of the view of al-Shāfiʿī and the majority of scholars of earlier and later generations that saying the salām twice is a recommended or sunnah practice. Mālik and a group of scholars say that the sunnah is one salām. They base their argument on hadiths that are lacking in authenticity, and which cannot stand up to these authentic hadiths. If any of the hadiths they cite are confirmed as authentic, it would be understood that the Prophet did so in order to show that it is permissible to say the salām once only.

Scholars are unanimous that the duty is one salām. If a worshipper says one salām only, he is recommended to do it to his front. If he says the salām twice, he should say the first to his right and the second to his left. With each salām, he should turn his face so that his cheek is seen by the people to his side. This is the correct form. Some of our scholars say 'so that his two cheeks are seen by people to his two sides'. If a person says the two salāms to his right or left or front, or says the first to his left and the second to his right, his prayer is valid and he is deemed to have said the salām twice, but he misses on the better option.

It should be clear that the salām is a condition of the validity of prayer and one of its duties. It is invalid without it. This is the view of the majority of scholars among the Prophet's Companions, the Tābiʿīn and following generations. Abū Ḥanīfah said that it is recommended, or sunnah. A prayer is ended by doing anything that is contrary to it, such as offering a greeting, speaking, a discharge from the private parts, standing, or any other thing. The majority of scholars argue that the Prophet used to finish it with salām. An authentic hadith related by al-Bukhārī quotes the Prophet: 'Pray as you have seen me pray'. Another hadith says of prayer: 'It is initiated with takbīr and ended with salām'.

GLORIFICATION AFTER PRAYER

[1104–120]. (Dār al-Salām 1209) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>i</sup> Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from ‘Amr; Abū Ma‘bad reported this to me (but later denied it); from Ibn ‘Abbās: ‘We used to realize that God’s Messenger’s prayer had finished when we heard the takbīr glorification’.

حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو، قَالَ أَخْبَرَنِي أَبُو مَعْبَدٍ (ثُمَّ أَنْكَرَهُ بَعْدُ) عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: “كُنَّا نَعْرِفُ انْقِضَاءَ صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِالتَّكْبِيرِ

[1105–121]. (Dār al-Salām 1210) Ibn Abī ‘Umar narrated: Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from ‘Amr ibn Dīnār; from Abū Ma‘bad, Ibn ‘Abbās’s mawlā, that he heard him reporting from Ibn ‘Abbās: ‘We did not know that God’s Messenger’s prayer had finished except when we heard the takbīr glorification’.

‘Amr said: ‘I mentioned this to Abū Ma‘bad, but he denied it and said: “I have not told you this”’. ‘Amr added: ‘He had reported it to me earlier’.

حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي عُمَرَ، حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي مَعْبَدٍ مَوْلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، أَنَّهُ سَمِعَهُ يُخْبِرُ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: “مَا كُنَّا نَعْرِفُ انْقِضَاءَ صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَّا بِالتَّكْبِيرِ

قَالَ عَمْرُو: “فَذَكَرْتُ ذَلِكَ لِأَبِي مَعْبَدٍ فَأَنْكَرَهُ، وَقَالَ لَمْ أَحَدِّثْكَ بِهَذَا”. قَالَ عَمْرُو: “وَقَدْ أَخْبَرَنِيهِ قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ”.

[1106–122]. (Dār al-Salām 1211) Muhammad ibn Ḥātim narrated:<sup>i</sup> Muhammad ibn Bakr reported; Ibn Jurayj reported [H]. Also, Ishāq ibn Manṣūr narrated to me (his text); ‘Abd al-Razzāq reported; Ibn Jurayj reported; ‘Amr ibn Dīnār reported to me; that Abū Ma‘bad, Ibn ‘Abbās’s mawlā, reported to him; that Ibn ‘Abbās reported to him that ‘Glorifying God aloud when people finished the obligatory prayer took place during the Prophet's lifetime', and that Ibn 'Abbās said: 'I used to know when they finished if I heard these glorifications'.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ حَاتِمٍ، أَخْبَرَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكْرٍ، أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنِي إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ مَنْصُورٍ (وَاللَّفْظُ لَهُ)، قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ، أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي عَمْرُو بْنُ دِينَارٍ، أَنَّ أَبَا مَعْيَدٍ مَوْلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّ ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّ رَفَعَ الصَّوْتَ بِالذِّكْرِ حِينَ يَنْصَرِفُ النَّاسُ مِنَ الْمَكْتُوبَةِ كَانَ عَلَى "عَهْدِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ. وَأَنَّهُ قَالَ: "قَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ كُنْتُ أَعْلَمُ إِذَا انْصَرَفُوا بِذَلِكَ إِذَا سَمِعْتُهُ

Text Explanation

These hadiths provide evidence confirming what some scholars of the earlier generations considered desirable as regards saying glorifications such as Allāhu akbar aloud after obligatory prayers. Some scholars of later generations, including Ibn Ḥazm, also said it is desirable. However, Ibn Baṭṭāl and others mention that the founders of the main schools of fiqh and other scholars agree that it is undesirable to say such glorifications and praises of God aloud. Al-Shāfi'ī suggests that this hadith shows that the Prophet said such glorifications aloud for a short while in order to teach his Companions what to say in such glorification and remembrance of God. It does not mean that he did so all the time. Al-Shāfi'ī adds: 'My preference for the imam and anyone in the congregation is to glorify God after the prayer, but to say this silently, except in the case of an imam who wants people to learn from him what to say. In this case, he does so aloud until he realizes that the people have learnt. Thereafter, he does so silently'. To him, this is how this hadith should be understood.

In the last hadith, Ibn 'Abbās said that he knew when they finished the prayer by such glorifications. It appears that he missed the congregational prayer at times, because he was young.

Transmission

In hadith No. 1104, ‘Amr says: ‘Abū Ma‘mar reported this to me but later denied it’. The fact that Muslim enters this hadith shows that he considers a hadith reported in this way to be authentic, if it is narrated by a reliable reporter, even though the person it is reported from denies having narrated it. This is the view of the majority of scholars of Hadith, fiqh and methodology. They say that the hadith is accepted if the scholar denying it entertains some doubt about it, or has forgotten, or says that he does not remember it, or does not remember having reported it to the one narrating it from him, etc. Al-Karkhī, a Ḥanafī scholar, disagrees and says such a hadith may not be taken as evidence. On the other hand, if the narrator denying it gives a categorical denial, stating that the one reporting it from him is lying and that he never reported the hadith to him, they all agree that in such a situation the hadith is unacceptable. In this case, each one’s assertion counts against the other, and the first narrator is the principal. Therefore, the hadith must be rejected. However, this does not detract from the authenticity of other hadiths narrated by the same reporter, because we cannot confirm that he has lied.

SEEKING REFUGE FROM TORMENT IN THE GRAVE

[1107–123]. (Dār al-Salām 1212) Ḥarūn ibn Saʿīd al-Aylī and Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ibn Wahb (Ḥarūn said: ‘narrated’ and Ḥarmalah said: ‘reported’); Yūnus ibn Yazīd reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr narrated to me; that ‘Ā’ishah said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) came in when a Jewish woman was with me. She said: “Did you realize that you shall be tested in the graves?” God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) was perturbed and said: “It is the Jews that will be tested”’. ‘Ā’ishah said: ‘A few nights later, God’s Messenger said to me: “Have you noticed that it has been revealed to me that you shall be tested in the graves?” I used to hear God’s Messenger ever since praying for refuge with God from the torment in the grave’.

حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ وَحَرَمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ هَارُونُ حَدَّثَنَا وَقَالَ حَرَمَلَةُ أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي
يُونُسُ بْنُ يَزِيدٍ، عَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، قَالَ حَدَّثَنِي عُرْوَةُ بْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ، أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: “دَخَلَ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ
صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَعِنْدِي أَمْرَأَةٌ مِنَ الْيَهُودِ، وَهِيَ تَقُولُ هَلْ شَعَرْتُمْ أَنْكُمْ تُفْتَنُونَ فِي الْقُبُورِ؟ قَالَتْ:
فَارْتَأَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَقَالَ: إِنَّمَا تُفْتَنُ يَهُودٌ”. قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: “فَلَيْتَ نَا لِيَالِي، ثُمَّ قَالَ

[1108–124]. (Dār al-Salām 1213) Ḥarūn ibn Saʿīd al-Aylī, Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā and ‘Amr ibn Sawwād narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Ibn Wahb (Ḥarmalah said: ‘reported’ and the other two said: ‘narrated’); Yūnus reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; from Ḥumayd ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān; from Abū Hurayrah. He said: ‘Ever since, I used to hear God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) praying for refuge from the torment in the grave’.

[1109–125]. (Dār al-Salām 1214) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated:<sup>ii</sup> both from Jarīr; Zuhayr said: Jarīr narrated; from Maṣṣūr; from Abū Wā'il; from Maṣrūq; from 'Ā'ishah. She said: 'Two old women from among the Madinah Jews visited me. They said that dead people are tormented in their graves. I disbelieved them and could not bring myself to believe what they said. They then left. God's Messenger (peace be upon him) came in later and I said to him: "Messenger of God, two old women of the Jews of Madinah visited me and claimed that dead people are tormented in their graves". He said: "They said the truth. They are tormented and their torment is heard by animals". She added: "I never saw him offering a prayer afterwards without seeking God's refuge from torment in the grave"'.

Text Explanation

The hadiths in this chapter confirm the fact that the dead may suffer torment in their graves. This is the view adopted by the people of the truth, which is contrary to what the Mu‘tazilah say.

The first hadith, No. 1107, mentions one Jewish woman telling ‘Ā’ishah of the torment in the grave and the Prophet saying that it applied only to the Jews. In the other hadith, No. 1109, two old Jewish women speak to ‘Ā’ishah about it and she does not believe them. Then the Prophet confirms what they said. This is understood to refer to two separate occasions. The first occasion involved the single woman speaking to ‘Ā’ishah, and the Prophet was subsequently informed about the torment in the grave. After a few days, the other two old women came to ‘Ā’ishah, and when they spoke about it she did not believe them, because the Prophet had not told her of the information he had received. When he came in after the two Jewish women had left, she told him and he confirmed it, informing ‘Ā’ishah that he had received new revelations confirming its truth.

SEEKING REFUGE WITH GOD DURING PRAYER

[1111–127]. (Dār al-Salām 1216) ‘Amr al-Nāqid and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Ya‘qūb ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Sa‘d narrated; my father narrated; from Ṣāliḥ; from Ibn Shihāb; ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr reported to me; that ‘Ā’ishah said: ‘I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) in his prayer seeking refuge from the trial of the Impostor Masīḥ,<sup>ii</sup> i.e. dajjāl’.

[1112–128]. (Dār al-Salām 1217) Naṣr ibn ‘Alī al-Jahḍamī, Ibn Numayr, Abū Kurayb and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>iii</sup> all from Wakī‘; Abū Kurayb said: Wakī‘ narrated; al-Awzā‘ī narrated; from Ḥassān ibn ‘Aṭīyyah; from Muhammad ibn Abī ‘Ā’ishah; from Abū Hurayrah; and also from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr; from Abū Salamah; from Abū Hurayrah: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: when any of you has said his tashahhud, let him seek refuge with God from four things, saying: My Lord, I seek refuge with You from the suffering in Hell, and from the torment in the grave, and from the trials of life and death and from the evil of the trial of the Impostor Masīḥ’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْجَهْضَمِيُّ وَابْنُ نُمَيْرٍ وَأَبُو كُرَيْبٍ وَزُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ جَمِيعًا عَنْ وَكِيعٍ، قَالَ أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ، حَدَّثَنَا الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ، عَنْ حَسَّانَ بْنِ عَطِيَّةٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَائِشَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، وَعَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «إِذَا تَشَهَّدَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَكَيْسَعِدْ بِاللَّهِ مِنْ أَرْبَعٍ، يَقُولُ: اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ جَهَنَّمَ، وَمِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَمِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ، وَمِنْ شَرِّ فِتْنَةِ الْمَسِيحِ الدَّجَالِ».

[1113–129]. (Dār al-Salām 1218) Abū Bakr ibn Ishāq narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Abū al-Yamān reported; Shu‘ayb reported; from al-Zuhrī; ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr reported to me; that ‘Ā’ishah, the Prophet’s wife told him that ‘The Prophet used to supplicate in his prayer: “My Lord, I seek refuge with You from the torment in the grave; and I seek refuge with You from the trial of the Impostor Masīḥ; and I seek refuge with You from the trials of life and death. My Lord, I seek refuge with You from sin and the burden of debt”. Someone said to him: “Messenger of God, how often you seek refuge from debt!” The Prophet said: “When a man is burdened with debt, he lies and he makes promises which he does not keep”’.

حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو بَكْرُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ، أَخْبَرَنَا أَبُو الْيَمَانِ، أَخْبَرَنَا شُعَيْبٌ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، قَالَ أَخْبَرَنِي عُرْوَةُ بْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ، أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ، زَوْجَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، أَخْبَرَتْهُ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَدْعُو فِي الصَّلَاةِ: «اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَسِيحِ الدَّجَالِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ. اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ السَّيِّئَاتِ وَالْمَغْرَمِ». قَالَتْ: فَقَالَ لَهُ قَائِلٌ: «مَا أَكْثَرَ مَا تَسْتَعِيدُ مِنَ الْمَغْرَمِ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ!» فَقَالَ: «إِنَّ الرَّجُلَ إِذَا غَرِمَ حَدَّثَ فَكَذَبَ، وَوَعَدَ فَأَخْلَفَ

[1114–130]. (Dār al-Salām 1219) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me: al-Walīd ibn Muslim narrated; al-Awzā’ī narrated to me; Ḥassān ibn ‘Aṭīyyah narrated; Muhammad ibn Abī ‘Ā’ishah narrated to me; that he heard Abū Hurayrah say: ‘When any of you has completed the last tashahhud, he should seek refuge with God from four things: the suffering in Hell, the torment in the grave, the trials of life and death and the evil of the Impostor Masīḥ’.

[1115–000].<sup>i</sup> Al-Ḥakam ibn Mūsā narrated this hadith to me: Hiql ibn Ziyād narrated [H]. Also, ‘Alī ibn Khashram narrated; ‘Īsā (meaning Ibn Yūnus) reported; all from al-Awzā’ī, with the same chain of transmission, saying: ‘When any of you has completed the tashahhud ...’ but did not mention the word ‘the last’.

[1119–134]. (Dār al-Salām 1225) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated:<sup>i</sup> from Mālik ibn Anas (in what was read out to him); from Abū al-Zubayr; from Ṭāwūs; from Ibn ‘Abbās that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to teach them this supplication as he used to teach them a Qur’anic surah. Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj said: I have learnt that Ṭāwūs said to his son: ‘Have you said this supplication in your prayer?’ He answered: ‘No’. Ṭāwūs said: ‘Then repeat your prayer’. This is due to the fact that Ṭāwūs reported this hadith from three or four narrators.

Text Explanation

The Prophet advises his Companions in hadith No. 1114: ‘When any of you has completed the last tashahhud, he should seek refuge with God from four things’. This is a clear statement that it is desirable to say this supplication in the last tashahhud, and an indication that it is not desirable to say it in the first tashahhud, because the first is meant to be short and light.

The last hadith, No. 1119, mentions that the Prophet used to teach his Companions this supplication just as he used to teach them the Qur’an. It also mentions that Ṭāwūs ordered his son to repeat his prayer when the son mentioned that he had omitted this supplication. All this serves to emphasize the importance of this supplication and urges us not to omit it. The apparent meaning of Ṭāwūs’s words is that he understood it to constitute a duty. Hence, he ordered his son to repeat his prayer when he omitted it. The majority of scholars agree that it is desirable, not a duty. Perhaps Ṭāwūs wanted to teach his son and emphasize its importance. He might not have considered it a duty, but God knows best.

Qādī ‘Iyād said that the Prophet’s own supplication and his seeking of God’s refuge against such matters from which he was protected is motivated by his sense of fearing God, glorifying Him and stressing the need for His grace. He also said it so that his community would do as he did, and explains to us what to say in our supplication and what is more important of it, but God knows best.

ii. The Arabic word masīḥ is used to refer to Jesus (peace be upon him) and to the Impostor, i.e. the dajjāl. As an Arabic word, it is derived from a root that means ‘to wipe’, and the word means ‘wiped off’. When it is used to refer to the Impostor, the qualification ‘impostor’ is always mentioned with it. In his case, it is used in its linguistic sense, because the Impostor is one-eyed, as his other eye is wiped off. Alternatively, it is said that one side of his face has neither an eye nor an eyebrow. Another suggestion is that when he walks, he wipes the earth with his feet. When al-Masīḥ refers to Prophet Jesus (peace be upon him), it refers to those instances when he wiped with his hand someone with a physical defect, such as one with impaired vision, or an albino, and that person was cured by God’s will. Other suggestions based on the blessings God granted him are also stated.

HOW TO GLORIFY GOD AFTER PRAYER

[1120–135]. (Dār al-Salām 1226) Dāwūd ibn Rushayd narrated:<sup>i</sup> al-Walīd narrated; from al-Awzā'ī; from Abū 'Ammār (his name is Shaddād ibn 'Abdullāh); from Abū Asmā'; from Thawbān; he said: 'When God's Messenger (peace be upon him) finished his prayer, he would appeal for God's forgiveness three times, then say: 'My Lord, You are Peace and the Source of Peace. Blessed You are; the One full of majesty who grants grace'.

Al-Walīd said: I asked al-Awzā'ī: 'How to appeal for forgiveness'. He said: 'You say: I pray for God's forgiveness; I pray for God's forgiveness'.

"قَالَ الْوَلِيدُ: فَقُلْتُ لِأَوْزَاعِيٍّ: "كَيْفَ الْإِسْتِغْفَارُ؟" قَالَ تَقُولُ: "أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ، أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ".

[1121–136]. (Dār al-Salām 1227) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Ibn Numayr narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Abū Mu'āwiyah narrated: from 'Āshim; from 'Abdullāh ibn al-Hārith; from 'Ā'ishah; she said: 'When the Prophet (peace be upon him) said the salām [finishing his prayer], he would not sit longer than to say: 'My Lord, You are Peace and the Source of Peace. Blessed You are; the One full of majesty who grants grace'. In Ibn Numayr's narration: 'You are full of majesty, granting grace'.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَابْنُ نُمَيْرٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنْ عَاصِمٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: «كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا سَلَّمَ لَمْ يَقْعُدْ إِلَّا مِقْدَارَ مَا يَقُولُ: اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ السَّلَامُ وَمِنْكَ السَّلَامُ تَبَارَكْتَ ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ». وَفِي رِوَايَةِ ابْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: «يَا ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ».

[1122-000]. (Dār al-Salām 1228) Ibn Numayr narrated it: Abū Khālid (meaning al-Aḥmar) narrated; from ‘Āṣim; with the same chain of transmission, but said: ‘You are full of majesty, granting peace’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو نُعَيْمٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ (يَعْنِي الْأَحْمَرَ)، عَنْ عَاصِمٍ، بِهَذَا الْإِسْنَادِ. وَقَالَ: «يَا ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ».

Also, Khālid; from ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Hārith; both from ‘Ā’ishah, that ‘The Prophet said the same, except that he used to say: “You are full of majesty, granting peace”’.

[1124-137]. (Dār al-Salām 1230) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated:<sup>i</sup> Jarīr reported; from Manṣūr; from al-Musayyib ibn Rāfi‘; from Warrād, al-Mughīrah ibn Shu‘bah’s mawlā; he said: al-Mughīrah ibn Shu‘bah wrote to Mu‘āwiyah that when God’s Messenger finished his prayer and said the salām, he would say: ‘There is no deity other than God, the One who has no partners. To Him belongs all dominion and all praise, and He is able to do all things. My Lord, none can stop what You give, and none can give what You withhold. No one’s resources are of benefit to one against Your will’.

[000-000]. (Dār al-Salām 1231) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah, Abū Kurayb and Aḥmad ibn Sinān narrated: they said: Abū Mu‘āwiyah narrated; from al-A‘mash; from al-Musayyib ibn Rāfi‘; from Warrād, al-Mughīrah ibn Shu‘bah’s mawla; from al-Mughīrah; from the Prophet: the same text.

Abū Bakr and Abū Kurayb said in their narration that he said: ‘Al-Mughīrah dictated it to me and I wrote it down [and sent it] to Mu‘āwiyah’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرٍ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَأَبُو كُرَيْبٍ وَأَحْمَدُ بْنُ سَنَانٍ، قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ بْنِ رَافِعٍ، عَنْ وَرَادٍ مَوْلَى الْمُغِيرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ، عَنِ الْمُغِيرَةِ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ. مِثْلُهُ. (Dār al-Salām 1235) Muhammad ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Numayr narrated:<sup>i</sup> my father narrated; Hishām narrated; from Abū al-Zubayr; he said: Ibn al-Zubayr used to say after every prayer, when he had said the salām: ‘There is no deity other than God, the One who has no partners. To Him belongs all dominion and all praise, and He is able to do all things. No power operates except by God’s [will]. There is no deity other than God, and We worship none but Him. All bounty and all grace are from Him, and to Him all gratitude is due. There is no deity other than God; we are sincere in our faith in Him alone, however hateful this may be to the unbelievers’. He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to say these phrases after every prayer’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامٌ، عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ قَالَ: كَانَ ابْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ يَقُولُ فِي دُورِ كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ حِينَ يُسَلِّمُ: «لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ. لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ. لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَلَا نَعْبُدُ إِلَّا إِيَّاهُ. لَهُ النِّعَمَةُ وَلَهُ الْفَضْلُ وَلَهُ الثَّنَاءُ الْحَسَنُ. لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا

الله، مُخِ لَصِيْنٌ لَهُ الدِّيْنُ وَلَوْ كَرِهَ الْكَافِرُونَ». وَقَالَ: كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللهِ صَلَّى اللهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَهْلِلُ بِهِنَّ دُبْرَ كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ.

[1128–140]. (Dār al-Salām 1236) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated; ‘Abdah ibn Sulaymān narrated; from Hishām ibn ‘Urwah; from Abū al-Zubayr, their mawlā, that ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Zubayr used to say some glorifications after every prayer, stating the same as the hadith narrated by Ibn Numayr. He added at the end, then Ibn al-Zubayr would say: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to say these phrases after every prayer’.

[1129–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1237) Ya‘qūb ibn Ibrāhīm al-Dawraqī narrated to me: Ibn ‘Ulayyah narrated; al-Ḥajjāj ibn Abī ‘Uthmān narrated; Abū al-Zubayr narrated to me. He said: I heard ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Zubayr speaking on the platform. He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to say when he finished his prayer with salām, after the prayer, or the prayers ...’. He mentioned the same as in the hadith narrated by Hishām ibn ‘Urwah.

[1130–141]. (Dār al-Salām 1238) Muhammad ibn Salamah al-Murādī narrated to me: ‘Abdullāh ibn Wahb narrated; from Yahyā ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Sālim; from Mūsā ibn ‘Uqbah; that Abū al-Zubayr al-Makkī narrated to him; that he heard ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Zubayr as he said after the prayer, when he finished with salām, the same as their hadith. He added at the end that he attributed this to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him).

[1131–142]. (Dār al-Salām 1239) ‘Āṣim ibn al-Naḍr al-Taymī narrated:<sup>i</sup> al-Mu‘tamir narrated; ‘Ubaydullāh narrated [H]. Also, Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated; Layth narrated; from Ibn ‘Ajlān; both from Sumayy; from Abū Ṣāliḥ; from Abū Hurayrah (and this is Qutaybah’s narration); that ‘Some of the poor people among the Muhājirīn came to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and said: “The rich people will monopolize the highest grades and the everlasting bliss”. The Prophet said: “How is that?” They said: “They pray as we pray, and they fast as we fast; but they give charity while we cannot, and they free slaves but we do not.” God’s Messenger said: “Shall I teach you something with which you can catch up with those who are ahead of you and stay ahead of those who come after you? None will be ahead of you except those who do the same as you do.” They said: “Yes, indeed, Messenger of God.” He said: “After every prayer, say thirty-three times Subḥān Allāh, i.e. all glory belongs to God’; Allāhu akbar, i.e. God is Supreme; and al-ḥamd lillāh i.e. all praise belongs to God”’.

Abū Ṣāliḥ said: ‘The poor of the Muhājirīn came back to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and said: “Our brothers who are rich heard of what we have been doing and they did the same”. The Prophet said: “Such is God’s bounty which He grants to whomever He pleases”’.

Narrators other than Qutaybah added in this hadith from al-Layth, from Ibn ‘Ajlān: Sumayy said: ‘I mentioned this hadith to some people in my household. He said: “You are mistaken; for he said: you say subḥān Allāh thirty-three times, al-ḥamdu lillāh thirty-three times and Allāhu akbar thirty-three times”. I went back to Abū Ṣāliḥ and said this to him. He took me by the hand and said: “Allāhu akbar wa subḥān Allāh wa al-ḥamdu lillāh; Allāhu akbar wa subḥān Allāh wa al-ḥamdu lillāh, until you have said them all thirty-three times”’.

Ibn ‘Ajlān said: ‘I narrated this hadith to Rajā’ ibn Ḥaywah, and he narrated the same to me from Abū Ṣāliḥ, from Abū Hurayrah, from God’s Messenger (peace be upon him)’.

قَالَ ابْنُ عَجْلَانَ: «فَحَدَّثْتُ بِهَذَا الْحَدِيثِ رَجَاءَ بْنِ حَيَّوَةَ، فَحَدَّثَنِي بِمِثْلِهِ عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ».

[1132–143]. (Dār al-Salām 1240) Umayyah ibn Bisṭām al-‘Ayshī narrated to me: Yazīd ibn Zurayḥ; Rawḥ narrated; from Suhayl; from his father; from Abū Hurayrah; from God’s Messenger (peace be upon him), that they said: ‘Messenger of God, the rich people will monopolize the highest grades and the everlasting bliss ... the same as the hadith narrated by Qutaybah from al-Layth, but he included in Abū Hurayrah’s narration Abū Ṣāliḥ’s statement “the poor of the Muhājirīn came back ... to the end of the hadith. He added: Suhayl said: “eleven, eleven, so as to make a total of thirty-three”’.

وَحَدَّثَنِي أُمِّيَّةُ بَنُ بَسْطَامَ الْعَيْشِيِّ، حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ، حَدَّثَنَا رَوْحٌ، عَنْ سُهَيْلٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنَّهُمْ قَالُوا: "يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ذَهَبَ أَهْلُ الدُّثُورِ بِالدرَجَاتِ الْعُلَى وَالنَّعِيمِ الْمُقِيمِ"، بِمِثْلِ حَدِيثِ قُتَيْبَةَ عَنِ اللَّيْثِ، إِلَّا أَنَّهُ أَذْرَجَ فِي حَدِيثِ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَوْلَ أَبِي صَالِحٍ "ثُمَّ رَجَعَ فَقَرَأَ الْمُهَاجِرِينَ"، إِلَى آخِرِ الْحَدِيثِ. وَزَادَ فِي الْحَدِيثِ: "يَقُولُ سُهَيْلٌ إِحْدَى عَشْرَةَ، إِحْدَى عَشْرَةَ، فَجَمِيعُ ذَلِكَ كُلُّهُ ثَلَاثَةٌ وَثَلَاثُونَ".

قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: بِمِثْلِهِ.

Text Explanation

There is not much to say about these hadiths, as they are mostly self-explanatory. In hadith No. 1124 and later ones, the Prophet adds: ‘No one’s resources are of benefit to one against Your will’. We explained this earlier when we discussed hadith No. 869. The majority of scholars say that this means that a person with wealth and plentiful resources shall not benefit by anything he has except by God's will.

In hadith No. 1131, we have the Prophet's advice to the poor among his Companions. The hadith is cited as evidence by scholars who say that a rich person who duly manifests his gratitude to God is better than a poor person who patiently endures the trials of poverty. This is the subject of a famous controversy among scholars of earlier and later generations, but God knows best.

The same hadith mentions the glorifications subḥān Allāh, al-ḥamdu lillāh, Allāhu akbar, and that Abū Ṣāliḥ suggested that one should say all three together and repeat them together thirty-three times. Other narrations based on different chains of transmission suggest that the three glorifications are said separately and each is said thirty-three times independently from the other two. This is the apparent meaning of the hadiths. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'This is preferable to the explanation cited by Abu Ṣāliḥ'.

In the following hadith, No. 1132, Suhayl says the number is 'eleven, eleven to make up a total of thirty-three'. This does not negate the report of the majority who make the number thirty-three for each glorification. Indeed, they have an addition that must be accepted. Hadith No. 1135 mentions 'completing one hundred with "There is no deity other than God, the One who has no partners. To Him belongs all dominion and all praise, and He is able to do all things".' Another report suggests that Allāhu akbar is said thirty-four times to complete one hundred. All these are additions by reliable narrators, and as such they must be accepted. What all this comes down to is that we should do what combines all and say subḥān Allāh thirty-three times, al-ḥamdu lillāh thirty-three times, and Allāhu akbar thirty-four times. We then say: 'There is no deity other than God, the One who has no partners. To Him belongs all dominion and all praise, and He is able to do all things'.

Hadith Nos 1133 and 1134 speak of 'things that are said in succession'. This is the preferred meaning of the Arabic word, mu'aqqibāt, used here. Al-Harawī quotes Samurah as saying that it means 'glorifications done after the prayer has been said. Abū al-Hushaym said that they are given this name because they are done time after time.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of the hadith that follows No. 1125 includes: 'Ibn 'Awn, from Abū Sa'īd, from Warrād'. Different suggestions of the identity of Abū Sa'īd are mentioned here, but the correct one, which is mentioned by al-Bukhārī in his Tārīkh and other leading Hadith scholars, state that his name is 'Abd Rabbih ibn Sa'īd. Ibn al-Sakan said that he was 'Ā'ishah's nephew through breast-feeding, but scholars say that Ibn al-Sakan was mistaken. Ibn 'Abd al-Barr said that he was al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, but again scholars say that this is wrong.

Hadith Nos 1133 and 1134 are narrated by Ka'b ibn 'Ujrah from the Prophet (peace be upon him). Imam al-Dāraquṭnī cites this hadith among the ones he questions in Muslim's Ṣaḥīḥ. He says that 'the right thing is to say that this hadith is narrated by Ka'b, without attributing it to the Prophet. As such it is mawqūf, because those who take it up to the Prophet himself are lesser scholars and memorizers than those who stop at Ka'b'. What al-Dāraquṭnī says is unacceptable, because Muslim narrates it with chains of transmission that take it up to the Prophet. Indeed, al-Dāraquṭnī himself mentions the hadith with other chains of transmission also taking it up to the Prophet. It is narrated in the mawqūf form by Manṣūr and Shu'bah. Indeed, scholars show that even these two narrate it in both forms, with some chains stopping at Ka'b, and others narrating it from Ka'b from the Prophet. Al-Dāraquṭnī shows this as well. We have explained in the Notes in our Introduction that when a hadith is narrated as mawqūf in some ways and also in complete chains going up to the Prophet in others, it is judged as marfū', i.e. quoting the Prophet himself. This is the correct view of the scholars of fiqh, methodology [i.e. uṣūl] and leading Hadith scholars including al-

Bukhārī, even though the ones who say that it is mawqūf are larger in number than the others. In our present discussion, the ones taking this hadith up to the Prophet, giving it complete chains of transmission, are the ones greater in number. We have already mentioned the evidence, stating that this is an addition by a reliable scholar, and it must be accepted. It cannot be rejected because the one who left it as mawqūf did so as a result of forgetting or omission, but God knows best.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1135 features Abū ‘Ubayd al-Madhḥijī. He is given the surname al-Madhḥijī because he belonged to the well-known Arabian tribe of Madhḥij.

WHAT TO SAY AFTER STARTING THE PRAYER AND BEFORE THE RECITATION

[1136–147]. (Dār al-Salām 1245) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Jarīr narrated; from ‘Umārah ibn al-Qa‘qā’; from Abū Zur‘ah; from Abū Hurayrah; he said: ‘When God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) started a prayer with Allāhu akbar he remained silent for a short while before starting to recite from the Qur’an. I said: “Messenger of God, may my parents be sacrificed for you. In your silence between takbīr and the recitation, what do you say?” He said: “I say: My Lord, keep me as far from sin as You have made the east far from the west. My Lord, cleanse me from my sins as a white robe is cleaned from dirt. My Lord, wash my sins off me with snow, water and hail”’.

Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Ibn Numayr narrated: both said: Ibn Fuḍayl narrated [H]. Also, Abū Kāmil narrated; ‘Abd al-Wāḥid (meaning Ibn Ziyād) narrated; both from ‘Umārah ibn al-Qa‘qā’; with the same chain of transmission: similar to Jarīr’s narration.

حَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنْ عُمَارَةَ بْنِ الْقُعْقَاعِ، عَنْ أَبِي زُرْعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: “كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا كَبَّرَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ سَكَتَ هُنِيَّةً قَبْلَ أَنْ يَقْرَأَ”، فَقُلْتُ: “يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، بِأَبِي أَنْتَ وَأُمِّي أَرَأَيْتَ سَكَتَكَ بَيْنَ التَّكْبِيرِ وَالْقِرَاءَةِ، مَا تَقُولُ؟” قَالَ: «أَقُولُ اللَّهُمَّ بَاعِدْ بَيْنِي وَبَيْنَ خَطَايَايَ كَمَا بَاعَدْتَ بَيْنَ الْمَشْرِقِ وَالْمَغْرِبِ. اللَّهُمَّ نَقِّنِي مِنْ خَطَايَايَ كَمَا يُنَقَّى الثَّوْبُ الْأَبْيَضُ مِنَ الدَّنَسِ. اللَّهُمَّ اغْسِلْنِي مِنْ خَطَايَايَ بِالثَّلْجِ وَالْمَاءِ وَالْبَرَدِ

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَابْنُ نُمَيْرٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ فَضِيلٍ، ح. وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو كَامِلٍ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ (يَعْنِي ابْنَ زِيَادٍ)، كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ عُمَارَةَ بْنِ الْقُعْقَاعِ، بِهَذَا الْإِسْنَادِ، نَحْوَ حَدِيثِ جَرِيرٍ.

[1137–148]. (Dār al-Salām 1246) Muslim said: It was narrated to me from Yaḥyā ibn Ḥassān and Yūnus al-Mu‘addib and others: they said: ‘Abd al-Wāḥid ibn Ziyād narrated; ‘Umārah ibn al-Qa‘qā’ narrated to me; Abū Zur‘ah narrated; I heard Abū Hurayrah say: ‘When God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) rose up for the second rak‘ah, he started reciting, “Praise be to God, the Lord of all the worlds”, without prior silence’.

قَالَ مُسْلِمٌ: وَحَدَّثْتُ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ حَسَّانَ وَيُونُسَ الْمُؤَدِّبِ وَغَيْرِهِمَا، قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ بْنُ زِيَادٍ، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي عِمَارَةُ بْنُ الْقَعْقَاعِ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو زُرْعَةَ قَالَ: “سَمِعْتُ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ يَقُولُ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا نَهَضَ مِنَ الرَّكْعَةِ الثَّانِيَةِ اسْتَفْتَحَ التَّحِيَّاتِ بِ { الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ }، وَلَمْ يَسْكُتْ

[1138–149]. (Dār al-Salām 1247) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> ‘Affān narrated; Hammād narrated; Qatādah, Thābit and Ḥumayd reported; from Anas; that ‘A man came and joined the row, gasping for breath. He said: “Praise be to God: plentiful, sincere and blessed praise”. When God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) finished his prayer, he said: “Who of you said those words?” The people remained silent. He said: “Who said them? He did not say wrong”. The man said: “I came over gasping for breath, and I said them”. He said: “I saw twelve angels racing to pick them up: competing as to who of them will present it”’.

وَحَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا عَفَّانٌ، حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ، أَخْبَرَنَا قَتَادَةُ وَثَابِتٌ وَحُمَيْدٌ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ، أَنَّ رَجُلًا جَاءَ فَدَخَلَ الصَّفَّ، وَقَدْ حَفَزَهُ النَّفْسُ، فَقَالَ: “الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ حَمْدًا كَثِيرًا طَيِّبًا مُبَارَكًا فِيهِ”. فَلَمَّا قَضَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَلَاتَهُ قَالَ: “أَيُّكُمْ أَلَمْ تَكْلَمْ بِالْكَلِمَاتِ؟” فَأَرَمَ الْقَوْمُ، فَقَالَ: «أَيُّكُمْ أَلَمْ تَكْلَمْ بِهَا، فَإِنَّهُ لَمْ يَقُلْ بَأْسًا». فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ: “جِئْتُ وَقَدْ حَفَزَنِي النَّفْسُ فَقُلْتُهَا”. فَقَالَ: “لَقَدْ رَأَيْتُ اثْنَيْ عَشَرَ مَلَكًا يَبْتَذِرُونَهَا، أَيُّهُمْ يَرْفَعُهَا

[1139–150]. (Dār al-Salām 1248) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ismā‘īl ibn ‘Ulayyah narrated; al-Ḥajjāj ibn Abī ‘Uthmān reported to me; from Abū al-Zubayr; from ‘Awn ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Utbah; from Ibn ‘Umar; he said: ‘As we were praying with God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) a man from among us said: “God is Supreme, Great; praise be to God in plenty; and all glory be to God morning and evening”. God’s Messenger asked: “Who said such-and-such words?” The man said: “I did, Messenger of God”. The Prophet said: “I wondered at them, as the gates of Heaven were thrown open for them”’.

Ibn 'Umar said: 'I never left saying them ever since I heard God's Messenger (peace be upon him) say this'.

Text Explanation

This hadith provides evidence in support of the view of al-Shāfiʿī, Abū Ḥanīfah, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars that it is desirable to say a supplication at the opening of prayer. There are many hadiths in authentic anthologies, including this one, supporting this view. Another hadith narrated by 'Alī is entered by Muslim later, in the chapters speaking of night prayers. Other hadiths confirm this and I have compiled these with their explanation in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab. Mālik says that an opening supplication after the starting takbīr is not recommended, but the majority of scholars cite these hadiths in support of their view.

The first hadith, No. 1136, shows that some good actions may be recorded by angels other than those who are assigned the task of recording people's actions. This is in addition to what the recording angels write down.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1137 starts with: 'Muslim said: it was narrated to me from Yaḥyā ibn Ḥassān, etc.' This is one of the hadiths called 'suspended', with the beginning of their chains dropped. We discussed these in the Introduction.

WALK CALMLY TO PRAYER

Text Explanation

These hadiths urge us to walk to the mosque, where we join congregational prayers, unhurriedly and with decorum. They order that we do not run in order to join a prayer if we fear that we will miss its beginning. This applies to the Friday Prayer and all other prayers in the same way. It may be said that the Qur’an tells us to go quickly to Friday Prayer, using the same word used in these hadiths for running. It says: ‘When the call to prayer is made on Friday, go straightaway to the prayer and leave off your trading’. (62: 9) What is meant by the Qur’anic verse is to go without delay. This is the clear meaning of the Arabic word used here.

Scholars say that the reason for urging calmness when we go to prayer and the order not to run is that when a person goes to offer a prayer, he has a clear purpose which he will achieve. Therefore, he should observe the manners that must be observed in prayer, and appear in the best form. This is the meaning of the second hadith in this chapter, No. 1141: 'When a person is aiming to join a prayer, he is in prayer'.

The Prophet mentions the iqāmah, which is the announcement to start the prayer, and says that one should not be jogging or running to join the prayer. This serves to make the order a general one. If running is not allowed when the iqāmah has been called, which means that one may miss a part of the prayer, it is also not allowed before it, when it is less likely that one miss any part of the prayer. The Prophet makes the reason clear, stating that when one is heading to join the prayer, he is already in prayer, which also covers all the time involved in going to the prayer. The Prophet further confirms this, saying: 'Pray as you join it, and complete what you have missed', thus stressing the principle that going to prayer must be done calmly, without the pressure of running or jogging. There should be no misunderstanding about this order, it applies to all people, not only those who do not fear missing any part of the prayer. Therefore, the Prophet makes his order clear by saying that it applies even if walking slower might lead to missing a part of the prayer with the imam, telling us what to do in this case: 'Complete what you have missed', or 'Complete what went ahead before you'.

Scholars hold different views on this situation. Al-Shāfi'ī and the majority of scholars of earlier and later generations say that when a person joins a congregational prayer that has been in progress, what he prays with the imam is the beginning of his own prayer, and when the imam finishes, he completes the remaining part, which is the last part of his own prayer. Abū Ḥanīfah and a group of scholars say the opposite. Mālik and his disciples give two views, which are the same as those of al-Shāfi'ī and Abū Ḥanīfah. Those who say that what is added after the imam has finished is the first part cite in evidence the Prophet's statement: 'Make up what went ahead before you'. The majority of scholars base their argument on the fact that most narrations speak of completing what has been missed. They add that what is meant by 'making up' is the action, not the qadā', as defined by fiqh scholars. The word is frequently used in the Qur'an in the sense of 'doing' rather than 'making up'.

In hadith No. 1141, the Prophet says: ‘When a person is aiming to join a prayer, he is in prayer’. This makes clear that it is desirable that when we go to join a prayer, we should refrain from unseemly actions such as unbecoming movement, using vulgar words, looking at foul things, etc. We should try to avoid everything that a person engaged in prayer avoids. When we reach the mosque and sit down awaiting prayer, we should take more care of all this.

In hadith No. 1143, we are urged to walk to the mosque ‘with calmness and decorum’. Some scholars say that the two words are synonyms, and they are used for emphasis. It appears, however, that there is a difference in meaning between them. Calmness applies to movements and avoiding trifling and play, while decorum stresses appearance, lowering one’s voice, heading towards the mosque without turning right and left, etc. but God knows best.

Transmission

The last hadith includes: ‘Shaybān narrated, with the same chain of transmission’. This means Shaybān narrated from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr with the chain of transmission mentioned earlier. Muslim should have added ‘from Yaḥyā’, because Shaybān was not mentioned in any earlier chain. The normal practice followed by Muslim and other Hadith scholars is to mention in the second chain a narrator mentioned in the first, then add, ‘with the same chain of transmission’, so that there is no confusion. It appears that Muslim stopped at Shaybān because it is well known that he was of the same level as Mu‘āwiyah ibn Sallām mentioned earlier, and reporting from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr, but God knows best.

The people would stand in their rows before the Prophet would take his position’.

وَحَدَّثَنِي إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ مُوسَى، أَخْبَرَنَا آلُ وَلِيدٍ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنِ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، قَالَ حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، أَنَّ الصَّلَاةَ كَانَتْ تُقَامُ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، فَيَأْخُذُ النَّاسُ مَصَافَهُمْ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَقُومَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَقَامَهُ.

[1150–160]. (Dār al-Salām 1259) Salamah ibn Shabīb narrated to me: al-Ḥasan ibn A‘yan narrated; Zuhayr narrated; Simāk ibn Ḥarb narrated; from Jābir ibn Samurah; he said: ‘Bilāl would call the adhān when the sun had started on the decline, but he would not announce the prayer until the Prophet (peace be upon him) had come out. When he came out and he saw him, Bilāl would announce the prayer’.

Text Explanation

Qādī ‘Iyād said: ‘These hadiths may be taken together as meaning that Bilāl used to watch from where only he or a small number of people could see the Prophet coming out. As soon as he saw him coming out, Bilāl would announce the prayer, but the people would not rise until they had seen the Prophet. He would not take his position until they had stood in straight rows’.

In hadith No. 1149, Abū Hurayrah says: ‘The people would stand in their rows before the Prophet would take his position’. Perhaps this was done once or twice to show that it is permissible, or for some reason. It is also probable that later the Prophet told them not to rise until they had seen him. Scholars said that his order not to rise before they had seen him was given so that they would not be standing long, because something might happen to delay his coming out.

Scholars of all generations differed as to when people should rise for prayer, and when the imam should say Allāhu akbar to begin the congregational prayer. Al-Shāfiʿī and a good number of scholars say that it is desirable that no one should rise until the caller has completed the announcement, i.e. iqāmah. Qāḍī ʿIyāḍ mentions that Mālik and the majority of scholars say that it is desirable that they should rise when the caller has started the announcement. Anas used to rise when the caller said: qad qāmati al-ṣalāh [i.e. the prayer is about to start]. This is what Aḥmad also said. Abū Ḥanīfah and the Kūfī scholars say that the people should stand in their rows when the caller says ḥayī ʿala al-ṣalāh [i.e. get ready for the prayer]. And when the caller says qad qāmati al-ṣalāh, the imam should begin the prayer with Allāhu akbar. The majority of scholars of earlier and later generations say that the imam does not say this takbīr to begin the prayer until the caller has finished the iqāmah.

In hadith No. 1147, the narrator says: ‘We stood up and straightened our rows’. This suggests that this was their normal practice. Scholars are unanimous that it is recommended to straighten the rows in congregational prayer and to stand shoulder to shoulder. We explained this in its relevant place. In the same hadith: ‘God’s Messenger then came out, and when he stood in his place of prayer and before saying Allāhu akbar [to start the prayer], he remembered something and left. He said to us: “Stay in your place”. We remained standing until he came out to us, having performed the grand ablution [i.e. ghusl].’ That he says ‘before saying Allāhu akbar’ confirms that this was before the first takbīr and before starting the prayer. The same is the meaning of the wording in al-Bukhārī’s narration, which says: ‘We were awaiting his takbīr’. In Abū Dāwūd’s narration, the Prophet is said ‘to have started the prayer’. This last narration may be understood so that ‘starting the prayer’ indicates that he took his usual position and was ready to start the prayer. Alternatively, this last narration refers to a different occasion, which is more likely.

The apparent meaning of these hadiths is that when the Prophet had performed the grand ablution and come out, no repetition of the iqāmah was made. This suggests that it did not take a long time. If the separation between the announcement and the start of the prayer is long, the announcement must be repeated. What suggests on this occasion that the time gap was not long is that the Prophet told them to stay in their positions, and then he came out with his head dripping with water. The hadith also shows that prophets were liable to forget things related to their worship. We have already discussed this point.

- i. Dār al-Salām does not enter this hadith, perhaps because it merely gives a minor variation in wording.

Text Explanation

Hadith No. 1154 states: ‘Whoever completes one rak‘ah of the Fajr Prayer before sunrise is considered to have offered the Fajr Prayer [on time], and whoever completes one rak‘ah of the ‘Aṣr Prayer before sunset is considered to have offered the ‘Aṣr Prayer [on time]’. Muslims are unanimous that this hadith should not be taken at face value, in the sense that a person who completes one rak‘ah has completed the whole prayer and that it is sufficient for him to consider he has fulfilled his duty of offering the prayer. The hadith is rather understood to mean that he has attained the benefit of offering the prayer or doing the duty of praying. Our scholars say that three questions are involved here.

First: if someone to whom the duty of praying does not apply becomes required to pray and he can do one rak'ah before its time has lapsed, the entire prayer becomes a duty incumbent on him or her. This is the case of a child attaining puberty, a madman or an unconscious person becoming alert, a woman in the menstruation or postnatal period completing her periods, or an unbeliever embracing Islam. If any of these can complete one rak'ah of a prayer before its time is over, he or she is required to offer that prayer in full. If such a person can only do less than one rak'ah, such as saying Allāhu akbar once, al-Shāfi'ī gives two views. One view is that this prayer is not binding on him or her, because this is what is deduced from this hadith. However, the more correct view according to our Shāfi'ī scholars is that it is binding. They argue that with a portion of the prayer due, a small or a large portion is considered in the same way. Moreover, prayer is fulfilled when it is offered complete. Therefore, we must not differentiate between saying Allāhu akbar and doing one rak'ah. They understand the hadith, which specifies one rak'ah, as giving the portion applicable to most cases, because a person realizes the possibility of completing one rak'ah, not less. A single takbīr is hardly felt. A question may be asked here: is it a condition that one can do one's ablution in addition to offering one rak'ah or saying Allāhu akbar once? Our scholars give two answers, and the more correct of the two is that this is not a condition.

Secondly, a person who starts a prayer at the end of its time range and completes one rak'ah then the time of that prayer lapses is considered to have prayed it during its time range. This is the correct view according to our Shāfi'ī scholars. However, a few of our scholars say that it all counts as qadā', i.e. compensatory for a missed prayer. Some of them say that what is completed during the time range is on time and what occurs afterwards is compensatory.

This difference of views is useful, and its benefit appears clearly in the case of a traveller who intends to exercise the concession of shortening his four-rak'ah prayers to two rak'ahs. If such a traveller offers one rak'ah during the time range of the prayer and the other rak'ah after it has lapsed, then if we rule that the entire prayer is on time, it may be shortened. If, on the other hand, we say that the prayer, or a part of it, is compensatory then it must be offered in four rak'ahs, if we adopt the view that says that prayers missed during travel are made up in full. All this applies if a person completes one rak'ah on time. If he manages less than one rak'ah, some of our scholars say that it is the same as one rak'ah, but the majority say that it is all compensatory. They agree that it is not permissible to deliberately delay the prayer to such a time, even though we say that it is all on time.

Thirdly, if someone joins a congregational prayer after it has started and manages to offer one rak'ah with the imam, he gains the benefit of praying with the congregation. There is no disagreement on this point. However, if he joins the congregation when less than one rak'ah remains, and before the imam finishes with salām, our al-Shāfi'ī scholars give two views. The first is that he does not earn the benefit of congregational prayer, as is understood from hadith No. 1152: 'Whoever completes one rak'ah of the prayer with the imam is considered to have caught up with the [full] prayer'. The second view, which is the correct view endorsed by the majority of our scholars, is that such a person earns the benefit of the congregational prayer because he shared in a part of it. The quoted hadith is understood in the light of what we mentioned earlier.

Hadith No. 1154 says: 'Whoever completes one rak'ah of the Fajr Prayer before sunrise is considered to have offered the Fajr Prayer [on time], and whoever completes one rak'ah of the 'Aṣr Prayer before sunset is considered to have offered the 'Aṣr Prayer [on time]'. This is clear evidence that whoever prays one rak'ah of Fajr or 'Aṣr in time, and then the time of that prayer lapses before he has completed his prayer should complete his prayer. It is not invalidated by the lapse of its time; it remains valid. This is unanimously agreed upon in the case of 'Aṣr Prayer. As for Fajr, the same is agreed by Mālik, al-Shāfi'ī, Aḥmad and all scholars, except Imam Abū Ḥanīfah (may God bestow mercy on him). He said: 'Fajr Prayer becomes invalid if the sun rises while it is being offered, because as the sun rises, prayer is strongly discouraged. This is not the case with sunset'. However, the hadith itself provides the counter argument.

TIMES OF THE FIVE OBLIGATORY PRAYERS

[1157–166]. (Dār al-Salām 1268) Qutaybah ibn Saʿīd narrated:<sup>i</sup> Layth narrated [H]. Also, Ibn Rumḥ narrated; al-Layth reported; from Ibn Shihāb; that ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz delayed the ‘Aṣr Prayer for a short while. ‘Urwah said to him: ‘Indeed, Gabriel came down and led God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) in prayer.’ ‘Umar said to him: ‘Be careful as to what you say, ‘Urwah.’ He said: ‘I heard Bashīr ibn Abī Mas‘ūd say: I heard Abū Mas‘ūd say: I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: “Gabriel came down and led me, and I prayed with him. Then I prayed with him. Then I prayed with him. Then I prayed with him. Then I prayed with him. Then I prayed with him”. He counted with his fingers five prayers’.

حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا لَيْثٌ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ رُمَحْ، أَخْبَرَنَا اللَّيْثُ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ أَخْرَجَ الْعَصْرَ شَيْئًا، فَقَالَ لَهُ عُرْوَةُ: "أَمَّا إِنْ جَرَّيْلَ قَدْ نَزَلَ فَصَلَّى إِمَامَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ". فَقَالَ لَهُ عُمَرُ: "إِعْلَمْ مَا تَقُولُ يَا عُرْوَةُ". فَقَالَ: "سَمِعْتُ بَشِيرَ بْنَ أَبِي مَسْعُودٍ يَقُولُ: سَمِعْتُ أَبَا مَسْعُودٍ يَقُولُ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ: نَزَلَ جَرَّيْلٌ فَأَمَّنِي فَصَلَّيْتُ مَعَهُ، ثُمَّ صَلَّيْتُ مَعَهُ، ثُمَّ صَلَّيْتُ مَعَهُ، ثُمَّ صَلَّيْتُ مَعَهُ، يَحْسُبُ بِأَصَابِعِهِ خَمْسَ صَلَوَاتٍ

[1158–167]. (Dār al-Salām 1269) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā al-Tamīmī reported: I read out to Mālik; from Ibn Shihāb; that ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz delayed the prayer one day. ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr went in to see him and told him that al-Mughīrah ibn Shu‘bah delayed the prayer one day when he was at Kufah. Abū Mas‘ūd al-Anṣārī went in to see him and said: What is this? Mughīrah, do you not know that Gabriel came down and prayed and God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed? He then prayed, and God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed. He then prayed, and God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed. He then prayed, and God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed. He then prayed, and God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed.

He delayed Maghrib until it was time for the twilight to disappear. He then delayed the 'Ishā' until the first-third of the night had gone. In the morning, he called in the one who asked him and said: "The time is between these two [marks]"

Text Explanation

The first two hadiths, Nos 1157 and 1158, simply mention that the Prophet prayed with Gabriel, the angel, when Gabriel was the imam.

It may be said that in neither is there any information about the times of prayers. The answer is that these times were known to the addressees, and therefore the Prophet did not give any details. However, the times are clearly outlined in the narrations by Jābir and Ibn ‘Abbās related by Abū Dāwūd, al-Tirmidhī and other Hadith scholars.

In hadith No. 1158, ‘Gabriel came down and God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed’. This is repeated five times in the same wording. It means that when Gabriel did any part of the prayer, the Prophet did it in the same way until his prayer was complete.

In these two hadiths we learn that ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz delayed the prayer and ‘Urwah objected to what he did. Likewise, when al-Mughīrah delayed the prayer, Abū Mas‘ūd al-Anṣārī objected.<sup>i</sup> Both based their argument on the times when Gabriel led the Prophet in prayer. That al-Mughīrah and ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz delayed the prayer was perhaps because they were not aware of the hadith, or because they were of the view that delaying it was permissible as long as they offered the prayer within its time range, which is the view of our Shāfi‘ī School as well as the majority of scholars.

A different hadith related by Abū Dāwūd, al-Tirmidhī and others and narrated by Ibn ‘Abbās and others states that Gabriel and the Prophet prayed all five prayers on two consecutive days, offering each prayer at the beginning of its time range on the first day and at the end of its time of choice on the following day. Bearing this in mind, it may be asked: how can Abū Mas‘ūd and ‘Urwah give this hadith as the basis of their objection to the delay by al-Mughīrah and ‘Umar? The answer is that they might have delayed praying ‘Aṣr beyond the time mentioned on the second day, which is when everything’s shadow is twice its length, but God knows best.

Hadith Nos 1159–1162 mention that the Prophet used to offer the ‘Aṣr Prayer when the sun was spread in ‘Ā’ishah’s room or apartment. This is given in different wordings but all mean the same, which indicates that the Prophet prayed ‘Aṣr at the beginning of its time range, which is when the shadow of any object is equal to its height. Her apartment had a narrow yard and a short wall. The height of the wall was less than the width of the yard. When the shadow of the wall was equal to its height, the 'Aṣr Prayer became due, and the sun would still be spread at the end of the yard. The shadow of the wall would not have reached the other, eastern, wall. All the narrations are understood on this basis.

Hadith No. 1163 mentions 'If you pray Fajr, its time range continues until the first part of the sun has appeared'. This means that this period of time is the proper time for discharging the duty of Fajr Prayer. When this time has lapsed, it is no longer time for this prayer, but it becomes a make up for a missed prayer, i.e. qadā'. Making up prayers may be done at any time. This hadith gives evidence in support of the view of the majority of scholars that the time range of this prayer extends until sunrise. Abū Sa'īd al-Iṣṭakhrī, a Shāfi'ī scholar, said: 'If it becomes bright, then after that the prayer is compensatory, not at the right time, because on the second day, Gabriel prayed when it was bright and said that the right time is between these two'. The majority take the present hadith as their evidence and they argue that the hadith mentioning Gabriel meant to show the better time of choice, not to indicate the full time of permissibility. Thus, they reconcile the hadith and other authentic hadiths indicating that the time range of all prayers, other than Fajr, extends until the beginning of the next prayer. This understanding is better than the view that says that these hadiths abrogate the hadith mentioning Gabriel's prayer with the Prophet. We do not assume abrogation unless it is impossible to provide an understanding that reconciles the relevant hadiths. There is no such impossibility in this case, but God knows best.

The hadith continues, as the Prophet says: 'Then if you pray Ṣuḥr, its time continues until the time of the 'Aṣr Prayer is due'. This defines the time allowed for the fulfilment of the duty of praying 'Aṣr. This supports the view of al-Shāfi'ī and the majority of scholars that there is no overlap of the times of Ṣuḥr and 'Aṣr. On the contrary, when the time range of Ṣuḥr is over – at the point when the shadow of any object is equal to its height, apart from the shadow that remains at the point when the sun starts to decline – 'Aṣr time starts, and nothing of Ṣuḥr time remains. Mālik (may God be pleased with him) and other scholars said that when the shadow of an object is equal to its height, 'Aṣr time starts, but Ṣuḥr time is not yet over. There remains the time necessary to offer a four-rak'ah prayer, which may be Ṣuḥr or 'Aṣr prayed on time. Their argument is based on the hadith narrating Gabriel's prayer with the Prophet, which quotes the Prophet as saying: 'He led me in the Ṣuḥr Prayer on the second day when the shadow of everything was equal to its height, and he led me in the 'Aṣr Prayer on the first day when the shadow of everything was equal to its height'. The apparent meaning of this statement is that the two prayers overlap in as much time as it takes to pray four rak'ahs. Imam al-Shāfi'ī and the majority state their argument on the basis of the clear meaning of the hadith we are discussing. They understand the hadith mentioning Gabriel's prayer as meaning that he finished Ṣuḥr Prayer when shadows became equal to heights, while he started 'Aṣr on the first day at that point. Thus, there is overlap. This understanding is necessary to reconcile the hadiths. If the hadith is taken to indicate an overlap, the end of Ṣuḥr time becomes undefined. If it is started when shadows became equal to heights, its end remains unknown, which means that the end of the Ṣuḥr time range remains undefined, and the time range for different prayers could not be properly identified. On the other hand, if the hadith is understood as we have outlined, the end of Ṣuḥr time becomes well defined.

The same hadith then says: 'Then if you pray 'Aṣr, its time continues until the sun becomes yellow'. This defines the time range for offering 'Aṣr Prayer without falling into the area of what is discouraged. Indeed, 'Aṣr may still be prayed on time until sunset, as clearly stated in hadith No. 1154: 'Whoever completes one rak'ah of the 'Aṣr Prayer before sunset is considered to have offered the 'Aṣr Prayer [on time]'. This hadith refutes the argument of Abū Sa'īd al-Iṣṭakhrī, who says that when shadows are twice the heights, the 'Aṣr Prayer offered then is compensatory, not on time. We have already discussed this.

Our Shāfi'ī scholars say that there are five levels for 'Aṣr time: (1) preferable, which is at the start of its time range; (2) time of choice, which extends until shadows are twice the heights; (3) permissible without discouragement, which extends until the sun becomes yellow; (4) permissible but discouraged, which is from when the sun is yellow until sunset; and (5) for a specific reason in Zuhr time, which is when a person prays 'Aṣr with Zuhr because he is travelling or because it is raining. If 'Aṣr Prayer is offered during any of these times, it is offered on time, but if all of them lapse and it is offered later, it is compensatory, or qadā', but God knows best.

The same hadith continues: 'Then if you pray Maghrib, its time continues until the twilight disappears'. The same time ranges are expressed in hadith Nos 1164–1170, with slightly different wording. These hadiths clearly indicate that the time of Maghrib extends until the twilight has disappeared. This is one of two views in our Shāfi'i School, but it is considered to be the weaker view by the majority of our scholars. They claim that Maghrib has only one time, which is immediately after sunset. A person is allowed only to do his ablutions, put on his clothes, say the adhān and iqāmah before starting the prayer. If he delays it further, for any length of time, it becomes compensatory, and he has incurred a sin. However, the more scrupulous of our scholars lean towards the view that says that it is permissible to delay Maghrib for as long as the twilight has not disappeared. Further, it is permissible to start it at any point during this time, and there is no offence in delaying it beyond the start of its time. This is the correct view and none other may be considered.

The hadith that mentions Gabriel and his prayer with the Prophet at the same time on both days, offering it at sunset, may be answered in three ways: 1) The hadith shows the time of preference and choice, without defining the entire time of permissibility. This applies to all prayers except Zuhr. 2) It occurred at the beginning of Islam, when the Prophet was still in Makkah. The hadiths stating that Maghrib time extends until the twilight has disappeared came later, when the Prophet was in Madinah. Therefore, they take precedence. 3) These hadiths have more authentic chains of transmission than the hadith mentioning Gabriel. Therefore, they are given preference.

This is the sum of what relates to the time range of Maghrib. In Sharḥ al-Muhadhdhab, I have explained all the relevant evidence, and answered the ideas that are contrary to what is right, but God knows best.

The hadith concludes: 'Then if you pray 'Ishā', its time continues until midnight'. This means the time of choice for offering 'Ishā' Prayer. The time of permissibility extends up to the break of dawn. This is based on the hadith narrated by Abū Qatādah, which Muslim enters in the chapter related to forgetting a prayer or missing it through sleep. The hadith makes clear that oversleeping does not constitute negligence, and that negligence means delaying a prayer until it is time for the next prayer. We shall explain this hadith when we come to it, God willing. Al-Iṣṭakhrī said that 'if 'Ishā' is offered after midnight, it counts as compensatory', [i.e. qadā], but the majority of scholars cite the hadith narrated by Abū Qatādah as evidence in support of their view, but God knows best.

The hadiths mention the disappearance of the twilight as the end of Maghrib time. What is meant, according to al-Shāfi'ī and the majority of fiqh and language scholars is the red twilight. However, Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Muzanī and a number of scholars of both disciplines say that it means the white twilight. The first view is the preferable and more accurate. I have discussed this in detail in both Tahdhīb al-Lughāt and Sharḥ al-Muhadhdhab.

In hadith No. 1165, the Prophet gives this instruction: 'When the sun rises, stop praying, because it rises in between the two horns of a devil'. The Arabic word for horn is qarn, which also means 'century, community, etc.' Hence, some people suggest that the hadith is referring to the Devil's community. However, al-Nawawī says that it is better to stick to the apparent meaning of the hadith, which is 'the sides of his head'. What the hadith thus means is that when the sun is about to rise, Satan puts his head in its way, so that the unbelievers who prostrate before the sun as it rises appear to be prostrating before him. Thus he and his followers may have some power that may enable them to confuse a person who is offering his prayers. This is the reason for the ruling that prayer is discouraged or reprehensible at this time.

Hadith No. 1167 quotes Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr saying: 'Knowledge cannot be acquired if one is always to take it easy'. Many learned people have asked why Muslim includes Yaḥyā's statement here. Although he devotes his book to the Prophet's hadiths, this statement is unrelated to the hadiths defining the times of prayers. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ quotes some eminent scholars who have said that its inclusion may be as a result of the following:

Muslim was impressed by the excellent narrations and chains of transmission of the hadith narrated by 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr, their numerous useful points, summed purposes and the rulings that they explain. Indeed, we do not know of anyone who shares relating all these narrations with Muslim. As he noted all this, he wished to encourage anyone who wants to achieve a status that opens such treasures of knowledge saying that the way is to pursue one's studies with diligence, and to tire oneself in learning more and more.

Hadith No. 1168 mentions that a man asked the Prophet about the times of prayers and the Prophet told him to pray with him for two days. It then gives the times the Prophet offered the prayers on each of these two days. This hadith explains that every prayer has a time of preference and a time of choice. It makes clear that the time of Maghrib is extended, and the hadith suggests that explanation can be done by action, which makes things clearer; such explanation is useful to the questioner and all people attending. Further, the hadith shows that it is permissible to delay giving an explanation until it is needed. This is the view of the majority of scholars of legal theory. Other important points include the permissibility of delaying prayers beyond the start of their times, and also preferring a more important purpose to the benefit of attending to prayer at the beginning of its time.

After showing in practice the beginnings and ends of the times of prayers, the Prophet said: 'The times of your prayers is in between what you have seen'. This is an address to the man who asked him and to those attending. It means that the times of prayers are the two points at which I offered each prayer and the periods in between. He did not mention the two ends because they were known by his practice. Alternatively, the Prophet's words mean that the time is from the start with Allāhu akbar in the first instance to the end with salām in the second.

Hadith No. 1170 mentions that 'a man came to the Prophet and asked him about the times of prayers, but the Prophet did not answer him. He then announced Fajr at the break of dawn'. What this means is that the Prophet did not give a verbal answer, but told him to pray with the congregation so that he would learn the times as the Prophet demonstrated them by action. We understand the hadith in this way so that we reconcile it with the two hadiths before it. What is well known of the Prophet and his response is that he always answered people when they put questions to him, but God knows best.

In hadith Nos 1168–1170 the Prophet is said to have prayed 'Ishā' after one-third of the night had gone, while in hadith Nos 1163–1,166 narrated by 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr it is mentioned that the 'Ishā' time extends till midnight. These hadiths indicate the end of the time of choice. Scholars differ as to which of the two is more accurate. Al-Shāfi'ī mentions two views, one saying that the time of choice extends for one-third of the night, and the other, which is more correct, extends it to the middle of the night. Abū al-'Abbās Ḥaywah ibn Shurayḥ said: 'There is no difference between the narrations, and not also those by al-Shāfi'ī (may God bestow mercy on him). What is intended by one-third of the night is the beginning of its start, while midnight means the point of its final end. The hadiths are thus all reconciled'. His view is consistent with the apparent meanings of these hadiths, because the Prophet's statement that 'Ishā' time extends till midnight means that this is the end of its time of choice. The hadiths narrated by Sulaymān ibn Buraydah and Abū Mūsā make clear that the Prophet approved offering 'Ishā' after one-third of the night had gone. In this case, its time extends to nearly one-half of the night. Thus all the hadiths referring to its time become consistent in word and deed, but God knows best.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1169 begins with ‘Ibrāhīm ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Ar‘arah al-Sāmī narrated to me ...’. His surname, al-Sāmī, indicates that he was a descendant of Sāmah ibn Lu‘ayy ibn Ghālib, one of the Prophet’s distant ancestors.

DELAYING THE ZUHR CONGREGATIONAL PRAYER WHEN IT IS TOO HOT

[1172–180]. (Dār al-Salām 1282) Qutaybah ibn Saʿīd narrated:<sup>i</sup> Layth narrated [H]. Also, Muhammad ibn Rumḥ narrated; al-Layth narrated; from Ibn Shihāb; from Ibn al-Musayyib and Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān; from Abū Hurayrah; he said that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘When it is too hot, offer your prayer when it has cooled down. Extreme heat is a reflection of the heat of Hell’.

حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا لَيْثٌ، ح. وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ، أَخْبَرَنَا اللَّيْثُ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ وَأَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّهُ قَالَ إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «إِذَا اشْتَدَّ الْحَرُّ فَأَبْرِدُوا بِالصَّلَاةِ فَإِنَّ شِدَّةَ الْحَرِّ مِنْ فَيْحِ جَهَنَّمَ».

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1283) Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā narrated to me: Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; that Ibn Shihāb reported to him; he said: Abū Salamah and Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib reported to him; that they heard Abū Hurayrah say: God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: the same, exactly.

[1173–181]. (Dār al-Salām 1284) Ḥarūn ibn Saʿīd al-Aylī, ʿAmr ibn Sawwād, and Aḥmad ibn ʿĪsā narrated to me: Ibn Wahb (ʿAmr said: ‘reported’ and the other two said: ‘narrated’); he said: ‘Amr reported to me; that Bukayr narrated to him; from Busr ibn Saʿīd and Salmān al-Agharr; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘When the day is very hot, delay the prayer until it has cooled down. Extreme heat is a reflection of the heat of Hell’.

ʿAmr said: Abū Yūnus narrated to me; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘Offer your prayer when it has cooled down; for extreme heat is a reflection of the heat of Hell’.

‘Amr also said: Ibn Shihāb narrated to me; from Ibn al-Musayyib and Abū Salamah; from Abū Hurayrah; from God’s Messenger (peace be upon him): a similar narration.

[1176–184]. (Dār al-Salām 1289) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated to me:<sup>ii</sup> Muhammad ibn Ja‘far narrated; Shu‘bah narrated; he said: I heard Muhājir Abū al-Ḥasan narrating; that he heard Zayd ibn Wahb narrating from Abū Dharr; he said: ‘God’s Messenger’s caller was about to call the adhān for Zuhr, but the Prophet said to him: “Let it cool down; let it cool down”, or he said: “Wait; wait”. He added: “Intense heat is a reflection of the heat of Hell; therefore, delay the prayer until it cools down”.’ Abū Dharr added: ‘Until we saw the shades of sand and dust heaps’.

(Dār al-Salām 1290) ‘Amr ibn Sawwād and Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā narrated to me (Ḥarmalah’s text): Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; he said: Abū Salamah ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān narrated to me; that he heard Abū Hurayrah say: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “The Fire complained to its Lord and said: ‘My Lord, a part of me has devoured another’. He permitted it two breathing spaces: one in winter and one in summer. This is what you experience of the most severe cold weather”’.

[1178–186]. (Dār al-Salām 1291) Ishāq ibn Mūsā al-Anṣārī narrated to me: Ma‘n narrated; Mālik narrated; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd, al-Aswad ibn Sufyān’s mawlā; from Abū Salamah ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān and Muhammad ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Thawbān; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘When it is too hot, delay the prayer until it has cooled down, because intense heat is a reflection of the heat of Hell’. He also mentioned that ‘Hell complained to its Lord. He allowed it two breathing spaces every year: one in winter and one in summer’.

Text Explanation

The hadiths in this chapter urge people to delay Zuhṛ Prayer when the weather is too hot until the heat has subsided, yet Muslim enters in the next chapter hadith Nos 1181 and 1182, which again concern Zuhṛ Prayer and mention that the Prophet did not allow his Companions any delay during the very hot period. Scholars differed on how to reconcile these hadiths. Some suggested that delaying the prayer until the intense heat has subsided is a concession, while praying at the beginning of the time range is more preferable. They thus endorse the hadiths in the next chapter narrated by Khabbāb and consider the hadiths in this chapter advising delay until the heat has subsided to be a concession giving the easier option. This is the view of some of our scholars and others. Another group suggest that the hadiths narrated by Khabbāb are abrogated by the hadiths urging waiting until the intense heat has gone. Other scholars say that the preferred option is to delay until the intense heat has gone, as this is clear in the hadiths. The hadith narrated by Khabbāb is understood to mean that they requested further delay. The delay on the basis of cooling down means merely delay until walls have enough shade to allow comfortable walking to the mosque, and the intensity of the heat begins to retreat.

The correct view is that delaying the prayer until the extreme heat has subsided is desirable. This is the view of the majority of scholars, and it is the one endorsed by al-Shāfi'ī. The majority of the Prophet's Companions also upheld this view, due to the number of hadiths confirming acting on its basis and ordering its observance on numerous occasions.

The Prophet describes intense heat as a reflection of the heat of Hell, which means it gives an impression of the spread and glow of its heat and its boiling nature. In hadith No. 1176, Abū Dharr mentions that they saw the shades of the heaps of sand and dust. Here, Abū Dharr uses the word fay' for 'shade', which is appropriate because, according to Arabic linguists, this term is only used for the shade that occurs after midday. Such heaps are normally very low and they do not form shadows until well after midday.

In hadith No. 1179, the text mentions 'cold or extreme cold' and 'heat or intense heat'. Scholars said that this may be an expression of doubt by the narrator of the Prophet's exact words. Alternatively, it may be intended as different degrees.

Hadith Nos 1177–1179 mention that the Fire complained to God that it had been devouring its own parts, and He permitted it two breathing spaces. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said:

Scholars have differed in explaining the meaning of this hadith. Some said that it should be taken as it is, and that Hell actually complained that it was too intensely hot. This means that God has given Hell awareness and a faculty of distinction between things, and this gift enabled it to put this complaint to Him. It is the belief of the Sunni people that Hell is a created being. Others say that the hadith should not be taken at its face value; it is figurative, meaning that the intensity of heat is similar to the Fire of Hell. Therefore, it should be avoided by all means. The first explanation is perhaps more correct.

In my view, the first explanation is the correct one, because it gives us the apparent meaning of the hadith, and there is nothing to prevent us from taking the hadith as its wording suggests. Hence, it must be so understood, but God knows best.

It should be clear that delaying the prayer in hot weather is acceptable for Ẓuhr. It is not allowed in ‘Aṣr by any scholar other than Ashhab of the Mālikī School. It is unacceptable for Friday Prayer, according to the view of the majority of scholars, but some of our Shāfi‘ī scholars say that it is acceptable for Friday Prayer, but God knows best.

Text Explanation

The first hadith, No. 1180, mentions that the Prophet used to offer the Zuhr Prayer when the sun had started its decline, after being at its highest point in the sky. This provides evidence confirming the desirability to attend to Zuhr Prayer at the beginning of its time. This is the view of al-Shāfi‘ī and the majority of scholars.

We explained in the previous chapter the hadiths narrated by Khabbāb, Nos 1181 and 1182, which mention that the Prophet’s Companions complained about praying when the sand was too hot. The Prophet did not take any measure to reduce their difficulty, but left it to them. This is mentioned in the last hadith, No. 1183, which says that they would place their robes on the ground to protect themselves from the intense heat of the sand. This hadith is cited as evidence in support of the view that it is permissible to place one's head in prostration on a part of the garment one is wearing. This is the view of Abū Ḥanīfah and the majority of scholars. Al-Shāfi'ī, however, does not permit it. He understands this hadith and others similar to it as referring to prostration over a garment the worshipper is not wearing at the time.

THE EARLY START OF ‘AṢR

[1184–192]. (Dār al-Salām 1297) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd narrated:<sup>i</sup> Layth narrated [H]. Also, Muhammad ibn Rumḥ narrated; al-Layth reported; from Ibn Shihāb; from Anas ibn Mālīk; that he told him that ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to pray ‘Aṣr when the sun was still high and alive. A person may go to the highlands and get there with the sun still high’. Qutaybah did not mention ‘and get there ...’.

حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا لَيْثٌ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رُمْحٍ، أَخْبَرَنَا اللَّيْثُ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، أَنَّهُ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يُصَلِّي الْعَصْرَ وَالشَّمْسُ مُرْتَفِعَةً حَيَّةً، فَيَذْهَبُ إِلَى الْعَوَالِي، فَيَأْتِي الْعَوَالِي وَالشَّمْسُ مُرْتَفِعَةً. وَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ قُتَيْبَةُ فَيَأْتِي الْعَوَالِي.

[1185–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1298) Ḥarūn ibn Sa‘īd al-Aylī narrated to me: Ibn Wahb narrated; ‘Amr reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; from Anas; that ‘God’s Messenger used to pray ‘Aṣr ...’ the same.

وَحَدَّثَنِي هَارُونُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْأَيْلِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي عَمْرُو، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يُصَلِّي الْعَصْرَ ... بِمِثْلِهِ سَوَاءً.

[1186–193]. (Dār al-Salām 1299) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> he said: I read out to Mālīk; from Ibn Shihāb; from Anas ibn Mālīk; he said: ‘We used to pray ‘Aṣr, then a person would go to Qubā’ and get there with the sun still high’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ: قَرَأْتُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: “كُنَّا نَصَلِّي الْعَصْرَ، ثُمَّ يَلْهَبُ الذَّاهِبُ إِلَى قُبَاءٍ، فَيَأْتِيهِمْ وَالشَّمْسُ مُرْتَفِعَةً.

[1187–194]. (Dār al-Salām 1300) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated: he said: I read out to Mālīk; from Ishāq ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Ṭalḥah; from Anas ibn Mālīk; he said: ‘We used to pray ‘Aṣr, then a person may go to [the quarters of the clan of] ‘Amr ibn ‘Awf and find them offering ‘Aṣr Prayer’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ: قَرَأْتُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ عَنْ إِسْحَاقَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي طَلْحَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ،
"قَالَ: "كُنَّا نُصَلِّي الْعَصْرَ، ثُمَّ يُخْرَجُ الْإِنْسَانُ إِلَى بَنِي عَمْرِو بْنِ عَوْفٍ، فِي جِدْهِمْ يُصَلُّونَ الْعَصْرَ

[1188–195]. (Dār al-Salām 1301) Yaḥyā ibn Ayyūb, Muhammad ibn al-Ṣabbāḥ, Qutaybah and Ibn Ḥujr narrated:<sup>ii</sup> they said: Ismā‘īl ibn Ja‘far narrated; from al-‘Alā’ ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān; that he ‘visited Anas ibn Mālik in his home in Basrah, after he had left [the mosque] after Ṣuḥr Prayer. His home was close to the mosque. When we came in, he asked us: “Have you prayed ‘Aṣr?” We said: “We have just finished Ṣuḥr Prayer”. He said: “Then pray ‘Aṣr.” We got up and prayed. When we finished, he said: “I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: ‘That is the way a hypocrite prays. He sits down watching the sun, and when it is in between Satan’s horns, he stands up to knock out four quick [rak‘ahs], mentioning God in them only very little’”.

وَحَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي أَيُّوبَ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ وَقُتَيْبَةُ وَابْنُ حُجْرٍ، قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، عَنِ الْعَلَاءِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، أَنَّهُ دَخَلَ عَلَى أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ فِي دَارِهِ بِالْبَصْرَةِ، حِينَ أَنْصَرَفَ مِنَ الظُّهْرِ. وَدَارُهُ بِجَنْبِ الْمَسْجِدِ، فَلَمَّا دَخَلْنَا عَلَيْهِ قَالَ: "أَصَلَّيْتُمُ الْعَصْرَ؟" فَقُلْنَا لَهُ: "إِنَّمَا أَنْصَرَفْنَا السَّاعَةَ مِنَ الظُّهْرِ". قَالَ: "فَصَلُّوا الْعَصْرَ". فَقُمْنَا فَصَلَّيْنَا، فَلَمَّا أَنْصَرَفْنَا قَالَ: "سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ: «تِلْكَ صَلَاةُ الْمُنَافِقِ. يَجْلِسُ يَرْقُبُ الشَّمْسَ حَتَّى إِذَا كَانَتْ بَيْنَ قَرْنَيْ الشَّيْطَانِ قَامَ فَتَقَرَّهَا أَرْبَعًا، لَا يَذْكُرُ اللَّهَ فِيهَا إِلَّا قَلِيلًا»".

[1189–196]. (Dār al-Salām 1302) Maṣṣūr ibn Abī Muzāḥim narrated:<sup>i</sup> ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Mubārak narrated; from Abū Bakr ibn ‘Uthmān ibn Sahl ibn Ḥanīf; he said: I heard Abū Umāmah ibn Sahl say: ‘We prayed Ṣuḥr with ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz, then we left and went to visit Anas ibn Mālik. We found him praying ‘Aṣr. I asked him: “Uncle, what prayer have you just done?” He said: “It is ‘Aṣr; and this is the prayer of God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) which we used to pray with him”’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا مَنصُورُ بْنُ أَبِي مُزَاحِمٍ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ، عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ عُمَانَ بْنِ سَهْلِ بْنِ حُنَيْفٍ، قَالَ: "سَمِعْتُ أَبَا أُمَامَةَ بْنَ سَهْلٍ يَقُولُ: صَلَّى يَنَا مَعَ عُمَرَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ الظَّهْرَ، ثُمَّ خَرَجْنَا حَتَّى دَخَلْنَا عَلَى أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، فَوَجَدْنَا هُ يُصَلِّي الْعَصْرَ، فَقُلْتُ: يَا عَمَّ مَا هَذِهِ الصَّلَاةُ الَّتِي ص كُنتَ؟ قَالَ: الْعَصْرُ، وَهَذِهِ "صَّلَاةُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الَّتِي كُنَّا نَصَلِّي مَعَهُ".

[1190–197]. (Dār al-Salām 1303) ‘Amr ibn Sawwād al-‘Āmirī, Muhammad ibn Salamah al-Murādī and Aḥmad ibn ‘Isā narrated (with closely similar wording): Ibn Wahb (‘Amr said: ‘reported’ and the others said: ‘narrated’); ‘Amr ibn al-Hārith reported to me; from Yazīd ibn Abī Ḥabīb; that Mūsā ibn Sa‘d al-Anṣārī narrated to him; from Ḥafṣ ibn ‘Ubaydullāh; from Anas ibn Mālīk; he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) once led us in ‘Aṣr Prayer. When he finished, a man from the Salamah clan came to him and said: “Messenger of God, we wish to slaughter a camel [for food], and we would love that you would attend it”. The Prophet said: “Yes”. He went forth and we joined him. We found that the camel had not by then been slaughtered. It was then slaughtered and cut into pieces. Then some of it was cooked, and we ate before sunset’.

And al-Murādī said: Ibn Wahb narrated; from Ibn Lahī‘ah and ‘Amr ibn al-Hārith: this same hadith.

[1192–199]. (Dār al-Salām 1305) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: ʿIsā ibn Yūnus and Shuʿayb ibn Ishāq al-Dimashqī reported; both said: al-Awzāʿī narrated; with the same chain of transmission; except that he said: 'We used to slaughter a camel after ʿAṣr during the Prophet's lifetime ...' but he did not say 'We would pray with him'.

Text Explanation

Hadith No. 1184 mentions that after praying ʿAṣr with the Prophet a person could reach the highlands of Madinah when the sun was still high, and in hadith No. 1187, a person could reach the quarters of the clan of ʿAmr ibn ʿAwf and find them praying ʿAṣr. The highlands were the villages around Madinah, the farthest of which was at a distance of eight miles,<sup>i</sup> and the nearest only two miles away, and some were three miles distant. This is how the term was explained by Mālik. Qubāʾ, which is mentioned in hadith No. 1186 was three miles from Madinah. In hadith No. 1184, the Prophet is said to have prayed ʿAṣr 'when the sun was still high and alive'. Al-Khaṭṭābī mentions that 'alive' in this instance means it is clear, showing no yellowness or change of colour. Others said that it means that its heat was still keenly felt.

What the hadiths mean in this chapter are that one should attend to ʿAṣr Prayer, offering it at the beginning of its time. It is not possible for someone to walk two or three miles (equivalent to 3.5 and 5.5 kilometres, respectively) after praying ʿAṣr and the sun continues to be unchanged, affected by no yellowness, unless one prays 'Aṣr when the shade of an object is equivalent to its height. Even then, it is only possible during long days.

Hadith No. 1187 mentions that a person might pray 'Aṣr in the Prophet's mosque then go to the quarters of the Anṣārī clan, 'Amr ibn 'Awf, only to find them offering the same prayer. Scholars said that their quarters were two miles away from Madinah, and the hadith indicates that the Prophet was keen to offer 'Aṣr Prayer at the very beginning of its time, while the people of 'Amr ibn 'Awf prayed in the middle of its time range. Had it not been so, the hadith would not have provided any argument. That they delayed praying 'Aṣr was perhaps as a result of them being busy with their work in the farms and fields. When they had finished work, they would get ready for prayer, making their ablution and other preparations. Hence, their congregational prayer was delayed. These and the following hadiths provide evidence in support of the view of Mālik, al-Shāfi'ī, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars stating that 'Aṣr time starts when shades are equal to heights. Abū Ḥanīfah said that 'Aṣr time begins only when shades are double the heights. These hadiths, as well as the one narrated by Ibn 'Abbās concerning times of prayer and the one narrated by Jābir, as well as other hadiths, provide the counter argument.

Hadith No. 1188 mentions the case of Anas ibn Mālik, the Prophet's Companion, ordering his guests to pray 'Aṣr when they entered his home, when they had only prayed Ṣuḥr a short while earlier. He told them what the Prophet had said about the approach of hypocrites to prayer. They knock out four very short rak'ahs in which they mention God only very little. The next hadith mentions that the early 'Aṣr Prayer was the Prophet's normal practice. These two hadiths are very clear in urging that 'Aṣr should be prayed early and that its time range starts when shadows are equal to heights. The fact that 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz delayed it was simply following the practice of other governors who did the same. He was not then aware of the Prophet's practice, but when he learnt this, he followed the same practice. It is also probable that he delayed it because he was attending to something important, or for some other reason. The apparent meaning of the hadith fits with the first probability. The case mentioned here was when ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz was appointed governor of Madinah, not when he became the Caliph. Anas, who is mentioned in the hadith, died nearly nine years before ‘Umar assumed the Caliphate.

In the same hadith, the Prophet denounces the way a hypocrite prays. He says that a hypocrite ‘sits down watching the sun’. This is clear criticism of delaying ‘Aṣr Prayer without a valid reason. Then the Prophet says that hypocrites pray when the sun ‘is in between Satan’s horns’. Scholars differ concerning the meaning of this description. Some say that it means exactly what it says, and that Satan brings his horns parallel with the sun when it sets and when it rises, because worshippers prostrate themselves for it at these times. As Satan shows himself parallel to it, the worshippers of the sun appear as if they are prostrating themselves before him. Thus, he deludes himself and his friends with this impression. Other scholars say that the description is figurative and that the expression ‘his horns’ refers to his power and dominance over some people. Al-Khaṭṭābī said that the expression gives a simile which means that delaying ‘Aṣr is the result of Satan’s attempts to stop people from offering the prayer, in the same way as a horned animal tries to stop its opponent. The correct interpretation is the first one.

The Prophet then describes the prayer of such hypocrites, saying: ‘he stands up to knock out four quick [rak‘ahs], mentioning God in them only very little’. This is a clear criticism of prayers done too quickly, when a worshipper does not show calmness and does not say the recommended glorifications and supplications.

Hadith No. 1190 mentions that the Prophet was invited to attend a community dinner when a camel was to be slaughtered and some of its meat cooked. The invitation was made after he had led ‘Aṣr Prayer and the whole function ended before sunset. All this confirms the very early start of ‘Aṣr. The hadith confirms the desirability of accepting an invitation, and that an invitation to a meal is desirable at any time during the day.

Text Explanation

The Prophet describes a person who misses ‘Aṣr Prayer as one who loses his family and property. However, the hadith is also read as meaning that such a person is like ‘one who is deprived of his family and property’. This is the explanation stated by Mālik ibn Anas. On the other hand, al-Khaṭṭābī and other scholars say that the hadith means that such a person loses his family and property and stands alone. Therefore, everyone should guard against missing ‘Aṣr Prayer in the same way as he is keen to keep his family and his property. Ibn ‘Abd al-Barr stresses the word used by the Prophet, wutir, which means ‘being a victim of a crime which he wants to avenge’. The crime in this case targets his family and property. Thus, such a person suffers the grief of having lost his family and property and the worry of having to avenge himself against offenders.

Al-Dāwūdī, a Mālikī scholar, said that such a person should be in a state of grief for missing the prayer similar to the grief of one who has lost all his family and property. Other scholars have said that such a person misses out on a great sum of reward for which he should grieve in the same way as one who has lost his family and property.

Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'Scholars have differed as to the meaning of missing 'Aṣr Prayer in this hadith. Ibn Wahb and other scholars said that it refers to one who does not offer this prayer in its time of choice. Suḥnūn and al-Aṣīlī said that it refers to a person who does not pray 'Aṣr before sunset. It is also said that missing it means not praying it before the sun has become yellow. This is confirmed in al-Awzā'ī's narration of this hadith, which includes: "Missing it occurs when the sun becomes yellowish". Sālim is quoted as saying that the hadith applies to one who misses the prayer because he forgets it. According to al-Dāwūdī, it applies to one who deliberately neglects the prayer. This is more likely, and it is confirmed by the hadith related by al-Bukhārī in his Ṣaḥīḥ: "Whoever omits 'Aṣr Prayer loses all his good actions". This can only apply to one who deliberately does so'.

Ibn 'Abd al-Barr said: 'It is probable that what is said about 'Aṣr Prayer may apply to other prayers. The Prophet might have intended speaking about 'Aṣr to draw attention to all prayers, but its particular mention is due to the fact that it occurs when people are already tired after a day's work, and are eager to finish whatever they may have in hand before they attend to prayer'. His argument, however, is questionable, because the hadith mentions 'Aṣr Prayer without specifying a reason for the ruling applicable to it. Therefore, we cannot apply its ruling to other cases on the basis of surmise. What is specified is applied to other cases when we are fully aware of the reason for its ruling, and that reason equally applies to all such cases.

Transmission

In the second narration of hadith No. 1193, Muslim adds: 'Amr said: completing it; and Abū Bakr said: taking it up to the Prophet'. The two phrases ‘completing it’ and ‘taking it up’ mean the same thing: that the hadith is attributed to the Prophet. However, Muslim was always keen to render the exact words, even when they differ but carry the same meaning. This is certainly commendable, and God knows best.

PROOF THAT ‘AṢR IS THE MIDDLE PRAYER

[1196–203]. (Dār al-Salām 1311) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā and Muhammad ibn Bashshār narrated: Ibn al-Muthannā said: Muhammad ibn Ja‘far narrated; Shu‘bah narrated; he said: I heard Qatādah narrating from Abū Ḥassān; from ‘Abīdah; from ‘Alī: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said on the Day of the Confederates: “They kept us from the middle prayer until the sun had turned back. May God fill their graves with fire, or their homes, or their bellies”. (Shu‘bah doubted whether it was homes or bellies.)

وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ، قَالَ ابْنُ الْمُثَنَّى حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ، حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ قَتَادَةَ، يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ أَبِي حَسَّانَ، عَنْ عُبَيْدَةَ، عَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ الْأَحْزَابِ: «شَغَلُونَا عَنْ صَلَاةِ الْوُسْطَى حَتَّى آتَتِ الشَّمْسُ. مَلَأَ اللَّهُ قُبُورَهُمْ نَارًا، أَوْ بُيُوتَهُمْ، أَوْ بُطُونَهُمْ». شَكَّ شُعْبَةُ فِي الْبُيُوتِ وَالْبُطُونِ.

[1197–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1312) Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated: Ibn Abī ‘Adī narrated; from Sa‘īd; from Qatādah; with this same chain of transmission. He said: ‘Their homes and graves’. (He did not doubt).

[1198–204]. (Dār al-Salām 1313) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated: both said: Wakī‘ narrated; from Shu‘bah; from al-Ḥakam; from Yaḥyā ibn al-Jazzār; from ‘Alī [H]. Also, ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Mu‘ādh narrated (his text); my father narrated; Shu‘bah narrated; from al-Ḥakam; from Yaḥyā; he heard ‘Alī say: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said on the Day of the Confederates, as he was sitting on one of the openings of the Moat: "They kept us from the middle prayer until the sun had set. May God fill their graves and homes (or he said their graves and bellies) with fire".

[1199–205]. (Dār al-Salām 1314) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah, Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Abū Kurayb narrated: they said: Abū Mu‘āwiyah narrated; from al-A‘mash; from Muslim ibn Ṣubayḥ; from Shutayr ibn Shakal; from ‘Alī: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said on the Day of the Confederates: “They kept us from the middle prayer, the ‘Aṣr Prayer. May God fill their homes and graves with fire”. He then prayed it between the two night prayers, Maghrib and ‘Ishā’.

[1200–206]. (Dār al-Salām 1315) ‘Awn ibn Sallām al-Kūfī narrated:<sup>i</sup> Muhammad ibn Ṭalḥah al-Yāmī reported; from Zubayd; from Murrah; from ‘Abdullāh; he said: ‘The idolaters kept God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) from the ‘Aṣr Prayer until the sun reddened or yellowed. The Prophet said: “They have kept us from the middle prayer, the ‘Aṣr Prayer. May God fill their bellies and graves with fire”, or he said: “May God stuff their bellies and graves with fire”.

رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «شَغَلُونَا عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ الْوُسْطَى، صَلَاةَ الْعَصْرِ. مَلَأَ اللَّهُ أَجْوَاهَهُمْ وَقُبُورَهُمْ نَارًا». أَوْ قَالَ: «حَشَا اللَّهُ أَجْوَاهَهُمْ وَقُبُورَهُمْ نَارًا».

[1201–207]. (Dār al-Salām 1316) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā al-Tamīmī narrated:<sup>ii</sup> he said: I read out to Mālik; from Zayd ibn Aslam; from al-Qa‘qā‘ ibn Ḥakīm; from Abū Yūnus, ‘Ā’ishah’s mawlā; he said: ‘‘Ā’ishah told me to write the Qur’an for her and said when you reach this verse, let me know: “Attend regularly to your prayers, particularly the middle prayer”. When I reached it, I told her, and she dictated to me: “Attend regularly to your prayers, particularly the middle prayer, and the ‘Aṣr Prayer, and stand up before God in devout obedience”. (2: 238) ‘Ā’ishah said: “I heard it from God’s Messenger (peace be upon him)”.

[1202–208]. (Dār al-Salām 1317) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm al-Ḥanzalī narrated: Yaḥyā ibn Adam reported; al-Fuḍayl ibn Marzūq narrated; from Shaqīq ibn ‘Uqbah; from al-Barā’ ibn ‘Āzib; he said: ‘This verse was revealed: “Attend regularly to your prayers, particularly the ‘Aṣr Prayer”, and we recited it for as long as God willed, then God abrogated it, and he revealed: “Attend regularly to your prayers, particularly the middle prayer”. A man who was sitting with a brother of his said: “It is then the ‘Aṣr Prayer”. Al-Barā’ said: “I told you how it was revealed and how God abrogated it, but God knows best”’.

Muslim said: And it was narrated by al-Ashja‘ī; from Sufyān al-Thawrī; from al-Aswad ibn Qays; from Shaqīq ibn ‘Uqbah; from al-Barā’ ibn ‘Āzib; he said: ‘We recited it with the Prophet for some time’, the same as the narration by Fuḍayl ibn Marzūq.

 نَسَخَهَا اللَّهُ، فَتَزَلَّتْ {حَافِظُوا عَلَى الصَّلَوَاتِ وَصَلَاةِ الْوُسْطَى}. فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ كَانَ جَالِسًا عِنْدَ شَقِيقٍ لَهُ:
 "'هِيَ إِذَا صَلَاةُ الْعَصْرِ". فَقَالَ الْبَرَاءُ: "قَدْ أَخْبَرْتُكَ كَيْفَ نَزَلَتْ وَكَيْفَ نَسَخَهَا اللَّهُ وَاللَّهُ أَعْلَمُ".

[1203–209]. (Dār al-Salām 1318) Abū Ghassān al-Misma‘ī and Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> from Mu‘ādh ibn Hishām; Abū Ghassān said: Mu‘ādh ibn Hishām narrated; my father narrated to me; from Yahyā ibn Kathīr; he said: Abū Salamah ibn ‘Abd al-Rahmān narrated; from Jābir ibn ‘Abdullāh; that ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb cursed the Quraysh unbelievers on the Day of the Confederates, and he said: "Messenger of God, by God, I hardly started to pray the ‘Aṣr when the sun was almost setting". God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: "By God, I did not pray it". We went down to Buṭhān, and God’s Messenger performed the ablution, and we did the same. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed ‘Aṣr after sunset, then he prayed Maghrib after it’.

Text Explanation

Scholars among the Prophet's Companions and later ones differed as to which prayer is the middle one mentioned in the Qur'an. A number of them said that it is 'Aṣr Prayer. These included 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib, Ibn Mas'ūd, Abū Ayyūb, Ibn 'Umar, Ibn 'Abbās, Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī, Abū Hurayrah, 'Ubaydah al-Salamānī, al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, Ibrāhīm al-Nakha'ī, Qatādah, al-Ḍaḥḥāk, al-Kalbī, Muqātil, Abū Ḥanīfah, Aḥmad, Dāwūd, Ibn al-Mundhir and others. Al-Tirmidhī said: 'This is the view of the majority of scholars from among the Prophet's Companions and later ones'. Al-Māwardī, a Shāfi'ī scholar, said: 'This is the view of the Shāfi'ī School, because of the authentic hadiths confirming it. He himself (meaning al-Shāfi'ī) mentioned that it is the Fajr Prayer because he was unaware of these authentic hadiths mentioning that it is the 'Aṣr Prayer. He always insisted on following the Prophet's hadiths'.

Other scholars said that it is the Fajr Prayer. These include 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, Mu'ādh ibn Jabal, Ibn 'Abbās, Ibn 'Umar, Jābir, 'Aṭā', 'Ikrimah, Mujāhid, al-Rabī' ibn Anas, Mālik ibn Anas, al-Shāfi'ī and most of his disciples as well as others.

Others said that it is the Ṣuḥr Prayer, and this is reported from Zayd ibn Thābit, Usāmah ibn Zayd, Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī, 'Ā'ishah, 'Abdullāh ibn Shaddād and one report from Abū Ḥanīfah. Moreover, Qabīṣah ibn Dhu'ayb said that it is Maghrib, while other scholars said that it is 'Ishā'. It is also said that it is an undefined one of the five obligatory prayers, while Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ reported from some scholars that it is all five prayers, and some said that it is Friday Prayer.

The correct views of all these are two: that it is the 'Aṣr or Fajr Prayer, and the more correct view, based on authentic hadiths, is that it is 'Aṣr. Those who uphold the view that it is Fajr understand the hadiths as giving a different meaning, saying that 'Aṣr is called the 'mid-way' prayer, and it is different from the 'middle' prayer mentioned in the Qur'an, but this is a rather unsound argument. Scholars who said that it is Fajr argue that its time is difficult, because of the cold weather in winter and the need to sleep in summer, the lack of energy and general unawareness at its time. Hence, it is given special mention as a prayer to be particularly attended to, because it is more likely to be missed than other prayers. Those who said that it is 'Aṣr Prayer say that 'Aṣr occurs at a time when people are busy with their work.

The view that it is Friday Prayer is very weak, because the order to attend to the middle prayer in particular is given because it is liable to be missed. This is unlikely to be the case for Friday Prayer since people generally take more care of Friday Prayer than others, because it is once a week. The view that it is all five prayers is either very weak or wrong, because Arabs do not mention something specific first and then put it in general terms. They do the opposite, stating the general expression first before giving its specifications or some of them, to highlight its merits, but God knows best.

The hadiths mention the Day of the Confederates in reference to the well-known encounter when the unbelievers and the Jews besieged Madinah for nearly a month. It is called the Encounter with the Confederates or the the Encounter of the Moat. It was in the fourth or fifth year after the Prophet's migration to Madinah. Hadith No. 1196 mentions that the Muslims were prevented from offering 'Aṣr Prayer until the sun had 'turned back'. Al-Ḥarbī said that this means the sun went back to its place at night, which means it had set. Others say that it means that it had started to set.

That the Prophet delayed the 'Aṣr Prayer until after sunset is understood to have taken place before the legislation was revealed outlining how to pray in the case of fearing an attack from an enemy. Scholars say that it is possible that he forgot the prayer, not deliberately delayed it, and the reason for forgetting it was that he was preoccupied with fighting the enemy. On the other hand, it is probable that he deliberately delayed it and this was a valid reason for so doing before the revelation concerning praying in a state of fear. Nowadays, it is not permissible to delay prayer beyond its time range because of fighting an enemy. We must offer it, in the form of the prayer in fear, as the situation permits. This takes different forms, which are well explained in fiqh books. We shall, God willing, discuss its different aspects in the relevant chapter of this book.

In this hadith, and also in al-Bukhārī's anthology, the missed prayer is stated to be the 'Aṣr, and the apparent meaning of the hadith is that it was the only missed prayer, but in Mālik's al-Muwatṭa', it is mentioned that both Ṣuḥr and 'Aṣr Prayers were missed, and in some other hadiths, that all four prayers – Ṣuḥr, 'Aṣr, Maghrib and 'Ishā' – were delayed until a part of the night had gone. These narrations are easily reconciled, because the Encounter with the Confederates took several days and each report refers to what happened on a different day.

In hadith No. 1201, the narrator mentions that 'Ā'ishah dictated to him the relevant verse as: 'Attend regularly to your prayers, particularly the middle prayer, and the 'Aṣr Prayer'. All the reports include the conjunction 'and' before the 'Aṣr Prayer. Some of our scholars take this as evidence that 'Aṣr is not the middle prayer, because the conjunction 'and' implies difference. Our school says that a peculiar or odd wording of the Qur'an may not be taken as evidence, and it cannot be treated as reported from God's Messenger (peace be upon him). This is because whoever reports it does so as if it belongs to the Qur'an, but the Qur'an is only proven through recurrence [i.e. tawātur] and unanimity. If it is unconfirmed as belonging to the Qur'an, then it is also unconfirmed as a piece of information. This is plainly explained in books of legal theory. On this point we have differences with Imam Abū Ḥanīfah (may God bestow mercy on him).

In hadith No. 1203, 'Umar complains to the Prophet that he could hardly manage to pray 'Aṣr before sunset, but the Prophet swears to him that he himself did not pray it. The Prophet's oath was to comfort 'Umar, who felt upset at delaying 'Aṣr until almost Maghrib time. The Prophet told him that he had not yet offered 'Aṣr, thus 'Umar would not feel too upset as the Prophet was similarly preoccupied. The fact that the Prophet confirmed this with an oath makes clear that it is permissible to swear an oath when it is not required. It is indeed desirable to do so for a legitimate purpose, such as asserting something, or comforting someone, or negating the possibility of forgetting, or any similarly valid reason. Such oaths are numerous in hadiths. Indeed, the Qur'an includes many such oaths, as at the beginning of Surahs 51, 52, 77, 86, 91, 92, 93, 95, 100, 103 as well as elsewhere. All these oaths are given to stress the importance of what comes next, but God knows best.

The same hadith suggests that the Prophet and his Companions prayed 'Aṣr and Maghrib on this occasion in congregation. This provides evidence that it is perfectly permissible to offer a missed prayer in congregation. This is agreed by all scholars, except for what Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ says that al-Layth ibn Sa'd does not approve of it. If this is correctly reported from al-Layth, it is refuted by this hadith and other authentic hadiths that the Prophet led his Companions in praying Fajr when they overslept until after sunrise, as will presently be mentioned by Muslim.

This hadith states the evidence that a person who misses a prayer and then remembers it during the time of another prayer, should start with the missed prayer first, and follow it with offering the present prayer. This is unanimously agreed upon, but al-Shāfi'ī and a number of scholars say that it is desirable, not obligatory. This means that if such a person prays the present prayer first and follows it with the missed one, such action is acceptable. Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and others say that it is obligatory to pray the missed prayer first. If one prays the present prayer first, it is unacceptable.

Some may argue that this hadith also provides evidence that the time range of Maghrib extends until the twilight has set, because the Prophet prayed 'Aṣr first. Had the Maghrib time been limited, he would have started with it, so that its time would not lapse and he would not have missed two prayers. The fact is that the hadith provides no such evidence, because it reports what took place some time after sunset, which means that Maghrib time had gone according to those who say that it is limited. The view of choice is that Maghrib time extends until the twilight has disappeared, as we have already explained its valid evidence.

Transmission

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1196 includes ‘from ‘Abīdah from ‘Alī’. This is ‘Abīdah al-Salamanī.

Hadith No. 1198 has two chains of transmission. The first of these says ‘from Yaḥyā ibn al-Jazzār, from ‘Alī’, while the second says: ‘from Yaḥyā: he heard ‘Alī say’. Muslim included both because of the difference implied in the usage of ‘from’ in the first and the clear statement of personally hearing the hadith in the second.

The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1199 includes ‘Muslim ibn Ṣubayḥ from Shutayr ibn Shakal’. Muslim ibn Ṣubayḥ is mentioned in other instances by his appellation Abū al-Ḍuḥā, while Shutayr is also said to be Ibn Shakl.

THE IMPORTANCE OF REGULARLY ATTENDING TO FAJR AND ‘AṢR PRAYERS

[1204–210]. (Dār al-Salām 1320) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> he said: I read out to Mālik; from Abū al-Zinād; from al-A‘raj; from Abū Hurayrah; that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘Angels take turns in attending you through the night and through the day. They meet together during the Fajr and ‘Aṣr prayers. Then those who were with you during the night ascend. Their Lord will ask them, yet He knows better than them: How did you leave My servants? They will say: “We left them praying, as we joined them when they were praying”’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَ: قَرَأْتُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ عَنْ أَبِي الزِّنَادِ، عَنِ الْأَعْرَجِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «يَتَعَاقَبُونَ فِيكُمْ مَلَائِكَةٌ بِاللَّيْلِ وَمَلَائِكَةٌ بِالنَّهَارِ، وَيَجْتَمِعُونَ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ وَصَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ. ثُمَّ يَخْرُجُ الَّذِينَ بَاتُوا فِيكُمْ، فَيَسْأَلُهُمْ رَبُّهُمْ وَهُوَ أَعْلَمُ بِهِمْ: كَيْفَ تَرَكْتُمْ عِبَادِي؟ فِي قَوْلُونَ: تَرَكْنَاهُمْ «وَهُمْ يُصَلُّونَ، وَأَتَيْنَاهُمْ وَهُمْ يُصَلُّونَ».

[1205–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1321) Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ narrated: ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated; Ma‘mar narrated; from Hammām ibn Munabbih; from Abū Hurayrah; from the Prophet (peace be upon him): ‘And the angels take turns in attending you ...’, the same as Abū al-Zinād’s narration.

وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ، حَدَّثَنَا مَعْمَرٌ، عَنْ هَمَّامِ بْنِ مُنَبِّهٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: «وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ يَتَعَاقَبُونَ فِيكُمْ». بِمِثْلِ حَدِيثِ أَبِي الزِّنَادِ

[1206–211]. (Dār al-Salām 1322) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated:<sup>i</sup> Marwān ibn Mu‘āwiyah al-Fazārī narrated; Ismā‘īl ibn Abī Khālid reported; Qays ibn Abī Ḥāzim narrated. I heard Jarīr ibn ‘Abdullāh as he said: ‘We were sitting with God’s Messenger’s (peace be upon him) when he looked at the moon on a night when it was full and said: “You shall indeed see your Lord as you see this moon, and you shall not be barred from seeing Him. If you can manage it: never be barred from a prayer before sunrise and one before sunset". He meant the 'Aṣr and Fajr prayers. Jarīr then recited: "extol your Lord's limitless glory and praise Him before the rising of the sun and before its setting". (20: 130)

وَحَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا مَرْوَانُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ الْفَزَارِيُّ، أَخْبَرَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ أَبِي خَالِدٍ، حَدَّثَنَا قَيْسُ بْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، قَالَ سَمِعْتُ جَرِيرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ وَهُوَ يَقُولُ: كُنَّا جُلُوسًا عِنْدَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذْ نَظَرَ إِلَى الْقَمَرِ لَيْلَةَ الْبَدْرِ، فَقَالَ: «أَمَّا إِنَّكُمْ سَتَرَوْنَ رَبَّكُمْ كَمَا تَرَوْنَ هَذَا الْقَمَرَ، لَا تَضَامُونَ فِي رُؤْيَيْهِ. فَإِنْ اسْتَطَعْتُمْ أَنْ لَا تُغْلَبُوا عَلَى صَلَاةٍ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا». يَعْنِي الْعَصْرَ وَالْفَجْرَ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ جَرِيرٌ: {وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا}.

[1207–212]. (Dār al-Salām 1323) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: 'Abdullāh ibn Numayr, Abū Usāmah and Wakī': with the same chain of transmission. And he said: 'For certain, you shall be presented to your Lord and you shall see Him as you see this moon ...'. He also said: 'And he recited' without mentioning Jarīr's name.

[1208–213]. (Dār al-Salām 1324) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah, Abū Kurayb and Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated:<sup>i</sup> all of them from Wakī'; Abū Kurayb said: Wakī' narrated; from Ibn Abī Khālid, Mis'ar and al-Bakhtarī ibn al-Mukhtār; they heard it from Abū Bakr ibn 'Umārah ibn Ru'aybah; from his father; he said: 'I heard God's Messenger (peace be upon him) say: "No one who prays before sunrise and before sunset shall enter the Fire", meaning [who prays] Fajr and 'Aṣr. A man from the people of Basrah said: "Did you yourself hear it from God's Messenger (peace be upon him)?" He said: "Yes." The man said: "And I declare that I heard it from God's Messenger (peace be upon him): I heard it with my ears and fully understood it"'.

وَحَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَأَبُو كُرَيْبٍ وَإِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، جَمِيعًا عَنْ وَكَيْعٍ، قَالَ أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ حَدَّثَنَا وَكَيْعٌ، عَنْ ابْنِ أَبِي خَالِدٍ وَمِسْعَرٍ وَالْبَخْتَرِيِّ بْنِ السُّخْتَارِ، سَمِعُوهُ مِنْ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ عُمَارَةَ بْنِ رُؤَيْبَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ:

Text Explanation

The first hadith, No. 1204, mentions that angels take turns in attending the believers, which means that one group of them comes to take their turn when another group has finished. That the angels meet together at Fajr and ‘Aṣr is an aspect of God’s care of His servants who believe in Him. He honours them by making the angels meet at their place and then depart as the people perform their worship. Thus, their testimony will tell what they have seen of goodness.

The hadith then mentions that ‘Their Lord will ask them, yet He knows better than them: How did you leave My servants?’ This question should be taken as it is. It is part of what God requires of His angels in their worship of Him, as He has commanded them to record people’s actions, although He knows them best. Qādī ‘Iyāḍ said: ‘The apparent meaning, which is agreed upon by the majority of scholars, is that these angels are the ones whose task it is to record people’s deeds. However, it is also possible that they may be from among the general body of angels’.

The Prophet tells his Companions that they will be seeing their Lord, and he adds: ‘You shall not be barred from seeing Him’. We explained this in the Book of Faith, mentioning that it means that they will not suffer any grudge in seeing Him.

In hadith No. 1207, the Prophet says: ‘For certain, you shall be presented to your Lord and you shall see Him as you see this moon’. This means that they will see their Lord without any doubt and without any trouble, just as they can see the full moon, with nothing to stop them from doing so. The simile applies to the act of seeing, not to what is being seen. Moreover, seeing God is a privilege granted only to believers. Unbelievers will not see God. Some suggest that hypocrites among the Muslim community will see Him, but this view has no strong basis. The correct view that is agreed upon by the majority of scholars among Sunni Muslims is that hypocrites, like all other unbelievers, shall not see God. We have already discussed this question fully in the Book of Faith.

Text Explanation

These hadiths confirm that the Prophet used to offer the Maghrib Prayer at the beginning of its time, as soon as the sun had set. The second hadith mentions that when people left after the prayer had finished, any of them might shoot an arrow and he could see where it landed, because there was still sufficient light for him to see. These two hadiths confirm that Maghrib is offered immediately after sunset; this is unanimously agreed upon. The Shia have been reported to say something different on this point, but this need not be even discussed, because it is without basis.<sup>i</sup>

The earlier hadiths mentioning delaying Maghrib until the twilight has dropped were meant only to indicate that it is permissible, as we explained. The hadiths were stated in answer to a question put to the Prophet, while the present two hadiths confirm the Prophet's practice which he maintained at all times, except for a valid reason. It is, then, the practice to be followed, but God knows best.

THE TIME OF 'ISHĀ' AND ITS DELAY

[1214–218]. (Dār al-Salām 1331) 'Amr ibn Sawwād al-Āmirī and Ḥarmalah ibn Yahyā narrated: both said: Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; that Ibn Shihāb reported to him; he said: 'Urwah ibn al-Zubayr reported to me; that 'Ā'ishah, the Prophet's wife, said: 'One night, God's Messenger delayed the 'Ishā' Prayer, which is called al-ʿatamah [meaning the dark hour]. He did not come out for it until 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb said: "The women and children have slept". The Prophet came out to the prayer and said to the people in the mosque: "No one on earth is awaiting it other than you". This was before Islam spread among the people'.

Ḥarmalah added in his narration: 'Ibn Shihāb said: "It was mentioned to me that God's Messenger (peace be upon him) said: 'It is not for you to urge God's Messenger to the prayer'. This was in relation to 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb's shouting'".

يُونُسُ، أَنَّ ابْنَ شِهَابٍ، أَخْبَرَهُ، قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي عُرْوَةُ بْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ، أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ، زَوْجَ النَّبِيِّ
حَتَّى قَالَ عَمْرُ بْنُ أَخِطَابٍ: نَأْمُ النَّبِيَّ وَالصَّبِيَّ أَنْ يَخْرُجَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ
فَقَالَ لَهُ أَهْلُ الْمَسْجِدِ يَنْخَرُجُ عَلَيْنَا هُمْ: «مَا يَنْتَظِرُهُ أَحَدٌ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْأَرْضِ غَيْرِكُمْ». وَذَلِكَ
"قَبْلَ أَنْ يُفْشَى الْإِسْلَامُ فِي النَّاسِ".

أَخِطَابٍ.

[000–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1332) 'Abd al-Malik ibn Shu'ayb ibn al-Layth narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> my father narrated; from my grandfather; from 'Uqayl; from Ibn Shihāb; with the same chain of transmission:

the same, but he did not mention al-Zuhrī's statement: 'It was mentioned to me' and what came after it.

[1215–219]. (Dār al-Salām 1333) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm and Mu-hammad ibn Ḥātim narrated to me:<sup>ii</sup> both from Muhammad ibn Bakr [H]. Also, Ḥarūn ibn ‘Abdullāh narrated to me; Ḥajjāj ibn Muhammad narrated [H]. And, Ḥajjāj ibn al-Shā‘ir and Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ narrated to me; both said: ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated (their wordings are closely similar); they all said: from Ibn Jurayj; he said: al-Mughīrah ibn Ḥakīm reported to me; from Umm Kulthūm bint Abū Bakr; that she reported to him; from ‘Ā’ishah; she said: ‘One night, the Prophet stayed late, until much of the night had gone and the people in the mosque slept. He then came out and prayed. He said: “It is indeed time for it; except that I do not wish to make it hard for my community”’. In ‘Abd al-Razzāq’s narration, ‘except that it would be hard for my community’.

حَدَّثَنِي إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ حَاتِمٍ، كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ بَكْرٍ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنِي هَارُونُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ، حَدَّثَنَا حَجَّاجُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، ح. قَالَ: وَحَدَّثَنِي حَجَّاجُ بْنُ الشَّاعِرِ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ (وَالْفَاظُ لَهُمْ مُتَقَارِبَةٌ)، قَالُوا جَمِيعًا عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي السَّمْعِيُّ عَنْ حَكِيمٍ، عَنْ أُمِّ كَلْثُومَ بِنْتِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ، أَنَّهَا أَخْبَرَتْهُ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، قَالَتْ: “أَعْتَمَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَاتَ لَيْلَةٍ حَتَّى ذَهَبَ عَامَةُ اللَّيْلِ، وَحَتَّى نَامَ أَهْلُ الْمَسْجِدِ. ثُمَّ خَرَجَ فَصَلَّى، فَقَالَ: «إِنَّهُ لَوْ قُتِلَ لَوْلَا أَنَّ أَشَقَّ عَلَى أُمَّتِي». وَفِي حَدِيثِ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ: «لَوْلَا أَنَّ يَشُقُّ عَلَى أُمَّتِي».

[1216–220]. (Dār al-Salām 1334) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Jarīr (Ishāq said: ‘reported’ and Zuhayr said: ‘narrated’); from Manṣūr; from al-Ḥakam; from Nāfi‘; from ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar; he said: ‘One night we sat awaiting God’s Messenger for the last ‘Ishā’ Prayer. He came out to us when one-third of the night had gone, or even later. We did not know whether something with his family or some other thing had kept him. When he came out, he said: “You are waiting for a prayer, but no followers of any religion other than you are awaiting it. Would it not be very hard for my community, I would have chosen this time for their prayer". He then ordered the caller who announced the prayer, and he led the prayer'.

وَحَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، وَإِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، قَالَ إِسْحَاقُ أَخْبَرَنَا وَقَالَ زُهَيْرٌ حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ، عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ، عَنِ الْحَكَمِ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، قَالَ: "مَكُنَّا ذَاتَ لَيْلَةٍ نَنْتَظِرُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَصَلَاةِ الْعِشَاءِ الْآخِرَةِ، فَخَرَجَ إِلَيْنَا حِينَ ذَهَبَ ثُلُثُ اللَّيْلِ أَوْ بَعْدَهُ، فَلَا نَدْرِي أَشَيْءٌ شَغَلَهُ فِي أَهْلِهِ أَوْ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ. فَقَالَ حِينَ خَرَجَ: «إِنَّكُمْ لَتَنْتَظِرُونَ صَلَاةَ مَا يَنْتَظِرُهَا أَهْلُ دِينٍ غَيْرِكُمْ، وَلَوْ لَا أَنْ يَثْقَلَ عَلَى أُمَّتِي لَصَلَّيْتُ بِهِمْ هَذِهِ السَّاعَةَ». ثُمَّ أَمَرَ الْمُؤَذِّنَ فَأَقَامَ الصَّلَاةَ وَصَلَّى

[1217–221]. (Dār al-Salām 1335) Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> ‘Abd al-Razzāq narrated; Ibn Jurayj reported; Nāfi‘ reported to me; ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar narrated; that ‘God’s Messenger was kept from [prayer] one night and he delayed it, until we dozed off in the mosque, then we woke up, then we dozed off then we woke up. Then God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) came out and said: “Tonight, none of the people on earth other than you is awaiting their prayer”’.

[1218–222]. (Dār al-Salām 1336) Abū Bakr ibn Nāfi‘ al-‘Abdī narrated to me:<sup>ii</sup> Bahz ibn Asad al-‘Amī narrated; Hammād ibn Salamah narrated; from Thābit; that they asked Anas about God’s Messenger’s ring. He said: ‘One night, God’s Messenger delayed the ‘Ishā’ Prayer until midnight, or half the night had almost gone. He then came and said: “People have prayed and slept, and you remain in prayer as long as you are awaiting the prayer”. Anas said: “I can almost see the shine of his silver ring”, pointing with the small finger of his left hand’.

He then came to us and led the prayer. He then turned to us with his face. I can almost see the shine of his ring in his hand. It was a silver ring’.

وَحَدَّثَنِي حَجَّاجُ بْنُ الشَّاعِرِ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو زَيْدٍ سَعِيدُ بْنُ الرَّبِيعِ، حَدَّثَنَا قُرَّةُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ، عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: “نَظَرْنَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَيْلَةً حَتَّى كُنَّا قَرِيبَ مَنْ نَصْفِ اللَّيْلِ، ثُمَّ جَاءَ فَصَلَّى، ثُمَّ أَقْبَلَ عَلَيْنَا بِوَجْهِهِ، فَكَأَنَّ مَا أَنْظُرُ إِلَى وَبِصِ خَاتَمِهِ فِي يَدِهِ مِنْ فِضَّةٍ”.

[1220–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1338) ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Ṣabbāḥ al-‘Aṭṭār narrated to me: ‘Ubaydullāh ibn ‘Abd al-Majīd al-Ḥanafī narrated; Qurrah narrated; with the same chain of transmission, but he did not mention: ‘He then turned to us with his face’.

[1221–224]. (Dār al-Salām 1339) Abū ‘Āmir al-Ash‘arī and Abū Kurayb narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū Usāmah narrated; from Burayd; from Abū Burdah; from Abū Mūsā; he said: ‘I and my friends who came with me, when we travelled by boat, were encamped at the Buṭḥān plane, while God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) was in Madinah. Groups of them took turns to offer the ‘Ishā’ Prayer with God’s Messenger every night. I and my friends went to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him), but he was preoccupied with something and he delayed the prayer until it was very dark, close to midnight. Then God’s Messenger came out and led their prayer. When he finished his prayer, he said to those attending him: “Wait a moment; let me tell you. Rejoice! It is God’s blessing to you that no human beings are praying at this time other than you". Or he said: "None has prayed at this time other than you". (We do not know which of the two sentences he said.) Abū Mūsā said: 'We went back, rejoicing at what we heard from God's Messenger (peace be upon him)'.

[1222–225]. (Dār al-Salām 1340) Muhammad ibn Rāfi<sup>i</sup> narrated: 'Abd al-Razzāq narrated; Ibn Jurayj reported; he said: I said to 'Aṭā': At which time you prefer that I should pray 'Ishā', which people call al-‘atamah [the dark hour], whether I am the imam or praying on my own? He said: I heard Ibn 'Abbās say: 'One night, the Prophet (peace be upon him) delayed the 'Ishā' Prayer, until people dozed off and woke up, then they dozed off and woke up. 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb stood up and said: "Prayer!"' 'Aṭā' said: Ibn 'Abbās said: 'The Prophet (peace be upon him) came out, and I can almost see him now: his head was dripping with water and, placing his hand on one half of his head, he said: "Had it not been that it would be too hard for my community, I would have commanded them to pray it at this time"'.<sup>i</sup>

I confirmed with 'Aṭā' how the Prophet (peace be upon him) put his hand on his head, as Ibn 'Abbās had told him. 'Aṭā' separated his fingers slightly, then he placed the ends of his fingers on the side of his head, then he brought them together and moved them along his head, until his thumb touched the side of his ear closest to his face, then on his temple and the side of his beard, neither squeezing nor moving it fast, just like this. I said to ‘Aṭā’: Were you informed how much the Prophet delayed the prayer on that night? He said: I do not know.

‘Aṭā’ said: ‘I prefer to pray it late, whether I am an imam or praying alone, just like the Prophet prayed it on that night. If you find this hard for you when you are alone, or hard for the people in the congregation and you are their imam, then choose a middle time, neither early nor late’.

قَالَ عَطَاءٌ: “أَحَبُّ إِلَيَّ أَنْ أُصَلِّيَهَا إِمَامًا وَخَلُوعًا مُؤَخَّرَةً، كَمَا صَلَّاهَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَيْلَتَيْهِ، فَإِنْ شَقَّ عَلَيْكَ ذَلِكَ خَلُوعًا أَوْ عَلَى النَّاسِ فِي الْجَمَاعَةِ وَأَنْتَ إِمَامُهُمْ، فَصَلِّهَا وَسَطًا لَا مُعَجَّلَةً وَلَا مُؤَخَّرَةً

[1223–226]. (Dār al-Salām 1341) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā, Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd and Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū al-Aḥwas (Yaḥyā said: ‘reported’ and the other two said: ‘narrated’); from Simāk; from Jābir ibn Samurah; he said: ‘God’s Messenger used to delay offering the last prayer of ‘Ishā’.

[1224–227]. (Dār al-Salām 1342) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd and Abū Kāmil al-Jahdarī narrated: Abū ‘Awānah narrated; from Simāk; from Jābir ibn Samurah; he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) used to offer the prayers about the same times you do and he used to delay the dark hour prayer [i.e. ‘Ishā’] somewhat later than your time. He used to make prayer light’. In Abū Kāmil’s narration, a slightly different word is used for ‘light’, but with the same meaning.

[1225–228]. (Dār al-Salām 1343) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Ibn Abī ‘Umar narrated to me:<sup>i</sup> Zuhayr said: Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from Ibn Abī Labīd; from Abū Salamah; from ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar; he said: ‘I heard God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) say: “Let not the bedouins impose the name [they use] for your prayer. It is the ‘Ishā’, but they milk their camels in the dark hours’.

[1226–229]. (Dār al-Salām 1344) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Wakī‘ narrated; Sufyān narrated; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Labīd; from Abū Salamah ibn ‘Abd al-Rahmān; from Ibn ‘Umar; ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “Let not the bedouins impose the name [they use] for your ‘Ishā’ Prayer. It is mentioned in God’s Book as the ‘Ishā’, and the bedouins delay milking their camels until the dark hours”’.

The hadiths in this chapter speak about delaying 'Ishā' Prayer. Scholars differ as to whether it is preferable to offer it at the beginning of its time or to delay it. The earlier generations advanced both views and this is well-known. Both views are expressed by Mālik and al-Shāfi'ī. Scholars who prefer delaying it cite the hadiths in this chapter in support of their view. Others who prefer offering it early argue that this was the Prophet's general practice. He only delayed it on some occasions, to show that it is permissible or because he was detained by some urgent business or for another valid reason. Indeed, some hadiths support this argument, but God knows best.

In the first hadith, No. 1214, 'Umar said 'The women and children have slept'. He meant those of them who were in the mosque awaiting the prayer. 'Umar said this because he thought that the Prophet had forgotten the prayer or forgotten that it was time for it. The Prophet told them that it was not right for them to urge him to come to the prayer. Indeed, the delay mentioned in this hadith and subsequent ones does not go beyond the time of choice, which is up till midnight, or up to one-third of the night, according to the famous difference of views. We discussed this when we spoke about the timings of all five prayers. In hadith No. 1215, 'Ā'ishah mentions that the Prophet delayed the prayer 'until much of the night had gone'. This means a good part of the night, not most of it, had passed. This is how the hadith must be understood, because the Prophet said 'this is indeed its time'. This cannot fit with the claim that he delayed the prayer until after midnight, because no scholar claims that delaying 'Ishā' until after midnight is preferable.

In the same hadith, the Prophet says: 'It is indeed time for it; except that I do not wish to make it hard for my community'. This means that this is the time of choice, or its preferable time. Hence, it makes clear that delaying 'Ishā' is preferable, even though he more frequently offered it early. This he did because delaying it caused hardship. Scholars who maintain that praying 'Ishā' early is preferable say that had delaying it been preferable he would have consistently done so, even though it constituted hardship. Those who maintain that delaying 'Ishā' Prayer is better say that the Prophet highlighted the preference of delaying it in this statement, making clear at the same time that he did not do it often because of the hardship it caused. The meaning of all this is – but God knows best – that he feared that his Companions would consistently delay offering ‘Ishā’ and it would then be required of them and they would feel that it is their duty. Therefore, he did not do it, just like he did not consistently pray the Tarāwīḥ Prayer in Ramadan, explaining that he left it fearing that to do so might become obligatory and people would not be able to comply. Scholars are unanimous that the Tarāwīḥ is desirable and recommended. The same consideration applies to ‘Ishā’ Prayer. Al-Khaṭṭābī and other scholars explain that it is preferable to delay it so that one remains long awaiting it. A person who is awaiting a prayer is considered to be in prayer.

In hadith No. 1216, the ‘Ishā’ prayer is described as the ‘last ‘Ishā’’, which makes clear that it is permissible to describe it as ‘last’. However, some linguists, notably al-Aṣma‘ī, expressed disagreement. We explained this point earlier. The hadith then mentions: ‘When he came out, he said: “You are waiting for a prayer, but no followers of any religion other than you are awaiting it”.’ The Prophet’s explanation suggests that it is desirable for an imam or a scholar who is late, or who does something that may cause some trouble for his people, to apologize to them and to highlight a positive or favourable point that would be in their favour.

In hadith No. 1217, the narrator, ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar mentions that the people dozed off in the mosque and woke up, then dozed off and woke up again. And in the earlier hadith, No. 1215, ‘Ā’ishah mentions that the people in the mosque went to sleep. All this is understood to mean sleep that does not invalidate the ablution, which is dozing off while one is seated, with no break of wind being possible. This is taken as evidence that such sleep does not invalidate ablution, as the majority of scholars agree. It is the correct view of our school. We explained this fully towards the end of the Book of Cleansing.

In hadith No. 1218, ‘Anas said: “I can almost see the shine of his silver ring”, pointing with the small finger of his left hand’. This statement makes clear that it is perfectly permissible for men to wear a silver ring. This is unanimously agreed upon by all Muslims. The statement also indicates that the Prophet wore his silver ring on the small finger of his left hand. The one who lifted his finger was Anas ibn Mālik, the Prophet's Companion.

Hadith No. 1221 mentions that when the Prophet came late for prayer and people found it difficult, he had something to say to the people after the prayer: 'When he finished his prayer, he said to those attending him: "Wait a moment; let me tell you. Rejoice! It is God's blessing to you that no human beings are praying at this time other than you".' This clearly indicates that it is permissible to talk to the people and be in conversation with them after 'Ishā' Prayer, if there is something good in what is being said. The order not to have such conversation applies to idle talk that brings no good to anyone.

Hadith No. 1222 mentions that when the Prophet came out late for 'Ishā' Prayer, his head was still dripping with water. This indicates that he performed the ghusl or grand ablution before coming out.

In hadith No. 1226, the Prophet says: 'Let not the bedouins impose the name [they use] for your 'Ishā' Prayer. It is mentioned in God's Book as the 'Ishā', and the bedouins delay milking their camels until the dark hours'. This means that the bedouins used to call the 'Ishā' Prayer al-ʿatamah, meaning 'the dark hour', because they used to milk their camels very late at night. However, this prayer is mentioned in the Qur'anic verse 24: 58 with its right name, 'Ishā'. Therefore, it should be always referred to by its proper name. Yet it is called al-ʿatamah prayer in some authentic hadiths, as in: 'Had they known the gain to be made through the Fajr and the ʿatamah prayers, they would have come to them, even though they might have to crawl'.

The answer is in two ways: firstly that the Prophet used this name to show that it is permissible. The order not to call this prayer al-ʿatamah is one of discouragement, not prohibition. The second is that the Prophet used it when he was addressing people who did not know the meaning of 'Ishā'. Hence, he spoke to them using the words they knew. Indeed, the word al-ʿatamah was better known to the Arabs. Many of them used 'Ishā' to indicate Maghrib. In al-Bukhārī's Ṣaḥīḥ, a hadith says: 'Let not the bedouin impose their name for your Maghrib Prayer'. The bedouins called it 'Ishā'. If the Prophet had said: 'Had they known the gain to be made through Fajr and 'Ishā' prayers ...', they would have understood it as meaning Maghrib, but God knows best.

EARLY ATTENDANCE TO FAJR AND HOW MUCH TO RECITE

[1227–230]. (Dār al-Salām 1345) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah, ‘Amr al-Nāqid and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated: all from Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah; ‘Amr said: Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah narrated; from al-Zuhri; from ‘Urwah; from ‘Ā’ishah; that ‘The women believers used to pray with the Prophet (peace be upon him), then go back, drawing their cloaks, unrecognized by anyone’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ وَعَمْرُو النَّاقِدُ وَزُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، كُلُّهُمْ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ بْنِ عُيَيْنَةَ، قَالَ عَمْرُو: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، أَنَّ نِسَاءَ الْمُؤْمِنَاتِ، كُنَّ يُصَلِّينَ الصُّبْحَ مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثُمَّ يَرْجِعْنَ مُتَلَفَعَاتٍ بِمِرْوَطِهِنَّ لَا يَعْرِفُهُنَّ أَحَدٌ.

[1228–231]. (Dār al-Salām 1346) Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā narrated to me.<sup>i</sup> Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; that Ibn Shihāb reported to him; ‘Urwah ibn al-Zubayr reported to me; that ‘Ā’ishah, the Prophet’s wife, said: ‘Some women believers used to attend Fajr Prayer with God’s Messenger (peace be upon him), with their cloaks drawn, then go back home unrecognized, because God’s Messenger offers the prayer when it is still very dark’.

وَحَدَّثَنِي حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى، أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي يُونُسُ، أَنَّ ابْنَ شِهَابٍ أَخْبَرَهُ، قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي عُرْوَةُ بْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ، أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ، زَوْجَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، قَالَتْ: “لَقَدْ كَانَ نِسَاءٌ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنَاتِ يَشْهَدْنَ الْفَجْرَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، مُتَلَفَعَاتٍ بِمِرْوَطِهِنَّ ثُمَّ يَنْقَلِبْنَ إِلَى بُيُوتِهِنَّ، وَمَا يَعْرِفَنَّ مِنْ تَعْلِيسِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِالصَّلَاةِ.”

[1229–232]. (Dār al-Salām 1347) Naṣr ibn ‘Alī al-Jahḍamī and Ishāq ibn Mūsā al-Anṣārī narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Ma‘n narrated; from Mālik; from Yaḥyā ibn Sa‘īd; from ‘Amrah; from ‘Ā’ishah; she said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) would pray Fajr, then the women would leave, drawing their cloaks, unrecognized in the darkness'. In his narration, al-Anṣārī said: 'wrapped in their cloaks'.

If he saw the people had gathered, he would pray early and if they were late, he would delay it. They (or perhaps the Prophet) used to pray Fajr when it was still dark".

Text Explanation

These hadiths confirm that it is desirable to pray Fajr early. This is the view of Mālik, al-Shāfi‘ī, Aḥmad and the majority of scholars. Abū Ḥanīfah said that delaying it until there is light is better. Also, the hadiths make clear that women may attend the congregational prayer in the mosque, provided that this does not lead to harm to them or through them. In hadith No. 1229, the women are said to be ‘unrecognized in the darkness’. Al-Dāwūdī said: ‘It means that it would not be known whether they were men or women’, and others said that their identity would not be known. This is not certain, because a woman who draws her cloak over her during the day cannot be identified, which renders the statement of little value.

In hadith Nos 1232 and 1234 we learn that the Prophet finished the Fajr Prayer when people were just able to recognize each other’s faces, although he normally recited between sixty and one hundred verses of the Qur’an in a slow and beautiful way. This clearly indicates a very early start for the prayer. This does not contradict what is mentioned earlier about women being ‘unrecognized in the darkness’. The hadiths referred to men recognizing those who were close or next to them, while in the case of women they speak about recognition at a distance.

Hadith No. 1230 mentions the times when the Prophet prayed the obligatory prayers. It mentions that the Prophet offered Zuhr Prayer at midday. The hadith uses the term al-hājirah in reference to midday. The word is derived from a root that means 'leave, abandon, etc.' This is because in a hot climate people prefer to stop work and have a nap at this time. Hence, the hadith means that an early start for Zuhr Prayer is highly desirable. The Prophet offered 'Aṣr Prayer when the sun was clear, with no yellowness appearing in it. Maghrib is offered once the sun has set.

Hadith No. 1234 mentions that 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) used to delay the 'Ishā' Prayer up to one-third of the night. He did not like sleeping before it or conversation after it'. Scholars said that the reason for discouraging sleeping before offering the 'Ishā' Prayer is that if one oversleeps this may lead to missing it altogether or one may miss the time of choice when it is preferable to offer it. The Prophet also did not wish that people took a lax attitude towards it, which means that many of them would sleep before praying 'Ishā'. Conversation after it is discouraged because this leads to staying up late at night, which may make people slacken in doing night worship, or sleep through the preferred time for Fajr Prayer. Furthermore, staying up at night leads to a lack of energy during the day, which means that a person may neglect some of the duties or recommended practices of religion or some life benefits.

Scholars said that the conversation that is discouraged after 'Ishā' is idle talk that serves no purpose. What is of benefit and serves a legitimate interest or promotes something good is not discouraged. Under such headings we may include serious discussion, narratives of goodly people, conversation with one's guests to show them welcome, conversation with one's family and children, talking to travellers and guiding them to what ensures their safety, trying to bring about reconciliation between people in dispute, promoting something of benefit, enjoining what is good and forbidding what is wrong, etc. When any such matter is discussed after 'Ishā' Prayer, this is perfectly appropriate and not least discouraged. Indeed, some of these are mentioned in authentic hadiths, and others take the same ruling. Many of these have already been mentioned, and others are well known. Moreover, the discouragement of conversation after ‘Ishā’ applies after it has been offered, not after it becomes due.

Sleeping before offering the ‘Ishā’ Prayer is discouraged. This is endorsed by ‘Umar, ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar, Ibn ‘Abbās and other early scholars, Mālik and scholars of our schools. On the other hand, ‘Alī, Ibn Mas‘ūd and the Kūfī scholars say that it is permissible. Al-Ṭaḥāwī said that a condition for its permissibility is that there is someone to wake the sleeping person up. This is also reported to have been expressed by Ibn ‘Umar, but God knows best.

DELAYING PRAYERS LATER THAN THEIR TIME OF CHOICE

[1235–238]. (Dār al-Salām 1353) Khalaf ibn Hishām narrated:<sup>i</sup> Ḥammād ibn Zayd narrated [H]. Also, Abū al-Rabī‘ al-Zahrānī and Abu Kāmil al-Jahdarī narrated to me; they said: Ḥammād narrated; from Abū ‘Imrān al-Jawnī; from ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Ṣāmit; from Abū Dharr; he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said to me: “How would you do if you are under governors who delay prayer later than its time; or even kill the prayer [separating it] from its time?” I said: “What do you command me to do?” He said: “Offer your prayers on time. If you are with them when they pray, pray with them, as it will count for you as voluntary.” Khalaf did not mention “later than its time”.

الْأَخِيرُ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ، عَنْ أَبِي عِمْرَانَ الْجَوْنِيِّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ، عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ: قَالَ لِي رَسُولُ اللَّهِ: «كَيْفَ
أَنْتَ إِذَا كَانَتْ عَلَيْكَ أَمْرَاءُ يُؤَخِّرُونَ الصَّلَاةَ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا، أَوْ يُمَيِّتُونَ الصَّلَاةَ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا؟» قَالَ: «قُلْتُ فَمَا
تَأْمُرُنِي؟» قَالَ: «صَلِّ الصَّلَاةَ لَوَقْتِهَا، فَإِنْ أَدْرَكَتْهَا مَعَهُمْ فَصَلِّ، فَإِنَّهُ لَكَ نَافِلَةٌ». وَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ خَلْفَ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا

[1236–239]. (Dār al-Salām 1354) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated: Ja‘far ibn Sulaymān reported; from Abū ‘Imrān al-Jawnī; from ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Ṣāmit; from Abū Dharr; he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said to me: “Abū Dharr, there will come after me governors who kill the prayer. Therefore, offer your prayers on time. If you pray on time, the other will count for you as voluntary prayer. Otherwise, you will have done your prayer”.

”الصَّلَاةَ، فَصَلِّ الصَّلَاةَ لَوَقْتِهَا. فَإِنْ صَلَّيْتَ لَوَقْتِهَا كَانَتْ لَكَ نَافِلَةٌ، وَإِلَّا كُنْتَ قَدْ أَحْرَزْتَ صَلَاتَكَ

Then ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Ṣāmit came to me, and I offered him a chair and he sat down. I mentioned to him what Ibn Ziyād had done. He bit his lip and slapped my thigh, and said: “I asked Abū Dharr the same question, and he slapped my thigh like I did yours and said: I asked God’s Messenger as you asked me and he slapped my thigh as I slapped yours and said: 'Offer your prayers at its time [of choice]. If you catch up the prayer with them, join them. Do not say: I have prayed and I shall not pray [again]'.".

Text Explanation

The hadiths in this chapter speak about delaying the prayer, which is expressed in some hadiths as ‘killing’ the prayer. This is a metaphor which compares the delayed prayer to a body after the spirit has departed from it. Delaying the prayer in all these hadiths means offering it after its time of choice and preference, not delaying it until its time range has completely lapsed. What is reported of early and later governors is that they delayed it beyond its time of choice. None of them delayed it beyond its complete time range. Therefore, these hadiths must be taken in the light of what actually took place.

These hadiths urge that people should attend to their prayers at the beginning of their respective times. They also make clear that if the imam delays it beyond its early time, then it is desirable for people to offer it separately at the beginning of its time, then pray it again with the imam. In this way, a person combines the two benefits of praying early and with the congregation. What if he wants to offer only one prayer: should he do it alone at the beginning of time, or do it with the congregation when it is done later? This question is the subject of a well-known difference of opinion among scholars of our Shāfi‘ī School. They also differed as to which view is preferable. I explained all this in the chapter on dry ablution, i.e. tayammum, in Sharḥ al-Muhadhdhab. The chosen view is to await the congregation if the delay is not too long.

The hadiths urge us to do what the governors order, provided that it does not involve any sin. This to ensure that the community remains united and strife is averted. Hence, Abū Dharr states in hadith No. 1237 ‘My friend urged me to listen and obey even if the ruler is a slave with amputated limbs’.

In its different versions, this hadith makes clear that when a person offers a prayer twice, the first is considered the discharge of the obligatory duty and the second voluntary. The hadith is clear on this point, and the point is also made clear in other hadiths. However, scholars differ on this point, and in our school scholars mention four views: the correct one is that the first discharges the obligation, as the hadith mentions, and the requirement is done. The second view is that the one which is done better is considered the discharge of the obligation. The third view suggests that both discharge the obligation, and the fourth is that the obligation is discharged by either one, as God may choose.

The hadith shows that it is perfectly right to repeat the Fajr, 'Aṣr or Maghrib Prayers, like the others. The Prophet gives a general order to repeat the prayer, without making any distinction between prayers. This is the correct view according to our school, but another view is that one should not repeat Fajr or 'Aṣr prayers because the repeated prayer is voluntary and there is no voluntary prayer after the obligatory ones of Fajr and 'Aṣr. A different view suggests that one should not repeat Maghrib, because it then becomes of an even number of rak'ahs, but this view has no sound basis.

Hadith No. 1236 quotes the Prophet: 'There will come after me governors who kill the prayer'. This implies a proof of prophethood, because this actually occurred during the Umayyad state.

The same hadith states the Prophet's instructions: 'Therefore, offer your prayers on time. If you pray on time, the other will count for you as voluntary prayer. Otherwise, you will have done your prayer'. This means that if you know their practice is to delay the prayer beyond its preferred time of choice, then you are advised to pray it at the beginning of its time. If it happens that they also offer the same prayer during its time of choice, pray it with them again. This second prayer with them will count for you as a voluntary prayer. Otherwise, you would have done the right thing, offered your prayer at the right time and ensured that it had been done in the most appropriate way.

Hadith No. 1237 gives us Abū Dharr's account of the instructions given to him by the Prophet: 'My friend urged me to listen and obey, even if [the ruler] were a slave with amputated limbs'. Needless to say, the Prophet gives here the worst condition, when the person in authority is a slave with amputated limbs. Among slaves, this one is the worst because he is useless, can do no good, and people turn away from him. The way the hadith is phrased suggests that such a slave is the leader or the ruler of the community. It may be asked how can such a person be the ruler when freedom and sound health are among the conditions of the person to be chosen as ruler? The answer is two-fold: firstly, these and other conditions apply when the community chooses its leader in the normal procedure recommended by Islam. However, leadership can be assumed by a person who imposes his authority by military force. Such a ruler should be obeyed, whether he is free, a slave, or a transgressor, provided that he is a Muslim and that his orders do not go against Islamic teachings and do not represent disobedience of God. Secondly, such a person is not necessarily the overall ruler. He may be someone appointed by the ruler to supervise a particular area of the affairs of state or the community.

The Prophet's instructions in the same hadith add: 'If you catch up with the people when they have finished their prayer, you would have already done yours; otherwise it will count for you as voluntary'. The same instructions are given in the next hadith: 'Offer your prayer on time, then attend to your business. If the [congregational] prayer is announced and you are in the mosque, join it'. This means that one should pray at the beginning of the time range of the prayer and then attend to one's business. If it happens afterwards that one catches up with the congregation, one should join them and this prayer would count as voluntary.

In hadith Nos 1239 and 1241, the Prophet slaps Abū Dharr on his thigh. This was a gesture to get the Prophet's interlocutor to be fully attentive to what he was saying.

Transmission

Abū al-‘Āliyah features in the chains of transmission of several hadiths in this chapter, and he is described in hadith Nos 1239 and 1241 as al-Barrā’. This is his profession and it means that he used to prepare arrows and sharpen them. His name is Ziyād ibn Fayrūz, while some reports suggest that his name was Kulthūm. He was from Basrah and died on Monday in the month of Shawwāl, in year 90 AH, 709 CE.

Text Explanation

These hadiths mention that prayer with the congregation rather than praying alone is better by twenty-five times, or degrees, or twenty-seven times, etc. Any discrepancies recounted can be reconciled in three ways: The first is that they are not contradictory. To state a lesser figure does not preclude a higher figure, and the concept of figures is discounted by scholars of legal theory, or uṣūl al-fiqh. Secondly, it may be that the Prophet first stated the lesser number and at a later time God informed him of the increase in the reward given for congregational prayer, and he informed the people. Thirdly, the reward for congregational prayer may differ according to differences between worshippers and their prayers. Some will have twenty-times the reward given to the one praying on his own, and others are given twenty-seven times, according to the perfection of the prayer and how people maintain its proper form and calmness, the number of people in the congregation, their piety and the place where their prayer is held, etc. Such are the accepted answers. It has also been suggested that degrees are different from times. This is an oversight by whoever claims it, because in both Ṣaḥīḥs the word degree is mentioned with both figures, but God knows best.

Our scholars, and the majority of scholars, cite these hadiths in support of their views that a congregation is not a condition for the validity of prayer. In this they differ with Dāwūd [ibn ‘Alī al-Zāhirī]. They also say that it is not obligatory to anyone in particular, which is different from the view of some scholars. The preferred view is that it is a collective duty, but some say that it is a sunnah, i.e. recommended. I have explained the evidence for all this in Sharḥ al-Muḥadḍḥab. The hadiths mention twenty-five times and twenty-five degrees. It is clear that the Prophet meant the same thing, using the two words.

Hadith No. 1251 mentions that the Prophet thought of going to some people who stayed away from the prayer so as to burn their homes. This hadith is cited as part of the evidence in support of the view that congregational prayer is a personal duty. This is the view of ‘Aṭā’, al-Awzā‘ī, Aḥmad, Abū Thawr, Ibn Khuzaymah and Dāwūd. The majority of scholars, however, disagree, but they differ as to whether it is a collective duty or a sunnah, as mentioned earlier. They explain this hadith as referring to hypocrites who stayed away. The context of the hadith supports such understanding, because it cannot be imagined that some of the Prophet’s Companions who were good believers would prefer a bone, fat with meat, to attending congregational prayer with the Prophet in his mosque. Moreover, he did not burn their homes; he only thought of doing so, but abandoned the idea. Had congregational prayer been a personal duty for everyone, he would not have abandoned it.

Some scholars said that the hadith shows that punishment was financial in the early days, because burning homes is a financial punishment. Others said that scholars are unanimous that burning homes as a punishment is not permissible except in the cases of a person who stays away from prayer and one who unlawfully appropriates war gains. The early scholars differed as to whether this is permissible in these cases, but the majority of scholars do not approve of burning people's properties.

The hadiths mention that the prayer the people stayed away from was 'Ishā', while in another narration it is stated as Friday Prayer, and in a third one prayer is mentioned in general without specifying a particular one. All are correct and there is no conflict between them.

Hadith No. 1252 mentions the 'Ishā' and Fajr prayers in particular and urges in the strongest terms attending the congregation of both, because of the plentiful goodness that results from them. The Prophet says that people should crawl to attend them, if that is the only way they can get there. This because of what they will gain from doing so.

The Prophet mentions in this hadith and others that he would have ordered someone to lead the prayer. This means that an imam should appoint a deputy to lead the prayer if something urgent prevents him for attending. He thought of going to those people who stayed away after the congregational prayer had been announced, because their absence at that moment confirmed that they stayed away intentionally. As such, they deserved the blame attached to their actions. The hadith is clear that it is permissible to leave after the congregational prayer is announced if one has valid reason.

Transmission

Hadith No. 1246 mentions Abū 'Abdullāh Zayd ibn Zabbān's in-law. The Arabic word used here for 'in-law' is khatan, and it means the husband of one's daughter, sister, etc. It does not define the exact relation. [He is also defined as the Juhanīs' mawlā, which means that he was a freed slave owing allegiance to the Juhaynah tribe].

THE DUTY OF ATTENDING THE MOSQUE

[1255–255]. (Dār al-Salām 1374) Qutaybah ibn Sa‘īd, Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm, Suwayd ibn Sa‘īd and Ya‘qūb al-Dawraqī narrated:<sup>i</sup> all from Marwān al-Fazārī; Qutaybah Said: al-Fazārī narrated; from ‘Ubaydullāh ibn al-Aṣamm; he said: Yazīd ibn al-Aṣamm narrated; from Abū Hurayrah; he said: ‘A blind man came to the Prophet (peace be upon him) and said: “Messenger of God, I have no one to take me to the mosque.” He requested God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) to permit him to pray at home. The Prophet gave him such concession. When he went away, the Prophet called him back and asked him: “Do you hear the call to prayer [i.e. the adhān]?” The man said: “Yes.” The Prophet said: “Then respond”’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ وَإِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَسُوَيْدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ وَيَعْقُوبُ الدَّوْرَقِيُّ، كُلُّهُمْ عَنْ مَرْوَانَ الْفَزَارِيِّ، قَالَ قُتَيْبَةُ: حَدَّثَنَا الْفَزَارِيُّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الْأَصَمِّ، قَالَ حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ الْأَصَمِّ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: “أَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَجُلٌ أَعْمَى فَقَالَ: “يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، إِنَّهُ لَيْسَ لِي قَائِدٌ يَقُودُنِي إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ”. فَسَأَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنْ يُرَخَّصَ لَهُ فَيُصَلِّيَ فِي بَيْتِهِ، فَرَخَّصَ لَهُ. فَلَمَّا وَلَّى دَعَاهُ فَقَالَ: «هَلْ تَسْمَعُ النِّدَاءَ بِالصَّلَاةِ». فَقَالَ: “نَعَمْ”. قَالَ: “فَاجِبٌ”.

Text Explanation

The blind man mentioned in this hadith was Ibn Umm Maktūm, as his name is given in Abū Dāwūd’s Sunan and other anthologies.

The hadith is cited as evidence in support of the view that congregational prayer is a personal duty incumbent on all Muslims. However, the majority of scholars answer saying that the man simply asked whether a concession could be given in his case, allowing him to pray at home and yet still earn the extra reward of congregational prayer because of his disability. The answer to this question was in the negative. This is confirmed by the unanimous view that attending the congregation is only waived if there is a valid reason. This is based on the hadith stating ‘Itbān ibn Mālik’s case, which will be discussed presently.

The hadith states that the Prophet first gave the blind man a concession, but he immediately called him back and told him to respond to the call to prayer. This might possibly have been because the Prophet received some revelation at that moment. On the other hand, if we adopt the correct view of the majority of scholars that it was permissible for the Prophet to exercise his own discretion, the Prophet might have changed his view. Another possibility is that the Prophet first gave him the concession, telling him that it was not obligatory for him to join the congregation, either because of his seemingly valid reason or because the congregational prayer is a collective duty which is discharged by the fact that it is attended by other people, or for the two reasons together. Having given him this concession, the Prophet then urged the man to do the better option that was certain to earn him greater reward, which was to attend the congregation, telling him: ‘Then respond’. But God knows best.

CONGREGATIONAL PRAYER IS A PRACTICE OF DIVINE GUIDANCE

[1256–256]. (Dār al-Salām 1375) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated: Muhammad ibn Bishr al-‘Abdī narrated; Zakariyya’ ibn Abī Zā’idah; ‘Abd al-Malik ibn ‘Umayr; from Abū al-Aḥwaṣ; he said: ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd said: ‘There was a time when no one stayed away from the [congregational] prayer except a hypocrite confirmed as such, or a sick person. Indeed, a sick person would walk, supported by two men, until he got to the prayer’. He also said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) taught us the practices of Divine guidance, and one practice of Divine guidance is to pray in a mosque where the adhān is called’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرٍ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشْرٍ الْعَبْدِيُّ، حَدَّثَنَا زَكَرِيَّا بْنُ أَبِي زَائِدَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْمَلِكِ بْنُ عُمَرَ، عَنْ أَبِي الْأَحْوَصِ قَالَ: قَالَ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ: "لَقَدْ رَأَيْتُنَا وَمَا يَتَخَلَّفُ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ إِلَّا مُنَافِقٌ قَدْ عَلِمَ نِفَاقَهُ، أَوْ مَرِيضٌ. إِنْ كَانَ الْمَرِيضُ لِي مِثْلِي بَيْنَ رَجُلَيْنِ حَتَّى يَأْتِيَ الصَّلَاةَ". وَقَالَ: "إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَّمَنَا سُنَنَ الْهُدَى، وَإِنْ مِنْ سُنَنِ الْهُدَى الصَّلَاةُ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ الَّذِي يُؤَذَّنُ فِيهِ".

[1257–257]. (Dār al-Salām 1376) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> al-Faḍl ibn Dukayn narrated; from Abū al-‘Umays; from ‘Alī ibn al-Aqmar; from Abū al-Aḥwaṣ; from ‘Abdullāh; he said: ‘Whoever is pleased to know that he will be meeting God as a Muslim should make sure to offer these prayers where they are called. God has ordained for your Prophet the practices of Divine guidance and these prayers are practices of Divine guidance. If you pray in your homes like the person who so stays at home, you will have abandoned the practice of your Prophet, and if you abandon your Prophet’s practice, you will go astray. When a person performs the ablution well, then goes to one of these mosques, then for every step he makes, God will credit him with a good deed and promotes him a step and removes a bad deed from him. There was a time when none stayed away from it [i.e. the congregational prayer] except one whose hypocrisy was confirmed. A man might be brought to the mosque, leaning on two men, until he was stood in the row’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا الْفَضْلُ بْنُ دُكَيْنٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الْعَمِيسِ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ الْأَقْمَرِ، عَنْ أَبِي الْأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ قَالَ: "مَنْ سَرَّهُ أَنْ يَلْقَى اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ مُسْلِمًا فَلْيُحَافِظْ عَلَى هَؤُلَاءِ الصَّلَوَاتِ حَيْثُ يُنَادَى بِهِنَّ. فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ شَرَعَ لِنَبِيِّكُمْ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سُنَنَ الْهُدَى، وَإِنَّهُنَّ مِنْ سُنَنِ الْهُدَى. وَلَوْ أَنَّكُمْ صَلَّيْتُمْ فِي بُيُوتِكُمْ كَمَا يُصَلِّي هَذَا الْمُتَخَلِّفُ فِي بَيْتِهِ لَتَرَكْتُمْ سُنَّةَ نَبِيِّكُمْ. وَلَوْ تَرَكْتُمْ سُنَّةَ نَبِيِّكُمْ لَضَلَلْتُمْ. وَمَا مِنْ رَجُلٍ يَتَطَهَّرُ فَيُحْسِنُ الطَّهْرَ، ثُمَّ يَعْمِدُ إِلَى مَسْجِدٍ مِنْ هَذِهِ الْمَسَاجِدِ، إِلَّا كَتَبَ اللَّهُ لَهُ بِكُلِّ خَطْوَةٍ يَخْطُوهَا حَسَنَةً، وَ يَرْفَعُهُ بِهَا دَرَجَةً، وَيَحُطُّ عَنْهُ بِهَا سَيِّئَةٌ. وَلَقَدْ رَأَيْنَا وَمَا يَخْلَفُ عَنْهَا إِلَّا مُنَافِقٌ مَعْلُومٌ النَّفَاقِ." وَلَقَدْ كَانَ الرَّجُلُ يُؤْتَى بِهِ يُمَادَى بَيْنَ الرَّجُلَيْنِ حَتَّى يُقَامَ فِي الصَّفِّ

In both hadiths, Ibn Mas‘ūd mentions that none stayed away from congregational prayer except a confirmed hypocrite or a sick person. This gives clear evidence supporting what we said earlier that the people whose homes the Prophet thought of burning for their failure to attend the prayers were hypocrites.

In the first hadith, a sick person goes to the mosque supported by two men, and in the second, such a person is brought to the mosque, leaning on two men until he was stood in the row. All this stresses the importance of congregational prayer and one should attend it even if this involves some hardship. A sick person who can get to the mosque in some way will do well to attend it.

DO NOT LEAVE THE MOSQUE WHEN THE PRAYER HAS BEEN CALLED

[1258–258]. (Dār al-Salām 1377) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated:<sup>i</sup> Abū al-Aḥwaṣ narrated; from Ibrāhīm ibn al-Muhājir; from Abū al-Sha‘thā’; he said: ‘We were sitting in the mosque with Abū Hurayrah, and the call to the prayer [i.e. adhān] was made. A man in the mosque stood up and walked. Abū Hurayrah followed him with his eye until he left the mosque. Abū Hurayrah then said: “This one has thus disobeyed Abū al-Qāsim (peace be upon him)”’.

حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْأَحْوَصِ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ الْمُهَاجِرِ، عَنْ أَبِي الشَّعْثَاءِ قَالَ: “كُنَّا قُعُودًا فِي الْمَسْجِدِ مَعَ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، فَأَذَنَ الْمُؤَذِّنُ، فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ مِنَ الْمَسْجِدِ يَمْشِي، فَأَتْبَعَهُ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ بَصَرَهُ حَتَّى خَرَجَ مِنَ الْمَسْجِدِ. فَقَالَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ: أَمَّا هَذَا فَقَدْ عَصَى أَبَا الْقَاسِمِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ

[1259–259]. (Dār al-Salām 1378) Ibn Abī ‘Umar al-Makkī narrated: Sufyān (who is Ibn ‘Uyaynah) narrated; from ‘Umar ibn Sa‘īd; from Ash‘ath ibn Abī al-Sha‘thā’ al-Muḥāribī; from his father; he said: ‘I heard Abū Hurayrah: he saw a man going through the mosque, leaving it after the adhān had been called. He said: “This one has thus disobeyed Abū al-Qāsim (peace be upon him)”’.

Abū Hurayrah's comment about the person who leaves the mosque after the adhān had been called confirms that it is discouraged to leave until one has prayed the obligatory prayer for which the adhān was called, unless one has a valid reason, but God knows best.

PRAYING 'ISHĀ' AND FAJR IN CONGREGATION

[1260–260]. (Dār al-Salām 1379) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated:<sup>i</sup> al-Mughīrah ibn Salamah al-Makhzūmī reported; ‘Abd al-Wāhid (who is Ibn Ziyād) narrated; ‘Uthmān ibn Ḥakīm narrated; ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī ‘Amrah narrated; he said: ‘‘Uthmān ibn ‘Affān entered the mosque after the Maghrib Prayer, and he sat alone. I sat with him and he said to me: “Nephew, I heard God’s Messenger say: ‘A person who prays ‘Ishā’ with a congregation is like one who spends half the night in worship; and a person who prays Fajr with a congregation is like one who spends the whole night in worship’”.’

Text Explanation

Imam al-Nawawī considers these hadiths self-explanatory, stating only that the expression fi dhimmat Allāh, translated in the text as ‘under God’s protection’ means that such a person enjoys the safety granted by God, or that he has such a guarantee given by God.

We may add that the rest of the hadith means that whoever harms or tries to harm someone who enjoys God’s protection exposes himself to God’s punishment, because causing such harm means violating what God has guaranteed to the one who prays Fajr. God does not forgive such violation, and will certainly make demands for it, and whatever He demands, He obtains. He will then punish the violater, throwing him into the Fire of Hell.

Transmission

The chains of transmission of these hadiths mention Jundab, but he is stated as Jundab ibn ‘Abdullāh in hadith No. 1261, Jundab ibn Sufyān in No. 1263, and Jundab al-Qasrī in No. 1262. He is the same person, and his full name is Jundab ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Sufyān, but sometimes he is affiliated directly to his grandfather instead of his father. Some scholars question calling him al-Qasrī, because he did not belong to the Qasr tribe, he belonged to ‘Alaqah, a branch of the Bujaylah tribe. As such, he should have been called al-Bujalī. This is how he is mentioned by scholars of genealogy. However, Qasr was a brother of ‘Alaqah. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ said: ‘It may be that Jundab had an alliance with the Qasr tribe, or lived among them, and therefore he was affiliated to them. Or perhaps the ‘Alaqah clan were affiliated to their cousins the Qasrs, like many other tribes were affiliated to their cousin tribes because they were larger or more famous’.

ABSENCE FROM THE CONGREGATIONAL PRAYER FOR A VALID REASON

[1264–263]. (Dār al-Salām 1384) Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā al-Tujībī narrated to me: Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; that Maḥmūd ibn al-Rabī‘ al-Anṣārī narrated to him; that ‘Itbān ibn Mālik – an Anṣārī Companion of the Prophet who fought in the Battle of Badr – came to God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and said: ‘Messenger of God, I have been complaining of my eyesight, and I lead my people in prayer. When it rains, the valley separating me from them will be full of water and I cannot reach their mosque to lead the prayer. May I request that you, Messenger of God, come and pray at a place, and I will make that my place of prayer’. The Prophet said: ‘I will, God willing’. ‘Itbān said: God’s Messenger came over the following day, mid-morning with Abū Bakr al-Ṣiddīq. God’s Messenger asked permission to enter and I gave permission, but he did not sit down until he went inside. He then said: ‘Where would you like me to pray in your home?’ I pointed to a corner of the house. God’s Messenger stood up and said Allāhu akbar. We stood behind him and he prayed two rak‘ahs and finished with salām. We retained him for some food we had prepared for him. Some of the local men came over, and there were quite a few people in the house. One of them asked: ‘Where is Mālik ibn al-Dukhshun?’ Some people said: ‘That is a hypocrite who does not love God or His Messenger’. The Prophet said: ‘Do not say so. Do you not see that he said “There is no deity other than God” addressing it purely to God?’ They said: ‘God and His Messenger know best. We only see him befriending and counselling hypocrites’. The Prophet said: ‘God has forbidden that anyone who says, “There is no deity other than God” addressing it purely to God, should enter the Fire’.

Ibn Shihāb said: 'I asked al-Ḥuṣayn ibn Muhammad al-Anṣārī, a dignitary from the Sālīm clan, about Maḥmūd ibn al-Rabī's hadith and he confirmed it'.

قَالَ ابْنُ شِهَابٍ: ثُمَّ سَأَلْتُ الْحُصَيْنَ بْنَ مُحَمَّدٍ الْأَنْصَارِيَّ، وَهُوَ أَحَدُ بَنِي سَالِمٍ وَهُوَ مِنْ سَرَاتِهِمْ، عَنْ حَدِيثِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الرَّبِيعِ، فَصَدَّقَهُ بِذَلِكَ.

[1265–264]. (Dār al-Salām 1385) Muhammad ibn Rāfi‘ and ‘Abd ibn Ḥumayd narrated: both from ‘Abd al-Razzāq; Ma‘mar reported; from al-Zuhri; Maḥmūd ibn Rabī‘ narrated to me; from ‘Itbān ibn Mālīk; he said: ‘I went to God’s Messenger ...’. He reported the hadith in the same meaning as Yūnus’s narration, except that he said: ‘A man said: Where is Mālīk ibn al-Dukhshun or al-Dukhayshin?’ Maḥmūd said: ‘I narrated this hadith to a group of people who included Abū Ayyūb al-Anṣārī, but he said: “I do not think that God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said what you say”. I swore that if I went back to ‘Itbān, I would ask him. I went back to him and found him an elderly man who had lost his eyesight. He was the imam of his people. I sat next to him and I asked him about this hadith. He narrated it to me in the same way as he narrated it the first time’.

Al-Zuhrī said: ‘After that, certain obligations and other matters were revealed and we understand that these are the final situation. Therefore, be not deceived if you can’.

وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ وَعَبْدُ بْنُ حُمَيْدٍ، كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ، قَالَ أَخْبَرَنَا مَعْمَرٌ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي مَحْمُودُ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ، عَنْ عِثْبَانَ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: “أَتَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ...”. وَسَأَقُ الْحَدِيثَ بِمَعْنَى حَدِيثِ يُونُسَ، غَيْرَ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: “فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ أَيْنَ مَالِكُ بْنُ الدُّخَشَنِ، أَوِ الدُّخَشِينِ؟” وَزَادَ فِي الْحَدِيثِ قَالَ مُحَمَّدٌ: “فَحَدَّثْتُ هَذَا الْحَدِيثَ نَفَرًا فِيهِمْ أَبُو أَيُّوبَ الْأَنْصَارِيُّ”، فَقَالَ: “مَا أَظُنُّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَا قُلْتَ”. قَالَ: “فَحَلَفْتُ أَنْ رَجَعْتُ إِلَى عِثْبَانَ أَنْ أَسْأَلَهُ”. قَالَ: “فَرَجَعْتُ إِلَيْهِ فَوَجَدْتُهُ شَيْخًا كَبِيرًا قَدْ ذَهَبَ بَصَرُهُ، وَهُوَ إِمَامٌ قَوْمِهِ. فَجَلَسْتُ إِلَى جَنْبِهِ، فَسَأَلْتُهُ عَنْ هَذَا الْحَدِيثِ، فَحَدَّثَنِيهِ كَمَا حَدَّثَنِيهِ أَوَّلَ مَرَّةٍ”.

قَالَ الزُّهْرِيُّ “ثُمَّ نَزَلَتْ بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ فَرَائِضُ وَأُمُورٌ نَرَى أَنَّ الْأَمْرَ انْتَهَى إِلَيْهَا، فَمِنْ اسْتِطَاعَ أَنْ لَا يَعْتَرَّ فَلَا يَعْتَرَّ”.

[1266–265]. (Dār al-Salām 1386) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: al-Walīd ibn Muslim reported; from al-Awzā‘ī; al-Zuhrī narrated; from Maḥmūd ibn al-Rabī‘; he said: ‘I can remember the Prophet sprinkling water from his mouth after taking it from a bucket in our home’. Maḥmūd said: ‘Itbān ibn Mālik narrated to me: ‘I said: Messenger of God, my eyesight has become impaired ...’. He narrated the hadith up to ‘he prayed with us two rak‘ahs. We retained him for some food we had prepared for him’. He did not mention what comes after this of the addition given by Yūnus and Ma‘mar.

وَحَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، أَخْبَرَنَا الْوَلِيدُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنِ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ، قَالَ حَدَّثَنِي الزُّهْرِيُّ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الرَّبِيعِ قَالَ: “إِنِّي لَأَعْقِلُ مَجَّةً مَجَّهَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ دَلْوٍ فِي دَارِنَا”. قَالَ مُحَمَّدٌ: فَحَدَّثَنِي عِثْبَانُ بْنُ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: “قُلْتُ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، إِنَّ بَصَرِي قَدْ سَاءَ”. وَسَأَقُ الْحَدِيثَ إِلَى قَوْلِهِ “فَصَلَّى بِنَا رَكَعَتَيْنِ وَحَبَسْنَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى جِشٍ يَشْتِ صَنَعْنَاهَا لَهُ”. وَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ مَا بَعْدَهُ مِنْ زِيَادَةِ يُونُسَ وَمَعْمَرٍ.

Text Explanation

In the first hadith, 'Itbān ibn Mālīk mentions that the Prophet 'did not sit down until he went inside. He then said: "Where would you like me to pray in your home?" I pointed to a corner of the house'. This is how it occurs in all manuscripts 'until he went inside'. Some say that the correct wording is 'when he went inside'. Qādī 'Iyād said: 'This is wrong and the correct version is "until", as mentioned in confirmed reports. What it means is that the Prophet did not sit in the yard or anywhere else until he entered 'Itbān's home, heading straight to do what the house owner, 'Itbān ibn Mālīk, had requested of him, which was to pray in his home'. What Qādī 'Iyād has stated is clear and correct.

The hadith concerning 'Itbān ibn Mālīk and the Prophet's prayer in his home was fully discussed in the Book of Faith, but we may briefly say here that it includes many useful points. The first of these is that when one promises to do something, one is recommended to say 'God willing', as the Qur'an and the hadith state. Other points include:

- It is right to seek the blessings of devout people and to pray in the places where they pray, and to request them to pray for our blessing.
- The hadith encourages visits by a superior person to his subordinates and to accept their hospitality.
- A valid reason exempts someone from attending congregational prayer.
- An imam or a scholar may ask some of his friends or companions to accompany him on a visit.
- It is proper to seek permission to enter someone's home even if the owner is one's friend who has already extended the invitation.
- It is right to start with the most important of the matters to be done. The Prophet visited 'Itbān in order to pray in his home, and he did not sit down until he had done so.
- It is perfectly appropriate to offer a sunnah prayer in congregation.

- Voluntary prayer during the day should be two rak'ahs at a time, in the same way as voluntary prayers at night. This is the view of our school and the majority of scholars.
- If a person known for his piety visits someone, then it is desirable that the people of the host's locality should attend, honour him and benefit by his presence.
- It is appropriate to offer one's prayer at the same place in one's own home. The hadith that speaks against reserving a particular place in a mosque is aimed at preventing any suggestion of pretence or hypocrisy.
- It is recommended to defend someone if he is accused of something wrong when one knows him to be innocent.
- A person who dies believing in God's oneness will not remain in Hell forever.

The hadith includes other useful points, but God knows best.

The last hadith, No. 1266, begins with the narrator Maḥmūd ibn al-Rabī' mentioning something that took place when he was young, with the Prophet sprinkling water from his mouth. In al-Bukhārī's version, the water is gently sprinkled on the boy's face. This was a gesture people used to make whereby they were playing with the child, as also to please the child's parents. Some scholars have said that it might be that the Prophet wanted Maḥmūd to later report this instance, which would give him the credit of narrating this hadith, and he would thus be considered amongst the Prophet's Companions. He was a child who could understand what was going on around him, it is said that at the time this took place he was perhaps five years of age, while some reports put his age at four, but God knows best.

VOLUNTARY PRAYERS IN CONGREGATION: PRAYER ON MATS, GARMENTS, ETC.

[1267–266]. (Dār al-Salām 1387) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>i</sup> he said: I read out to Mālik; from Ishāq ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Ṭalḥah; from Anas ibn Mālik; that Mulaykah, his grandmother, invited God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) to share food she had cooked, and he ate of it. He then said: ‘Get up, and I will lead you in prayer’. Anas ibn Mālik said: ‘I took a straw mat of ours which had become black with long use, and I sprinkled water over it. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) stood on it, the orphan and I formed a row behind him and the old woman stood behind us. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) prayed with us two rak‘ahs and then left’.

حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى قَالَ: قَرَأْتُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ عَنْ إِسْحَاقَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي طَلْحَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، أَنَّ جَدَّتَهُ، مُلَيْكَةَ، دَعَتْ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَطْعَامَ صَنَعَتْهُ فَأَكَلَ مِنْهُ، ثُمَّ قَالَ: «قُومُوا فَأَصَلِّ لَكُمْ». قَالَ: أَنَسُ بْنُ مَالِكٍ: «فَقُمْتُ إِلَى حَصِيرٍ لَنَا قَدْ اسْوَدَّ مِنْ طُولِ مَا لُبَسَ، فَنَضَحْتُهُ بِمَاءٍ، فَقَامَ عَلَيْهِ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَصَفَّفْتُ أَنَا وَالْيَتِيمُ وَرَاءَهُ، وَالْعَجُوزُ مِنْ وَرَائِنَا. فَصَلَّى لَنَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، ثُمَّ أَنْصَرَفَ».

[1268–267]. (Dār al-Salām 1388) Shyban ibn Farrūkh and Abū al-Rabī‘ narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from ‘Abd al-Wārith; Shaybān said: ‘Abd al-Wārith narrated; from Abū al-Tayyāh; from Anas ibn Mālik; he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) was the best-mannered of all people. It might happen that prayer became due when he was in our home, and he would order that the mat he was sitting on should be cleaned with the broom, then sprinkled. He would then lead the prayer, and we would stand behind him and he led us in prayer. The mat was made of the stalks of date trees’.

[1269–268]. (Dār al-Salām 1389) Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated to me:<sup>ii</sup> Hāshim ibn al-Qāsim narrated; Sulaymān narrated; from Thābit; from Anas; he said: "The Prophet visited us. There were only myself, my mother and my maternal aunt Umm Ḥarām. He said: "Get up and I will pray with you" (and this was not at a time of any prayer), and he led us in prayer. A man said to Thābit: Where did he place Anas? He said: He placed him to his right. He then prayed for us, the family, with every good thing of this life and the life to come. My mother said: "Messenger of God, here is your little servant. Pray to God for him". He prayed for me with every good thing, and with the last of what he prayed for me he said: "My Lord, give him plenty of wealth and children and bless it all for him".

حَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ، حَدَّثَنَا هَاشِمُ بْنُ الْقَاسِمِ، حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ، عَنْ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: "دَخَلَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَيْنَا، وَمَا هُوَ إِلَّا أَنَا وَأُمِّي وَأُمُّ حَرَامٍ خَالَتِي، فَقَالَ: «قُومُوا فَلَا صَلَواتٍ بِكُمْ»، فِي غَيْرِ وَقْتِ صَلَاةٍ. فَصَلَّى بِنَا. فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ لثَابِتٍ: "أَتَيْنَ جَعَلَ أَنَسًا مِنْهُ؟" قَالَ: "جَعَلَهُ عَلَى يَمِينِهِ. ثُمَّ دَعَا لَنَا، أَهْلَ الْبَيْتِ، بِكُلِّ خَيْرٍ مِنْ خَيْرِ الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ". فَقَالَتْ أُمِّي: "يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ خَوِّدْكُمْ، ادْعُ اللَّهَ لَهُ". قَالَ: «فَدَعَا لِي بِكُلِّ خَيْرٍ، وَكَانَ فِي آخِرِ مَا دَعَا لِي بِهِ أَنْ قَالَ: اللَّهُمَّ أَكْثِرْ مَالَهُ وَوَلَدَهُ، وَبَارِكْ لَهُ فِيهِ

[1270–269]. (Dār al-Salām 1390) ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Mu‘ādh narrated:<sup>i</sup> my father narrated; Shu‘bah narrated; from ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Mukhtār; he heard Mūsā ibn Anas narrating from Anas ibn Mālik; that 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) led a prayer with him and his mother, or his maternal aunt. He said: "He placed me to his right and stood the woman behind us".

وَحَدَّثَنَا عُيَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ، حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي، حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الْمُخْتَارِ، سَمِعَ مُوسَى بْنَ أَنَسٍ، يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَلَّى بِهِ وَبِأُمِّهِ أَوْ خَالَتِهِ. قَالَ: "فَأَقَامَنِي عَنْ يَمِينِهِ". وَأَقَامَ الْمَرْأَةَ خَلْفَنَا

Text Explanation

In the first hadith in this chapter, the narrator mentions his grandmother, Mulaykah. The narrator is Anas ibn Mālik, and the correct relationship is that Mulaykah was the grandmother of the next narrator in the chain, Ishāq ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Abi Ṭalḥah. Ishāq was Anas’s nephew, the son of his half-brother, and thus the woman would be Anas’s mother. However, some scholars say that she was Anas’s grandmother.

The hadith makes clear that an invitation should be accepted, even though it is not a dinner given after a wedding. There is no difference between scholars about the need to accept invitations, but is such acceptance a duty, a collective duty or only recommended? This is the subject of a well-known difference of views among scholars of our school and others. However, the apparent meaning of the relevant hadiths makes acceptance a duty, and we shall discuss this in detail in its appropriate place, God willing.

In this hadith the Prophet tells his hosts: ‘Get up and I will lead you in prayer’. This makes clear that praying voluntary prayers in congregation is permissible. The hadith shows that a scholar or a pious person may bless his hosts by praying in their home. Some scholars said that the Prophet might also have wanted to teach them the proper way of praying by seeing him pray. A woman could rarely see the Prophet praying in the mosque. Hence, he might have wished that his hostess should see his prayer, learn it and teach it to other women.

We learn from the hadith that it is perfectly permissible to pray on a mat<sup>i</sup> and whatever is made of what the earth produces. This is unanimously agreed upon. However, it is reported that ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz had a different view, but this is understood as an aspect of his humility, preferring to prostrate on the bare ground. Further, we learn from the hadith that clothes, mats, rugs, carpets, etc. are considered clean and that this continues unless contamination with impurity is ascertained. The hadith also confirms what was said in the previous chapter, that voluntary prayers during the day are better offered two rak'ahs at a time, like their equivalent at night.

The hadith also makes clear that prayer offered by a child is valid if the child knows what he or she is doing, and that a child may stand in the row of worshippers. This is the correct and well-known view of our school and the majority of scholars. We also learn from the hadith that two people form a row behind the imam. This is the view of our school and all scholars, except Ibn Mas'ūd and his two disciples. They say that if there are only two people with the imam, then the three of them form one row with the imam standing in the middle. The hadith also shows that women stand behind men in congregational prayer and that if there is only one woman, she stands alone behind them.

In hadith No. 1267, Anas, the narrator, says: 'I took a straw mat of ours which had become black with long use, and I sprinkled water over it'. A literal translation of the hadith would say that the mat 'had become black with long wearing'. Usage of the word 'wearing' has led to a well-known controversy with scholars of the Mālikī School saying that if a person swears that he will not wear a certain garment, but then he sits on it, his oath is considered broken. According to our school, he does not break his oath by doing so. We argue that 'wearing' anything is relevant to its use and function. Hence, we understand the hadith as meaning using the mat to sit on. This is what is understood from it. It is different from swearing not to wear a particular garment. No one will understand that this means not to sit on it.

That the mat 'had become black' was due to its being an old mat, one that had been used for a long time. Anas sprinkled it with water to soften it, because it was made of the stalks of date trees, as mentioned in other versions. The water would also remove any dust and similar material. This is how Ismā'īl al-Mālikī and other scholars interpret it. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said: 'It is more likely that the sprinkling was to remove a doubtful impurity'. This fits with the view of his own school which makes sprinkling sufficient to remove a doubtful impurity, while our view, shared by the majority of scholars, is that cleansing is achieved only by washing off the impurity, not by sprinkling. Therefore, we take the first view.

The narrator said that he stood with the orphan in a row and the old woman behind them. The orphan's name was ʿDumayr ibn Saʿd al-Ḥimyarī, and the old woman was Umm Sulaym, Anas's mother.

In hadith No. 1269, the Prophet prays for the people of that house for all good things. God bestowed His grace on His Prophet and answered his supplication giving Anas plenty of wealth and children. The hadith encourages requesting good people to pray for us and that it is permissible to pray for wealth and children and to bless them. The hadith mentions that this took place 'not at a time of any prayer', which means that no obligatory prayer was due at that time.

In hadith No. 1270, Anas says that the Prophet placed him to his right. This is a totally different occasion, one that occurred on a different day.

WAITING FOR CONGREGATIONAL PRAYER

[1273–272]. (Dār al-Salām 1394) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Abū Kurayb narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from Abū Mu‘āwiyah; Abū Kurayb said: Abū Mu‘āwiyah narrated; from al-A‘mash; from Abū Ṣāliḥ; from Abū Hurayrah: he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “A person’s prayer with the congregation is twenty-something times better than his prayer at home or at his place of work. That is, when a person performs the ablution well and goes to the mosque, having no motive other than the prayer, looking for nothing other than the prayer, then for every step he takes, God gives him a degree higher and removes a sin from him, until he enters the mosque. When he is inside the mosque, he is considered to be in prayer as long as the prayer is keeping him. The angels pray for anyone of you as long as he remains in the position where he prayed. They say: ‘Our Lord, bestow mercy on him. Our Lord, forgive him. Our Lord, accept his repentance’, as long as he does not harm anyone there; and unless he invalidates his ablution”’.

الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «صَلَاةُ الرَّجُلِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ
تَزِيدُ عَلَى صَلَاتِهِ فِي بَيْتِهِ وَصَلَاتِهِ فِي سُوقِهِ بِضْعًا وَعِشْرِينَ دَرَجَةً. وَذَلِكَ أَنْ أَحَدَهُمْ إِذَا تَوَضَّأَ فَأَحْسَنَ
الْوُضُوءَ، ثُمَّ أَتَى الْمَسْجِدَ لَا يَنْهَزُهُ إِلَّا الصَّلَاةُ، لَا يُرِيدُ إِلَّا الصَّلَاةَ، فَلَمْ يَخْطُ خُطْوَةً إِلَّا رُفِعَ لَهُ بِهَا دَرَجَةٌ،
وَحُطَّ عَنْهُ بِهَا خَطِيئَةٌ، حَتَّى يَدْخُلَ الْمَسْجِدَ. فَإِذَا دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ كَانَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ مَا كَانَتْ الصَّلَاةُ هِيَ
تَحِبُّهُ. وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ يَصْلُونَ عَلَى أَحَدِكُمْ مَا دَامَ فِي مَجْلٍ سِوَهُ الَّذِي صَلَّى فِيهِ، يَقُولُونَ: اللَّهُمَّ ارْحَمْهُ، اللَّهُمَّ
اغْفِرْ لَهُ، اللَّهُمَّ تُبَّ عَلَيْهِ، مَا لَمْ يُؤْذِ فِيهِ، مَا لَمْ يُجْدِ فِيهِ».

He said: ‘He breaks wind or farts’.

Text Explanation

In the first hadith, the Prophet mentions that a person’s prayer with the congregation is twenty-something times better than his prayer at home or at his workplace. This means praying alone at home or at his workplace. Some say something else, but this is untrue and I am only referring to it here so that it is known. When in Arabic we say ‘something’ in numbers, this term means a figure between three and ten. This is the correct understanding, but there is much said about it and we referred to it in the Book of Faith. What is meant here is twenty-five or twenty-seven times, as specified in earlier hadiths.

The Prophet stresses the importance of a person's intention to attend congregational prayer, saying: 'having no motive other than the prayer, looking for nothing other than the prayer'. Thus, this great reward is subject to one's pure intention to attend the mosque to offer congregational prayer.

WALKING A LONGER DISTANCE TO THE MOSQUE

[1278–277]. (Dār al-Salām 1401) ‘Abdullāh ibn Barrād al-Ash‘arī and Abū Kurayb narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Abū Usāmah narrated; from Burayd; from Abū Burdah; from Abū Mūsā; he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “The one who gets the greatest reward for prayer is the one who walks to it the longest distance, then the second longest. The one who awaits the prayer until he offers it with the imam receives a greater reward than the one who prays it and goes to sleep”. In Abu Kurayb’s narration: ‘awaits the prayer until he offers it with the imam in congregation’.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ بَرَّادٍ الْأَشْعَرِيُّ وَأَبُو كُرَيْبٍ، قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو أُسَامَةَ، عَنْ بَرِيدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي بُرَيْدَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي مُوسَى قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: «إِنَّ أَعْظَمَ النَّاسِ أَجْرًا فِي الصَّلَاةِ أَبْعَدُهُمْ إِلَيْهَا مَشًى، فَأَبْعَدُهُمْ. وَالَّذِي يَنْتَظِرُ الصَّلَاةَ حَتَّى يُصَلِّيَهَا مَعَ الْإِمَامِ أَعْظَمَ أَجْرًا مِنَ الَّذِي يَصَلِّيَهَا ثُمَّ يَنَامُ». وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ «أَبُو كُرَيْبٍ: «حَتَّى يُصَلِّيَهَا مَعَ الْإِمَامِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ

(Dār al-Salām 1402) Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā narrated:<sup>ii</sup> ‘Abthar reported; from Sulaymān al-Taymī; from Abū ‘Uthmān al-Nahdī; from Ubay ibn Ka‘b; he said: ‘There was a man: I do not know of anyone who was farther away from the mosque than him, yet he never missed a prayer. It was said to him, or I said to him: “If you buy a donkey, you can ride it when it is dark or too hot”. He said: “I do not prefer that my home is next to the mosque. I would like that my walking to the mosque and my going back to my family will be credited for me”. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “God has certainly added all this for you”’.

Text Explanation

In hadith No. 1279, the man who lived far from the mosque said: ‘I would like that my walking to the mosque and my going back to my family will be credited for me’. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: ‘God has certainly added all this for you’. This confirms that a person earns a reward for every step on his way back home after the prayer, in the same way as he is given a reward for his steps going to the mosque. In hadith No. 1280, the man says that he did not wish for his home to be adjacent to the Prophet’s home. In fact, he uses a figurative image showing his home being tied with ropes to the Prophet’s home, which opened to the mosque. He preferred to live further away so that he would earn the reward of travelling to the mosque from a distance. His words sounded heavy to Ubay ibn Ka‘b, because they were rather rough. Ubay felt upset when he heard them, but when the Prophet asked the man what he meant, he explained that he hoped to be credited with some reward for walking to the mosque.

The Prophet advised the Salimah tribe to stay where they were and not to move nearer to the mosque, so that they would earn more reward in walking to the mosque and going back home.

WALKING TO JOIN THE PRAYER ERASES SINS AND EARNS ONE HIGHER DEGREES

[1284–282]. (Dār al-Salām 1409) Ishāq ibn Manṣūr narrated to me: Zakariyyā' ibn 'Adī reported; 'Ubaydullāh (meaning Ibn 'Amr) reported; from Zayd ibn Abī Unaysah; from 'Adī ibn Thābit; from Abū Hāzim al-Ashja'ī; from Abū Hurayrah; he said: 'God's Messenger (peace be upon him) said: "Whoever performs the ablution in his home then walks to one of God's houses where he wants to fulfil one of the obligations God requires, one of his two steps erases a sin from him and the other raises him a degree"'.

[1285–283]. (Dār al-Salām 1410) Qutaybah ibn Sa'īd narrated: Layth narrated [H]. Also, Qutaybah said: Bakr (meaning Ibn Muḍar) narrated; both from Ibn al-Hād; from Muhammad ibn Ibrāhīm; from Abū Salamah ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān; from Abū Hurayrah; that God's Messenger (peace be upon him) said: and in Bakr's narration that he heard God's Messenger say: 'Suppose that a river ran in front of the door of any of you and he washed himself in the river five times every day. Will that leave any dirt on him?' They said: 'Nothing of his dirt will remain'. He said: 'This is the same as the five prayers: God erases sins with them'.

[1286–284]. (Dār al-Salām 1411) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Abū Kurayb narrated: both said: Abū Mu‘āwiyah narrated; from al-A‘mash; from Abū Sufyān; from Jābir (who is Ibn ‘Abdullāh); he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “The five prayers are like a plentifully flowing river close to the door of any of you, and he washes himself in the river five times every day”.

Al-Hasan said: “What dirt will this leave?”

«قَالَ: قَالَ الْحَسَنُ: «وَمَا يُبْقِي ذَلِكَ مِنَ الدَّرَنِ؟»

[1287–285]. (Dār al-Salām 1412) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb narrated: both said: Yazīd ibn Ḥarūn narrated; Muhammad ibn Muṭarrif reported; from Zayd ibn Aslam; from ‘Aṭā’ ibn Yasār; from Abū Hurayrah; from the Prophet (peace be upon him): ‘For whoever goes frequently, morning and evening, to the mosque, God will prepare a home in Heaven, whenever he goes morning or evening’.

«أَعَدَّ اللَّهُ لَهُ فِي الْجَنَّةِ نَزْلًا كُلَّمَا غَدَا أَوْ رَاحَ».

Text Explanation

Imam al-Nawawī says very little about these hadiths as they are self-explanatory. He merely mentions that the Prophet describes the river as by the door of someone’s home so as to emphasize easy access to it and its water. He also mentions that the home prepared for the one who frequents mosques is the sort of home made ready for a guest as he arrives, stressing the comfort it provides.

STAYING IN THE MOSQUE AFTER FAJR PRAYER

[1288–286]. (Dār al-Salām 1413) Aḥmad ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Yūnus narrated:<sup>i</sup> Zuhayr narrated; Simāk narrated [H]. ### Text Explanation

In hadith No. 1289, the Prophet used to sit in the mosque after Fajr Prayer 'until the sun had risen well'. This means that he sat for some time after sunrise so that the sun would appear to have been quite high above the horizon. The hadith confirms that it is permissible to smile and laugh.

The last hadith, No. 1291, mentions that mosques are the places God loves best, because they are places where God's orders are fulfilled and they are established on the basis of piety. Markets are the ones He dislikes most, because cheating, manipulation, false oaths, and broken promises are most frequent there. They are the places where God is mentioned least, and so on. When we speak about love and hate by God, we are talking about His will to bestow grace or to punish evil. It is in the mosque that God's mercy is most frequently granted, while markets are the opposite.

[1293–290]. (Dār al-Salām 1420) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Abū Saʿīd al-Ashajj narrated:<sup>i</sup> both from Abū Khālid. Abū Bakr said: Abū Khālid al-Aḥmar narrated; from al-Aʿmash; from Ismāʿīl ibn Rajāʾ; from Aws ibn Ḍamʿaj; from Abū Masʿūd al-Anṣārī; he said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) said: “The one to lead a congregation in prayer is the one who recites God’s Book best. If they are equally good in recitation, then the one who knows the sunnah best. If they have equal knowledge of the sunnah, then the one who migrated first, and if they are the same with regard to migration, then the one who embraced Islam earlier. No man may lead another in prayer in his domain, nor may he sit in his place of choice at his own home except by his permission”’. In his narration, al-Ashajj replaced ‘who embraced Islam earlier’ by ‘who is older’.

Text Explanation

The Prophet mentions who deserves to be the imam and lead the prayer, stating in hadith No. 1292 that ‘the one who deserves it most is the best reciter' of the Qur'an. In hadith No. 1293, the Prophet says: 'The one to lead a congregation in prayer is the one who recites God's Book best. If they are equally good in recitation, then the one who knows the sunnah best'. This provides evidence to scholars who give priority in leading the prayer to the one who recites the Qur'an better, ahead of the best scholar of fiqh, or Islamic jurisprudence. This is the view of Abū Ḥanīfah, Aḥmad and some Shāfi'ī scholars. Mālik, al-Shāfi'ī and other scholars of our school say that the better scholar of fiqh is ahead of the better reciter, because what is needed of proper recitation is specific, while what is needed of fiqh is unspecific. Something might happen during the prayer which can be properly handled only by one who is well qualified in fiqh. They added that this was the reason why the Prophet appointed Abū Bakr to lead the prayer, ahead of all his Companions, although the Prophet stated that others were better reciters than Abū Bakr. They respond to the hadith by saying that the best reciter of the Prophet's Companions was the best in fiqh. However, the Prophet's statement, 'If they are equally good in recitation, then the one who knows the sunnah best', shows that the better reciter is more qualified in all cases. We have a view supported by a number of our scholars, which is: the more pious has the first claim, ahead of the better reciter and the better in fiqh, because the purpose of leading the prayer is better accomplished with the more pious than others.

The Prophet said in the same hadith, No. 1293: 'If they have equal knowledge of the sunnah, then the one who migrated first'. Our scholars said that two groups come under this heading. The first is that of people who migrate these days from non-Muslim areas to the land of Islam. Such migration continues for the rest of human life. This is the view of our school and the majority of scholars. The hadith that says, 'No migration occurs after the Conquest [of Makkah]', means that there is no migration from Makkah, because after it fell to Islam it became a land of Islam. Alternatively, it means that migration is never considered of equal merit to the migration before Makkah fell to Islam. We will discuss this hadith in detail at its appropriate place, God willing.

The other group includes the children of the people who migrated to join God's Messenger (peace be upon him). If two people are of equal standard in fiqh and recitation of the Qur'an, then we look at the time their ancestors migrated. If one of them migrated ahead of the other, the imam will be the descendant of the one migrating first. Then the hadith adds: 'If they are the same with regard to migration, then the one who embraced Islam earlier', and in the other narration, 'the one who is older'. This means that if they are both equal in fiqh, the Qur'an and migration, either of them may be given priority on the basis of being earlier in Islam, or older, as these are considerations that warrant such preference.

The Prophet adds: 'No man may lead another in prayer in his domain'. As explained by our scholars and others, this means that a house owner, a host and the imam of the mosque have greater priority, even if others in the congregation are better scholars or reciters or more pious. The owner of the place has the first priority. It is up to him to lead, or to invite someone else to lead the prayer, even if the one he invites is not the best among those present. As he is in his own domain, he has the first say and he acts as he pleases. Our scholars say that if the ruler or the governor or his deputy is present, he has the right to lead the prayer, ahead of the house owner, the imam of the mosque, and anyone else, because his domain and authority are general. They add that it is desirable that the house owner should give permission to the one who is better qualified to lead the prayer.

The Prophet adds: 'Nor may he sit in his place of choice at his own home except by his permission'. This occurs again in hadith No. 1294 in the form of a direct order. The place of choice means a particular rug or seat the homeowner normally sits on.

In hadith No. 1295, the Prophet tells the young men who were departing from Madinah that when it is time for prayer one of them should call the adhān and their eldest should lead the prayer. This stresses the importance of the adhān, the congregational prayer and choosing the eldest to lead the prayer when those present are equal in other considerations. The group the Prophet was addressing were so equal, because they embraced Islam at the same time and migrated together. They stayed with the Prophet for twenty nights and learnt from him together. The criterion by which they differed was age. Hence, the eldest was to lead the prayer. Some scholars take this statement as evidence that leading the prayer is more important than calling the adhān, because the Prophet told them: ‘one of you should call the adhān’, while he gave leading the prayer to the eldest. Other scholars who say that the adhān is more important, which is the correct view, argue that the adhān does not need much learning, but it is very important because it tells that the prayer has become due, and it is meant to alert people to it, but God knows best.

In hadith No. 1297, the Prophet is speaking to two people and he says to them: ‘When the prayer is due, then do say the call to prayer [i.e. the adhān], then announce the prayer [i.e. iqāmah] and the elder of you should lead the prayer’. This makes clear that the adhān and congregational prayer should be observed by travellers. It urges the importance of calling the adhān during travel and residence. The hadith also makes clear that congregational prayer is complete if there is only the imam and one other person. This is the unanimously agreed view of all Muslims. The hadith further stresses the importance of attending to prayer at the beginning of its time.

SUPPLICATION DURING PRAYER IN TIMES OF STRESS

[1299–294]. (Dār al-Salām 1428) Abū al-Ṭāhir and Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā narrated to me: both said: Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus ibn Yazīd reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; he said: Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib and Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf reported to me; that they heard Abū Hurayrah say: ‘When God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) finished the Qur’an recitation in Fajr Prayer, said Allāhu akbar and lifted his head, he said: “May God respond to whoever praises Him. Our Lord, all praise is due to You” [i.e. sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah. Rabbanā wa lakal-ḥamd]. He would then say as he continued to stand: “My Lord, save al-Walīd ibn al-Walīd, Salamah ibn Hishām, ʿAyyāsh ibn Abī Rabīʿah and all the oppressed believers. My Lord, deal hard with Muḍar, and make them experience years like Joseph’s years. My Lord, curse Liḥyān, Riʿl, Dhakwān and ʿUṣayyah, for they have disobeyed God and His Messenger”. We were then informed that he abandoned this when it was revealed to him: “You, [Prophet], have no say in the matter. [It is for Him] to accept their repentance or punish them. They are wrongdoers”’. (3: 128)

حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو الطَّاهِرِ وَحَرَمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى، قَالَا: أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ، أَخْبَرَنِي يُونُسُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ، عَنْ ابْنِ شَهَابٍ قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي سَعِيدُ بْنُ الْمُسَيَّبِ وَأَبُو سَلَمَةَ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ أَنَّهُمَا سَمِعَا أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ يَقُولُ: «كَأَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ حِينَ يَقْرَأُ مِنْ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ مِنَ الْقِرَاءَةِ وَيَكْبُرُ وَيَرْفَعُ رَأْسَهُ: «سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ رَبَّنَا وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ». ثُمَّ يَقُولُ وَهُوَ قَائِمٌ: «اللَّهُمَّ أَنْجِ الْوَلِيدَ بْنَ الْوَلِيدِ وَسَلَمَةَ بْنَ هِشَامٍ وَعَيَّاشَ بْنَ أَبِي رَبِيعَةَ وَالْمُسْتَضْعَفِينَ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ. اللَّهُمَّ اشْدُدْ وَطْأَتَكَ عَلَى مُضَرَ، وَاجْعَلْهَا عَلَى هِمِّ كَسْنِي يَوْسُفَ. اللَّهُمَّ الْعَنِ لِحْيَانَ وَرِعْلًا وَذَكْوَانَ وَعَصِيَّةَ عَصَتِ اللَّهِ وَرَسُولَهُ». ثُمَّ بَلَغَنَا أَنَّهُ تَرَكَ ذَلِكَ لَمَّا أُنْزِلَ: ﴿لَيْسَ لَكَ مِنَ الْأَمْرِ شَيْءٌ أَوْ يَتُوبَ عَلَيْهِمْ أَوْ يُعَذِّبَهُمْ فَإِنَّهُمْ ظَالِمُونَ﴾.

[1300–000]. (Dār al-Salām 1429) Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and ʿAmr al-Nāqid narrated:<sup>i</sup> both said: Ibn ʿUyaynah narrated; from al-Zuhrī; from Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib; from Abū Hurayrah; from the Prophet: the same up to 'make them experience years like Joseph's years', but did not add what came next.

[1301–295]. (Dār al-Salām 1430) Muhammad ibn Mihrān al-Rāzī narrated:<sup>ii</sup> al-Walīd ibn Muslim narrated; al-Awzāʿī narrated; from Yahyā ibn Abī Kathīr; from Abū Salamah; that Abū Hurayrah narrated to them; that 'The Prophet (peace be upon him) supplicated after the [last] rakʿah, in prayer, for a month. After he said sami Allāhu liman ḥamidah, he would say in his supplication: "My Lord, save al-Walīd ibn al-Walīd. My Lord, save Salamah ibn Hishām. My Lord, save 'Ayyāsh ibn Rabī'ah. My Lord, save the oppressed believers. My Lord, deal hard with Muḍar. My Lord, make them experience years like Joseph's years'".

Abū Hurayrah said: 'I then noticed that God's Messenger did not say this supplication, and I said: I note that the Prophet had stopped praying for them. I was told: and have you not noticed that they have come?'

قَالَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ: "ثُمَّ رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تَرَكَ الدُّعَاءَ بَعْدُ"، فَقُلْتُ: "أُرَى رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَدْ تَرَكَ الدُّعَاءَ هُمْ!" قَالَ: "فَقِيلَ: وَمَا تَرَاهُمْ قَدْ قَدِمُوا؟"

[1302– 000]. He prayed against Ri'l, Dhakwān, Liḥyān and 'Uṣayyah, as they disobeyed God and His Messenger'. Anas said: God, the Mighty and Exalted, revealed in reference to those killed at Bi'r Ma'ūnah a [passage of the] Qur'an which we recited until it was subsequently abrogated: that informed our people; that we have met our Lord and He is pleased with us and we are pleased with Him.

Text Explanation

According to the Shāfi‘ī School of fiqh, the qunūt supplication is a sunnah in Fajr Prayer at all times. As for other prayers, al-Shāfi‘ī gives three views: the correct and well-known one is that in cases of stress, such as during enemy confrontation, drought, an epidemic, scarcity of drinking water, a clear tragedy befalling the Muslim community, etc. the qunūt may be said in all obligatory prayers. Otherwise, it is not recommended. The second view is that the qunūt is said in both normal and stress situations, and the third is that it is not said in either situation. The place when the qunūt is to be said is after rising from bowing, i.e. the rukū‘, in the last rak‘ah. As to saying the qunūt aloud in a prayer when the recitation of the Qur’an is aloud, there are two views, the more correct of which is that it is said aloud. Moreover, it is desirable to lift one’s arms when saying it, but not to wipe one’s face at the end, although some scholars say that wiping one’s face is desirable at the end. It is also said that raising one’s hands is not needed. Scholars agree that wiping one’s chest after it is discouraged.

The correct view is that no particular supplication is necessary in it; qunūt is complete with any supplication. However, there is a view of a number of scholars that consider it is not fulfilled except by the well-known supplication, starting with ‘My Lord, place me among those You guide ...’ i.e. Allahumma ihdinī fī man hadayt. The correct view is that this is desirable, not a condition. If a person does not do the qunūt in Fajr Prayer, he should do two prostrations at the end of his prayer to make up for the error. Abū Ḥanīfah, Aḥmad and other scholars are of the view that no qunūt is said in Fajr Prayer, while Mālik said that it should be done before bowing. The evidence given in support of these views are well-known and I have explained them in Sharḥ al-Muhadhdhab, but God knows best.

Hadith No. 1299 says: ‘When God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) finished the Qur’an recitation in Fajr Prayer, said Allāhu akbar and lifted his head, he said: “May God respond to whoever praises Him. Our Lord, all praise is due to You” [i.e. sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah. Rabbanā wa lakal-ḥamd]. He would then say as he continued to stand: “My Lord, save al-Walīd ibn al-Walīd ...”. This confirms that the qunūt is desirable and that it is said aloud, after rising from bowing. It is after saying the two phrases ‘samī‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah. Rabbanā wa lakal-ḥamd’, and it is permissible to include in it a prayer for someone in particular and against a named person. The Prophet prayed to God to deal hard with Muḍar, a major Arabian tribe, and to make them experience years like Joseph’s years, which means years of hardship, drought and rising prices. The fact that the Prophet cursed the tribes of Liḥyān, Ri’l and Dhakwān means that it is permissible to curse the unbelievers generally or a particular group of them. The hadith mentions that the Prophet abandoned this after a while. This means that he abandoned praying against these tribes. As for the qunūt itself in Fajr Prayer, he maintained it until the end of his life, as authentically reported by Anas.

COMPENSATION FOR A MISSED PRAYER

[1317–309]. (Dār al-Salām 1448) Ḥarmalah ibn Yaḥyā al-Tujībī narrated to me: Ibn Wahb reported; Yūnus reported to me; from Ibn Shihāb; from Sa‘īd ibn al-Musayyib; from Abū Hurayrah; that ‘On his return from the Battle of Khaybar, God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) travelled for most of the night, and when he felt very sleepy, he stopped for rest. He said to Bilāl: “Watch out the night for us”. Bilāl prayed whatever he could, while God’s Messenger and his Companions slept. When the break of dawn was close, Bilāl sat with his back to his shecamel. Slumber overpowered him as he sat leaning against his camel and neither the Prophet, nor Bilāl, nor any of the Prophet’s Companions woke up until the sun was over them. God’s Messenger was the first to wake up and he was alarmed. He said: ‘O Bilāl!’ Bilāl said: “I was overpowered by the same thing that affected you, Messenger of God – may my parents be sacrificed for you”. The Prophet said: “Lead [your mounts]”. They led them a short distance. Then God’s Messenger performed the ablution and he instructed Bilāl who, accordingly, said the iqāmah. [The Prophet] then led his Companions in the Fajr [dawn] Prayer. When he finished the prayer, he said: “Whoever forgets a prayer should offer it when he remembers it, as God says: ‘Establish regular prayer to celebrate My praise’ (20: 14)”’.

Yūnus said: ‘Ibn Shihāb used to read it [differently] meaning “when remembered”’.

He said: ‘We spent the night with the Prophet (peace be upon him), but we did not wake up until the sun had risen. The Prophet said: “Let every man lead his mount. This is a place where Satan has been with us”. We did. He then called for water, and he performed the ablution. He then offered two rak‘ahs. (Ya‘qūb said: He then prayed two rak‘ahs). Then the congregational prayer was called and he led the morning prayer’.

[1319–311]. (Dār al-Salām 1450) Shaybān ibn Farrūkh narrated: Sulaymān (meaning Ibn al-Mughīrah) narrated; Thābit narrated; from ‘Abdullāh ibn Rabāḥ; from Abū Qatādah. He said: ‘God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) addressed us and said: “You shall march this evening and through the night. You shall find water tomorrow, God willing”. The people moved on, everyone on their own. Abū Qatādah said: God’s Messenger moved on and soon it was midnight, and I stayed close to him. He then looked drowsy, and he leaned to one side on his camel. I went up to him and supported him, without waking him up, until he was steady on his mount. He marched on and much of the night was gone, and he [again] leaned to one side of his camel. I supported him without waking him up, until he was steady on his camel. He marched on until it was close to the break of dawn when he leaned even further than the two previous times and he was about to fall. I went up to him and supported him. He lifted his head and said: "Who is this?" I said: "Abū Qatādah". He asked me: "How long have you been riding close to me?" I said: "I have been close to you throughout the night". He said: "May God take care of you as you have been taking care of His Prophet". He then said: "Do you think that we are unseen by others?" He then asked: "Can you see anyone?" I said: "Here is one rider". Then I said: "And here is another". We gathered and there were seven of us. The Prophet moved away from the road [to give us some rest]. He lay down and said: "Make sure that we do not miss our prayer". Yet God's Messenger was the first to wake up, as he felt the sun on his back. We woke up alarmed. He said: "Ride on", and we rode and moved until the sun rose a little in the sky, and he dismounted. He then asked for a bottle I had which contained some water, and he performed a light ablution, leaving a little water in it. He then said to Abū Qatādah: "Keep your water bottle for us, as it will be of some importance". Bilāl then called the adhān for the prayer, and God's Messenger offered two rak'ahs, then he offered the obligatory Fajr Prayer, offering it in the same way as he did every day. Then God's Messenger mounted and we mounted with him.

'As we marched, we were whispering to one another: What will be the atonement for what we did, as we neglected our prayer? He then said: "Should you not follow my lead?" He added: "When one is asleep, there is no negligence. Negligence is the action of one who does not attend to a prayer until the time of the next prayer is due. Whoever does this [i.e. sleeps through the time of a prayer] should offer his prayer when he becomes aware of it. On the following day, he should offer it at its time". He then asked: "What do you think the people are saying [about us]?" He then added: "Those people realized in the morning that their Prophet was missing. Abū Bakr and 'Umar said to them: God's Messenger is behind you; he would not have gone ahead and left you behind. Others said: God's Messenger is ahead of you. If they obey Abū Bakr and 'Umar, they will do well".

‘We caught up with the people when the day advanced and everything was hot. They were saying: Messenger of God, we are in great distress; we are very thirsty. He said: “You shall suffer no distress”. He said: “Give me my little cup”, and he called for [my] water container. God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) poured the water [into the cup] and Abū Qatādah gave it to the people to drink. As soon as the people realized that there was water in the container, they crowded to have some. The Prophet said: “Behave well. All of you will drink”. They complied. God’s Messenger continued to pour out the water and I continued to give it to them to drink, until only God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) and I were left. Then God’s Messenger poured water into the cup and said to me: “Drink”. I said: I will not drink until you have had your drink, Messenger of God. He said: “The one who gives people their drinks is the last to drink”. Therefore, I had my drink then God’s Messenger had his. Then the people reached the water spring fresh, having had enough to drink’.

‘Abdullāh ibn Rabāḥ said: ‘I was narrating this hadith in the main mosque when ‘Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn said: “Young man, be careful how you narrate. I was one of those people that night”. I said: “Then you know it better”. He said: “Who are you from?” I said: “I am from the Anṣār”. He said: “Narrate, for you know your events better”. I narrated the hadith to the people. ‘Imrān said: “I witnessed that night, and I did not think that anyone memorized the hadith as I did’.

[1320–312]. (Dār al-Salām 1451) Aḥmad ibn Saʿīd ibn Ṣakhr al-Dārimī narrated to me: ‘Ubaydullāh ibn ‘Abd al-Majīd narrated; Salm ibn Zarīr al-‘Uṭāridī narrated; he said: I heard Abū Rajā’ al-‘Uṭāridī narrating from ‘Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn. He said: ‘I was with the Prophet (peace be upon him) on a march. We travelled through the night until it was close to the break of dawn when we stopped for rest. We were overtaken by sleep until the sun had risen. The first one of us to wake up was Abū Bakr. We never woke up the Prophet if he was asleep until he woke up himself. Then ‘Umar woke up, and he stood close to the Prophet and glorified God, raising his voice as he did so, until God's Messenger (peace be upon him) woke up. When he lifted his head and saw that the sun had risen, he said: "Move on". He marched with us until the sun was bright. He dismounted and led us in the Fajr Prayer. One of the people stayed aside and did not pray with us. When God's Messenger finished his prayer, he addressed him by name and said: "What prevented you from praying with us?" The man said: "Prophet of God, I am in a state of major ritual impurity [i.e. janābah]". The Prophet instructed him to perform the dry ablution and he then prayed.

'The Prophet then ordered me and others to move fast ahead searching for water, as we were extremely thirsty. As we moved ahead, we met a woman [riding a camel] with her two legs lowered down between two large leather water containers. We asked her: Where is the water source? She said: Far! Far! There is no water around for you. We asked her: What is the distance between your quarters and the water source? She said: One day and night journey. We said: Come with us to God's Messenger (peace be upon him). She said: What is God's Messenger? We did not allow her a chance to do anything but led her on until we came with her to God's Messenger. He asked her and she gave him the same answer as she answered us. She also told him that she was a widow with orphan children.<sup>i</sup> He instructed us to sit her camel down, and he rinsed his mouth with some water and poured it in the top openings of the containers. He then got the camel to rise. We drank our fill, and we were forty very thirsty men. We filled every bottle and water container we had, and gave our companion<sup>ii</sup> water to perform grand ablution [i.e. ghusl], but we did not give any camel a drink. The two water containers were almost bursting with water.

'The Prophet then said: "Bring what you can [for the woman]." We collected some bread and dates and he put the food in a bundle and said to her: "Take this and feed your children. You know, we have taken nothing of your water." When she went to her people, she said: I met the greatest magician ever, or he is indeed a prophet as he claims. He did such-and-such. God guided the woman's bedouin group and both she and her people embraced Islam'.

 رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ. قَالَتْ: وَمَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ؟ فَلَمْ نَمْلِكْ أَنْ نَكْهَأَ مِنْ أَمْرِهَا شَيْئًا حَتَّى انْطَلَقْنَا بِهَا. فَاسْتَقْبَلْنَا

(Dār al-Salām 1452) Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm al-Ḥanzalī narrated: al-Naḍr ibn Shumayl reported; ‘Awf ibn Abī Jamīlah al-A‘rābī narrated; from Abū Rajā’ al-‘Uṭaridī; from ‘Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn: ‘We were with God’s Messenger (peace be upon him) on a journey, and we travelled through the night. When it was towards the end of the night, but not long before the break of dawn, we slept the sweetest sleep to a traveller, and were only awakened by the heat of the sun ...’. He narrated the hadith in similar terms to Salm ibn Zarir’s narration, adding something and omitting another.

He said in his narration: ‘When ‘Umar, a strong man with a loud voice, woke up and realized what had happened, he glorified God aloud. He continued to loudly glorify God until the Prophet woke up. When he woke, people complained about what had happened to them. The Prophet said: “No problem; move on”’. He narrated the rest of the hadith.

Text Explanation

The sum of the rulings according to the Shāfi‘ī School of fiqh is that if a person misses out on a prayer, it is obligatory to make it up by praying it when one becomes aware of missing it. If a person misses it for a valid reason, it is desirable to offer the prayer immediately, but it is permissible to delay it according to the correct view. However, al-Baghawī and others mention a view that it is not permissible. If missing it is without a valid reason, then according to the more correct view, it must be made up, i.e. qadā’ immediately. Yet, it is said that it need not be offered immediately, rather, delaying it is permissible. If one needs to make up several prayers, it is desirable to do so in the right order. However, if one does not follow the correct order, one’s prayers are valid according to al-Shāfi'ī and scholars who share his view, whether these prayers are small or large in number.

If a person misses a regular sunnah [i.e. recommended] prayer, al-Shāfi'ī has two views, the more correct of which is that it is desirable to make it up, because it is covered by the general meaning of the hadith that says: 'Whoever forgets a prayer should offer it when he is aware of it'. Many other authentic hadiths apply to this question, such as the Prophet missing the sunnah of Zuḥr Prayer when he was attending to a delegation, and he made it up by offering it after 'Aṣr. Moreover, in the hadiths of this chapter it is mentioned that he made up the sunnah of Fajr after sunrise. The other view is that it is not desirable to make up missed sunnah prayers. Other sunnah prayers offered on certain occasions, such as the prayer at the time of solar eclipse or the prayer for rain, are not to be made up if missed. There is no disagreement among scholars on this point, but God knows best.

These hadiths clearly appear to refer to two different occasions. In the first hadith in this chapter, the Prophet's Companions led their mounts a short distance. This provides evidence that a prayer missed for a valid reason need not be immediately made up. They moved away from that place because, as the Prophet told them, that was a place where Satan was present. The hadith mentions that the Prophet ordered Bilāl to call the iqāmah, announcing the start of the prayer. This confirms that the iqāmah is to be said when compensating for a missed prayer, and it suggests that the adhān is left out. However, hadith No. 1319, narrated by Abū Qatādah, confirms saying the adhān for a missed prayer. The question is subject to a well-known disagreement among scholars. According to our Shāfi'ī School, the more correct view is that the adhān is said for a missed prayer, on the basis of this hadith narrated by Abū Qatādah and other authentic hadiths.

That the adhān is not mentioned in hadith No. 1317, narrated by Abū Hurayrah and other hadiths, is answered in two ways. Firstly, its omission does not mean that it was not done. Perhaps the adhān was called but the narrator omitted its mention or was not aware of it. Secondly, he might have omitted the adhān on this occasion to show that it is permissible not to call it, and to indicate that it is not absolutely obligatory, particularly when travelling.

Hadith No. 1317 mentions that the Prophet led his Companions in the Fajr Prayer on this occasion. This makes clear that it is desirable to offer a missed prayer in congregation.

In the same hadith, the Prophet says: 'Whoever forgets a prayer should offer it when he remembers it'. This shows that it is obligatory to make up a missed prayer, whether one misses it for a valid reason, such as sleep or forgetfulness, or for no valid reason. The hadith mentions the case of forgetfulness in particular, because it is related to cause. Besides, if making up a prayer is due to when a person has a valid reason, it applies to others in a stronger way. This situation highlights the lesser case in order to show what applies to the greater one.

The Prophet says that such a person should offer the missed prayer 'when he remembers it'. This is understood to be desirable. According to the correct view, it is permissible to delay making up a prayer missed for a valid reason, and we have already mentioned this. Some scholars of the Zāhirī School take the peculiar view saying that a prayer missed for no valid reason may not be made up. They allege that such an act of disobedience is too serious to be wiped out by making up prayer. This is an error suggesting ignorance by whoever says it, but God knows best. The hadith further provides evidence that regular sunnah prayers may be made up if missed. We have already mentioned the disagreement of scholars on this point.

In hadith No. 1318, the Prophet tells his Companions to move some distance from the place where they slept through the time of prayer, because 'this is a place where Satan has been with us'.<sup>i</sup> This is evidence that one must avoid places where Satan is present. This is the more apparent meaning of why prayer is prohibited in public baths.

The Prophet then 'performed the ablution and offered two rak'ahs. Then the congregational prayer was called and he led the morning prayer'. This hadith makes clear that it is desirable to make up missed regular sunnah prayers. It also shows that it is perfectly permissible to refer to the Fajr Prayer as the morning prayer.

It may be asked how it was that the Prophet slept through the time of Fajr Prayer until the sun had risen, when he said: 'My eyes go to sleep but my heart does not'? The answer is in two ways, the more correct and better known of which is that there is no contradiction between the two [here 'heart' stands for the mental faculty], and this is alert to feelings and tangible things related to it, such as pain. The heart is not aware of the dawn breaking and similar matters that we see with our eyes. Also, eyes may be asleep when one is mentally alert. The other answer is that the Prophet experienced two situations: one when his mental faculty did go to sleep, and this faculty was asleep in this particular case, and the other is that it does not sleep, which is the more frequent scenario. This second view is poor, leaving the first the more correct and generally acceptable one.

Hadith No. 1319 starts with: 'God's Messenger addressed us and said: you shall march ...'. This shows that it is desirable for an army commander who deems it in the interests of his soldiers to know what lies ahead to gather them together and tell them what he wants them to know, so that they will all be ready for it. He should not give the information only to some of them, or to their chiefs, because some may not be informed and suffer as a result. The Prophet told them that, God willing, they would reach a water source the following day. This is in line with the Qur'anic instruction that for future matters, it is always desirable to say 'God willing'.

The hadith mentions that the Prophet was drowsy. This is a case that precedes sleep; it affects one's eyes but does not affect one's mind. When the mind is affected, it is sleep. A person who is drowsy and lying down does not invalidate his ablution by being in this condition, but if he sleeps, then his ablution is invalidated. I have explained the difference between these two conditions in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab. The narrator, Abū Qatādah, mentions how he supported the Prophet when he leaned to one side as he was riding. When the Prophet asked who was supporting him, he said 'Abū Qatādah'. This shows that when a person is asked to identify himself, as in the case of one seeking entry, he should mention his name, or his appellation if it is well known.

The Prophet said to Abū Qatādah: ‘May God take care of you as you have been taking care of His Prophet’. This shows that it is desirable to say a supplication for someone who has done us a favour. A well-known hadith confirms this.

The hadith mentions that as they did not have much water, the Prophet performed a light ablution, but he certainly did a full one. Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ quotes some of his teachers as stating that this meant that the Prophet used solid objects to cleanse himself and spared the water for his ablution. However, this claim is clearly wrong.

The Prophet tells Abū Qatādah to keep the small amount of water he has left as his water container will be of some importance. This is one of the numerous miracles testifying to his prophethood, as we will discuss presently. The hadith then mentions that ‘Bilāl called the adhān for the prayer, and God’s Messenger offered two rak‘ahs, then he offered the obligatory Fajr Prayer, offering it in the same way as he did every day’. This statement makes clear that it is desirable to call the adhān before offering making up the prayer, and that a regular sunnah prayer may be made up. The two rak‘ahs the Prophet offered were clearly the regular sunnah of Fajr. Moreover, this statement within the hadith shows that when a missed prayer is compensated for it is performed in the same way as when we pray it on time. This means that a compensatory Fajr Prayer includes the qunūt supplication. There is no disagreement among our Shāfi‘ī scholars on this point. The statement may be cited in support of the view that recitation of the Qur’an in a compensatory Fajr Prayer, offered after sunrise, should be aloud. This is one view supported by our Shāfi‘ī scholars, but the more correct view is that such a compensatory prayer is silent. Thus, we understand the phrase, ‘in the same way as he did every day’, to refer to the actions included in prayer, but not to recitation of the Qur’an.

When the Prophet’s Companions started whispering to one another about the gravity of missing their Fajr Prayer, the Prophet tells them: ‘When one is asleep, there is no negligence’. This is the evidence in support of the unanimous view that a sleeping person is not under obligation. He is required to make up missed prayers and similar duties, and this requirement is made with a new order. This is the correct view of choice, according to scholars of fiqh and methodology (uṣūl). Some scholars say that making up prayers is required by the original address. Such scholars agree that during sleep, a person is not required to attend to duty. However, if during sleep a person breaks, damages or spoils something with his hand or a different organ, he bears responsibility for it and must subsequently make good amends. This is agreed upon by all scholars. We do not treat this as a duty imposed on a sleeping person. Making amends for what is broken or damaged is required of everyone who causes such damage. If a child, an insane, oblivious or some other person to whom religious duties do not apply breaks or damages something then that person must make amends for it, according to all scholars. The evidence in support of this ruling is in the Qur'an, as God says: 'He who kills a believer by mistake must free a believing soul from bondage and pay an indemnity to his family'. Thus, God makes the indemnity paid to the family of the victim and the atonement [by freeing a slave] required of the one who kills by accident, even though the killer is deemed not to have committed a sin, which is the unanimous view of all scholars.

In the same hadith, No. 1319, the Prophet says: 'Negligence is the action of one who does not attend a prayer until the time of the next prayer is due. Whoever does this [i.e. sleeps through the time of a prayer] should offer his prayer when he becomes aware of it. On the following day, he should offer it at its time'. This is clear evidence that the time range of every one of the five obligatory prayers extends until the next prayer becomes due. This applies to all prayers other than the dawn or Fajr Prayer. Its time extends only until sunrise, not till Zuhur is due. This is clearly understood from the hadith in which the Prophet says: 'Whoever completes one rak'ah of the Fajr Prayer before sunrise is considered to have prayed Fajr on time'. There are different views concerning the time range of Maghrib, which we discussed in the relevant chapter. The correct view of choice is that its time extends until 'Ishā', on the basis of the authentic hadiths related by Muslim, which we explained. We also explained the meaning of the hadith that mentions that the Angel Gabriel led the Maghrib Prayer at the same time on both the two days marking the start and end of times of prayers.

Abū Saʿīd al-Ḥasan ibn Aḥmad al-Iṣṭakhrī, a Shāfiʿī scholar, said that 'Aṣr Prayer extends only until the shade of an object is twice its length, while 'Ishā' time lapses when one-third or one-half of the night has gone, and Fajr time lapses when the light of day spreads. This view lacks strong support. The correct and well-known view is the one mentioned earlier, which means that the time of every prayer extends until the next prayer is due, [except Fajr, which extends until sunrise only].

The hadith mentions: 'On the following day, he should offer it at its time'. This means that if a person misses a prayer and makes it up, its normal time stays the same. It does not change for future days. Therefore, on the following day, that person offers that prayer at its normal time. Nor does this mean that the one who misses a prayer makes it up: once immediately and a second time on the following day. What it means is what we have stated. This is the correct view, even though there are conflicting views by scholars on this point. Yet scrupulous scholars have endorsed the view I have mentioned, and God knows best.

The Prophet then said: 'What do you think the people are saying [about us]?' He then added: 'Those people realized in the morning that their Prophet was missing. Abū Bakr and 'Umar said to them: God's Messenger is behind you; he would not have gone ahead and left you behind. Others said: God's Messenger is ahead of you. If they obey Abū Bakr and 'Umar, they will do well'. This means that when the Prophet had led this small group in Fajr Prayer after the sun had risen, and they discovered that the rest of the people went ahead and left this group behind, the Prophet asked those with him what they thought the others were thinking about them. The Prophet's Companions remained silent. He told them that Abū Bakr and 'Umar were saying that the Prophet was still behind, and that he would not be happy to march ahead and leave his Companions far behind. Therefore, they should wait for him. The rest of the people took a different view and said that the Prophet was ahead and that they should move on to catch up with him. The Prophet said that if they took Abū Bakr's and 'Umar's advice, they would do well, because they were right, but God knows best.

When the Prophet and his few Companions caught up with the rest, they complained to him that they were extremely thirsty. He reassured them that they would not be in distress and asked for his small cup and Abū Qatādah's water container. When the people realized that there was some water in the container they crowded around, hoping to get a drink. But the Prophet told them to remain well behaved, as there would be enough for them all.

When everyone had drunk their fill and the Prophet told Abū Qatādah to drink, he said that he could not drink before the Prophet. The Prophet told him: 'The one who gives people their drinks is the last to drink'. This is an aspect of good manners and it applies to whoever gives water, milk or other drinks to people. The same is true in respect of whatever is given to a group of people, whether it is fruit, meat, food, or perfume, etc. but God knows best. Once the Prophet's Companions had enjoyed this drink, they marched on toward the water spring, fresh and comfortable.

This hadith, No. 1319, includes several clear miracles that occurred to God's Messenger (peace be upon him). The first is his saying to Abū Qatādah that his water container would be of particular importance, and it was. The second is that the small amount of water that was left in the water container was increased to satisfy the needs of the entire group. The third is that the Prophet told his Companions that all of them would have enough to drink, and they did. The fourth is the Prophet's statement to the few people left with him what Abū Bakr and 'Umar told the rest of the group and what the others said. The fifth is his telling the people at the start that they would be marching through the evening and the rest of the night, arriving at the water spring the following day. This was the case, but none of them was aware of it before the Prophet informed them. When he told them this, everyone 'moved on their own'. Had anyone known this, they would have moved on before the Prophet told them.

In hadith No. 1320, the narrator, 'Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn, mentions that when the Prophet was asleep they did not wake him up, because they were aware that he might receive revelations during his sleep. Yet on this occasion, the prayer time had lapsed. Normally, if a person is asleep and it is time for prayer and its time is soon to lapse, he should be woken up so that he does not miss the prayer.

The hadith mentions that one person did not join the prayer because he was in a state of major ritual impurity (i.e. janābah).<sup>i</sup> 'The Prophet instructed him to perform dry ablution and he then prayed'. This makes clear that a person who is in a state of ritual impurity, and water is unavailable, may resort to dry ablution (i.e. tayammum). This is the view of our Shāfi'ī School and the majority of scholars. We discussed this in the relevant chapter.

This hadith mentions<sup>ii</sup> that the Prophet sent two of his Companions in search of water and they met a woman riding a camel which carried two large water containers. She told them that there was no water spring or well anywhere near, and they took her to the Prophet. The Prophet ordered that the camel should be sat and he rinsed his mouth and put the water back in the containers. His Companions filled all their bottles and containers, and also gave a bucket of water to the man who was in impurity to wash himself. This confirms that if a man in such a state performs dry ablution when he has no water to wash himself, then finds water, he should wash himself to remove janābah. When all this was done the woman's two water containers were almost bursting with water. Hence the Prophet told her: 'You know, we have taken nothing of your water'. This was a clear miracle providing yet more evidence of his prophethood.

In hadith No. 1321, the narrator mentions that they stopped shortly before the break of dawn. This is more specific in describing the time. The hadith mentions that when his Companions complained to the Prophet about missing their prayer through sleep. He said: 'No problem'. This means that no harm had come to them through delaying their prayer because of oversleeping.

In hadith No. 1325, the Prophet says: 'Whoever forgets a prayer or sleeps through its time, its atonement is that he offers it when he is aware of it'. This means that nothing need be done in this situation other than to offer that prayer when he is aware of it. Nothing else is required of him.

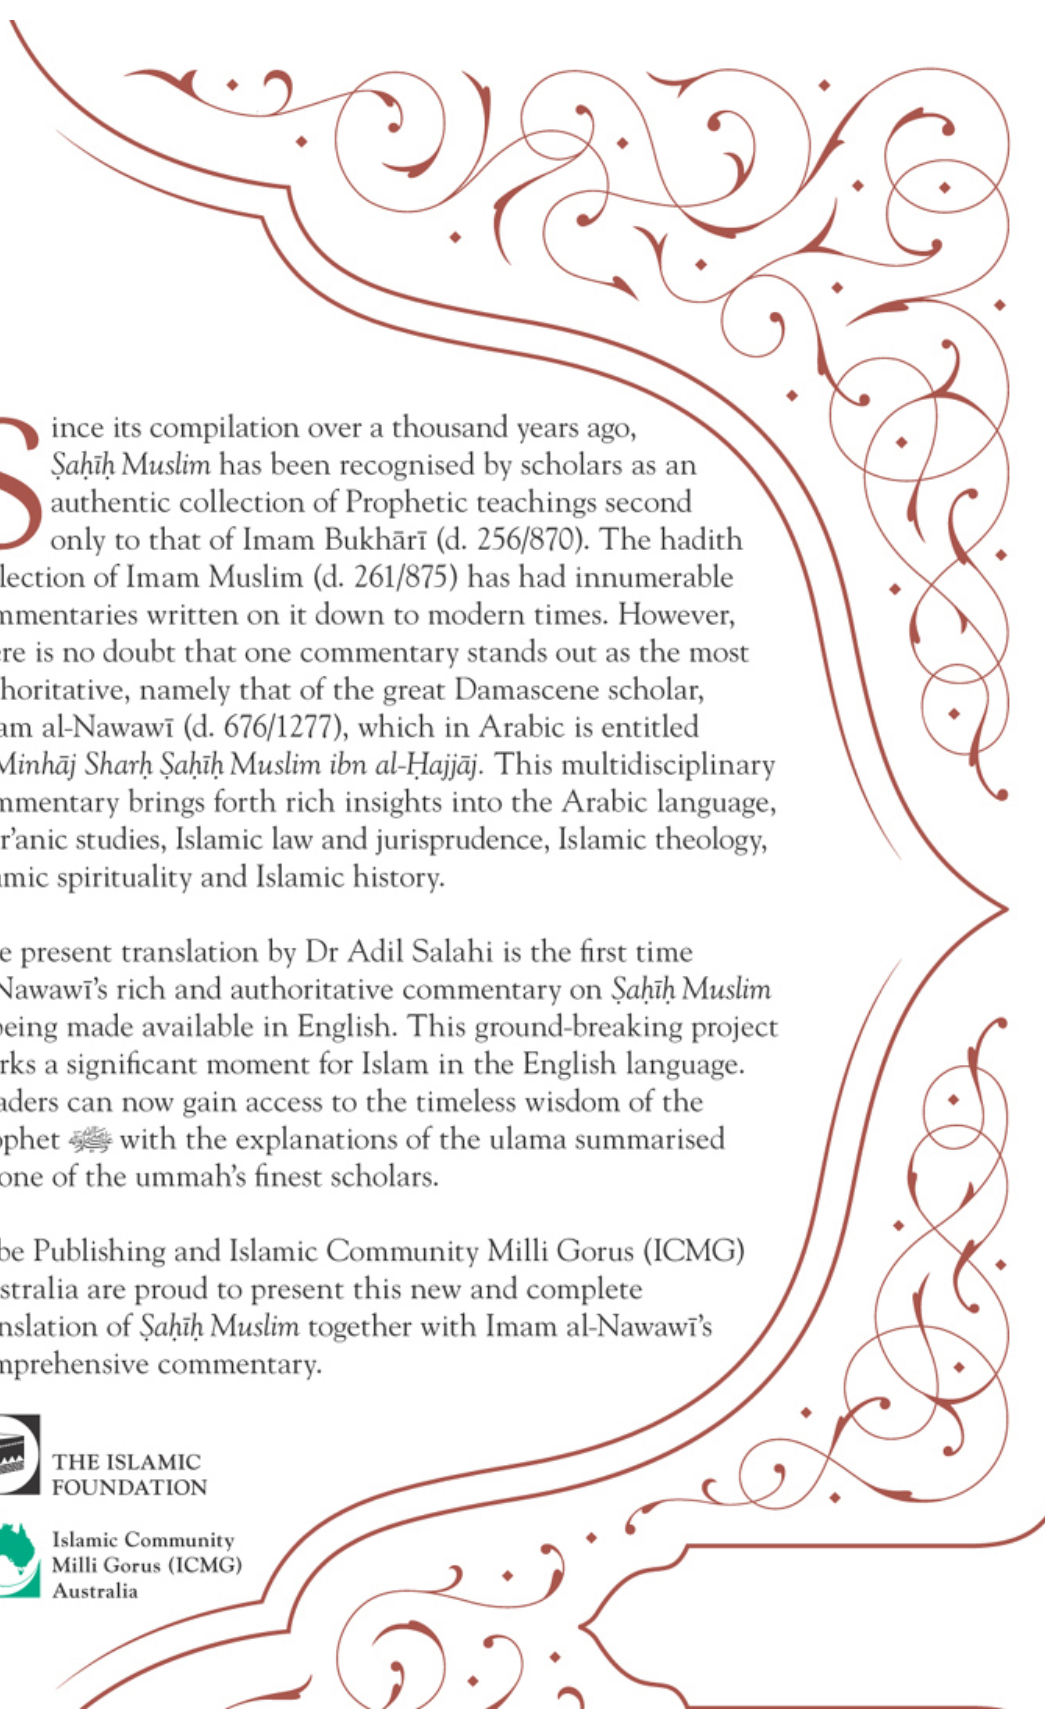

It should be clear that these hadiths refer to two or more of the Prophet's journeys, not to the same journey. This is clear from their wording, but God knows best.

Transmission

Hadith No. 1319 is narrated by the Prophet's Companion, Abū Qatādah. His name is al-Ḥārith ibn Ribʿī of the Anṣār. The chain of transmission of hadith No. 1323 includes: 'Haddāb ibn Khālīd narrated: Hammām narrated; Qatādah narrated; from Anas ibn Mālīk'. All narrators in this chain of transmission were from Basrah.

Since its compilation over a thousand years ago, Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim has been recognised by scholars as an authentic collection of Prophetic teachings second only to that of Imam Bukhārī (d. 256/870). The hadith collection of Imam Muslim (d. 261/875) has had innumerable commentaries written on it down to modern times. However, there is no doubt that one commentary stands out as the most authoritative, namely that of the great Damascene scholar, Imam al-Nawawī (d. 676/1277), which in Arabic is entitled al-Minhāj Sharḥ Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj. This multidisciplinary commentary brings forth rich insights into the Arabic language, Qur'anic studies, Islamic law and jurisprudence, Islamic theology, Islamic spirituality and Islamic history.

The present translation by Dr Adil Salahi is the first time al-Nawawī's rich and authoritative commentary on Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim is being made available in English. This ground-breaking project marks a significant moment for Islam in the English language. Readers can now gain access to the timeless wisdom of the Prophet ﷺ with the explanations of the ulama summarised by one of the ummah's finest scholars.

Kube Publishing and Islamic Community Milli Gorus (ICMG) Australia are proud to present this new and complete translation of Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim together with Imam al-Nawawī's comprehensive commentary.
